Supt. Suggests Education Field For M. Skarsten

Chapter Six

Before school opened the following year I had begun to give thought to what I was to do in life. I had to go to work soon, to help in providing for the family budget. Alf had been at work for two years already, at first in a bakery, then in a sawmill, and finally as a type-setter for the Thief River Falls News.

I might at that time—still encumbered by my brace—have tried to get work, too, except that it had not occurred to me that I was able to work. I did work in the sawmill, though, two days. My job was to drop slabs of wood into a wagon from a belt that conveyed the wood upward toward the incinerator. In performing this task I stood on a platform above the wagon, but to get to the platform I had to ride the belt (fitted with crosspieces) toward the incinerator.

I have often reflected with a shudder since then what might have happened if that part of my brace that went under the shoe had got caught in the crosspieces of the belt. Assuredly, I would have ended up in the incinerator! Fortunately, when the two days were up, I was permitted by my mother to discontinue the work entirely, for the reason that the work seemed to be too hard for me.

When fall came, therefore, I was back in school, in the memorable seventh grade, and the year after that (without my brace now) in high school. It was not until I had finished the first year in high school, though, that I began to think seriously of the possibility of a vocation. I had to be able to do work of some kind if ever I expected to amount to anything.

I remember speaking, one day, to a real estate man, Dan (?) Shaw, about my future. I knew Dan Shaw. Mother knew him. She had confidence in his judgment, as I did, too. So I asked him, just before my second year in high school, what kind of work he thought I should take up.

Without hesitation, he said "Business." When school opened, therefore, in the fall, I enrolled in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping and other subjects.

The next morning J. H. Hay called me to his office. "I thought you had planned on going into teaching," he said.

"I-I—well, I've decided to go into business."

He sat regarding me. "You'd do well in teaching," he said, "and I think you'd like it."

I remained silent.

"You could enroll in our teaching training course this year. By summer you could have a certificate. And in the fall you could be teaching on a salary."

Teaching? Next fall? On a salary? This was something that had not occurred to me.

We talked awhile. Mr. Hay gave me every encouragement. He knew about our family situation. It was he who had given permission to Alf to go to work for the Thief River Falls News in lieu of attending school. Now he was putting himself out to help me! I felt grateful. But teaching? Could I do it?

I recalled my experiences in trying to teach the A, B, C's to my brothers. I recalled my experience in teaching parochial school.

This last experience had come to me in the section house during the summer of 1904, while I walked on crutches—the summer in which I made the piece quilt. I taught the A, B, C's to my sister Helga; the Catechism or the Book of Explanations to my brothers; Bible stories to all, and whatever else was needed to fill in the time.

I did this teaching in the big room that constituted the upper story of the section house. The hours were from nine to 12 every morning, five days per week, for one month.

I had not been at this task more than two days before other children in the neighborhood came and asked if they might join. Somewhat hesitant, I allowed them to come: a full dozen of them.

Surprisingly, we got along very well. There were no infractions of discipline. Everyone was kept busy at something. Time did not drag, at least, not for me. And by the end of the month I was made the gratified recipient of several dollars, paid me on their own free will by the parents of the children I had taught, exclusive of my own parents: they didn't pay me anything.

Glimpses of this picture flashed through my mind as I sat and listened to Mr. Hay, that day in September, 1909. That very same day I changed my registration in school from preparation for business to preparation for teaching.

January Traffic Deaths Total 35; Lowest Since '69

Minnesota started the new year with the most favorable traffic fatality record since 1969, the Department of Public Safety reported recently.

Traffic deaths for January numbered 35, compared with 66 last January. With due allowance for delayed reports, it appears that January's record will be the lowest since January of 1969, when 34 persons died in traffic crashes, the department report stated. This was the lowest in 10 years.

Since 1969, the average January traffic toll until this year has been 52, and the 10-year average has been 51.

On the basis of the record to date, there were 10 days in January of this year with no traffic fatalities, compared with three days last January.

The possibility of bettering the record for February of last year is less promising. Fatalities in February, 1973, numbered 38, the lowest since 1969, when 36 were recorded.

Minnesota and North Dakota have many persons who are interested in horses for business, pleasure, or both. Proper shoeing techniques, as well as many other subjects, will be discussed at the second annual farrier science workshop, to be held March 1 through March 3 at the University of Minnesota technical college, Crookston (UMC).

The workshop is open to the public, and cost for the three-day session is $30. Registration begins at 8 a.m. on Friday, March 1. Sessions will meet in the Hill building, room 106, beginning at 8:30 a.m. each day, meeting until 5:30 p.m. Morning lectures will cover shoeing principles, anatomy and physiology of limbs, deviation and corrective measures for limbs, and lameness in horses. Afternoon sessions will cover practical laboratory experiences in trimming.

The workshop will be conducted by Larry Oatman, instructor of farrier science at the technical education center, Anoka. Oatman served a two-year apprenticeship in farrier science, and he has taught courses in farrier science for three years. He worked as a professional farrier for 10 years prior to his teaching position. Oatman is a specialist in pathological and corrective shoeing, and brings to the classroom a great deal of practical experience.

Fight On Rights Amendment Is Not Over Yet

Fight to stop the equal rights amendment in Minnesota is not over, according to Mrs. Pat Tollefson of Minneapolis, state chairman of Minnesotans Against E.R.A.

"Although we were late in getting organized and therefore unsuccessful in stopping the Minnesota legislature from ratifying the so called equal rights amendment, we do not intend to let the issue drop," she said.

A bill to rescind Minnesota's ratification of the E.R.A. has now been introduced in the Senate (S.F. 3090) by Senator Florian Chmielewski. Members of Minnesotans Against E.R.A are also studying and reporting on several E.R.A.-related bills introduced this session in the Legislature including a Rape Bill (S.F. 2986, H.F. 2682); a Change of Name Bill (S.F. 2987, H.F. 2644); and a Corrections Bill (S.F. 2940, H.F. 2853).

Opponents of the equal rights amendment believe its passage will result in lowering the status of women rather than raising it because it fails to take into account real differences between the sexes, Mrs. Tollefson said.

Persons interested in learning more about the movement to repeal the equal rights amendment and also about the various E.R.A.-related bills may contact Mrs. Tollefson at 1097-25th Avenue S.E., Minneapolis, Minn. 55414.

FHA Announces Income Change For Eligibility

Farmers Home administration maximum adjusted income for moderate families has been changed, according to Loren Luschen, FHA supervisor for Pennington and Red Lake counties.

Families in Minnesota may now earn $12,500 adjusted income and still be eligible for FHA rural housing assistance if other credit is not available. Adjusted income is arrived at by deducting five per cent from gross salary and $300 per child under 18 years of age.

FHA loans are oriented to houses of modst design and cost so that the family with limited down payment can afford a home. New houses generally qualify as well as some sound older houses that meet minimum property standards.

FHA loans are presently 8¼ per cent simple interest with a 33-year repayment schedule. Loans may be made up to the present market value of the property, except tht only 90 per cent can be loaned on new houses that were built without being inspected by FHA during construction.

Further information may be obtained on rural housing or there types of FHA loans by contacting the local County supervisor, Loren D. Luschen at Box 486, Thief River Falls, Minnesota 56701 or by visiting the office on Dale St. south on highway 59. Scheduled office day in Thief River Falls, is Monday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and then from 1 to 5 p.m.

Hatfield Begins County Welfare Audit Program

State auditor Rolland F. Hatfield has announced plans for an extensive program to audit county welfare expenditures in Minnesota.

A "flying squad" special audit unit will make unannounced field investigations, Hatfield said, to determine whether welfare fraud exists in the state and, if so, to what extent.

"Similar investigations in California, New York and other states have revealed large-scale waste of welfare funds," Hatfield said. "I have no reason to belive Minnesota follows this pattern but we'll never know unless a method such as this is used."

Hatfield said the special units will conduct sample field investigations relating to handling of welfare funds, following up court orders for child support payments, face to face interviews with recipients to check eligiblity and checking payments to doctors, dentists, pharmacists, etc, to determine whether approved payment schedules are being followed.

"The first county visits will be on a random sample basis," the sate auditor said. "If the sample turns up discrepancies, a larger, in depth audit will follow.

"In many counties welfare costs make up the largest part of the county budget so that even small reductions in welfare costs can amount to substantial property tax savings," the state auditor said. "Auditing costs to the counties would not be increased," Hatfield said, "since the work of the special welfare audit squads would reduce the cost of the regular financial audits of county welfare."

Hatfield has advised the state welfare department of the new post audit procedure and will review his findings with the state welfare department's staff. In counties where welfare fraud units already exist, the state auditor's staff will be used to augment their investigations.

The adapter portion of the seat can be returned to he dealer or it can be shipped to the Rex Stroll-O-Chair Manufacturing Company at 441 West 167th Street, New York 10032. It will be repaired and returned at the manufacturer's expense.

Fewer Than 200 Attend Precinct Caucuses Tuesday

Candid Views Of Caucuses

Fewer than 200 people attended the precinct caucuses for Democrat Farmer-Labor and Republican parties in Pennington county Tuesday, according to information obtained by the Times from Al Sollom, county DFL chairman, and David Olin, county Republican chairman. Sollom estimated DFL caucus attendance at a minimum of 100 while Olin placed the GOP caucus attendance at approximately 60 people.

Both parties received a number of resolutions from the caucuses to be reviewed by resolutions committees and presented at the county conventions. Pennington county DFL convention will be held Sunday, March 17, at 2 p.m. in the Thief River Falls city auditorium. Tentative date for the GOP county convention is Wednesday, March 27, at 6:30 p.m. with the meeting place not yet determined.

Party chairmen assured that all resolutions adopted at the precinct level will be presented at the county convention, although similar resolutions may be combined by the resolutions committee. Sollom said the DFL resolutions committee will be formed from the delegates elected at the precinct caucuses last night. Olin noted that the Republican resolutions committee is headed by Charles Neuenschwander and additional resolutions intended for the county convention are to be directed through his committee.

As a result of the generally low turn-out at the caucuses, a number of precincts which are entitled to representation will be without delegates at the county conventions. Several precincts had good turn-outs, however, and elected not only delegates but alternates as well.

In contrast to two years ago when young people turned out at the caucuses in good numbers, attendance by the 18 to 21-year-old group was sparse this year. Sollom attributed at least part of the lack of interest by youth to the settlement of the Vietnam war which was a major issue two years ago. Olin said that some young people at the GOP caucus evidenced their displeasure to a pro-Nixon resolution.

The county DFL chairman noted that a listing of delegates elected by each precinct to the county convention is not yet available since a number of precincts will be mailing in their results.

The Republican chairman listed the following as delegates elected to the county convention at the precinct caucuses:

Virginia Asp, Numedal; Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Thorsgard, North; Isabel Gibbs, St. Hilaire; Bruce Johnson, Norden; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neuenschwander, Chuck Sharpe and Rev. Carl Wosje, Rocksbury; Dr. David Brown and Gerald Turner (alternate), Goodridge village; Wallace Tieman and Mrs. Wallace Tieman (alternate), Clover Leaf; and Herbert Goethe and Blance Goethe (alternate), Kratka;

Also David Olin, Donald L. Stewart, Arlene Forsberg, Charles Odegaard, Sharon Johnson, Mrs. Don Stewart, Linda Worth and Roger Worth, Ward I, TRF; Gordon Reierson, Everett Ault, Dr. Arnold Berg, Mrs. Arnold Berg, Mrs. Everett Ault, Dale Folger, Arlene Folger and Mrs. Henry Bothman, Ward II;

No Grain Reseal For 1973 Crops, ASCS Advises

There will be no reseal program for 1973 crops of grain and soybeans, the U. S. department of agriculture (USDA) announced recently. This means there will be no extension of loans for any of these crops past the original maturity date.

Strong domestic and export demand and market prices well above government program loan levels for these commodities eliminate the need for loan extension, the department said. The actions are also in keeping with department policy of removing farm commodities from government control and either back into the hands of producers or into the marketplace.

USDA's agricultural stabilization and conservation service said the reason that there was no reseal program in effect during 1973 for any 1972 crop, was that it had called in all 1971 or earlier crops under reseal and on January 15 it called in 1973-crop wheat under government loan.

Only small quantities of wheat and feed grains remain undelivered principally in the upper midwest where a shortage of transportation complicated moving the commodities out of storage.

Council Accepts Bids On Radios

Bids for two-way communications equipment for the local fire department were discussed last night by the Thief River Falls city council. Acting on the recommendations of the fire chief, Duane Noel, and the rural fire association, the council accepted a $12,243 bid for Motorola equipment, subject to approval of the city attorney. The only other bid was for General Electric equipment in the amount of $7,989. However, it was contended that the lower bid did not conform to specifications and the equipment it proposed would not be adequate.

The council heard a proposal presented by Duane Walton representing the downtown development committee of the local Chamber of Commerce. This proposal asked the council to take three steps intended to promote development of this city by working through the local housing and redevelopment authority. Walton asked the city

MIRACLE WATER

Don Bjerke

From very early times there have been superstitions about precious stones. Long ago, some stones were supposed to make anyone who wore them strong and brave. Others were supposed to protect their wearers from fire and lightning. Still others were supposed to bring good health and good fortunes. The idea of birthstones came from these superstitions. Each month was given a stone. Wearing this stone, people thought, would bring good fortune to anyone whose birthday was in the month. Not many people still have the old idea that precious stones can help or harm them. But many do enjoy wearing their birthstones and other gems.

Many people still adhere to the old idea that there is nothing that can be done to make their tap water better than it is. The problem is that they have lived with the problems caused by the water so long they tend to ignore it. But many people now enjoy clean, sparkling, refined water throughout their home. What a difference—you can actually see, feel and smell the difference. If you want to shake the old water try a Miracle Water Refiner.

St. Bernard's To Host World Day Of Prayer Friday

World Day of Prayer will be observed in Thief River Falls on Friday at a service at 10 a.m., at St. Bernard's Catholic church.

The idea for World Day of Prayer originated in 1887 with a small group of women who belived that the mission work for which they were responsible needed support in prayer as much as in giving. The idea grew and today World Day of Prayer is an ecumenical annual event observed the first Friday of March. Under the auspices of an international committee composed of an officer from each country that has a national committee, World Day of Prayer is sponsored in the United States by Church Women United. Each year the international committee chooses a theme and appoints a group from a different part of the world to write the worship services, based on the chosen theme. This year's theme, "Make Us Builders of Peace" was prepared by the women of Japan. To work towards this goal, a group of women from many parts of the United States have traveled to Japan and will worship with the Japanese women on World Day of Prayer.

The service at St. Bernard's church on Friday will be based on the international theme, "Make Us Builders of Peace," with Rev. Berton Hushagen, pastor at Trinity Lutheran church, as speaker. Music will be provided by an inter-church choir composed of members from local churches. Also participating at the service will be readers and musicians from those churches.

Mrs. Julian C. Lendobeja, chairman of the Ecumenical Involvement of the Catholic Daughters of St Bernard's, will welcome the guests. Helping her plan the program were women from United Methodist church, Zion, Redeemer and Trinity Lutheran church and St. Bernard's Catholic church.

All women throughout the area are welcome to attend. Fellowship hours have been scheduled from 9 a.m., until services begin at 10, and from 11 to 12 noon. A staffed nursery will be provided from 9-11:30 a.m. The offering will be divided between the American Bible Society and Church Women United.

Social Concern Is Discussed At BPW Dinner-Meet

Social Concern was the topic at the Thief River Falls Business and Professional Women's club monthly dinner-meeting held Tuesday, February 19 at the Aurelia room at the Elks club. To correspond with the topic, guest speakers were Inga Geving and Erick Hammershoy, representatives of the Pennington county Historical society.

They stressed the historical value of preserving our heritage for future generations and stated that this should be of concern to everyone. In giving an account of the work of the society, they reported on the progress of the Historical Village. Already located at the village are a schoolhouse, depot, barber shop, store, log cabin and a log blacksmith shop. A list of items needed to complete the displays was given. They also stated that plans were to move the historical items now stored in the court house to the village location this summer and that assistance in arranging the collections would be appreciated.

Program chairman Inga Shetler introduced the speakers. President Ardith Johnson president at the meeting. In addition to endorsing Lovanell Kraemer to fill the position of Alderman at Large on the city council as reported earlier, the club will also sponsor a membership drive for the local blood bank. The drive will be held in April with the date to be announced later.

The finance committee chairman, Inga Shetler reported that a card party has been scheduled for March 19 with Connie Ferber and Bernice Nelson as co-chairmen. She stated that bridge and whist will be offered and in place of merchandise prizes cash prizes will be given.

National BPW President Jean McCarry, in a letter to the club, reported that over half of the ERA financial goal had been reached. She also announced that Ohio, Maine and Montana had been added to the list of states ratifying the Equal Rights Amendment.

Information on district meetings and conventions was given. The possibility of hosting the summer board meeting in 1976 was also discussed. If the Shoe Fits..

When does a baby need hard sole shoes?

Most doctors recommend hard soles when the baby begins to pull himself up. There are good reasons for this.

The trouble is that too many mothers think of stiff soles when the doctor says hard soles. This writer has surveyed many doctors and found that they do not want stiff shoes on their baby's feet nor on themselves for that matter.

Hard sole shoes can and should be very flexible to allow normal foot functions. The baby needs a flexible sole in order to balance himself while learning to walk.

Inter-City Gas President Says Supply Available

G. H. Lucas, vice president of Inter-City Gas Limited, Inc., points out that news media have recently given much publicity to a planned reduction in volumes of natural gas to be sold by Northern Natural Gas company.

In some cases no mention has been made of the fact that such reductions apply only to large volume interruptible customers and are being made to preserve a supply for residential and small commerical customers, Lucas said.

Lucas feels that residents of the communities served by Inter-City should be aware of that company's position as regards gas supply. In serving over 30 communities in northern Minnesota, Inter-City has four separate sources of supply. Northern's reduction, as announced, will affect only a half-dozen of its customers.

Lucas further states that—over the past two years—Inter-City has endeavored to comply with priorities established by the Federal Power commission and is making a steady effort to transfer load from low priority to the number one priority customers—residential and small commercial firm loads.

As a result, Inter-City is not only in a position to assure such existing customers of a supply of natural gas for many years to come, but can also offer this service to additional new customers.

Open House Set At Clinic In Red Lake Falls

Red Lake Falls clinic corporation opened for business in its new facilities February 11 and open house will be held officially this Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. Refreshments will be served by the St. John's hospital auxiliary and the community is cordially invited to attend.

Financing of the new building was guaranteed by a vote of the people of Red Lake Falls Sept. 11, 1973, when a $195,000 municipal bond issue was approved by vote of 451 to 28. Bids were opened October 15 and a contract for the modular building was awarded to Marshall Erdman Associates for $141,774. Work was begun in December and modules were set in place on the foundation January 4. Work on the building was completed January 21. New X-ray equipment and clinical computer-type machine for lab work have been purchased.

A full-time laboratory technician, Don Critchley, has joined the staff. A third physician, Dr. Greg Magnuson, will join Drs. Mersy and Mukand July 1. Two full-time nurses, four office workers, a part-time custodian and office manager Bob Johnson complete the staff.

The opening of the new clinic building marks the high point of a story which began in the summer of 1969 with the announcement that Red Lake Falls two doctors would leave in a matter of weeks. Frustration succeeded frustration until February of 1970, when Dr. David J. Mersy began is practice there. Dr. S. K. Eric Mukand joined him in July of 1972.

Landscaping and work on the site await warmer weather. It is not possible at this time to give a final figure for the total cost of the building and equipment. The bond issue sold December 28 at 5.742 per cent interest. The bid price on the building was the amount estimated originally.

National Survey On Fertilizer Taken In Minn.

How serious is the fertilizer shortage?

What will be its impact upon 1974 crop production plans of Minnesota's biggest and most vital industry—agriculture?

What areas of the state will be adversely affected?

What is the potential impact upon ultimate food and fiber consumers?

A special survey of the state's more than 500 licensed fertilizer dealers will provide some answers to those important questions, Commissioner Jon Wefald reported recently.

Minnesota is one of the cooperating states in a special national survey recommended by the national fertilizer control officials association.

"Survey results should pinpoint the growing list of apparent problem areas and provide the lead time to work out solutions that will be in the mutual best interests of farmers and consumers," commissioner Wefald stated.

He said concern is mounting in localized pockets throughout the state where farmers report dealers have either closed, left, or report not a pound of fertilizer is yet available or promised for the new crop season only 45 to 60 days away.

"We are told that several petroleum companies which also are among the major plant food suppliers have sold out, pulled out, are pulling out or are sharply cutting fertilizer deliveries.

"If this is true, it could mean that too many of our Minnesota farmers won't have adequate fertilizer for this food producing season.

Fortunately, several of the major distributors have reassured their regular customers and the department that fertilizer stocks should be at least equal or up to ten per cent greater than last year.

"But the problem can be real for the pocket areas where farmers have no assured supply. Most if not all the remaining dealers are allocating fertilizer stocks to present patrons only, and accepting no new customers. The farmer who has lost his fertilizer dealer has no place to turn," commissioner Wefald explained.

He said that even in these isolated pockets, a real fertilizer shortage could seriously damage affected farmers, and in turn injure the economy of the local community. Fertilizer is the key to the record food production that consumers and the nation's economy have depended upon. Without fertilizer, food production on the affected farms can be cut one-third or more below normal.

Switch To Cigar Smoking May Not Improve Health

Many heavy cigarette smokers who switch to cigars may actually increase the risk to their health instead of lowering it.

A study in London followed seven smokers through the switch from cigarettes to cigars. The findings indicate that all seven continued to inhale when they smoked cigars, and all reached the same high blood levels of carbon monoxide that they had while smoking cigarettes.

A high level of carbon monoxide, which impairs the blood's ability to carry oxygen to body tissues, has been implicated as an important factor in the development of hardening of the arteries.

The authors of this study point out that the "tars" in cigar smoke contain more potent cancer-causing substances than cigarette tars. "It is therefore possible," they conclude, "that cigar smokers who inhale might actually run a greater risk than those who continue to smoke cigarettes."

"On present evidence," the authors report, "no encouragement should be given to heavy cigarette smokers to change to cigars." They cite a previous survey which showed that about half of former cigarette smokers who used to inhale a fair amount still do so on changing to cigars. They also noted that even if the smoker does not inhale, cigar smoke is more readily absorbed through the lining of the mouth than is cigarette smoke.

R.C. Voskuil, IRS district director for Minnesota, said recently that farmers who did not file a declaration of estimated federal individual income tax by January 15 should file their 1973 tax return and pay all tax due by March 1 to avoid a penalty.

Farmers are defined as those persons who earned at least two-thirds of their 1973 gross income from farming.

IRS Publicatons 225, "Farmers Tax Guide," and 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," provide additional information and are available free at all Minnesota IRS offices.

Second Meeting On Women Trying College Slated

A second meeting for mature women interested in trying college will be held at Northland community college on Thursday at 8 p.m. in room B37.

First meeting that was held on February 13 at Northland college had 41 women in attendance with a number of women indicating they will be enrolling at Northland for the spring quarter beginning March 8.

From this group, it was suggested that a second meeting be scheduled to provide an opportunity for more women to have questions answered about attempting college. The meeting on February 28 will try to answer questions relating to enrolling in college, such as how to register for a course or courses, when to register, schedule of classes, credit or non-credit and others as they arise during the meeting.

The meeting is open to all women who have had a desire or interest in attending college and wish information on how to accomplish this.

U.S. Oil Import Bill Paid By Surplus Ag Trade

Area farmers should be proud of their part in helping pay the U.S. oil import bill in 1973, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman, Marshall county ASC committee.

Commenting on President Nixon's annual international economic report, agriculture secretary Earl Butz said: "The report shows that oil imports cost a total of $9.3 billion in 1973. That is the exact amount of the surplus in agricultural trade last year. We exported $9.3 billion more farm products than we imported. So the farm trade surplus exactly offset our imported oil bill for the nation."

The international economic report indicated that oil imports might cost $25 billion in 1974, about $15.7 billion more than in 1973.

"The money must come from somewhere to buy this imported oil to keep our factories going, our transportation moving and our homes heated," secretary Butz said. "We can pay for some of this oil through continued strong sales of soybeans, wheat, corn and other farm commodities. We have asked American farmers to go all out in farm production in 1974.

"We are doing all we can to see that farmers have the fuel and fertilizer and other supplies to get the job done. High productivity on our American farms, which makes farm exports possible, will contribute a great deal to keep this nation going. Every person will have a stake in how well farmers do in 1974," the secretary said.

VA Offers Tips To Recipients Of Veteran Benefits

Veterans Administration recently offered some income tax tips for recipients of veterans' benefits.

Leo A. Bodde, acting director, VA Center, Fort Snelling, said that, in general, veterans benefits are exempt from taxation, and need not be reported as income.

Interest on government life insurance dividends left on deposit or credit with VA is an exception, he said. Since this interest is considered income, it must be reported.

Dividends and proceeds from government life insurance policies are exempt from federal income tax, but proceeds are subject to federal estage tax.

Bodde said that compensation, pension, GI Bill and other educational assistance, including subsistence payments to vocational rehabilitation trainees, are among other major tax-exempt VA benefits.

Also exempt are grants to service-disabled veterans eligible for specially-adapted homes and cars, and clothing allowances for those whose prosthetic devices tend to wear out or tear their clothing, he said.

ASCS To Start Wheat And Feed Signups By Mail

Farmers who want to sign up for the 1974 wheat and feed grain programs will be able to do it by mail this year, according to Wallace Sparby, executive director for the Pennington county agricultural stabilization and conservation service (ASCS).

In the past, farmers had to go to the county ASCS office to sign up in person, sometimes facing long lines. Bad weather often prevented farmers from getting to the county office and, consequently, signup sometimes had to be extended.

Another new feature this year, Sparby said, is that signup will be combined with certification.

"The procedure is very simple," he said. "Farmers wishing to participate in a program should call, write or visit the county office as soon as possible after planting for signup and certification. After filling out and signing the forms, the farmer leaves them at the county office or mails them in as he prefers. It's as simple as that."

Signup begins with certification; that is, when the farmer certifies the acreages of crops he has planted. The final date for signup will be determined by the state committee and will be announced later.

Participation in the commodity programs has been simplified, too, Sparby said. There are no set-aside requirements, no restrictions on planting for the 1974 crop, and no conserving requirements through the next four crop years, the duration of the agriculture and consumer protection act of 1973, he said.

This means that under the 1974 program, farmers will be able to plant as many acres as they want of any crop.

Farmers who sign up will be eligible for program payments should payments be required. Under the 1973 act farmers are guaranteed a "target price." For corn it is $1.38 a bushel, for wheat, $2.05 a bushel. If the average price for these commodities falls below the target price, the producer receives the difference between the target price and the five-month average price received by all farmers for wheat and feed grains.

New Forage Crop Not Good Choice, Agent Reports

A forage crop named comfrey which has been promoted in this area recently does not appear to be a good choice according to Terry Courneya, Pennington county agent.

In USDA studies conducted at universities in Vermont, Wisconsin and California, comfrey has consistently proved itself inferior to the more common forage crops such as alfalfa, timothy, brome and red clover. The crude protein content of comfrey in studies mentioned ranged from 12 to 26 per cent, however, the digestibility of the protein was only 49 per cent in California tests. This compares to over 70 per cent digestibility of the crude protein in alfalfa.

The claims for exceptionally high yields of green material per acre have not been borne out in carefully conducted experiments in the U.S.

Comfrey is difficult to use as a feed. Grazing very quickly destroys the plants while the high water content causes problems in hay making. Attempts to make silage from it have been largely unsuccessful. Cutting it green and hauling it to the animals appears to be the only way to achieve maximum use without damaging the stand.

Deductible On Medicare Rate Is Increased

Hospital insurance deductible under medicare has been increased to $84 in 1974.

This means that a Medicare patient admitted to a hospital will be responsible for the $84 of the bill, according to William Phalen, manager of the Grand Forks, N.D. social security district.

The 1973 deductible was $72. The increase was required by law to keep the deductible in line with the average cost of one day's care in a hospital. The $84 applies to a hospital stay of 60 days or less. For hospitalization of 61 to 90 days a Medicare patient pays a coinsurance charge of $21 a day.

Phalen said Medicare hospital insurance helps pay the hospital bills of most people 65 and over, of disabled persons under 65 who have been getting disability payments for two years or more, and of eligible people who need kidney transplants or dialysis for kidney disease.

Anyone wanting more information about this may call the Grand Forks, N.D. office at 772-5517.

Thief River Falls will be seeking a "triple crown" sweep tonight (Wednesday) when the Prowlers tangle with defending champion Bemidji in the 1974 region eight hockey tournament championship game at 7:30 p.m. in the sports arena.

Prowler coach Bill McGann pointed out a three step Thief River Falls goal prior to the start of the 1973-74 season and to date the Prowlers have matched two of the three pre-set achievements.

"The first goal we set for ourselves at the start of the season was to finish with at least-a-.500-record," explained McGann who is in his second year at the Prowler helm. Thief River Flls surpassed its first challenge by finishing the regular season with an 11-7 record—a mark that has now been stretched to 13-7 with tournament wins over Moorhead 10-2 ahd Warroad 4-3.

"The second goal we set for ourselves was to win the region eight north half championship," said McGann. Thief River Falls met that task as well, tying Roseau for the top spot in the regular season north half point standings with a 12-4 points won-lost mark. The Prowlers surpassed their goal by winning the north crown outright on a coin flip with the Rams.

"Our third goal of the year is to win the region eight championship," McGann pointed out. That task awaits Thief River Falls tonight when the underdog Prowlers tackle the powerful Lumberjacks in a game that will be played before a frenzied crowd of over 3,000 hockey fans.

Seating capacity in the sports arena is just an estimate figure of around 3,200, but that's strictly a rough estimate. Lincoln high school athletic director Russ Smith guessed about 250 spectators were turned away from the arena doors before the start of Monday's semi-final games featuring Roseau playing Bemidji and Thief River Falls against Warroad. However, 150 of those patient fans gained entrance into the arena after the end of the first game.

Thief River Falls hockey fans who never seem to get in enough hockey watching, will be treated to the 1974 Minnesota junior college athletic association (MJCAA) state tournament Thursday and Friday in the sports arena—immediately following the conclusion of the region eight classic.

The MJCAA state meet promises to be more of the even balanced closely fought hockey that's highlighted the region eight tournament. Host Northland, Mesabi of Virginia, Hibbing and Itasca of Grand Rapids will take part in the event at 6 and 8:30 both nights. Thursday's first round winners will qualify for the national junior college hockey tournament—also scheduled to be held in Thief River Falls March 15 and 16.

Fans should be treated to a brawling "Iron Range" type hockey when any of the three range schools—Mesabi, Itasca and Hibbing—get together, especially if Mesabi and Hibbing should lock horns in the championship game.

In a recent regular season game a real donneybrook broke out among the players when Hibbing tipped Mesabi 7-6 in an overtime game played at Virginia. An article from the Mesabi Daily News in Virginia recounting the end of the game read like this:

"Through the first three periods of the play the Norse and the Cards bounced one another off the boards with authority and abandon, but the bodily damage reached its zenith following (Dave) Herbst's winning goal as the two teams squared off at center ice for a pier six brawl.

Spectators as well as players became involved in the fracas, and fans picked up sticks and jousted with Hibbing players while several small skirmishes continued on the ice between the players.

The war erupted during the traditional post game ceremony of hand shaking and took no less than fifteen minutes before the ice was cleared. Two squads of police were called to the scene to calm the outburst."

The Hibbing-Mesabi meetings rekindle old smoldering hostilities that began in high school play.

Lincoln Freshmen Beat Goodridge

Lincoln high school freshman basketball team defeated Goodridge 55-38 Thursday to lift the Prowler frosh record to 9-5 for the year.

Thief River Falls jumped out to a 19-2 first quarter lead, maintained a 27-18 halftime advantage and led 42-24 after three quarters.

Dave Poole and Terry Dyrdal paced coach Tom O'Brien's Lincoln freshman scoring with 19 and 17 points respectively.

University of North Dakota basketball teams have a 8-4 record in post-season NCAA tournament play.

Bemidji Trips Roseau 3-2 In Overtime Region Game

Bemidji advanced into the region eight championship game for the third straight year and fourth time in five years Monday with a thrilling 3-2 overtime win over Roseau in the jam packed Thief River Falls sports arena.

Defenseman Dick Howe finally ended the state tournament championship quality game with a close range backhand shot just eight seconds before the end of the eight minute sudden death overtime period.

Howe's goal came at the end of a full Bemidji rush as he reached back for a pass from teammate Ed Webb and slipped his soft backhand past Roseau goalie Tim Erickson who had turned in a brilliant goaltending job for the heartbroken Rams.

Roseau, the large crowd's sentimental favorite, posted a 1-0 lead in an intense first period when a sailing long range slap shot by Mike Burggraf was deflected in by Mark Harris with 5:53 remaining.

Bemidji interrupted the nearly non-stop flow of action midway through the second period to tie the game 1-1 when Andy Kannenberg latched on to a long rebound, waited until Erickson went to his knees and then tucked the puck into the short side of the net just between Erickson's leg and the goal pipe with 7:33 remaining.

Coach Chuck Grillo's Lumberjacks opened up a 2-1 lead in the third period on a long unassisted slap shot by defenseman Bill Himmelright—a shot that sailed just inside Erickson's right side and the pipe again—with 12:36 left.

Roseau rallied to tie the game 2-2 and send the contest into overtime when Kris Skrutvold converted a perfect centering pass from teammate Deland Broten with 4:01 to play. Broten received the puck from Keith Hedlund and passed to Skrutvold who neatly steered the puck past an out of position Wizner.

Erickson's spectacular performance resulted in 26 saves, including many extremely tough shots, while Wizner stopped an equal number of shots, but not as many hard to handle drives.

WARROAD GOALIE Jim Frolander's glove hand came up empty on this play as the puck sailed into the Warrior net during Monday night's region eight hockey tournament semi-final game against Thief River Falls in the sports arena. Prowler sophomore Mike Noel shot the puck for the first goal of the game with 4:38 remaining in the first period. Thief River Falls went on to claim a thrilling 4-3 win.

TRF Shades Warroad 4-3 In Region Semi's

Thief River Falls treated its large home town sports arena crowd to a nerve wrecking 4-3 semi-final round triumph over Warroad Monday to advance the Prowlers into tonight's (Wednesday) championship game of the unbelievably well balanced 1974 region eight hockey tournament.

The Prowlers followed an emotion draining 3-2 Bemidji overtime win over Roseau with their own heart pounding one goal decision over the Warriors to set up tonight's title deciding match-up between the tournament's top seeded teams—north half champion Thief River Falls and south half winner Bemidji.

Junior wing Tom Barry scored a pair of goals and added an assist to spark the Prowler win. Greg Soenson and Mike Noel each added single goals and Jim Elleson collected a pair of assists in the game.

Noel, the only sophomore skating with the Prowler varsity, opened the hard hitting game's scoring with his 30 foot slap shot while on the move sailing past Warroad goalie Jim Frolander's outstretched glove hand and into the net with only 4:38 remaining in the first period. Barry and Tony Dorn picked up assists on the play.

Warroad capitalized on a costly blunder by Thief River Falls goalie Joel Folger to tie the game 1-1 at the start of the second period. Folger skated nearly to the blue line in an attempt to clear the puck away from onrushing Warroad wing Lyle Estling, but hesitated momentarily and Estling swept across the wide open goal mouth with the puck for an easy goal just 1:47 into the stanza.

The Warriors took their only lead of the night midway through the second period when steller center Gordon Olson sent a straightaway 20 foot slap shot high into the net as he stepped over a fallen Prowler defender for a 2-1 Warroad edge with seven minutes remaining.

Thief River Falls wasted little time tying the game back up, however, as Sorenson slipped a long line drive along the ice and under Frolander for an unassisted goal just 35 seconds after Olson had scored.

A minute later Thief River Falls owned a 3-2 lead when Barry scored his first goal—a rebound shot—on assists from Elleson and Scott Kays.

The slim one goal Prowler lead lasted only till the 2:09 mark of the pulsating third perod when Warroad's Ron Johnson whipped a low wrist shot past Folger from a scramble in front of the Prowler net to knot the game 3-3.

Barry scored the game winning goal on an assist from Elleson with 8:05 remaining when the Prowler wing shoved a close range rebound toward the Warroad net that just trickled across the goal line out of Frolander's sprawling reach.

Warroad pulled Frolander in favor of an extra skater with 35 seconds left and managed to carry the play in the Prolwer end, but never dented Folger who recorded 20 saves in the game. Frolander handled 23 shots successfully.

First Period

Scoring—TRF, Noel assisted by Barry and Dorn, 10:34.

Penalties—TRF, Sorenson, tripping, 3:55. TRF, Tunberg, tripping, 5:37.

Saves—TRF, Folger 8. Warroad, Frolander 4.

Second Period

Scoring—Warroad, Estling assisted by Ganyo, 1:47. TRF, Sorenson unassisted, 8:35. Warroad, Olson assisted by Johnson and Taylor, 8:00.

Penalties—Warroad, Ganyo, elbowing, 2:24. TRF, Onkka, holding, 4:30. TRF, Barry, slashing, 7:37. Warroad, Ganyo, high sticking, 9:53. Warroad, Olson, tripping, 10:26. Warroad, Ganyo, roughing, 13:37.

Saves—TRF, Folger 6. Warroad, Frolander 8.

Third Period

Scoring—Warroad, Johnson assisted by Estling, 2:09. TRF, Barry assisted by Elleson, 6:55.

Penalties—TRF, Sorenson, tripping, 1:55. Warroad, Estling, cross checking, 12:52.

Saves—TRF, Folger 4, game total 20. Warroad, Frolander 11, game total 23.

Sub District Winners Join District 31 Tourney Field

Alvarado, Goodridge and Oslo won first round sub district basketball games Tuesday night to complete the eight team field for the 1974 district 31 tournament scheduled to start Monday at the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

Alvarado stopped Red Lake Falls 67-49, Goodridge whipped Climax 77-41 and Oslo upset Plummer 73-64 in sub district 31 tournament games played in Thief River Falls' Lincoln high school gymnasium.

Tuesday night's three winners, along with the sub district's number one seeded Fisher, will join the four district schools—Thief River Falls, Warren, East Grand Forks and Crookston in the district 31 tournament.

The second round sub district games will be played tomorrow (Thursday) with Alvarado facing Goodridge at 7 p.m., followed by a Fisher-Oslo match-up at 8:30. The sub district consolation and championship games will be played Friday at 7 and 8:30. All sub district 31 games are being played in the Lincoln gym.

Monday night's first round district 31 pairings will find defending champion Crookston playing the third place sub district team at 7 p.m., with East Grand Forks facing the second place sub district team at 8:45. First round district games at top Tuesday will find top seeded Thief River Falls playing the fourth place sub district team at 7, while Warren goes against the number one sub district team at 8:45.

The district 31 semi-finals will be played Thursday at 7 and 8:45 with the consolation and championship game slated Friday at 7 and 8:45.

Alvarado-RLF

Underdog Red Lake Falls battled heavily favored Alvarado on even terms throughout the first half of their sub district opening game before the strong Indians pulled away from the undermanned Eagles after intermission to win 67-49.

Alvarado led only 6-4 at the end of the first quarter and just 25-20 at halftime before the Indians pulled out to a 43-33 chushion after three quarters.

Brothers Chuck and Bruce Kollin paced the Alvarado scoring with 18 and 16 points respectively. High scoring Gary Boman was held to only nine points, but his domination in the rebounding department was a big factor in the game. Bill Rasmussen led Red Lake Falls with 12 points and teammate Dennis Thorfinson added 11.

Alvarado improved its season record to 17-2 while Red Lake Falls finished its campaign 3-15.

Goodridge-Climax

Goodridge ended a dismal Climax season on an equally dismal note in Tuesday's second game as the Huskies raced to a one-sided 24-8 first quarter lead and coasted to a lopsided 77-41 win. Goodridge led 40-16 at halftime and 62-31 after three quarters against the defending sub district champion Vikings who won only one game all season.

Five Goodridge players scored in double figures with Don Grabowska netting 18, Tom Bendickson 16, Howard Vigen 14, Arden Hyland 10 and Paul Solberg 10. Climax was led in scoring by Bryan Stortroen with 14 points and Don Morgan with 10.

The win boosted Goodridge's record to 10-9.

Oslo-Plummer

The sub district's best game was saved for last as Plummer and Oslo battled throughout four quarters of closely played basketball before the Bobcats pulled off a minor upset by beating the Cardinals 73-64.

Plummer led 16-15 at the end of the first quarter before Oslo went in front 34-29 at halftime. A last second shot at the third quarter buzzer gave Oslo a 52-48 lead heading into the final eight minutes in which an early scoring spurt carried the Bobcats to the win.

Bill Solem poured in 30 points to pace the Bobcats' effort while Rod Teigen chipped in 16 and Ken Chisholm added 13. Dave Walter led Plummer with 21 points, Mitch Norby scored 17 and Ed Vatthauer added 11.

Oslo's record climbed to 6-13 with the win while Plummer finished 9-10.

Region 8 All-Star Team Announced

Players from six different teams were named to the top six spots on the 1973-74 region eight hockey star team announced Monday by radio station KTRF in Thief River Falls.

Although there is no official region eight all-star team, KTRF's annual selections are made by balloting all region coaches with no coach allowed to vote for his own players.

Named to the region eight first team all-star squad were forwards Bruce Olson of Roseau, Randy Beck of Bemidji and Tim Pesch of East Grand Forks; defensemen Tony Dorn of Thief River Falls and Jack Ganyo of Warroad; and goalie Jeff Leman of Fergus Falls.

Ganyo and Dorn, both seniors, were the only repeaters from last year's first team. Ganyo was named to the 1972-73 squad as a forward, though. Beck, a senior, and Olson, a junior, were second team picks last winter. Pesch was the only sophomore named to either the first or second region all-star team. Leman, although not readily recognized by many region north half fans, was reportedly supurb for the relatively weak Otter sextet this season, becoming the first Fergus Falls player ever named in the region's all-star picks.

Tony Dorn

The region's all-star second team was also comprised of players from six different schools, including senior Kim Turner of Hallock in goal; junior Mike Neitzke of Detroit Lakes and senior Dick Howe of Bemidji on defense; and junior Mike Burggraf of Roseau, junior Rick Myers of East Grand Forks and senior Scott Reed of Thief River Falls on the forward line.

Thief River Falls had two honorable mention region all-star picks in senior goalie Joel Folger and junior wing Jeff Tunberg.

Northland-TRF Host MJCAA State Hockey Tournament

Thief River Falls and Northland community college will host the 1974 Minnesota junior college athletic association (MJCAA) state hockey tournament Thursday and Friday in the Thief River Falls sports arena.

The top four teams in the league's final regular season standings qualified for the state classic, including Mesabi of Virginia, Itasca of Grand Rapids, Hibbing and Northland.

First round games scheduled tomorrow (Thursay) will find Hibbing playing Itasca at 6 p.m., with Northland taking on Mesabi at 8:30.

The first round winners will clash Friday at 8:30 in the state championship game, preceded by a 6 p.m. consolation game between the first round losers.

The top two Minnesota teams (Thursday night's winners) will advance to the national junior college tournament scheduled to be held in Thief River Falls March 15 and 16.

This year's event is the fourth annual MJCAA state tournament and is the first intercollegiate play-off tournament game ever staged in Thief River Falls. Rainy River won the first MJCAA state hockey title in 1971 when the tournament was played on the Voyageurs' home rink in International Falls. Itasca won the crown in 1972 on the Vikings' home ice in Grand Rapids and later went on to win the first ever national junior college championship. Crookston won last year's state tournament title by beating Northland 10-6 in the championship game played at Grand Rapids.

Final League Standings

	w	l	pts
Mesabi	16	3	22
Itasca	18	4	20
Hibbing	10	11	13
Northland	10	8	12
Lakewood	5	11	8
Crookston	3	11	6
Rainy River	1	19	1

Northland coach Swede Lund hopes his Northmen can continue their steady state tournament improvement which has found the Northland sextet climb a notch in the state event each year. Northland lost two state tournament games in the 1971 classic, won the consolation trophy with a 12-5 win over Lakewood in 1972 and finished second last winter.

Mesabi will carry the favorite's role into their year's tournament, although Lund is quick to point out the well balanced four team field. "I look for a real even balanced tournament. Any of the four teams can win it with two good back to back games."

Mesabi boasts two of the state's finest junior college hockey players in high scoring Jim Spolarich and Mike Norman. Spolarich, a freshman defenseman from Eveleth, scored 29 goals and added 20 assists through Mesabi's first 18 games. Norman, a sophomore wing from Virginia, scored 14 goals and added 13 assist in 17 Mesabi games. Sophomore goalie Keith Larson is another strong link in the well balanced Norseman squad.

Hibbing is one of the state's highest scoring squads, led by league leading scorer Dave Herbst, a freshman center. Herbst, a vital clog in Hibbing's state high school championship hockey team last winter, has held the league's point lead since the first week of the season. Through 19 games Herbst scored an unbelievable 40 goals and added 29 assists for a whopping 69 points. Tim Ewals, a sophomore defenseman from Grand Forks, is another top Hibbing scoring threat, along with freshman wing Dave Mlaker from Chisholm who ranked among the league's scoring leaders with 14 goals and 21 assists for 35 points in 18 games.

Itasca will field a well coached sextet with plenty of scoring potential. Freshman Bob Anderson finished second in the league's scoring race behind Herbst with 27 goals and 28 assists for 55 points in 17 Itasca games. Sophomore win Dan LeClair from Taconite was third in the individual scoring race with 24 goals and 25 assists for 49 points in only 16 games. A third member of the explosive Vikings' attack, sophomore center Kevin Singpiel from Cloquet, was the league's fourth leading scorer with 29 goals and 20 assists for 48 points in 17 games.

"If we can skate and play a good sound game we've got as good a chance as anybody at winning the thing," said Lund. "It all depends on who wants it the most."

Northland skated to an 11-11 season record, but the Northmen lost all eight games against the other state tournament opponents. Northland lost two games each to Mesabi 6-5 and 5-0; and Hibbing 7-4 and 10-5; while losing four times to Itasca 8-5, 5-3 5-3 and 6-1.

State junior college advance sale tickets may be purchased at Northland, First Northwestern State Bank, Northern State Bank and from any Lions club member. Tickets will also be available at the arena ticket counter. A complete four game ticket price is $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. Single session tickets will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Northmen Open State Tournament Play Thurs.

Northland community college will make its first appearance ever in the Minnesota junior college state basketball tournament this week when the 1974 event gets underway tomorrow (Thursday) in the North Hennepin community college gymnasium in the Twin Cities suburb of Brooklyn Center.

Coach Chet Engelman's Northmen, regular season Northwest Division champions with an eye-catching 18-4 record, will face Vermilion of Ely, the second place team in the Northeast Division, in a first round tournament game tomorrow at 7 p.m.

The state classic will open tomorrow afternoon when defending champion Normandale faces Bethany at 1 p.m., followed by a 3 o'clock game putting Mesabi against Inver Hills. The Northland-Vermilion clash tomorrow night will be followed by a 9 p.m. game featuring Rochester against Crookston.

Semi-final round games scheduled Friday will find the Mesabi-Inver Hills winner playing the Rochester-Crookston winner at 7 p.m., followed by a 9 o'clock game sending the Normandale-Bethany winner against the Northland-Vermilion winner.

The consolation and championship games will be played Saturday with the third place contest scheduled for 1 p.m. and the title game set for a 3 o'clock start.

"I suppose Normandale has to be rated the tournament favorite," admits Engelman, "But I'd put even money on us if we're able to play three good games. It all depends on how bad we want it. If we can go after it aggressively we can win it all," pointed out the confident Northland mentor.

Northland's seven-deep line-up that Engelman hopes will carry the team through the state tournament includes 6-5 center Burnie Stephens, 6-6 forward Tom Kays, 6-2 forward Bill Gusa, 6-0 guard Joe Brown, 6-1 guard Dave Kjos, 6-0 guard David Dickey and 6-2 forward Ralph Fitts. Kays is the lone sophomore in the group.

Northland has six players boasting double figure scoring averages this winter, a group led by the multi-talented Dickey with an 18.3 average, followed by Fitts 16.1, Gusa 15.8, Stephens 14.8, Brown 11.5 and Kjos 10.1.

The Northmen played four of the other seven state tournament teams during the regular season. Northland split with Crookston, winning 82-73 and losing 74-73; defeated Inver Hills 100-84; and beat Mesabi 115-86. Only Vermilion holds an unanswered win over the Northmen with the Ironmen claiming a 70-68 overtime decision. Engelman noted, however, "At the time of that game (Vermilion) we felt that given a neutral court and neutral officials we would win by ten. Now I guess we'll get an opportunity to find out."

Vermilion enters the state tournament with a so-so 11-7 season record. The Ely based school finished second in the Northeast Division behind the strong play of 6-3 freshman forward Mike Kochavar and 6-0 sophomore guard Steve Potter, a pair of standouts who starred for high school state tournament teams at Chisholm and Duluth Central respectively. The Ironmen rely on pure physical strength in its slow-down type of play.

Normandale's pre-tournament favorite's role is based on the Lions' tournament experience with the Bloomington school appearing in its third straight state meet. Normandale won the central Division title with a sparkling 19-3 record behind the standout play of 6-0 sophomore guard Tim Getten, an all state selection last season as a freshman.

The Minnesota state champion will advance to a region XIII play-off game Sat., March 9, for the right to play in the national junior college tournament. The Minnesota champion will play the winner of a game between the North Dakota and Wisconsin-upper Michigan champions.

Lincoln Cagers To Host Moorhead On Saturday

Coach Lee Swanson's Lincoln high school basketball team will close out its 1973-74 regular season schedule Saturday when the Prowlers host Moorhead in the Lincoln high school gym beginning at 8 p.m.

Thief River Falls, currently 12-5 for the year, will enter district 31 tournament competition Tuesday when the top seeded Prowlers face the fourth place sub district team in a 7 p.m. first round game in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

Saturday's Thief River Falls-Moorhead clash will be the first time the Prowlers and Spuds have met on a basketball court since the 1964-65 season when Thief River Falls posted a 68-63 triumph on the Moorhead hardwood.

Normally one of the state's elite basketball powers, Moorhead has bounced through a rocky 1973-74 season in which the Spuds have won just five of 17 decisions. Moorhead has won its last two outings, however, as the Spuds show signs of things to come since coach Bill Quenette has an entire underclassman roster. In its last two games Moorhead has beaten a good Fargo North team 52-51 and Detroit Lakes 59-54. Moorhead also owns a 63-49 win over Breckenridge, a team that crushed the Prowlers 51-38 earlier this season.

Rugged Bob Dale, a 6-5 sophomore center, leads the Moorhead attack. "He's a good one," noted Swanson. The other Moorhead starters will be all juniors, with 5-11 Chuck Gulsvig, a deft ball handler, and 6-0 Bob Jacobson at guards and 6-2 Jeff Vendsel and 6-1 Bob Wentzel at forwards. Steve Atchinson, a talented 6-2 sophomore forward, will also see extended playing time. Atchinson came off the bench and scored 16 points in the Spuds' recent win over the Lakers.

LHS Swimmers Will Enter State Meet On Friday

Lincoln high school swimmers Doug Williams and Dave Borning will represent Thief River Falls for the first time in history in the Minnesota state swimming meet this weekend when the 1974 event is held in the Cooke Hall pool on the University of Minnesota campus in Minneapolis.

Williams, Borning and Prowler coach John Kopari will leave for the Twin Cities tomorrow (Thursday). The pool will be available for practice time Thursday with the meet prelims scheduled Friday and Saturday morning. The finals are scheduled Saturday evening.

Irondale is the defending state champion.

Kopari is hoping his two Prowler swimmers will finish among the 12 place finishes—six in the finals and six in the consolation races. "We'll be swimming against the big boys from down there and it'll be a real great opportunity to just compete in the state meet for the first time—a good experience for the boys," explained Kopari who pointed out the high caliber state meet which includes Golden Valley, a recognized national high school swimming power, and John Prins of Jefferson who holds a national high school record in the backstroke.

"If we can gain a spot among the top 12 finishers it would be great," said Kopari who noted, "If Williams can cut down a tenth or two from his 23.4 time he would have a real chance to place."

Dave Gunther, University of North Dakota head basketball coach, ranked 12th amont the active winningest NCAA college division coaches at the start of the season. Gunther had a 118-41 record at the beginning of the season. He has been at UND since 1970-71.

Thief River Falls will be seeking a "triple crown" sweep tonight (Wednesday) when the Prowlers tangle with defending champion Bemidji in the 1974 region eight hockey tournament championship game at 7:30 p.m. in the sports arena.

Prowler coach Bill McGann pointed out a three step Thief River Falls goal prior to the start of the 1973-74 season and to date the Prowlers have matched two of the three pre-set achievements.

"The first goal we set for ourselves at the start of the season was to finish with at least a .500 record," explained McGann who is in his second year at the Prowler helm. Thief River Flls surpassed its first challenge by finishing the regular season with an 11-7 record - a mark that has now been stretched to 13-7 with tournament wins over Moorhead 10-2 and Warroad 4-3.

"The second goal we set for ourselves was to win the region eight north half championship," said McGann. Thief River Falls met that task as well, tying Roseau for the top spot in the regular season north half point standings with a 12-4 points won-lost mark. The Prowlers surpassed their goal by winning the north crown outright on a coin flip with the Rams.

"Our third goal of the year is to win the region eight championship," McGann pointed out. That task awaits Thief River Falls tonight when the underdog Prowlers tackle the powerful Lumberjacks in a game that will be played before a frenzied crowd of over 3,000 hockey fans.

Seating capacity in the sports arena is just an estimate figure of around 3,200, but that's strictly a rough estimate. Lincoln high school athletic director Russ Smith guessed about 250 spectators were turned away from the arena doors before the start of Monday's semi-final games featuring Roseau playing Bemidji and Thief River Falls against Warroad. However, 150 of those patient fans gained entrance into the arena after the end of the first game.

Thief River Falls hockey fans who never seem to get in enough hockey watching, will be treated to the 1974 Minnesota junior college athletic association (MJCAA) state tournament Thursday and Friday in the sports arena - immediately following the conclusion of the region eight classic.

The MJCAA state meet promises to be more of the even balanced closely fought hockey that's highlighted the region eight tournament. Host Northland, Mesabi of Virginia, Hibbing and Itasca of Grand Rapids will take part in the event at 6 and 8:30 both nights. Thursday's first round winners will qualify for the national junior college hockey tournament - also scheduled to be held in Thief River Falls March 15 and 16.

Fans should be treated to a brawling "Iron Range" type hockey when any of the three range schools - Mesabi, Itasca and Hibbing - get together, especially if Mesabi and Hibbing should lock horns in the championship game.

In a recent regular season game a real donneybrook broke out among the players when Hibbing tipped Mesabi 7-6 in an overtime game played at Virginia. An article from the Mesabi Daily News in Virginia recounting the end of the game read like this:

"Through the first three periods of the play the Norse and the Cards bounced one another off the boards with authority and abandon, but the bodily damage reached its zenith following (Dave) Herbst's winning goal as the two teams squared off at center ice for a pier six brawl.

Spectators as well as players became involved in the fracas, and fans picked up sticks and jousted with Hibbing players while several small skirmishes continued on the ice between the players.

The war erupted during the traditional post game ceremony of hand shaking and took no less than fifteen minutes before the ice was cleared. Two squads of police were called to the scene to calm the outburst."

The Hibbing-Mesabi meetings rekindle old smoldering hostilities that began in high school play.

Lincoln Freshmen Beat Goodridge

Lincoln high school freshman basketball team defeated Goodridge 55-38 Thursday to lift the Prowler frosh record to 9-5 for the year.

Thief River Falls jumped out to a 19-2 first quarter lead, maintained a 27-18 halftime advantage and led 42-26 after three quarters.

Dave Poole and Terry Dyrdal paced coach Tom O'Brien's Lincoln freshman scoring with 20 and 12 points respectively.

University of North Dakota basketball teams have a 8-4 record in post season NCAA tournament play.

TRF And Bemidji Clash Tonight For Region 8 Crown

Seating capacity in the Thief River Falls sports arena will once again be taxed to its limit tonight (Wednesday) when ancient athletic rivals Bemidji and Thief River Falls clash in the championship game of the 1974 region eight hockey tournament.

The two bitter opponents will face off at center ice at 7:30 with some 3,000 plus fans expected to fill the arena within minutes after the doors are opened at 6:30. Advance sale tickets were quickly gobbled up by hockey crazed Thief River Falls fans early Tuesday morning, but about 700 tickets will be available for purchase at the arena ticket counter tonight.

Thief River Falls and Bemidji advanced into tonight's tension building title game with similar exciting semi-final round tournament wins Monday when the Prowlers edged Warroad 4-3 and Bemidji slipped by Roseau 3-2 in overtime.

Monday's super charged tournament atmosphere will undoubtedly be carried into tonight's game as the Lumberjacks seek their third straight state tournament borth while the Prowlers harbor dreams of making the big trip south for the first time since 1965. Tonight will mark the first Thief River Falls region eight championship game appearance since 1968.

"We're really excited about playing in the championship game," understated McGann. "It's an exciting feeling for the kids, for the fans and for me too."

Tonight's Thief River Falls-Bemidji confrontation will be a classic struggle of two different hockey styles as the offensive minded Prowlers skate against the Lumberjacks who pride themselves on defense. "Bemidji normally doesn't score a lot of goals, but at the same time they don't give up many either," pointed out McGann. "It's going to be their good defense against our explosive offense, although defensively we may be a little tougher than, say Roseau, with (Tony) Dorn, (Mike) Onkka and (Greg) Sorenson back there."

Sorenson received special praise from McGann for his work against Warroad's starry Gordon Olson Monday. "I thought Greg did a real good job of taking care of Olson. He slid back on him and took him on one on one like our game plan called for and bottled him up. Everyone else did their jobs too by jumping all over (Jack) Ganyo whenever he got the puck. Those two guys (Olson and Ganyo) are something else."

"It was another total team win," noted McGann about the close win over the Warriors who improved tremendously during the winter campaign. "We had balanced scoring like we're always striving for, so that nobody can defense just one line against us."

McGann feels the key to the Prowler success against the Lumberjacks tonight will be the physical aspect of the game. "The biggest thing is that we've got to forecheck Bemidji and not let them intimidate us."

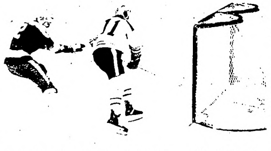
"I think it's going to be another one-goal game," explained McGann. "It'll be a game of breaks and whatever team gets the most breaks will win."

Bemidji and Thief River Falls split their two game regular season series, winning on each other's home ice as the Prowlers posted a one-sided 6-3 win at Bemidji, but the Lumberjacks claimed a decisive 4-2 victory in Thief River Falls.

The Prowlers will carry a 13-7 season record into tonight's game while the Lumberjacks boast an impressive 15-4-1 mark. Three of the seven Prowler losses were by just one goal, however, with two defeats suffered in overtime to Roseau 7-6 and 5-4. The other one goal loss was a 5-4 decision to region seven power Virginia.

Tonight's winner will advance to the 1974 state tournament at the Met Sports Center in Bloomington where they'll face the suburban region two champion in the final first round game at 8:30 p.m. Thurs., March 7. Tonight's loser will have one more state tournament opportunity when it faces the region seven runner-up Saturday at Detroit Lakes at 7:30 for the "back door" region three crown. Grand Rapids and Hibbing meet in the region seven championship game tomorrow at Duluth.

WARROAD GOALIE Jim Frolander's glove hand came up empty on this play as the puck sailed into the Warrior net during Monday night's region eight hockey tournament semi-final game against Thief River Falls in the sports arena. Prowler sophomore Mike Noel shot the puck for the first goal of the game with 4:36 remaining in the first period. Thief River Falls went on to claim a thrilling 4-3 win.



LYLE ESTLING of Warroad (11) had an open net to shoot at on this play during Monday night's region eight hockey semi final round game against Thief River Falls. Prowler goalie Joel Folger skated way out of the crease to clear away the puck but failed to beat Estling to the rubber as the Warrior senior tied the game at 1-1 despite the defensive efforts of Thief River Falls Tony Dorn (2). The Prowlers eventually won the game 4-3 to move into tonight's championship game against Bemidji.

TRF Shades Warroad 4-3 In Region Semi's

Thief River Falls treated its large home town sports arena crowd to a nerve wrecking 4-3 semi final round triumph over Warroad Monday to advance the Prowlers into tonight's (Wednesday) championship game of the unbelievably well balanced 1974 region eight hockey tournament.

The Prowlers followed an emotion draining 4-2 Bemidji overtime win over Roseau with their own heart pounding one goal decision over the Warriors to set up tonight's title deciding match up between the tournament's top seeded teams - north half champion Thief River Falls and south half winner Bemidji.

Junior wing Tom Barry scored a pair of goals and added an assist to spark the Prowler win. Greg Sorenson and Mike Noel each added single goals and Jim Ellison collected a pair of assists in the game.

Noel, the only sophomore skating with the Prowler varsity, opened the hard hitting game's scoring with his 30 foot slap shot while on the move sailing past Warroad goalie Jim Frolander's outstretched glove hand and into the net with only 4:36 remaining in the first period. Barry and Tony Dorn picked up assists on the play.

Warroad capitalized on a costly blunder by Thief River Falls goalie Joel Folger to tie the game 1-1 at the start of the second period. Folger skated nearly to the blue line in an attempt to clear the puck away from onrushing Warroad wing Lyle Estling but hesitated momentarily and Estling swept across the wide open goal mouth with the puck for an easy goal just 1:47 into the stanza.

The Warriors took their only lead of the night midway through the second period when steller center Gordon Olson sent a straightaway 20 foot slap shot high into the net as he stepped over a fallen Prowler defender for a 2-1 Warroad edge with seven minutes remaining.

Thief River Falls wasted little time tying the game back up, however, as Sorenson slipped a long line drive along the ice and under Frolander for an unassisted goal just 15 seconds after Olson had scored.

A minute later Thief River Falls owned a 3-2 lead when Barry scored his first goal, a rebound shot on assists from Elleson and Scott Kays.

The slim one goal Prowler lead lasted only till the 2:09 mark of the pulsating third perod when Warroad's Ron Johnson whipped a low wrist shot past Folger from a scramble in front of the Prowler net to knot the game 3-3.

Barry scored the game winning goal on an assist from Elleson with 8:05 remaining when the Prowler wing shoved a close range rebound toward the Warroad net that just trickled across the goal line out of Frolander's sprawling reach.

Warroad pulled Frolander in favor of an extra skater with 35 seconds left and managed to carry the play in the Prolwer end, but never dented Folger who recorded 20 saves in the game. Frolander handled 23 shots successfully.

Bemidji Trips Roseau 3-2 In Overtime Region Game

Bemidji advanced into the region eight championship game for the third straight year and fourth time in five years Monday with a thrilling 3-2 overtime win over Roseau in the jam packed Thief River Falls sports arena.

Defenseman Dick Howe finally ended the state tournament championship quality game with a close range backhand shot just eight seconds before the end of the eight minute sudden death overtime period.

Howe's goal came at the end of a full Bemidji rush as he reached back for a pass from teammate Ed Webb and slipped his soft backhand past Roseau goalie Tom Erickson who had turned in a brilliant goaltending job for the heartbroken Rams.

Roseau, the large crowd's sentimental favorite, posted a 1-0 lead in an intense first period when a sailing long range slap shot by Mike Burggraf was deflected in by Mark Harris with [illegible] remaining.

Bemidji interrupted the nearly non stop flow of action midway through the second period to tie the game 1-1 when Andy Kannenberg latched on to a long rebound, waited until Erickson went to his knees and then tucked the puck into the short side of the net just between Erickson's leg and the goal pipe with [illegible] remaining.

Coach Chuck Grillo's Lumberjacks opened up a 2-1 lead in the third period on a lone unassisted slap shot by defenseman Bill Himmelright, a shot that sailed [illegible] Erickson's right [illegible] the pipe [illegible].

Roseau rallied to tie the game and send the contest into overtime when Kris Skrutvold converted a perfect centering pass from teammate Dean Broten with [illegible] to play. Broten received the puck from Keith Hedlund [illegible] passed to Skrutvold who nearly steered the puck past an out of position Wizner.

Erickson's spectacular performance resulted in 26 saves including many extremely tough shots while Wizner stopped an equal number of shots but not as many hard to handle drives.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

PROWLER CENTER Scott Reed had a wide open net to shoot at, but couldn't find the handle on the bouncing puck on this play during Monday night's region eight hockey game against Warroad in the sports arena. Warroad goalie Jim Frolander lucked out on this play, but his team was beaten 4-3 by the Prowlers.

Sub District Winners Join District 31 Tourney Field

Alvarado, Goodridge and Oslo won first round sub district basketball games Tuesday night to complete the eight team field for the 1974 district 31 tournament scheduled to start Monday at the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

Alvarado stopped Red Lake Falls 67-49, Goodridge whipped Climax 77-41 and Oslo upset Plummer 73-64 in sub district 31 tournament games played in Thief River Falls' Lincoln high school gymnasium.

Tuesday night's three winners along with the sub district's number one seeded Fisher will join the four district schools - Thief River Falls, Warren, East Grand Forks and Crookston in the district 31 tournament.

The second round sub district games will be played tomorrow (Thursday) with Alvarado facing Goodridge at 7 p.m., followed by a Fisher-Oslo match up at 8:30. The sub district consolation and championship games will be played Friday at 7 and 8:30. All sub district 31 games are being played in the Lincoln gym.

Monday night's first round district 31 pairings will find defending champion Crookston playing the third place sub district team at 7 p.m., with East Grand Forks facing the second place sub district team at 8:45. First round district games at tap Tuesday will find top seeded Thief River Falls playing the fourth place sub district team at 7 while Warren goes against the number one sub district team at 8:45.

The district 31 semi finals will be played Thursday at 7 and 8:45 with the consolation and championship game slated Friday at 7 and 8:45.

Alvarado-RLF

Underdog Red Lake Falls battled heavily favored Alvarado on even terms throughout the first half of their sub district opening game before the strong Indians pulled away from the undermanned Eagles after intermission to win 67-49.

Alvarado led only 6-4 at the end of the first quarter and just 25-20 at halftime before the Indians pulled out to a 43-33 chushion after three quarters.

Brothers Chuck and Bruce Kollin paced the Alvarado scoring with 18 and 16 points respectively. High scoring Gary Boman was held to only nine points, but his domination in the rebounding department was a big factor in the game. Bill Rasmussen led Red Lake Falls with 12 points and teammate Dennis Thorfinson added 11.

Alvarado improved its season record to 17-2 while Red Lake Falls finished its campaign 3-15.

Goodridge-Climax

Goodridge ended a dismal Climax season on an equally dismal note in Tuesday's second game as the Huskies raced to a one sided 24-8 first quarter lead and coasted to a lopsided 77-41 win. Goodridge led 40-16 at halftime and 62-31 after three quarters against the defending sub district champion Vikings who won only one game all season.

Five Goodridge players scored in double figures with Don Grabowska netting 18, Tom Bendickson 16, Howard Vigen 14, Arden Hyland 10 and Paul Solberg 10. Climax was led in scoring by Bryan Stortroen with 14 points and Don Morgan with 10.

The win boosted Goodridge's record to 10-9.

Oslo-Plummer

The sub district's best game was saved for last as Plummer and Oslo battled throughout four quarters of closely played basketball before the Bobcats pulled off a minor upset by beating the Cardinals 73-64.

Plummer led 16-15 at the end of the first quarter before Oslo went in front 34-29 at halftime. A last second shot at the third quarter buzzer gave Oslo a 52-48 lead heading into the final eight minutes in which an early scoring spurt carried the Bobcats to the win.

Bill Solem poured in 30 points to pace the Bobcats' effort - while Rod Tegen chipped in 16 and Ken Chisholm added 13. Dave Walter led Plummer with 34 points, Mitch Norby scored 17 and Ed Vatthauer added 11.

Oslo's record climbed to 6-13 with the win while Plummer finished 9-10.

Region 8 All-Star Team Announced

Players from six different teams were named to the top six spots on the 1973-74 region eight hockey star team announced Monday by radio station KTRF in Thief River Falls.

Although there is no official region eight all star team, KTRF's annual selections are made by balloting all region coaches with no coach allowed to vote for his own players.

Named to the region eight first team all star squad were forwards Bruce Olson of Roseau, Randy Beck of Bemidji and Tim Pesch of East Grand Forks, defensemen Tony Dorn of Thief River Falls and Jack Ganyo of Warroad, and goalie Jeff Leman of Fergus Falls.

Ganyo and Dorn, both seniors, were the only repeaters from last year's first team. Ganyo was named to the 1972-73 squad as a forward, though Beck, a senior, and Olson, a junior, were second team picks last winter. Pesch was the only sophomore named to either the first or second region all star team. Leman, although not readily recognized by many region north half fans, was reportedly superb for the relatively weak Otter sextet this season, becoming the first Fergus Falls player ever named to the region's all star picks.

Tony Dorn

The region's all star second team was also comprised of players from six different schools including senior Kim Turner of Hallock in goal, junior Mike Neitzke of Detroit Lakes and senior Dick Howe of Bemidji on defense and junior Mike Burggraf of Roseau, junior Rick Myers of East Grand Forks and senior Scott Reed of Thief River Falls on the forward line.

Thief River Falls had two honorable mention region all star picks in senior goalie Joel Folger and junior wing Jeff Tunberg.

Northland-TRF Host MJCAA State Hockey Tournament

Thief River Falls and Northland community college will host the 1974 Minnesota junior college athletic association (MJCAA) state hockey tournament Thursday and Friday in the Thief River Falls sports arena.

The top four teams in the league's final regular season standings qualified for the state classic, including Mesabi of Virginia, Itasca of Grand Rapids, Hibbing and Northland.

First round games scheduled tomorrow (Thursay) will find Hibbing playing Itasca at 6 p.m., with Northland taking on Mesabi at 8:30.

The first round winners will clash Friday at 8:30 in the state championship game, preceded by a 6 p.m. consolation game between the first round losers.

The top two Minnesota teams (Thursday night's winners) will advance to the national junior college tournament scheduled to be held in Thief River Falls March 15 and 16.

This year's event is the fourth annual MJCAA state tournament and is the first intercollegiate play-off tournament game ever staged in Thief River Falls. Rainy River won the first MJCAA state hockey title in 1971 when the tournament was played on the Voyageurs' home rink in International Falls. Itasca won the crown in 1972 on the Vikings' home ice in Grand Rapids and later went on to win the first ever national junior college championship. Crookston won last year's state tournament title by beating Northland 10-6 in the championship game played at Grand Rapids.

Final League Standings

	w	l	pts
Mesabi	16	1	22
Itasca	16	3	20
Hibbing	10	11	13
Northland	10	8	12
Lakewood	5	11	8
Crookston	3	11	6
Rainy River	1	19	1

Northland coach Swede Lund hopes his Northmen can continue their steady state tournament improvement which has found the Northland sextet climb a notch in the state event each year. Northland lost two state tournament games in the 1971 classic, won the consolation trophy with a 12-5 win over Lakewood in 1972 and finished second last winter.

Mesabi will carry the favorite's role into their year's tournament, although Lund is quick to point out the well balanced four team field. "I look for a real even balanced tournament. Any of the four teams can win it with two good back to back games."

Mesabi boasts two of the state's finest junior college hockey players in high scoring Jim Spolarich and Mike Norman. Spolarich, a freshman defenseman from Eveleth, scored 29 goals and added 20 assists through Mesabi's first 18 games. Norman, a sophomore wing from Virginia, scored 14 goals and added 11 assists in 16 Mesabi games. Sophomore goalie Keith Larson is another strong link in the well balanced Norseman squad.

Hibbing is one of the state's highest scoring squads, led by league leading scorer Dave Herbst, a freshman center. Herbst, a vital cog in Hibbing's state high school championship hockey team last winter, has held the league's point lead since the first week of the season. Through 19 games Herbst scored an unbelievable 40 goals and added 29 assists for a whopping 69 points. Tim Ewals, a sophomore defenseman from Grand Forks, is another top Hibbing scoring threat, along with freshman wing Dave Mlaker from Chisholm who ranked among the league's scoring leaders with 14 goals and 21 assists for 35 points in 18 games.

Itasca will field a well coached sextet with plenty of scoring potential. Freshman Bob Anderson finished second in the league's scoring race behind Herbst with [illegible] goals and [illegible] assists for [illegible] points in [illegible] Itasca games. Sophomore [illegible] from [illegible] was third in the individual scoring race with 24 goals and [illegible] assists for [illegible] points in only [illegible] games. A third member of the explosive Vikings' attack, sophomore center Kevin [illegible] from Cloquet was the league's fourth leading scorer with 29 goals and 20 assists for 49 points in [illegible] games.

"If we can skate and play a good sound game we've got as good a chance as anybody at winning the thing," said Lund. "It all depends on who wants it the most."

Northland skated to an [illegible] season record, but the Northmen lost all eight games against the other state tournament opponents. Northland lost two games each to Mesabi [illegible] and Hibbing 7-4 and 10-5 while losing four times to Itasca 8-4, 5-3, 5-3 and 6-4.

State junior college advance sale tickets may be purchased at Northland, First Northwestern State Bank, Northern State Bank and from any Lions club member. Tickets will also be available at the arena ticket counter. A complete four game ticket price is $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. Single session tickets will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Northmen Open State Tournament Play Thurs.

Northland community college will make its first appearance ever in the Minnesota junior college state basketball tournament this week when the 1974 event gets underway tomorrow (Thursday) in the North Hennepin community college gymnasium in the Twin Cities suburb of Brooklyn Center.

Coach Chet Engelman's Northmen, regular season Northwest Division champions with an eye catching 18-4 record, will face Vermilion of Ely, the second place team in the Northeast Division, in a first round tournament game tomorrow at 7 p.m.

The state classic will open tomorrow afternoon when defending champion Normandale faces Bethany at 1 p.m. followed by a 3 o'clock game putting Mesabi against Inver Hills. The Northland-Vermilion clash tomorrow night will be followed by a 9 p.m. game featuring Rochester against Crookston.

Semi-final round games scheduled Friday will find the Mesabi-Inver Hills winner playing the Rochester-Crookston winner at 7 p.m., followed by a 9 o'clock game sending the Normandale-Bethany winner against the Northland-Vermilion winner.

The consolation and championship games will be played Saturday with the third place contest scheduled for 1 p.m. and the title game set for a 3 o'clock start.

"I suppose Normandale has to be rated the tournament favorite," admits Engelman. "But I'd put even money on us if we're able to play three good games. It all depends on how bad we want it. If we can go after it aggressively we can win it all," pointed out the confident Northland mentor.

Northland's seven deep line up that Engelman hopes will carry the team through the state tournament includes 6-5 center Burnie Stephens, 6-3 forward Tom Kays, 6-2 forward Bill Gosa, 6-0 guard Joe Brown, 6-1 guard Dave Kjos, 6-0 guard David Dickey and 6-2 forward Ralph Fitts. Kays is the lone sophomore in the group.

Northland has six players boasting double figure scoring averages this winter, a group led by the multi talented Dickey with an 18.3 average, followed by Fitts 16.1, Gosa 15.8, Stephens 14.8, Brown 11.5 and Kjos 10.1.

The Northmen played four of the other seven state tournament teams during the regular season. Northland split with Crookston winning 82-71 and losing 74-73, defeated Inver Hills 100-84, and beat Mesabi 115-86. Only Vermilion holds an unanswered win over the Northmen with the Ironmen claiming a 70-68 overtime decision. Engelman noted, however, "At the time of that game (Vermilion) we felt that given a neutral court and neutral officials we would win by ten. Now I guess we'll get an opportunity to find out."

Vermilion enters the state tournament with a so-so 11-7 season record. The Ely based school finished second in the Northeast Division behind the strong play of 6-3 freshman forward Mike Kochevar and 6-0 sophomore guard Steve Potter, a pair of standouts who starred for high school state tournament teams at Chisholm and Duluth Central respectively. The Ironmen rely on pure physical strength in its slow down type of play.

Normandale's pre-tournament favorite's role is based on the Lions' tournament experience with the Bloomington school appearing in its third straight state meet. Normandale won the central Division title with a sparkling 19-3 record behind the standout play of 6-0 sophomore guard Tim Gellen, an all state selection last season as a freshman.

The Minnesota state champion will advance to a region XIII play off game Sat., March 9 for the right to play in the national junior college tournament. The Minnesota champion will play the winner of a game between the North Dakota and Wisconsin-upper Michigan champions.

Lincoln Cagers To Host Moorhead On Saturday

Coach Lee Swanson's Lincoln high school basketball team will close out its 1973-74 regular season schedule Saturday when the Prowlers host Moorhead in the Lincoln high school gym beginning at 8 p.m.

Thief River Falls, currently 12-5 for the year, will enter district 31 tournament competition Tuesday when the top seeded Prowlers face the fourth place sub district team in a 7 p.m. first round game in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

Saturday's Thief River Falls-Moorhead clash will be the first time the Prowlers and Spuds have met on a basketball court since the 1964-65 season when Thief River Falls posted a 68-63 triumph on the Moorhead hard wood.

Normally one of the state's elite basketball powers, Moorhead has bounced through a rocky 1973-74 season in which the Spuds have won just five of 17 decisions. Moorhead has won its last two outings, however, as the Spuds show signs of things to come since coach Bill Quenette has an entire underclassman roster. In its last two games Moorhead has beaten a good Fargo North team 52-51 and Detroit Lakes 59-54. Moorhead also owns a 63-49 win over Breckenridge, a team that crushed the Prowlers 51-38 earlier this season.

Rugged Bob Dale, a 6-5 sophomore center, leads the Moorhead attack. "He's a good one," noted Swanson. The other Moorhead starters will be all juniors with 5-11 Chuck Gulsvig, a deft ball handler, and 6-0 Bob Jacobson at guards and 6-2 Jeff Vendsel and 6-4 Bob Wentzel at forwards. Steve Atchison, a talented 6-2 sophomore forward, will also see extended playing time. Atchison came off the bench and scored 16 points in the Spuds' recent win over the Lakers.

LHS Swimmers Will Enter State Meet On Friday

Lincoln high school swimmers Doug Williams and Dave Borning will represent Thief River Falls for the first time in history in the Minnesota state swimming meet this weekend when the 1974 event is held in the Cooke Hall pool on the University of Minnesota campus in Minneapolis.

Williams, Borning and Prowler coach John Kopari will leave for the Twin Cities tomorrow (Thursday). The pool will be available for practice time Thursday with the meet prelims scheduled Friday and Saturday morning. The finals are scheduled Saturday evening.

Irondale is the defending state champion.

Kopari is hoping his two Prowler swimmers will finish among the 12 place finishes, six in the finals and six in the consolation races. "We'll be swimming against the top boys from down there and it'll be a real great opportunity to just compete in the state meet for the first time, a good experience for the boys," explained Kopari who pointed out the high caliber state meet which includes Golden Valley, a recognized national high school swimming power and John Prins of Jefferson who holds a national high school record in the backstroke.

"If we can gain a spot among the top 12 finishers it would be great," said Kopari who noted "If Williams can cut down a tenth or two from his [illegible] time he would have a good chance to place."

Dave Gunther, University of North Dakota head basketball coach, ranked 12th among the active winningest NCAA college division coaches at the start of the season. Gunther had a 118-41 record at the beginning of the season. He has been at UND since [illegible].

Gas Supplies Decline Little During The Week

Gasoline supplies declined slightly this past week in Minnesota, according to the Minnesota state automobile association (AAA). But 75 per cent of the stations in the state are still reporting they have enough gasoline to service their customers.

In its weekly survey of 57 gasoline stations around the state, the motoring organization found that 20 per cent of the stations were limiting purchases either by a dollar or gallon amount. "Increased limiting of sales usually occurs near the end of the month when a station's monthly allocation is running out," said Arthur C. Tomlinson, executive vice president of Minnesota AAA.

Prices for gasoline were fairly stable this past week. Regular showed a one-half cent increase but premium showed a one-half cent decrease in price. The average price paid for regular in the state was 48.4 cents per gallon, up from 47.9 cents the week before. The average price paid for premium was 51.7 cents, down from 52.3 cents the week before.

According to figures from the auto club of Minneapolis and the auto club of St. Paul, the average price for gasoline was fully two cents more in St. Paul than in Minneapolis. The lowest prices for gas were found in Minneapolis with outstate stations only slightly higher. Minneapolis had the highest percentage of stations limiting sales of gas.

Hours of operation were being shortened slightly toward the end of the month. But more than 60 per cent of the stations surveyed were still open past 7 p.m. on weekdays. About 12 per cent are remaining open for gas sales on Sunday, up slightly from the week before. Real shortages are still "spotty" with less than 5 per cent reporting they were out of gas altogether.

Bergland Calls Meet Of States On Canadian Oil

Minnesota's 7th District congressman Bob Bergland has called an emergency meeting of the governors, congressional delegations and energy officials of six midwestern states with primary dependence on Canada for their crude oil to "plan unified action to assure adequate supplies."

The meeting will be held in Washington, March 4, just prior to oil policy negotiations between the U.S. and Canada scheduled to begin in Ottawa by mid March.

According to Bergland, a member of the house science and astronautics subcommittee and of the special energy panels of the Agriculture and Small Business committees, federal energy chief William E. Simon will participate in the conference to provide general background and answer questions.

Rufus Smith, deputy assistant secretary of state, will be on hand to discuss negotiations with Canada and Jared Carter, deputy undersecretary of interior will provide information on possible alternate sources of crude oil to replace reduced imports from Canada. Representatives of the American petroleum institute will also take part in the conference.

Bergland's purpose in calling the meeting—which will include officials from Montana, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan—is "to meet, head on, our immediate problem of high costs and a lack of supply as well as providing for future needs."

Out of the meeting, Bergland expects "clear definitions of the extent of the problem and an evaluation of the economic impact to illustrate the critical nature of our plight and assure unified action to correct it. Shotgun approaches to the energy crisis and emphasis on long range self sufficiency—which totally ignore our immediate needs—have proven ineffective," he said. "We must zero in on the specific needs of today and their solutions before we can even begin to consider long-range goals." Bergland concluded.

USDA Will Amend Marketing Orders

U.S. department of agriculture (USDA) will amend 39 federal milk marketing orders to conform to a uniform classing and pricing plan, if the required number of dairy farmers in each order approve.

USDA will poll cooperatives in the markets to determine producer approval. The affected markets are in the central, southern, and southwestern parts of the nation. Minnesota-North Dakota order is included in the program.

USDA's agricultural marketing service (AMS) said the proposed amendments are based on public hearings held in Clayton, Mo., in July 1970, and in Atlanta, Ga., Dallas, Tex., and Bloomington, in October and November 1971, and also reflect exceptions from interested persons to USDA's initial and revised recommended decisions. The initial recommendations by USDA on seven of the orders were issued in June 1971, and for the other 32 orders in August 1972. The revised recommendations for all 39 orders were issued in August 1973.

AMS officials said the orders set minimum prices to be paid farmers selling milk to dealers in marketing areas covered by the orders. The dealers must pay for the milk based on its use—for bottling, or manufacturing.

Under the new plan, there would be three milk use classes. Class I, as at present, will cover generally all milk for fluid use, and Classes II and III cover milk for the various manufactured dairy products.

Class II milk would include milk used in ice cream and other frozen desserts, bulk milk sold to commercial food processors, milk used in cottage cheese and yogurt, and all fluid cream and cream products. The Class II price would be 10 cents over the monthly Minnesota-Wisconsin (M-W) milk price (average of prices paid by processing plants for manufacturing grade milk).

Class III would cover milk processed into butter, milk powder, hard cheese and evaporated milk. The Class III price would the be the M-W price.

The calculation of the Class III price has been revised based on exceptions received by USDA following its revised recommended decision, issued late August. The change would eliminate the use of a butter-nonfat dry milk formula as an alternative method of calculating the minimum prices paid for Class III milk in 14 southwest marketing orders.

AMS officials said that the butter non-fat dry milk formula could result in widely differing Class III prices among the markets which could impair the uniform classification and pricing plan. Recognizing that special problems in disposing of surplus milk could arise for brief periods, officials said that any need for a lower Class III price could be considered through the hearing procedure.

AMS officials pointed out that today, handlers operate on a broad scale in the sale of dairy products in many markets and present differences in the orders can result in competitive inequities. The uniform classification plan with the same products in each class in each order would remove these inequities to the handlers.

Copies of today's final decision, which will be submitted for producer approval, are expected to appear as four documents in the Federal Register later this month. Copies may be obtained from market administrators of each of the affected orders, or from the Dairy Division, AMS, USDA, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Minn. State Fair Income In 1973 Is $3,316,074

Stressing the increasing importance of the fairgrounds as a year-around facility, John E. Libby, state fair secretary-general manager, reported total 1973 fair operating income of $3,316,074, and an expense total of $2,992,610, in his report to the 115th annual meeting of the Minnesota state agricultural society, yesterday in St. Paul.

Although the annual exposition continues to be the principal undertaking of the society, governing body of the fair, off-season shows and special events have become an integral part of its annual operation. In 1973, 557,845 persons attended the 55 non-fair events held at the fairgrounds. The ground and buildings were used by one or more groups on over 250 days during the year.

Libby also reported that $603,955 had been applied to improving the fair physical plant in 1973. Fairgrounds improvements are financed through operating income with any operating gain being reinvested in the plant. Since 1964, more than $5 million has been spent on permanent improvements.

In addition to permanent improvements, major 1973 expenditures include $378,407 for grandstand attractions and free entertainment; a record high $311,520 awarded competitive exhibitors, and $234,555 for maintenance. Principal sources of state fair income were sale of outside gate, Grandstand and Hippodrome tickets ($1,992,184); Fair-period space rental ($874,383), and off-season rentals ($193,645).

Dates of the 1974 Minnesota State Fair are August 22 through Labor Day, September 2.

Record Income, Farm Spending Noted In State

Record farm income and farm spending was the major factor in making 1973 one of Minnesota's greatest years for prosperity and economic growth, agriculture commissioner Jon Wefald declared today.

Commissioner Wefald said that an official estimate of Minnesota's gross farm income won't be available for several months but that a survey of business activity supports a preliminary unofficial estimate that Minnesota's farm income may have topped the $3-billion-mark for the first time on record production and farm prices.

The only significant source of new earned income for Minnesota in 1973 was new farm income.

What does this great year for Minnesota Agriculture mean for the whole state's economy?

For openers, Minnesota's overall business activity during 1973, reflected by the Ninth Federal Reserve District report on bank debits, was over $62-billion higher or a 31 per cent increase for the first 11 months of 1973, compared to the same period in 1972.

Further, employment in Minnesota last year was up over 64,200 jobs, a 4.6 per cent increase over 1972.

Industrial construction in Minnesota was up by $65.2-million or 18.2 per cent greater than 1972, and those projects directly related to the food processing industry increased by $62.1-million or nearly triple the 1972 expansion of Minnesota's food Industry.

New car sales in the state during 1973 totaled 243,102 units, an increase of 13,381 or six per cent above 1972. But the significant factor was the estimate that farmers increased their new car purchases by over 50 per cent, accounting for 35 per cent of all new cars sold last year, compared to 20 per cent in 1972.

Farm machinery purchases last year were 30 to 35 per cent ahead of 1972.

Office Of Local, Urban Affairs Sets Seminars

Office of local and urban affairs, Minnesota state planning agency; the Association of Minnesota counties; and the League of Minnesota municipalities are sponsoring two seminars that will provide an opportunity for municipal, county and regional officials to be brought up to date on current issues and to develop skills in managing community development.

The format offers a new approach to solving the planning, fiscal budgeting and maintenance problems of smaller communities and rural areas.

Topics to be covered include: "Effective Community Development Planning," "Managing Growth"; "Recent Trends and Issues in Minnesota's Future", "Rural Development Act", and "Alternatives in Financing Municipalities."

The first seminar will begin the evening of February 19 and continue through February 21 at the Holiday Inn Motel, 1111 Range Street, Mankato. The second program, which will be at the Sunwood Inn in Morris, begins the evening of February 26 and will conclude the afternoon of February 28.

Norma Cameron, training coordinator at the office of local and urban affairs, explained that seminar faculty will also meet with participants in small group sessions to assess existing community needs that will be developed into policy recommendations to state, regional and federal governmental agencies. Specific time periods will be set aside for local officials to meet with consultants for solving problems in their particular communities.

To register for the program, individuals may write or call Norma Cameron, Training Coordinator, Office of Local and Urban Affairs, State Planning Agency, 550 Cedar Street, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101 (Phone: 612-296-2319).

Radial tire punctures can only be repaired if they occur in the tread between the two major outer grooves, and only if the puncture is less than ¼ inch in diameter, tire experts say.

Safety Belt Law Is Endorsed By Health Official

Citing that traffic deaths and injuries have reached epidemic proportions, state health commissioner Dr. Warren Lawson has endorsed a proposed safety belt usage law.

A bill requiring drivers and passengers to wear whatever restraint system is available in a vehicle has been drafted by the Minnesota department of Public Safety and is expected to be presented to the 1974 state legislature.

Dr. Lawson noted that Australia has had significant success with a similar law. After two years experience, Australia has 85 per cent compliance with the rule. This has been achieved without special enforcement efforts since the safety belt measure is enforced only in conjunction with other traffic laws. Fatalities have been reduced by 20 per cent. Injuries, particularly serious ones, are down sharply. There has been a one-third reduction in spinal injuries, a 75 per cent reduction in eye injuries, a 50 per cent reduction in severe facial injuries.

Dr. Lawson stated that "The Minnesota Department of Health regards the requirement that people wear safety belts as the practice of good preventive medicine."

Benefits Dr. Lawson sees as flowing from seat belt usage legislation include:

Reduction in accidental death, injury, and disability.

Reduced pressure on an overburdened emergency medical services system.

Less cost for automobile insurance because of a reduction in the number of injuries and their severity.

Less cost for social services such as public assistance to the disabled.

HECC Receives Funds To Help Health Planning

Minnesota higher education coordinating commission (HECC) has received a $7,760 federal grant to prepare materials for use in improving coordination and informtion-sharing among perons in statewide and areawide health planning.

Under the project funded by the Northlands regional medical program, Inc., the cordinating commission staff, with the assistance of seven community-based health education councils will design documents of policies, studies, procedures and activities used in health planning.

Councils and their headquarters include Northwestern, Thief River Falls; Northeastern, Duluth; Central St. Cloud; Southeastern, Winona; South Central, Mankato; Southwestern, Marshall; and West Central Moorhead.

Besides providing areawide health planners throughout the state with a clearinghouse for sharing information and planning activities with HECC, the project is expected to help develop better communications between the planners and HECC.

Moreover, the project will evaluate the extent to which planning activities throughout the state are focusing on identifiable problems.

"This is the first time in the state the HECC has established relationships with the councils to share information, and as a result it will provide a better picture of who's doing what in health planning in the state," said Dr. Donald Draine of HECC, project director.

Northlands regional medical program is a group incorporated in the state to receive federal funds for developments in health fields.

Funded through the efforts of Northlands regional medical program, Inc., the councils were created to establish local and regional planning voluntarily among consumers, health care providers and educators.

Planning for health education in Minnesota is in the developmental phase of coordination and informaion-sharing," said Draine. "This project will address the need for better understanding among the planners and will help compile the information needed to do this."

Higher education coordinating commission has been charged by the legislature with responsibility for reviewing plans, proposals and priorities for new and existing educational programs.

"The documents generated by the project will benefit HECC and health planners throughout the state by having exisiting HECC program materials used in health manpower planning available in a usable form," Draine said.

"The planned expenditure of funds to pursue better identifiable problems will benefit the CHEC's impact on health planning problems in Minnesota, and HECC will benefit by having better information of planning activities throughout the state when HECC is involved in program decisions."

Not much of a world—when you consider all its human imperfections. Yet it's the world we are giving our children—the world in which they must grow up and find their destiny. And we keep hoping that theirs will be a finer generation—one able to improve this world.

What our children eventually do with the world depends upon our spiritual resources and how we share these truths and ideals with them. By encouraging faith and showing them right from wrong, our children can become the finest generation, destined to change the world—for the better.

Is there a church in your life? There should be!

University And Mpls. Police Ink Pact On Crisis

University of Minnesota and city of Minneapolis officials will both make decisions involving the use of Minneapolis police on the campus in times of crisis under an agreement signed Monday (Feb. 11) by Mayor Albert J. Hofstede and university president Malcolm Moos.

The agreement calls for continued communication between the president and the mayor as well as between the university and city police departments in campus emergencies.

"The significant aspect of the agreement is that police activity will be under civilain authority while on campus," said Wilson, a former Minneapolis police officer. "I can live comfortably with that; it was my recommendation."

Hofstede's predecessor, Charles Stenvig, refused to discuss police tactics with university officials while Minneapolis police were on the campus May 10, 1972, during demonstrations against the mining of harbors and bombing of North Vietnam.

"All plans of activities which are to be performed by law enforcement personnel should be mutually agreed upon and a taped record should be kept in order to provide a chronological report of the events and decisions made," the agreement states. "In the absence of such a recorder, notes would be kept by a secretary provided by the UMP-D."

The agreement provides that Minneapolis police send "at least one person with the rank of inspector or above to UMPD headquarters to establish the coordination of police activities" in such emergencies.

In 1972, Stenvig made the decisions to request the National Guard and police from St. Paul and Twin Cities suburbs to the campus.

Under the new agreement these requests will be submitted by both city and university police to the Minneapolis mayor and the university president.

"A request for the assistance of the National Guard should be a joint decision of the president and the mayor, with the mayor making the official request in writing to the governor," the agreement states.

"Subject to approval of the mayor and the university president or their designees, the respective chiefs of police shall prepare a joint recommendation describing the mission of the National Guard if their activities shall require its presence on campus.

"The final decision of mission and performance resides with the governor and the ranking officer of the guard units involved," the agreement states.

In 1972, several policemen and demonstrators were injured on the university mall. Guardsmen were stationed only at the armory building on campus and the Air Force recruiting station in nearby Dinkytown and university police were assigned to building security.

The new agreement continues the previous procedure of requiring that the university's request for city police assistance be made by letter. "If time is of the essence, the request will be orally with a letter to follow," the pact states.

University police will make their request for outside assistance to the president or his chosen representative.

The Senior Citizens met on Thursday, Feb. 21, at the Legion Hall. They were ready for work as vacation time and the holidays were over. They cut squares from some very nice material that will later be made into quilts. Irene Carlson brought her "program material," and the ladies went through a lot of it. There was material all over the place. Some of our members came back after the cold weather went away. We all long for warmer weather. The visitors were Irene Carlson of Karlstad, Ingvald Rokke, Alvin Holmstrom, Swam Lindstrom, Marian Dalgre, and Mrs. Donald Larson, Dion and Tina. Alvin and Swan each donated $1 to the center. Thanks for the donations. and also thanks to those who gave lunch tips. Hope more of the members will be coming back next week. We were happy to have Bertha Holmstrom and Donella Larson back with us. Thought For The Day

In recent years, Americans have been made aware of the plight of mankind, as never before. T.V., radio, newspapers, publishing houses have done a good job of making us alert to the problems of those around us. Poverty, ecology, prejudice and racism are part of our everyday vocabulary. The result has been a multitude of seminars, conferences, conventions and meetings which are held to deal with these vaious issues. Foreign visitors have been heard to remark that we are a society of meeters and conveners.

There is a story of a Russian nobleman who sat in a reserved seat at a luxurious theater one cold, blustery night. He was seen to weep over the make believe hardships of the actors on the stage. In his flight of fantasy, he dreamed that he helped them all. Yet, all the while this took place, his coachman, whom he could have helped, slowly froze to death, waiting for his noble master to come out of the theater.

Far too often, talk is that tool which soothes the guilty conscience. It hears God's message to be doers, not hearers only, but it is easier to talk than to get into action. Isn't it time we move from talking and hearing to doing? Doing begins where you are.

Get 'Em, Prowlers!

For the first time in several years the Prowlers of Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls are in the championship game of the Region Eight high school hockey tournament. Local hockey fans are likely to be on hand in droves tonight at the Thief River Falls sports arena when the Prowlers meet the Bemidji Lumberjacks.

Championship game follows a pair of closely-contested semi-final games Monday which kept fans glued to their seats depite five hours or more of sitting. With Warroad trailing the Prowlers 4-3 in the closing seconds of the second game, the usual movement of fans to the exits was noticeable for its absence. Nobody was going anywhere.

Our hats are off to a hustling, talented Roseau team which matched scoring ability with Bemidji until the Lumberjacks flipped in the winning tally with only eight seconds left of the eight-minute overtime. Bemidji earned the victory, showing poise under fire which has been characteristic of the Lumberjack teams in all sports over the years. A finer high school hockey game than the two teams presented would be hard to imagine.

And the Prowlers withstood defensive lapses, missed opportunities and an impotent power play to hold off Warroad for a 4-3 victory. After an opening round game which saw coach Bill McGann's Prowlers tally six power play goals, the rarity of even a shot on goal during a power play Monday was painfully evident. Hustle and extra effort in clutch situations made the difference in the game results.

Scoring on Monday indicated how close the two games were. In the first game it was 1-0 Roseau, 1-1, 2-1 Bemidji, 2-2 and 3-2 Thief River Falls, 3-3 and 4-3 Thief River Falls. How's that for heart-stoppers?

Tonight a great rivalry comes into play with a trip to the state hockey tournament on the line. Go get 'em, Prowlers!

Opposing Views

Two opposing views of the status of a farmer's wife come out of the middle west. A vague statement in some "woman's column" by a sentimental writer "that it is a fond dream of mine to become a farmer's wife and meander down life's pathway," drew this comment from a county editor.

"Oh yes, that is a nice thing, but when your husband meanders off and leaves you without wood and you have to meander up and down the lane pulling splinters off the fence to cook the dinner; and you meander around in the wet clover in search of the cows until your shoes are the color of the setting sun, and each stocking absorbs a pint of water, and when you meander out across twenty acres of plowed ground to drive the cows out of the buckwheat and tear your dress on a wire fence, and when you meander back to the house and find that the goat has butted your child until it resembles a pumpkin, and find the old hen and sixteen chickens in the parlor, the cat in the cupboard and the dog in the milk, you will realize dear girl, that this meander business is not what it is cracked up to be."

The other view—the optimistic one—can be set forth as follows: A cheerful person can picture farm life so idyllic—that the farmer, on rising in the morning, does not disturb his wife, but says good morning into the boudoir recorder. He may add a hint as to what he would like to have for breakfast when he returns from his automobile ride about the farm. At eight o'clock the maid calls the farmer's wife, and by half past nine she has a telephone call from her husband, over on the northwest quarter, saying that he will join her in five minutes.

At breakfast the morning papers are read, having come by rural delivery a few minutes before, and the wife announces the program for the day. It may be French, music, physical culture or clubs, a reading of the latest novels, a ride across the country on a blooded mare, skating in the winter, golf in the summer, a lecture on art in the village hall—all these things are set forth as possibilities for the plutocratic farmer's wife in this state. And in the evening the pianola puts Beetoven or Handel at the lady's finger tips. The children are put to bed, the governess dismissed and a telephone conference with the neighbors over the day's gossip is begun. The farmer reads his favorite poet, and the night glides on.

Open Meetings Upheld

News media in Minnesota and across the country have worked hard to protect the right of the press and public to witness how public decisions are made by public bodies of elected officials. Open meetings were among topics discussed at the convention of the Minnesota Newspaper association which we attended last weekend.

Legislation is proposed nearly every session of the Minnesota legislature which would provide exceptions to open meetings. We can sympathize with governmental bodies in certain situations, but we belive the general principle is too important to toss around in the legislature. It would seem the Minnesota Supreme Court also recognizes the constitutional purpose of open meetings of public bodies.

The supreme court recently ruled that representatives of the news media may obtain court injunctions to prevent a school bord from holding secret meetings, a decision which provides for penalties in the state's 1971 open meeting law.

Since that law was passed, another law has been enacted to make it a misdemeanor to close a meeting illegally and May 1, the law will provide for dismissal of public officials found guilty of a third open meeting violation.

We have had generally good cooperation from the local governing bodies in recent years. In several cases the press has been permitted to attend caucus sessions of the school board when the public has been asked to leave. Most recently, boards have shunned the private caucus in favor of acting in the light of the public forum. We respect this fortitude and the effort to comply in good faith with the direction of the statutes.

Joe Perrin, editor of the Anoka Union, has this to say about the situation:

Judge Fallon Kelly stated that an open meeting called in secrecy or suddenly without notice is in effect a closed meeting. The court threw out eight exceptions to the open meeting law which had been allowed in a fight between a school board and a television station.

The Supreme Court said that the judge's injunction ordering the school board to notify its meetings to news media is the "only realistic and practical" means of having an informed public and achieving the purpose of the law.

James Madison drafted the First Amendment to the Constitution, which states: "Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of speech or of the press." I think that states it quite clearly.

Their Daughters Will

In a copyrighted General Features column appearing in the Roseau Times-Region, Paul Harvey had some interesting thoughts on fashions, feminism and the future.

He noted that New York fashion designers are putting frills back into garments for females this spring. There is less tailoring and more feminine freshness in the styles.

And he tells of pioneer women who wore buckskin britches or military uniforms, adding that "Our generation's women are not the first to be liberated to do men's work. Probably they're the first to think they want to."

"Frontier daughters couldn't wait to get out of sack cloth and into calico—and their daughters into silk. And our daughters will," he said.

Harvey adds that the exaggerated emphasis on equal everything "has turned airline terminals and supermarkets into a sad circus where the playactors shuffle about in saddle shoes with cigarettes dangling from tight lips and wearing trousers."

And the main truth of the column is contained in the final paragraph which notes: "I hear the spokespersons for these organizations of liberated women insisting they don't care if their unisex appearance turns men off—but their daughters will."

Senate Report

— by —

Senator Richard Fitzsimons
Minnesota District One

It is a little hard to accurately describe the mood of the Senate in the last week. Action on the Senate floor has been largely taken up with passage of a myriad of local bills that don't generage much debate. These bills are very important to the local people, however.

On Wednesday of last week, the Senate passed and sent to the House a bill providing for a moose season to be set by the Commissioner of Natural Resources. I was a co-author of this bill and among the provisions of the bill is a section limiting the right to a permit to once every three seasons. The bill provides that the Legislature review moose hunting in 1980.

The Transportation Committee, of which I am a member, recommended for passage a Resolution asking Congress to 'Repeal the Winter Daylight Savings Time Law'. I have received a great deal of comment from people objecting to Winter Daylight Time and seriously questioning the energy saved. I supported the Resolution and will vote for its passage on the Senate floor.

I have received much comment on a bill being debated in the House allowing students to have intoxicating liquor in state college dormitories. I am opposed to the bill and will vote against it if it ever comes up for vote in the Senate.

The Senate, by an overwhelming vote, passed a bill defining an abortion and sent it to the House. I supported this bill.

One of the major bills debated on the Senate floor was a bill calling for a new energy commission. I voted against the bill on preliminary passage. I share the concern of everyone about energy, but after listening to all the debate, I was not convinced of the need for this bill.

I have been very impressed with the job the State Civil Defense has been doing up to now and do support the appointment of John McKay as energy coordinator. I do object to spending $300,000 to set up a whole new department to handle what is bound to be preempted by the Federal government.

notes from the governor

As we approach the beginning of a new tourism season, there is a great deal of uncertainty in vacation planning. Of most concern, of course, is the question of gasoline availability.

I would encourage all Minnesotans to strongly consider becoming more intimately acquainted with their own state instead of taking long-distance, out-of-state driving vacations this year. We will all gain a greater appreciation of Minnesota's own assets, and we will reduce energy consumption.

One way this can be done is by enjoying one or more of the 11 "Minnesota Minnetours" developed by our State Department of Economic Development. These "loop" tours are designed for two to four-day trips. The 11 tours cover most areas of our state and feature state parks, historic sites, interesting towns, unique geographic and scenic features, as well as Minnesota's varied festivals and events.

You can take a Minnetour right near your own home or include a Minnetour as part of your vaction while driving to or from your destination.

In planning your Minnesota vacation, I would encourage you to consider a different type of family trip this year. How about a floating vacation on a houseboat or a tennis or golf vacation at a Minnesota resort? You could combine a family bike trip with camping or canoeing.

How well do you know Minnesota? Have you visited the sites maintained by our state and county historical societies? Have you taken the Hiawathaland Scenic Drive near LaCrosse when the apple blossoms fill the Mississippi River Valley with aromatic fragrance.

Have you been to the Berne Swissfest or to the Rollag Steam Threshers Reunion or Stillwater's Lumberjack Days, or Pipestone's outdoor Hiawatha Pageant? Minnesota has more than 350 festivals and events, providing fun for the whole family.

I urge you to see Minnesota first this year. Additional Minnesota Minnetour and vacation information may be obtained by writing the Vacation Information Bureau, Minnesota Department of Economic Development, P. O. Box G01, 480 Cedar Street, St. Paul, Minn. 55101.

Minnesota, it's all yours all year!

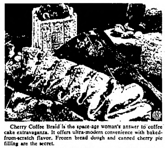
Cherry Coffee Braid



Cherry Coffee Braid is the space-age woman's answer to coffee cake extravaganza. It offers ultra-modern convenience with baked-from-scratch flavor. Frozen bread dough and canned cherry pie filling are the secret.

Bread is the oldest recipe made by man or woman, yet it has not lost its importance in today's living. One of the basic four food groups, bread —either fresh or frozen — supplies a generous combination of the B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin; the minerals, iron and calcium; as well as protein.

Cherry Coffee Braid
2 braids

1 package (2 lb.) frozen, enriched bread dough
1 can (21 oz.) cherry pie filling
1 package (2½ oz.) slivered almonds, toasted (about ½-cup)
Oil
Streusel Topping

Thaw bread dough according to package directions. Place in lightly greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover and let rise in warm place (80 to 85°) until doubled, 2 to 3 hours. Punch down. Cover and let rest 10 minutes. Divide in half. Roll each half to a 15 x 13-inch rectangle. For each braid spread half of cherry pie filling in a 2-inch wide strip lengthwise down center of each rectangle. Sprinkle with almonds. Make cuts 2 inches apart on each side of dough just to edge of filling. Fold resulting strips of dough across filling, alternating from side to side and slanting strips downward to give braided appearance. Seal ends well. Brush with oil. Place on greased baking sheets. Sprinkle Streusel Topping over braids. Let rise in warm place until doubled, about 45 minutes. Bake in preheated 350° oven 30 to 40 minutes, or until done.

Streusel Topping:

2 tablespoons enriched flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon butter

Stir together flour and sugar. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs.

February Packed Plenty Of Cold In Its 28 Days

Although temperatures climbed into the 40's during the last few days of February, there was fresh snow on the ground this morning (Monday) to remind area residents that winter hasn't ended in northwestern Minnesota. However, it is reasonable to expect March to be slightly warmer...particularly since February was unusually cold.

Only twice in the last 10 years has February recorded a colder mean temperature. February 1974's mean of 3.14 degrees is comparable to 2.05 degrees in 1972 and -0.11 degrees in 1967. The month's mean this year was more than three degrees colder than the 10 year average of 6.45 degrees and more than four degrees colder than the five year average of 7.58 degrees.

The month's average daily high was 15.18 degrees this year or about 2½ degrees lower than the 10 year average of 17.72 degrees. However, the average daily low of -8.89 degrees was more than four degrees colder than the 10 year average of -4.78 degrees and more than six degrees colder than the five year average of -2.48 degrees. The low for the month was -36 degrees on February 4.

Although the month was unusually cold, February was an improvement over January with its mean of -5.23 degrees. In addition, on February 12 the high was 33 degrees. That was the first time since November 31 that the mercury climbed above the freezing point. This area received 74 consecutive days with the temperature remaining below freezing.

The high for the month was 46 degrees on February 27. Only once in the last 10 years has February recorded a higher reading and that was in 1964 when the mercury reached 49 degrees. The 10 year average monthly high is 38.6 degrees.

Precipitation was recorded on 18 of the month's 28 days. With the area receiving rain and snow on different occasions it is difficult to compare totals accurately. However, measurements taken at the official weather recording station north of Thief River Falls are listed in the following chart with "R" for rain and "S" for snow.

Action Delayed On Bill For TRF Special Election

Legislative action on the bill to permit special elections for filling of Thief River Falls city council vacancies has been delayed until Wednesday in the senate, according to Sen. Richard Fitzsimons of Warren.

Sen. Fitzsimons told the Times this morning that the bill was on the calendar of ordinary matters for the senate but was laid over to Wednesday since the senate will not be meeting on Tuesday.

Sen. Fitzsimons expects no difficulty in passing the legislation.

Rep. Andrew Skaar told the Times late this morning that the bill passed out of the city government committee of the House on Friday and is expected to reach the House floor this week. He said he expects immediate passage when it does reach the House floor and that it should be presented to Gov. Wendell Anderson for signature no later than early next week.

The proposed legislation provides that "When a vacancy occurs in the office of councilman or mayor in the city of Thief River Falls and more than one year remains in the term of the vacant office from the date the vacancy occurs, it shall be filled by special election. When less than one year remains, the vacancy may be filled by special election or appointment by the council.

"The election shall be conducted on a date fixed by the council and in accordance with Minnesota statutes, sections 205.05 to 205.09, so far as possible. If the city, pursuant to law or resolution, uses a primary election to nominate candidates for election, a primary election shall be used to nominate candidates for a special election pursuant to this act."

The act will become effective upon its approval by the governing body of Thief River Falls (following legislative passage and signature by the governor) and compliance with Minnesota statutes, section 645.021.

Alpha Xi Group Holds Meeting At Elks Club Rooms

Alpha Xi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma society met at the Elks club rooms in Thief River Falls recently with 29 of the 36 members attending.

Special commendations by Mrs. Wallace (Edith) Etter, chapter president, noted the record of Miss Grace McManus of Oklee, who has missed only two and one half days of school in her 43 years of teaching and the selection of (Miss) Orpha Overlid as teacher of the year at Warren. Mrs. Edna Lindquist was thanked for her work in making protective coverings for the initiation service equipment.

Mrs. Melvin Estelle Grinde, who has been prevented from attending earlier this year by illness, was given a special welcome, and presented the invocation.

Program theme for the meeting was extra-curricular activities. Mrs. Vernon (Betty) Johnson of Roseau and Mrs. Sheldon (Eloda) Knutson of Goodridge reported on environmental protection and its educational opportunities. Mrs. Peter (Lily) Roleczynski of Hallock discussed the new state department of education goals for Minnesota. Frank Rose To Speak At C of C Banquet

Frank M. Rose

Frank M. Rose, power supply manager of Minnkota Power cooperative in Grand Forks, will be guest speaker at the 60th annual meeting banquet of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce Tuesday. The banquet at 7 p.m. in the National Guard armory will follow a social hour.

"Our Energy Crisis—Is It Real?" Will be the topic of Rose's speech. "I hope to point out the world oil supply situation and specifically the U. S. oil supply versus use and how we have our priorities all mixed up," Rose told the Times today.

"Seventy-six per cent of all our energy used comes from oil and gas with 20 per cent from coal, while our resources are 92 per cent coal and six per cent oil and gas. We are using oil and gas as though we are trying to get rid of it and using coal as though it was scarce," Rose said.

"I will then point out the tremendous coal reserves we have in this area and its potential to supply our energy needs. I will also explain what we are doing to reclaim the land and clean the air and what benefits there are from all this development."

Chicken kiev dinner will be catered by Lon's cafe. Invocation will be given by Rev. James Bernauer of St. Bernard's Catholic church and Marvin Lundin will serve as master of ceremonies. Jon Larson, 1973 president of the Chamber of Commerce, will introduce guests and present awards. Donald Lindquist, 1974 president, will present his focus on community action and introduce the 1974 directors.

Mrs. Betty Walton is in charge of banquet arrangements and dinner music will be furnished by Gary Rux. Table decorations are provided by Inter-City Gas Ltd., Inc.

Frank Rose was born and reared in Grand Forks, graduated from high school in 1941 and served in the U. S. navy during World War II. He graduated from the University of North Dakota with a B. S. degree in electrical engineering in 1948 and that June began working for Minnkota Power cooperative. He served in a number of positions with the cooperative until being named to his present post as power supply manager.

Along with his duties as power supply manager, he is concerned with the purchasing and selling of power with other power suppliers in the area on a daily basis, as well as long-range future basis. He also serves on the planning and operating committee of the Mid-Continent Area Power Pool (MAPP) and on the reliability committees of MAPP and Mid-America Reliability Council (MARCA) as well as the Canadian tie line coordinating committee.

Last summer Rose worked on a task force to determine the total amount of oil requirements of the MAPP pool during this 1973-74 winter season. Rose is married and he and his wife have six children, including two presently living at home.

Officers of the Chamber of Commerce for 1974 in addition to Lindquist include Norris Melander, first vice president and president-elect; Vic Kalinoski, second vice president; Fred Sorensen, treasurer; Jon Larson, past president; Merle Smith, executive vice president; and Mrs. Beverly Holm, office manager.

Wayne Hultgrens To Make Their Home At Kennedy

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hultgren are at home in Kennedy following an exchange of marriage vows at the Maria Lutheran church in Kennedy.

The bride is the former Renäe Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Nelson of Kennedy. Mrs. Bernice Hultgren of Thief River Falls is the mother of the groom.

Rev. Wallace Leno officiated at the double ring ceremony. The prelude and processional featured organ and piano duets by Darryl Lindgren and Patti Swanson. Vocal soloist was Charles Swanson. He sang Orlolani's "Moe", during the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer," as the couple knelt at the altar. Highlighting the ceremony was the lighting of the marriage candle.

Poinsettias, cedar, evergreens, holly and red carnations graced the church for the late afternoon ceremony. Along the center aisle were candelabra with red tapers, cedar, holly and white ribbon.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a floor-length gown of nylon satapeau styled in a boufant silhouette with full skirt and Victorian sleeves. Venice lace and pearls trimmed the bodice, high collar, sleeves and bottom of the skirt. Her three-tired, semi-cathedral-length veil of nylon illusion was edged with matching lace, corresponding with the trim on her Camelot headpiece. She carried a bouquet of red carnations and white mums with spruce, cedar, holly and white ribbon.

Cheri Bracewell, friend of the couple, was made of honor. Bridesmaids were Connie Nelson, sister of the bride, and Robin Swenson, friend of the couple. Serving as junior bridesmaid was the bride's sister, Rachel. All were attired in floor-length gowns of red velvet styled with high rise bodices with ruffled scooped necklines and long full sleeves gathered to pearl buttoned cuffs. Their full skirts edged with a deep flounce, were gathered to set-in midriffs. Each attendant carried an arrangment, similar to the bride's. All the arrangements were designed and arranged by the mother of the bride. Their silver and pearl pendants were gifts from the bride.

Bill Johnson was best man, and groomsmen were Jerry Lundberg and Rich Murray, friends of the couple. Serving as ushers were Mike Gunnarson and Ken Hultgren, cousins of the bride and groom, respectively. All wore black tuxedos, white ruffled shirts and black bow ties. The groom's boutonniere was a red carnation. The others wore white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Nelson wore a floor-length gown of cranberry red polyester complemented by pearl accessories. Mrs. Hultgren's floor-length gown was of deep red velvet. Both wore identical corsages of mums and carnations in the bride's chosen colors.

A reception in the fellowship hall followed. In keeping with the theme of the wedding, evergreens and garlands of spruce and cedar graced the dining hall. Red netting, ribbons, and red candles with sprigs of holly and cedar graced the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gunnarson, uncle and aunt of the bride, served as reception host and hostess. At the guest book was Jolane Carlson, cousin of the bride. Serving the red punch were Kay Hultgren, sister-in-law, and Vicky Hallberg, a friend.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Floyd Hansen, godmother of the bride, and Mrs. Vernon Frei, aunt of the groom. Suzanne and Terry Berg carried the gifts and Jill and Lori Witt, cousins of the bride, were at the rice table. Waitresses were Pam Gunnarson, Twyla Carlson, cousins of the bride, and Holly Grandstrand, cousin of the groom.

For her going away attire, the bride wore a gray and red pantsuit together with a pendant of pearls and diamonds, a gift from the groom.

The bride is employed at Hallock and the groom is engaged in farming at Kennedy.

Responsibilities Of Discipleship Is AWCTU Theme

Responsibilities of Discipleship was the theme of the devotional meditation given at the meeting of the Alice Mae Stuart-Thief River Falls Women's Christian Temperance Union held at the home of Mrs. Earle Ripley.

Presenting the devotional meditation was Miss Agnes Longren. She based the topic on II Corinthians 5:17; John 5:7-17 and Psalm 103:12. She stated that people should not dwell on past mistakes and forgiven sins, as forgiveness gives a person a new start. To love one another is not only the central theme of Christian love but the main responsibility of discipleship. She defined love by saying that "Love sacrifices without asking if anything is coming back."

Mrs. Olga Larson reported that three copies of Mrs. Agnes Dubbs' book, "Heritage of Dedication," tracing the 100-year history of the Women's Christiance Temperance Union, had been placed at Public Library, Lincoln high school and at Northland Community college. She stated that the books had been well received.

Mrs. Carl Finstad read the secretary's report and Mrs. David Drotts read an article based on an incident in the life of Frances E. Willard, founder of the WCTU, and her kindness toward's a lamplighter.

Adding interest to the meeting was a 20 point quiz on "Know your flag and how to use it. Cards were also signed for shut-ins and friends living at a distance. The leaflet, "Because You Prayed", a new publication from the Union Signal headquarters, was included in each card.

The table prayer was sung in unison prior to the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Ripley.

The next meeting of the WCTU will be held March 15.

Camp Courage Is Grateful To FFA For Its Help

The Minnesota society for crippled children and adults (MISCCA), is again saying "Thank you" to young men and women who are members of 270 affiliated Minnesota high school chapters of Future Farmers of America. Gov. Wendell Anderson has proclaimed February 16-23 as "FFA Week" in Minnesota.

Since 1953 when the first "Corn Drive" for Camp Courage was held, FFA has carried on a tradition of loyal support for Camp Courage programs. Each year FFA'ers carry out imaginative fund raising projects where corn is not a major commodity.

How are these funds used in Courage programs? FFA'ers have built and refurbished an $85,000 speech and hearing therapy building, providing funds for Handi-Ham radio camp, the Camp Courage horticulture program, sponsored over 300 campers each year and assisted in the travel camp program.

Their newest project is sponsorship of a film, "Faces of Courage," featuring five handicapped Minnesotans, who tell in their own words how Courage services has helped them in many areas of treatment, recreation and employment. Honored guests at the premiere February 12 were representatives from Minnesota FFA.

Interested groups, clubs and organizations may obtain this film without charge for viewing by contacting MISCCA's statewide headquarters at Courage Center, 3915 Golden Valley Road, Golden Valley, MN. 55422.

MISCCA again thanks the Minnesota FFA for their gifts of funds and their care and concern, which is reflected in the growing opportunities and happiness of the handicapped of Minnesota.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

by Ellen M. Spray

Featuring recipes from the Kitchen of

rural Thief River Falls

My most humble apologies. According to the telephone calls received since last Monday's issue of Kitchen Karnival, the people of this community aren't complacent. Most of them agreed that anything worth having is worth the struggle to keep it.

The three upper-most concerns of the callers were: nudity being shown on television, the hockey tournament scheduled to coincide with Lenten services, and the two World Day of Prayer services held in this city.

Since I did not see the show or shows featuring the nude girl strolling on the beach or riding the motorcycle, I cannot vouch for them having been shown. However, if you see a movie that shocks you, regardless where it is, on television or at your local theatre, do something about it. Voice your objections by writing to the stations, networks or theatre manager. If those movies are tolerated, they will not only continue but will steadily get more obscene.

The scheduling of the hockey tournament on Ash Wednesday, a religious holiday, did not go unnoticed by many people in the area. It was most unfortunate, especially for the parents who are trying to build a religious foundation for their children by teaching that "Church, (Love for God) comes first." Setting the game for Ash Wednesday interfered with the religious convictions of Catholics and Protestants, parents and children, and players and spectators. (Don't get me wrong; I'm not saying that the people who attended the hockey game Wednesday evening are destined for hell.) Since our government was founded on the principles of religious freedom, it isn't fair to the child, his parents or his church that his school should schedule an event of such importance as a tournament game to conflict with a religious observance. What a person learns while young forms the foundations of his convictions. Ignorning religious up-bringing is ignoring the most vital part of the foundation. What can be done to avoid such an occurence in the future? Much can be done if people work together. It took only one woman, an atheist, to have religion removed from the school rooms. (What are we, who profess to be Christians, doing about it?'

I confess that I have not investigated why there were two separate observances of World Day of Prayer. I sincerely hope that it was, as I told several callers, to give people an opportunity to attend one of the services if they couldn't attend the other. (One was scheduled in the morning and the other in the afternoon. If it were done for any other reason, such as religious beliefs, it would be a disgrace. If peoples of different denominational faiths, who believe in the Triune God, can't join hands and pray together for one hour in Thief River Falls, how can they expect to live together for an eternity in heaven?

"I dreamed death came, the other night, and heaven's gates swung wide. An angel with a halo bright ushered me inside. And there to my astonishment, stood folks I'd judged and labeled as 'quite unfit,' 'of little worth,' and 'spiritually disabled'. Indignant words rose to my lips, but never were set free, for every face showed stunned surprise…not one expected me!"

It is always interesting to get recipes from homemakers in this area, but doubly so when the recipe is something entirely new. Today's recipe is of German origin. Mrs. David Stroh received it from her husband's mother, Mrs. Arthur Stroh of LaMoure, N.D. It is for a deep-friend meat filled pastry.

Fleisch Kuechle

Pastry
2½ cups flour
1 heaping teaspoon salt
1¼ cups milk

Method: Mix together into a dough and roll out on a floured board into small rounds, about seven inches in deameter.

Filling
1 lb. hamburger
½ medium onion chopped fine
1 tablespoon salt
¼ cup water
Pepper, to taste

Method: Mix well. Place a tablespoon of the meat mixture on each pastry circle. Fold over and seal edges very carefully. Deep fry until golden brown, turning very carefully as not to prick open the pastry. (Puncturing the pastry will cause the grease to spatter.)

These can be made for a party by deep-frying the day before and reheating on a cookie sheet in a 350 degree oven.

Mrs. Stroh stated that they are delicious served with German potato salad or regular potato salad.

The David Stroh family came to this area from Minneapolis about three and one-half years ago. They live on a farm in the Hazel area with their two children, Nathan, a fifth grader, and Stacy, a first grader at the St. Hilaire school. Stroh is employed at the local post office, having been transfered here from Minneapolis. Mrs. Stroh stated that although she missed the shopping centers at first, she is very content as they wanted to raise their children on a farm.

They attend Calvary Lutheran church in St. Hilaire, where Mrs. Stroh teaches Wednesday school and is a member of the Ladies Aid and circle.

North Central Reports Earnings Of $6.4 Million

North Central Airlines revenues reached a record $127,392,000, and earnings totaled $6,447,000 in 1973, reported Hal N. Carr, chairman of the board and chief executive officer. The airline carried over four million passengers and flew one billion passenger miles for the second consecutive year.

The company continues to rank first in the regional airline industry based on its financial performance. Revenues have increased every year since scheduled service began in 1948, and profits have been earned for 19 of the 20 years under present management. North Central leads the regionals with retained earnings of $20,086,000 and the best debt-equity position. Stockholders' equity has risen to $40,611,000.

The airline's results in 1973 and its strong financial condition led the board of directors to declare a cash dividend of 10 cents per share to stockholders of record Feb. 8, 1974. North Central is the only regional carrier currently paying a cash dividend.

In 1973, revenues of $127,392,000 were six per cent above the $120,627,000 realized the year before. Operating expenses rose seven per cent to $115,391,000, producing an operating profit of $12,001,000 compared with $12,355,000 in 1972. After interest and taxes, the airline achieved net earnings of $6,447,000 or 52 cents per share.

"Since these net earnings did not include any special or out-of-period items, they represent a $610,000 gain over the comparable $5,837,000 (47 cents per share) in the previous year," Carr explained. (The $7,536,000 net earnings reported for 1972 were boosted by two out-of-period adjustments totaling $656,000 plus an extraordinary item of $1,043,000 from disposition of equipment.)

Traffic, revenues and expenses in 1972 were increased by a third-quarter strike against another airline serving some North Central cities. The strike had little effect on earnings since $1,734,000 was paid to the struck carrier under terms of the airlines' Mutual Aid Agreement.

Some 4,263,000 passengers were flown 1,011,525,000 passenger miles last year—four and six per cent over normalized 1972 figures. Cargo ton miles established a new high with 13,394,000 flown, a normalized gain of 23 per cent. The airline maintained its outstanding performance record by completing 99 per cent of the 28,331,000 scheduled miles.

"North Central is in a strong position for expansion and continued profitability," Carr stated. "Passenger and cargo traffic in the new year thus far is encouraging, despite the recent five per cent reduction in schedules because of the fuel shortage. The fuel situation is expected to stabilize at present levels, and consequently have little impact on earnings. As a result, 1974 should be another excellent year for the company."

On Feb. 28, 1917, the human voice was transmitted by radiotelephone from airplane to ground for the first time.

Unemployment Rate Goes Up For January

Minnesota's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for January was 5.1 per cent, an increase of 0.2 of a percentage point over December's rate of 4.9 per cent but up only 0.3 of a percentage point from January a year ago, commissioner Emmet J. Cushing of the Minnesota department of employment services reported recently.

Cushing said the Minnesota rate for January was slightly below the national rate of 5.2 per cent which was up 0.3 of a percentage point from December.

Number of unemployed Minnesotans rose from 84,800 in December to 100,800 in January, an increase of 18.9 per cent, Cushing said. This increase is several percentage points higher than the average December to January change for the last decade.

Cushing said that since the majority of the upturn is due to normal seasonal factors, the adjusted unemployment rate does not show such a dramatic change.

"However", he said, "The energy crisis has undoubted affected the January unemployment rate, although the impact can not be gauged accurately."

January's nonagricultural wage and salary employment was 1,439,600, a decrease of 30,800 workers or 2.1 per cent from the previous month, but an increase of 76,400 or 5.6 per cent over January 1973.

EDA Grants Aid For County Bldg. At Park Rapids

A total of 71 workers from the ranks of the unemployed are expected to be hired for the project. Work is expected to get under way within 90 days and be completed within a year.

Hubbard county will add $208,000 in other funds to complete the $708,000 total cost of the new building.

James Braton of Barnesville and Charles Svare of Pelican Rapids were nominated for election to Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing Co-op's board of directors at the organization's district seven meeting at Northwest experimental station agriculture research center auditorium, Crookston, January 31.

Nominations for the directorship were held following the resignation of current district seven representative Arthur Laine of Osage.

Also nominated at the meeting were seven members to the co-op's advisory board. Elections will be held during the co-op's annual meeting at Stevens Point, Wis., March 16. Eight delegates and two alternates to the meeting were elected.

Laine welcomed 100 co-op members to the Crookston meeting.

Nominated to the co-op's advisory board were: DeForest Iverson, Hitterdal; Robert E. Visser, Ada; George Erickson, Thief River Falls; Vernon Waage, Greenbush; Charles Svare, Pelican Rapids; John C. Stromstad, Beltrami; and David Hildebrand, Thief River Falls.

Advisory Board nominees will attend the annual meeting with the following elected delegates: Carl Hedlund, Hallock; James Braton, Barnesville; Mark Ramstorf, Gary; Curtis Reardon, Twin Valley; Adrian Dolney and Glen Hendrickson, Greenbush; Ray Olson, Beltrami; Cecil Bergquist, Detroit Lakes; John DeVore, Park Rapids and Mike Grembowski, Grafton, N.D. Alternates are Gary Somerville, St. Vincent and Lloyd Dahlberg, Hawley.

Vernon Waage of Greenbush was elected to represent district seven on the co-op's Resolution committee. Derald Svendsen of Argyle was named district seven representative on the districting committee.

Reports by the general manager Dr. Norbert Dahlke and Director of Production Paul Schink were included on the business portion of the meeting. District seven is comprised of members from the state of North Dakota and 18 western and central Minnesota counties.

During an afternoon educational panel session Bill Fruechte of Perham, representing the Midland Feed Co., stressed the importance of protein level in swine feed in his talk on "feeding for Quality Feeder Pigs."

Speaking on "Can You Afford to Start Or Expand in the Feeder Pig Business?" Animal Science Specialist Dr. Raymond Arthoud of the University of Minnesota suggested the combining of enterprises to compliment available labor and facilities.

Schink, talking on "Good Luck?…or!", said that "showing a profit in swine production isn't just good luck…but also good management." He also explaind the new co-op tail docking program, which was well received by members. According to Schink, "De-tailed" pigs marketed through the co-op will be worth an additional 25 cents each to the producer.

Co-op Fieldman Elias Aho of Frazee, speaking on "How To Make Your Pigs More Valuable at Sales," stressed the practicing of good management practices…worming and manging and keeping pigs and facilities clean. He also pointed out the importance of transporting pigs in well ventilated or warm trucks, depending on the weather. Aho also told of opening plans for the co-op's new Perham, barn.

Moderating the panel was Polk county Agent Sam Bigger.

Thirty co-op members from district seven were presented with membership certificates in the "300" Plus Club." These members were recognized for marketing 300 or more feeder pigs through the co-op during the past yaar.

Minn. Milk Cow Population Down To Record Low

Minnesota's milk cow population in December was the lowest on record, estimated at 908,000 by the state-federal crop and livestock reporting service, Minnesota department of agriculture.

That was 18,000 fewer cows than Minnesota inventories in December of 1972, and 29,000 fewer than in December of 1971.

However, preliminary production estimates showed that Minnesota's cows set a December record for average production of 850 pounds of milk per cow, resulting in total production of 772 million pounds. That was 17 million pounds or two per cent more than the output by 926,000 Minnesota milk cows the previous December.

The December inventory of milk cows represents a 47.5 per cent loss from the all-time December high of 1,727,000 milk cows in Minnesota back in 1942. It also is a 35 per cent cutback from Minnesota's December milk cow population in 1954.

Minnesota's December milk production was the third highest in the nation, behind only Wisconsin and California.

National milk production in December continued the established decline of the past several years, down 299 million pounds or three per cent less than in December, 1972.

Minnesota Apple Crop Is Valued At $2,560,000

Minnesota's 1973 commercial apple crop was the most valuable in history, worth $2,560,000, according to state-federal crop and livestock reporting service estimates.

Utilized production was estimated at 20-million pounds, 6-million pounds below 1972 and the smallest Minnesota apple crop since 1969.

Making the short crop the most valuable was the average price of 12.8 cents per pound. That was 3.75 cents more than the 1972 price average ,that made that years crop the previous most valuable at $2,353,000.

Delicious apples continued to be the domiant variety in Minnesota production, accounting for an estimated 5.2-million pounds of the 1973 total.

McIntosh dropped sharply from the 1972 lead tie with Delicious apples in Minnesota, to 2.4-million pounds.

Jonathan apples represented 2.3-million pounds of Minnesota's 1973 total. That was a decline of only 300,000 pounds from 1972.

Cortland variety contributed 500,000 pounds, the same amount as the two previous years, and ther apple varieties provided the 9-million pound balance of the state's 1973 apple crop, 3-million pounds less than in 1972.

Synthetic Motor Oil Tested In Truck And Car

A synthetic motor oil is now being tested by highway district 9 with a view to possibly conserving the petroleum product now used by the Minnesota highway department's fleet of 3,600 cars, light and heavy trucks, and heavy equipment.

Although the synthetic motor oil is used in aircraft, its cost of more than $3 a quart has generally precluded its use in automotive engines. The 'extreme service' characteristics of the synthetic product, however, may prove to overcome the initial price disadvantage.

The ersatz motor oil has a viscosity rating of 10W-40, a pour-point of -60 degree, and a flash point of 470 degrees, said to be superior to the natural product. The recommended period for changing the synthetic motor oil is every 25,000 miles. In this respect the department might well realize a savings of $15 every 25,000 miles, it is said.

The synthetic motor oil is being tested in a 1973 pick-up truck and a 1970 passenger car.

Moorhead Holds State Country Music Contest

Moorhead has been named as the site, March 25, of one of seven regional country music contests in Minnesota leading up to the state championship in the spring.

Other areas hosting contests include Cloquet, Rochester, Bemidji, Redwood Falls and two in the metropolitan area, said Archie N. Hill, director of the state-wide competition from Virginia.

Under the sponsorship of the Minnesota Northern Frontier Bicentennial foundation, the contests will be held yearly until 1976, with the best talent from each year's winners comprising the cast for a historical pageant telling the story of Minnesota in Bicentennial appearances throughout the country.

Each regional contest will match professional country musicians with amateurs, Hill said, with competition open in several categories. From each region, winners will be picked in the best overall country music act category, as well as best male singer, best female singer and best instrumentalist.

Winners in each of the categories frm the seven regions will meet in state-wide competiton to determine state champions.

Musicians in the Vikingland Region of Minnesota will compete in the Moorhead contest which will be held at the Union Ballroom at Moorhead state college.

Auditions, if necessary, will be held during the day of the contest, with the best acts chosen for evening final's competition.

This is the first year the country musicians in the state have had the opportunity to try out on a regional basis for the state contest.

Musicians competing in the northeast region contest are to complete an intent to participate form, available from the state headquarters. Inquiries are to be directed to: Minnesota State Country Music Championship, Box 280, Virginia, Minn. 55792.

Further information about the competition may be obtained by writing to the same address.

At stake in the Vikingland Regional Country Music Contest will be the grand championship act, reserve grand championship, and merit championship. In addition to the champion male singer, champion female singer and champion instrumentalist.

Highway Experts Are Available To Speak Locally

Now available to speak at local meetings of civic and social service organizations across the state are members of the Minnesota highway department, according to a brochure just mailed to chambers of commerce, commercial clubs and civic organizations.

The speakers, employed in various aspects of highway work, constitute a knowledgeable 'speakers' bureau" capable to answering questions on such topics as highway planning, time required to reconstruct or improve a road, how right of way is acquired, what benefits there are for displaced residents and businesses, criteria for installation of traffic signals, and the purposes of roadside plantings.

Recipients of the brochures are requested to distribute them to local groups and clubs that may wish to invite a speaker to their meetings. The publiation shows a map of the nine construction districts and 16 maintenance areas in the state, together with the names and telephone numbers of Highway Department personnel in each who are prepared to coordinate speakers' engagements.

Requests for speakers may also be made directly to the department's Public Information Office in St. Paul by telephoning area code 612, 296-3581.

New Booklet On Tax Provisions Now Available

Publication of a new pamphlet on tax law provisions that help finance political campaigns through voluntary public participation, was announced recently by R. C. Voskuil, district director of Internal Revenue for Minnesota.

"The pamphlet, Voluntary Tax Methods to Help Finance Political Campaigns, Publication 585, explains how taxpayers can designate on returns filed this year $1 of their 1973 taxes, and if they had not already done so, $1 of their 1972 taxes toward the 1976 Presidential Election Campaign," said Voskuil.

The new pamphlet also covers tax deductions and credits for contributions to political candidates and campaign committees. The publication explains the circumstances under which a deduction or credit for a contribution is more advantageous.

Designed to help gain understanding of tax law incentives for voluntary public participation in political campaign financing, the pamphlet is in a format suitable for use as a handout or envelope stuffer by employers, associations and civic groups.

Copies may be obtained free of charge from the IRS district office. Call 291-1422 to place your order. Bulk quantities for large distributions may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

19,892 Refunds On 1973 Returns Are Made By IRS

Internal Revenue service announced recently that 19,892 refunds have been issued to Minnesota taxpayers so far this year.

According to R.C. Voskuil, district director of internal revenue for Minnesota, over $7.6 million has been mailed back to state taxpayers.

"That works out to an average refund of $383.84," said Voskuil, "almost $100 more than last year."

Voskuil went on to disclose some other facets of this year's statistics.

"About 4.5 per cent of the returns filed or 7,400 returns have errors on them," said Voskuil, "with most of the errors, 62 per cent, being simple computation errors. Another 20 per cent are line entry errors. We urge people to sit down and check over their return a second time before they mail it in," Voskuil said.

Humphrey Asks Investigation Of Food For Peace

"Sen. Harold E. Hughes (D-Ia.) and I introduced this week in the U.S. Senate legislation calling for an immediate investigation of the misuse of agricultural commodities under Food for Peace or of foreign currencies generated from the sale of these commodities," Sen. Hubert Humphrey stated last week.

"Our concurrent resolution asks that the secretaries of the state and agriculture conduct the inquiry and report to Congress within 90 days their recommendations for corrective legislative action.

"It is my judgment that the administration is turning this repected program into a travesty, as administration officials search for ways to support covertly military operations in Southeast Asia.

"Almost half, 44 per cent, of all Food for Peace shipments from the United States throughout the world in fiscal 1974 will go to Vietnam and Cambodia—and, durng this period, the estimate of the value of the shipments to these two nations will have more than doubled.

"This works out to a major diversion of local currencies in these countries through U.S. food assistance, for defense purposes, and indirect, but, nevertheless, substantial addition to military aid," the Senator said.

"Meanwhile, commodity assistance for humanitarian programs by CARE and church-sponsored relief agencies has been cut back. It has been estimated that 20 million fewer people are being helped to avoid starvation than two years ago.

"It is clear that Congress must take early action to prevent profoundly serious distortions of the Food for Peace program," he said.

On March 3, 1969, the Apollo 9 spacecraft was launched, James A. McDivitt commanding. The ship practiced docking maneuvers with a lunar module.

Mondale Would Roll Back Price Of Crude Oil

(Following are comments of Sen. Walter F. Mondale regarding the cost of crude oil:)

Last November the cost of living council set the price of "old" (price-regulated) crude oil at $4.25 a barrel. At that time, "new" crude (unregulated) was selling for $5.75.

The oil companied were more than pleased with these prices. In fact, they said at the time that the prices would be adequate for them to continue looking for new domestic sources of crude oil.

Since then, the price of "new" domestic oil has almost doubled because of the Arab embargo, despite the fact that the cost of producing this oil has remained the same.

The effect of this is most clearly seen at the gas pump, where the price of gasoline recently topped 60 cents a gallon.

Recently, the "Wall Street Journal" reported that the federal energy office under the direction of energy chief William Simon, was floating a trial balloon—suggesting that they were considering the possibility of rolling back "new" oil prices to $8-$8.5 a barrel.

Even at that price the cost of oil would be excessive, and more than the oil companies themselves recently admitted to be sufficient.

At the present time, the oil industry is charging up to $10 a barrel for "new" domestic oil—the same oil on which they were making handsome profits at $3.50 a barrel just a year ago. Thus, a rollback to anything above the November 1 levels would be nothing more than a slap on the wrist of the major oil companies.

To bring prices back down to a reasonable level, I have introduced legislation designed to roll back prices to the levels prevailing on Nov. 1, 1973.

This proposal would save American consumers about $6 billion a year on crude oil alone, with additional large savings at the refined product level.

It has become the job of Congress to ensure that the American people are not paying exorbitant prices for domestic crude oil—which accounts for about two-thirds of our total oil consumption—simply because foreign oil prices have risen in response to cartel-set prices.

I believe that the Congress can and will take on this challenging task.

Blaine Ternes Enlists In Navy CACHE Program

Blaine L. Ternes, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ternes of 308 Sherwood avenue, recently enlisted in the Navy's delayed enlistment program through the Thief River Falls Navy recruiting station. Ternes, a 1971 graduate of Lincoln high school, is a second year accounting student at the local area vocational-technical institute and will leave for active duty on March 25.

According to Ben Siebels, petty officer in charge of the local Navy recruiting station, Ternes enlisted in the Navy's advanced electronics program. After initial training at San Diego, Cal., Ternes will receive more than a year of specialized electronics schooling at Navy vocational schools around the country.

Navy applicants who qualify for advanced training courses are enlisted in pay grade E-3 ($377.70 monthly), and receive an automatic promotion to pay grade E-4 ($392.70 monthly) after they complete the preliminary phase of training—usually after the sixth month in training. Married applicants receive an additional $105 to $120 monthly housing allowance.

Only Small Part Of Interstates Not Underway

Nationally, work has either been completed or is under way on 99 per cent of the 42,500-mile system of interstate and defense highways. Only 472 miles of the system have not yet advanced to the public hearings stage, according to U.S. transportation secretary Claude Brinegar.

In Minnesota, work has either been completed or is under way on 76 per cent of the designated 914-mile system. Only one per cent, or 9.17 miles, remains in a preliminary status, Brinegar said.

Of the 696 miles open to traffic in Minnesota, 576 miles have been completed to full or acceptable Interstate standards, while 120 miles have been improved to standards adequate to present traffic. There are 102 miles under construction at present, and 107 miles in the engineering or right-of-way acquisition stages, Brinegar reported.

In 43 per cent of the states, portions of the Interstate system are toll roads. In New York 37 per cent of the state Interstate network consists of toll roads; in Massachusetts, 28 per cent; and in Pennsylvania and Kansas, 23 per cent. The entire Interstate system in Minnesota is toll-free.

State Employees Reduce Highway Costs In 1973

Employees of the Minnesota highway department saved taxpayers more than $4.6 million during the first year of a cost improvement program instituted by commissioner Ray Lappegaard in December of 1972.

"I personally am very pleased with the initiatives, diligence and enthusiasm shown by the department's employees in suggesting ways and means to save money," Lappegaard said.

The program introduced by Lappegaard was recommended by LEAP, the loaned executives action program created by Gov. Wendell R. Anderson to improve efficiency in state government. The plan, patterned after one used by the 3M Company on a world-wide basis, is calculated to save 5 per cent in operating costs annually.

By the end of December 1973, a total of $955,902 in 'one-time' savings had been reached. One-time savings are economies that cannot be repeated, like turning in equipment that is not replaced. Another $3.6 million in 'recurrent' savings was also made during the year. As an example of recurrent savings was cited a change in construction contract specifications that will continue to cut future highway improvement costs indefinitely.

"These are identifiable savings," Lappegaard said. "I believe the expanded cost-consciousness aroused by the program has, in fact, resulted in many dollars in savings that have gone unreported."

Outlying district offices of the Minnesota Highway Department around the state accounted for almost $3.3 million of the savings. Five of them realized economies of a quarter million dollars or more, each.

Golden Valley, headquarters of District 5, came up with economies totaling $900,690. District 9, headquarters Oakdale, reported savings of $504,120. District 3, headquarters in Brainerd, realized savings of $484,070. District 6, whose headquarters is Rochester, saved $277,510. District 2, headquarters Bemidji, saved $276,575.

District 7, Mankato, saved an estimable $248,285. District 8, Willmar, saved $227,295 and District 1, Duluth, $174,685. Highway central offices in St. Paul saved $1.3 million, including $800,212 in economies effected by the Design and Right of Way Division.

"These savings have enabled the Highway Department to meet increased demands and inflated costs to-date, without any increase in operating budget," observed Deputy Highway Commissioner and Chief Engineer W. Stanley Ekern. "How long this can continue will depend on such things as future fuel prices, equipment prices, and the escalation of materials costs."

With employee interviews now in progress for the second year of the cost improvement program, Lappegaard is confident that new ideas will be forthcoming from Highway employees to save Minnesotans additional road-user tax dollars.

Egg Promotion Board Formed

Formation of a Minnesota egg promotion board headquartered in Bloomington is announced by Lloyd Stone, executive director.

Objective of the board is to stimulate consumption of eggs throughout the state and in neighboring areas and to promote eggs as a good food value. There will also be support of various research projects.

Members appointed in nine Minnesota districts are Neil Ingvalson, Blooming Prairie; Henry Soost, Wells; Beryl Morton, Westbrook; Bernie Van Roekel, Bigelow; O. H. Sanden, Redwood Falls; David Offerman, Montevideo; Clayton Schad, Osseo; Dean Myhro, Moorhead; and Norman Nelson, Bagley.

The board was established by a vote of major egg producers (flocks of 3,000 and over) by an 82.5 per cent majority.

In commenting on promotional plans, Stone says: "Few people realize that eggs, even at 90 cents per dozen, represent today's greatest food value. A dozen large eggs weigh at least 1-1½ pounds. This makes nature's finest protein available at 60 cents per pound."

On Feb. 8, 1949, an Air Force B-47 Stratojet set an unofficial coast-to-coast speed record for multi-jet engine aircraft, flying 2289 miles in 3 hours 46 minutes.

Humphrey Proposes U.S. Growth Policy

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, attributing the scarcity of fuel and raw materials, in part, to the nation's failure to plan for the future, has introduced legislation designed to establish a balanced national growth and development policy.

Speaking at the American Institute of Planners meeting in the L'Enfant Plaza Hotel, Humphrey said, "Unless urgent action is taken the nation may also face a food shortage in the coming months and years that will hit some parts of the world so hard the present energy problems will seem mild by comparison."

The Minnesota Democrat charged that each of these difficulties "has been made worse in some degree by governmental action and policy—or by the administration's delay and inaction".

And he said, "I find it incredible that a proposed federal budget of some $300 billion in fiscal 1975 offers no decisive new direction whatsoever in the national planning for balanced growth and development that is so critically needed today.

"There is a disturbing philosophy, apparently governing the actions of the present administration, that somehow tomorrow will take care of itself.

"The fundamental fact we must face is that tomorrow is already here, that we must stop acting as if America had limitless resources."

Humphrey also charged that the federal government's failure to plan "has contributed to the decay of our cities, the neglectful withering of our small towns and the deterioration of our rural countryside and its environments.

"We must design a national growth policy that will hve as its central premise the relationship of people to land, water, air and resources. There must be a healthy balance that permits people to live in harmony with their environment."

Humphrey explained that his bill, to be known as the balanced national growth and development act, would reorganize the legislative and executive branches, "so that policies are set with regard to how they relate to these and other goals of balanced growth.

"It would make regional planning a reality, and bring to bear the best brains in the nation to consider where we are headed and how to get there."

The Humphrey planning measure would establish:

An office of balanced national growth and development within the executive office of the President to administer all federal planning and planning assistance programs;

Multi-state regional planning and development commissions liked to state and local planning agencies;

National, state and regional citizens councils to advise the federal office and Congress on planning, growth and development policies;

A joint congressional committee on balanced national growth and a congressional office of policy and planning to coordinate efforts on Capitol Hill;

A foundation on the American future to undertake comprehensive and long-range research geared to development of public policy in this area;

An agency for populaton and demographic analysis within the bureau of the census to project requirements for such needs as educational facilities, new housing, expanded public facilities and comprehensive programs for the elderly.

Summing up his legislation, Humphrey said, "I do not suggest that my bill is the final answer to our nation's growth and development needs. Rather I view it as a major beginning.

"It goes beyond anything we have today in establishing an orderly, systematic, comprehensive framework for devising, coordinating and carrying our policies of balanced national growth and development."

Viking-Land Directory Is Now Available

Minnesota's Viking-Land region is making a bid for campers by publishing an attractive campground directory. The publication—new in 1974—is designed to provide all information a traveler needs to plan a camping stop overnight or for the entire summer season.

Included is an article on energy saving tips for recreational vehicles by one of Minnesota's travel experts, Jinx Brady, of Minnesota AAA "Motorist". Cover art work—a collectors item in pen and ink—depicts the camping history of Viking-Land including the Viking and Indian periods. The artist is Bev Van Berkom, a Minneapolis artist noted for her work in Scandinavian mythology.

By way of explanation, it should be noted that Viking-Land is headquarters for believers in the story that Norse explorers visited the region in 1362, leaving several artifacts in the area from Hudson Bay to Viking-Land including the controversial Kensington Runestone.

The publication includes 120 public and private campsites of every type from primitive to plush KOA's. Listings are grouped under 57 northwestern Minnesota communities making a stop possible anywhere in the region which stretches along the Red River of the North from mid-Minnesota to Canada. The queen of Minnesota parks is also included, Itasca, which is the source of the Mississippi River.

For budget-minded campers, prices of overnight stays along with clear directions to the campsites are listed. Eighteen photographs depict a tour of the Viking-Land region, county by county.

A free copy of the directory may be obtained by writing Viking-Land, USA, Inc., Department C, Battle Lake, MN 56515.

Polk County Highway To Get Trust Fund Aid

On a low bid of $171,485, the Mark Sand and Gravel Co., Inc., of Fergus Falls has been awarded a county state-aid highway contract for the improvement of CSAH 57 in Polk county, state highway commissioner Ray Lappegaard confirmed recently.

The contract calls for bituminous surfacing, together with aggregate shoulders, on some seven miles of the highway, northeastward from its junction with TH 75, north of Crookston. Work is slated to begin on June 3 and to be completed within 70 working days.

Lappegaard acts as the county's agent where this improvement is concerned because CSAH 57, designated as a federal-aid secondary roue, is eligible for financial aid from the Highway Trust Fund to help defray costs of the improvement. The federal funds are channeled through the state highway department.

There are 658 miles of highways in Polk county classified as federal-aid secondary routes.

On March 1, 1912, Bert Berry made the first attached-type parachute jump from an American airplane. The jump was made at 1,500 feet over Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo.

Lottery Numbers For Men Born In '55 To Be Drawn

Young men born in 1955 will have their selective service lottery numbers drawn on March 20, even though there is no draft or plans to resume callups for involuntary military service, Colonel Robert P. Knight, state director of selective service for Minnesota, announced recently.

Sixth annual selective service lottery drawing for the nation's young men who become 19 years of age during 1974 will be held in Washington, D.C., on that date. Minnesota has approximately 39,000 19-year-olds who will have their lottery numbers established by this drawing, according to Colonel Knight.

Military selective service act requires all young men to register with the sytem at the time of their 19th birthday. They are assigned their random sequence number through the lottery which is held during the year in which they become 19 years of age.

As a result of the lottery numbers which are drawn, some of the young men born in 1955 will be placed in a class available for military service by their local boards. This group will form a standby pool of "readily inductible" men during the calendar year 1975. This pool would be available to supplement the all-volunteer armed forces in the event of a national emergency. The President's induction authority would have to be restored by the Congress before these young men could be inducted.

In reminding Minnesota's young men that penalties for failing to register can range to as much as five years' imprisonment or a fine of $10,000, or both, Colonel Knight said that selective service has provided many ways which enable men to register with minimum inconvenience.

"Almost 600 volunteer registrars located in high schools, court houses, post offices and city offices have been appointed in areas where there is no local board office," he reported. "Registration takes but a few minutes and there is no point in failing to do so."

Thought For The Day

I take my clue from William Stringfellow's new book "An Ethic for Christians and Other Aliens in a Strange World" quoted by Martin Marty in "Context," Feb. 15, 1974. "Discernment," says Marty, "that is the great need," and he uses Stringfellow to observe that the man who is sensitive "to the Word of God indwelling in all Creation and transfiguring common history" is a man of discernment. Only he can see hope where others see despair, only he sees the seeds of death where others see progress or success. The Word of God gives the strength to live and serve in a time that seems to have lost all direction, principle and firmness, and become alien to almost everyone.

Veto Pay Raise

Following editorial is from the Grafton Record:

In submitting his $300 billion budget to Congress on Feb. 4, President Nixon included a proposal to increase the salaries of top federal workers, including members of Congress. Under the plan, congressional salaries, already $42,500 annually, would go to $45,700 in March, $49,000 next year and to $52,800 in 1976.

Unless Congress vetoes the pay hike proposal by March 6, it automatically will go into effect. We believe the plan, in its present form, should be vetoed.

At the same time, we admit there are these good aspects to a proposal for higher congressional salaries: Salaries should be substantial enough to attract into politics the best men and women our country can produce. Any built-in insurance against a betrayal of trust should be welcomed. Finally, although the 535 members of Congress already make considerably more than most of us, it is true they haven't had a raise in five years.

We remain convinced, however, that the bad aspects of the proposal outweigh the good. First, the current high cost of living — which is attributable in good measure to the spend-thrift ways of Congress — makes the proposal a bitter pill to swallow.

Second, we believe that a time when belt tightening is the order of the day for most Americans, a substantial salary increase for congressmen and other top federal officials sets a very poor example. Many other citizens will be asked to scale down their salary demands this year and Congress should lead the way.

Our biggest objection to the plan, however, is its "automatic" provision. If it is not cancelled by Congress, members will automatically receive pay increases through 1976 regardless of performance, the public mood, or the health of the economy.

We believe that as American taxpayers who are, in effect, the stockholders of Congress, we should have the right to insist that pay hikes be based on merit and not on fiat. If Congress is really serious about curbing inflation, let it begin here by vetoing this pay raise proposal and subsituting in its place a more reasonable scheme.

Don't Sit Back

Following editorial is from the Lake Region Echo at Alexandria:

Many don't want to admit it . . . but let's face it. The Republican Party is hurting. Volunteer help has waned. Monetary contributions are down. The Watergate fiasco has created doubts in the Republican philosophy . . . and it's so wrong to feel that way.

The Republican Party had nothing to do with Watergate! The Committee to Reelect the president (which handled the president's campaign) . . . or individuals within that group are to blame. But when you're talking about the Committee to Reelect and the Republican Party . . . you're talking about two very different organizations.

Indeed, members of the Republican Party were more than a bit miffed when they were excluded from many of the decisions relating to the campaign in 1972.

For those who have backed into a world of limbo because they find it embarrassing to admit they are Republicans . . . think about what you're doing. Now is the time to help strengthen the party . . . not weaken it. Now is not the time to sit back and say "the hell with it all."

No one can deny what troubles would be created if we had a one-party system in this country. But it is gradually coming to that. The news this week that Vice President Gerald Ford's Congressional seat in Michigan was won by a Democrat Monday (first time since 1910 the area has been represented by a Democrat) is indicative that the already powerful majority representation in Congress will be further entrenched by the one party following next November's elections. Watergate is, indeed, having a fantastic influence on the voting habits of hundreds of thousands of people. And it shouldn't be.

Take Minnesota alone. Both the Minneapolis and St. Paul mayors and council members are controlled by the one party. The same party holds the governorship and both houses of the state legislature. They have the majority of governorships in the United States, they control both houses of the U.S. Congress. And unless something changes between now and 1976 . . . they will also control the White House.

We're not saying — by any means — that the Democrats aren't entitled or capable to serve and hold office. But we adamantly believe they must be challenged . . . if only to preserve and protect the strong two-party system that helped build this great nation.

You can start by attending the precinct caucus next Tuesday night. Not because you like what happened in the Watergate episode . . . but because you want to be a part of seeing that this great political party is not embarrassed like this again. Don't sit back and wail . . . we can't afford to give up now.

About Sportsmanship

Tournament time in high schools around the state usually evokes some editorial comment about sportsmanship and fair play—some of it good and some of it bad. It seems like tournaments bring out the worst and the best in players and fans.

For instance, the Grand Forks Herald commented about the sportsmanship of the Grand Forks Central team following a loss which put Central out of a chance for the state championship—a title which the Grand Forks school had won for 13 successive years. Central players reportedly accepted the defeat graciously and one of the best performers on the squad was the first to congratulate the winning opposition after the game.

High school sports contests are emotionally-charged events, and that emotion is intensified at tournament time when winning and losing seems to be such a final thing. One can forgive a player an occasional outburst in the pressure such a situation creates—although self-discipline and self-control should be part of the athletic learning experience.

But we find it difficult—extremely difficult—to forgive the rudeness, thoughtlessness and utter lack of consideration displayed by the fans. At the regional hockey tournament in Thief River Falls Monday and Wednesday, we had the misfortune of sitting in front of several of these people on both nights. It severely hampered our ability to enjoy the games.

On the first night the vocalizers were young men several years removed from high school and who, although we don't remember ever seeing them in Prowler hockey uniforms, knew all about how the game should be played on the ice. They found fault with nearly every play at the top of their voices, they degraded the players exerting their best efforts on the ice, and they used language that would have been banned in a second class pool hall a couple of years ago.

One of the group seemed to consider it a personal affront to his knowledge of the game and payment of admission that perfection was not performed on every defensive and offensive play. His favorite expression was to shout "Jesus Christ!" in a tone of disgust when he ran out of good advice, which was quite often.

At the championship game the loudest voice in our area of the arena was female. This person also seemed to think that the Prowlers owed her a victory and perfection in play. She delighted in calling the players "knuckle-heads" and "dummies"—her two favorite and most-used terms—and she was liberal in the use of both from the opening face-off to the final horn. It was a strange way to give encouragement, if that is what she intended.

We have reason to doubt that we could defy the odds and sit next to the only two abusive groups or individuals in the arena. Quite likely there were others similarly vulgar and vicious in their comments and loud in their expression.

Rumor has it that some Bemidji followers used scurrilous language in heckling the Prowler bench during the championship game. Such activity is despicable whatever or whoever its source.

But it is also a fact that the Prowlers received a communication from the Bemidji cheerleaders a day or two after the game, wishing the Prowlers good luck against Hibbing in the Region 3 play-off and adding "Hope to see you at the state". A thoughtful gesture like that from the people directly involved in competition goes a long way toward salving wounds opened by the boors who play the game by mouth from the stands.

A participant doesn't benefit from athletics—either as an athlete or a fan—until he or she realizes that winning is more than the numbers on the scoreboard at the end of a game. Sportsmanship is still a part of high school athletics—a valuable part—and the fans shouldn't leave all of it to the players.

Borrowed Nonsense

HIBBING WING Tim Baker (white jersey) shrugged off the defensive efforts of Northland's Gary Burstad (8) and flipped the puck past Northland goalie Gordon Landin during this third period action in Friday's championship game of the Minnesota junior college state hockey tournament. Hibbing won the game and the state title with a 6-2 win over the Northmen in the Thief River Falls sports arena.

Fisher Wins Sub District 31 Basketball Title 56-54

Fisher outlasted a surprising Goodridge quint 56-54 Friday to win the 1974 sub district 31 basketball tournament title.

The upstart Huskies, who finished the regular season with only a 9-9 record, clobbered defending sub district champion Climax 77-41 in a first round game before Goodridge stunned heavy favorite Alvarado 77-56 in semi-final play Thursday to advance into Friday's championship contest. Top seeded Fisher received a first round bye and whipped Oslo 70-47 in Thursday's semi-finals.

Fisher, Goodridge, Alvarado and Oslo will all advance into this week's district 31 tournament in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse at Grand Forks.

Fisher-Goodridge

Alvarado defeated Olso 80-57 in Friday night's consolation game.

Goodridge and Fisher battled to an 18-18 first quarter tie in front of a near hysterical Lincoln high school crowd in Thief River Falls. Fisher, the pre-tournament favorite along with Alvarado, outscored Goodridge 14-9 in the second quarter to take a 32-27 halftime lead, but Goodridge sliced that difference to only 44-41 entering the final hectic eight minutes.

Steve Kummer led a balanced Fisher attack with 17 points, followed by Mark Egeland with 15 and Rod Beiswenger 13. Hot shooting Goodridge forward Tom Bendickson took home the game's top scoring honors with 22 points while teammate Howard Vigen chipped in 11.

Goodridge-Alvarado

Goodridge broke open a relatively tight ball game in the second half as the Huskies upset the Indians 77-56 in Thursday's semi-finals.

Goodridge owned a slim 15-13 first quarter lead, increased that margin to 35-29 at halftime and zoomed in front 55-42 after three quarters.

Five Goodridge players reached double figures with Arden Hyland scoring 20 points, Bendickson 16, Don Grabowska 14, Howard Vigen 12 and Paul Solberg 11. Bruce Kollin led Alvarado with 27 points and Gary Boman added 13.

Fisher-Oslo

Fisher opened up a 14-9 first quarter lead against Oslo and the Flyers were never headed in their 70-47 semi-final win Thursday.

The Flyers led 31-23 at halftime and 47-35 after three quarters against the smaller Bobcats.

Four Fisher players scoring in double figures included Kummer with 16, Jon Beiswenger 15, Rod Beiswenger 13 and Egeland 12. Tony Solem led the Bobcats with 15 points and Rod Teigen added 14.

Alvarado-Oslo

Alvarado bounced back from its crushing semi-final round loss to Goodridge by beating Oslo 80-57 in Friday's consolation game.

The Indians led at all three quarter stops 18-12, 40-28 and 65-39.

Alvarado's offense was led by Boman with 18 points while Kollin and Ransel Anderson both contributed 16. Bill Solem led the Bobcats with 16 points.

Weekly HEALTH TIP

Many middle aged and elderly persons suffer from softening of the bones called osteoporosis, due to a gradual loss of calcium in the bones. They become brittle, deformed, and easily fractured. Bones contain 99% of the body's calcium Studies over several years show that nearly all osteoporosis patients had a low calcium level in their diet, and that by drinking more milk, the calcium level in the body improved. To prevent bone softening, a daily intake of at least one gram of calcium (3 glasses of milk) plus adequate protein, vitamins D and C, is recommended.

Senator Reacts To DNR Efforts On Wolf Plan

Senator Norbert Arnold has attacked the department of natural resources for widely publicizing what he claims are false statements in lobbying for a state wolf managment plan.

"As a result of this propaganda, I have been criticized as being arbitrary and dictatorial in my role as chairman of the natural resources and agriculture committee," the Pengilly DFLer said.

"Commissioner Robert Herbst and his game and fish people have suggested that I have been the stumbling block to enactment of this great piece of widom from the think tank of the DNR.

"The truth is that it is against federal law to set up a wolf managment program not approved by the department of the interior," Arnold said, "and the department of interior has made it clear that the proposal being peddled by DNR is inadequate and unacceptable.

"The problem is this," Arnold said. "Congress has classified the timber wolf as an endangered species and thus subject to full federal control unless the state demonstrates is ability and willingness to protect the animal with a managment plan approved by the department of the interior.

"The DNR came up with a plan for a wolf sanctuary in the boundary waters canoe area and treatment of the wolf outside of that area as a game animal. Under that proposal, DNR would set seasons, individual bag limits and total annual harvest limits. The suggested annual harvest limit would be 200 and the individual bag limit was first suggested at 10 animals and then changed to 5.

"The above bill passed the House in 1973," Arnold said, "and widely placed DNR news releases suggested that the Senate and I were stopping progress," he added.

"I did not have a hearing on the bill because my information clearly indicated that the plan was almost totally inadequate in the eyes of interior department officials," Arnold said.

"We sent a committee staff member to Washington and he confirmed a number of falsehoods spread by the widely published DNR releases.

"Here is a listing of some false statements:

"The DNR release said a wolf managment plan must be adopted by March 28, 1975, or the state loses all control.

"Interior Department officials said 'Not true—the federal government will manage the animals until the state comes up with an acceptable system. There is no time limit.'

"Commissioner Herbst was quoted as saying he is 'virtually certain that under federal managment the state would not even be allowed to permit taking of timber wolves preying on livestock.'

"'Not true,' Washington officials said, 'forms of live trapping, trophy hunting or a controlled predator control program operated by the federal government or the state would exist.'

"And the most misleading statement of all was Herbst saying that the DNR wolf managment plan 'was received favorably in Washington'," Arnold added.

"Interior Department officials made it clear to our committee staffer that they never even hinted to Minnesota officials that the DNR managment plan was acceptable," Arnold said.

Northland & Hibbing Upset MJCAA Tourney Favorites

Pre-tournament favoites Mesabi and Itasca were upset by Northland and Hibbing Thursday in a surprising first round of the 1974 Minnesota junior college athletic association (MJCAA) state hockey tournament played in the Thief River Falls sports arena.

The final regular season hockey conference standings found Mesabi finishing first, followed by Itasca, Hibbing and Northland in that order. Thursday's tournament results were reversed, however, as Hibbing stopped Itasca 8-5 and Northland stunned Mesabi 8-2.

The wins gave both Hibbing and Northland berths in the upcoming national junior college hockey tournament scheduled to be held in Thief River Falls March 15 and 16.

Itasca 5

Dave Herbst, a slightly built freshman with a wealth of talent, paced Hibbing over Itasca 8-5 by scoring three goals and collecting four assists as he had a hand in all but the final Cardinal goal.

The smooth skating Itasca squad jumped out to a 2-0 lead near the halfway mark of the first period on a pair of quick goals by sophomore wing Rick Christy spaced just nine seconds apart at 7:03 and 7:12.

Herbst scored his first goal on a rebound shot at 10:39 and just 1:21 later teammate Bob Erickson stuffed in another rebound to end the first period knotted at 2-2.

An uneventful second period stalemate was suddenly ripped apart by Hibbing's swarming offense as the Cardinals slammed in five straight goals against the crumbling Itasca defense in the final five minutes of the middle stanza.

Herbst and Jeff Biondi ignited the Hibbing outburst with power play goals at 14:58 and 16:47. Matt Senich scored at 18:25 and Dave Miaker stickhandled his way through the Itasca squad for another goal with only 47 seconds remaining to provide the Cardinals with a startling 6-2 bulge.

The two teams traded goals throughout the third period, but the Vikings never recovered from their disastrous second period collapse Itasca's Kevin Singpiel made it 6-3 at 9:07, but Herbst notched his hat trick goal at 12:21. Itasca's Tom Clusiau scored at 13:24 for a 7-4 game, only to have Hibbing respond with a goal by Bob Rupp just 21 seconds later. Itasca's Dan LeClair finished the game's scoring at 14:40.

Itasca goalie Vern Nelson was peppered with 45 shots during the game, with period saves of 13-23-9. Hibbing netminder Jeff Baynes handled 38 shots successfully, with period totals of 12-8-18.

Only eight penalties were called in the fast moving game, four on each team.

Mesabi 2

Host Northland completely shut off Mesabi's high scoring offense in Thursday's hard hitting second first round game to give the Northmen a stirring 8-2 win.

While Northland's tenacious defensive play paved the victory route, the Northman offense accounted for eight goals by seven different players. Only freshman Tony Demarais scored twice for the well balanced Northmen.

Defenseman Gary Burstad provided Northland with a quick 1-0 lead when his long sailing slap shot from just inside the blueline eluded Mesabi goalie Keith Larson on Northland's first offensive rush and first shot of the game. Jon Markstrom and Al Eisenzimmer were given assists on the play with only 52 seconds elapsed.

Mesabi managed to tie the game 1-1 when Dave Johnson scored at 6:22, but Northland dominated the rest of the first period to skate into the locker room with a 3-1 lead.

Merlin Nelson's hard 20 foot wrist shot at 7:41 made it 2-1 on assists from Jon Jensen and Rick Vatnsdal. Sophomore Rory Anderson, playing in his first game since the season's opening series when he was sidelined with a back injury, deflected in an Arlan Tveit slap shot with only 1:51 left for the 3-1 margin.

Northland added a pair of second period goals to boost their lead to a surprising 5-1 margin. Demarais chalked up a power play goal on an assist from Tveit at 11:12 and Jensen poked in a close range rebound after shots by Kevin Thomson and Randy Schmitz at 16:01.

Mesabi's Tim Riordan scored at 3:53 of the third period for a 5-2 game, but Northland completed its unexpected rout by scoring the final three goals.

Defenseman Mike Protz skated behind the Mesabi net and startled Larson by jamming the puck between the goalie's leg and the goal pipe at 6:44. Demarais continued his late season scoring splurge with help from Schmitz and Tveit at 3:01 and freshman Dick Penning wrapped up the scoring with a fancy stickhandling display past the frustrated Mesabi defense with just 11 seconds remaining.

Northland sophomore goalie Craig Carter turned in a strong game for the Northmen as he turned aside 24 shots, including a number of hard to handle saves. Carter's period totals were 12-6-6. Larson kicked out 25 drives with period saves of 11-9-5.

There were no less than 15 penalties called in the game, with Northland skating off seven infractions without giving up a power play goal in a great display of penalty skating.

HIBBING freshman Dave Herbst was the star performer during the 1974 Minnesota junior college state hockey tournament played in the Thief River Falls sports arena Thursday and Friday. Herbst scored twice and collected four assists in the Cardinals' 8-5 first round win over Itasca before picking up a three goal hat trick in Hibbing's 6-2 championship game win over Northland.

Minnesota high school athletic competition will take on a new look by the 1975-76 school year, it was announced Thursday, with implementation of a two class system of competition by the Minnesota state high school league (MSHSL).

Under the MSHSL's recently adopted plan, the largest 128 schools by enrollment in June of 1973 will be placed in the proposed class AA division with the other approximately 358 schools being placed in class A—similar to the present state basketball set-up, but with an expanded class AA field.

Realignment of the state's present district and region boundaries will take place prior to the start of the two class competition, it was pointed out by the MSHSL. Thief River Falls' status in the realignment plan could probably find the Prowlers competing on a regional level with Bemidji, the Iron Range and the Duluth schools.

The new class system will not affect the present football classes and the current hockey set-up, but would include all other MSHSL sponsored activities that meet the criteria of 50 per cent participation, such as cross country, basketball, wrestling, boy's track, girl's track, baseball and golf. The MSHSL sponsored drama and speech competiton will also be placed in the class system, but not the music division.

Based on the present participation, girl's volleyball and basketball would be included in the class system when definite seasons are determined and when state tournaments are conducted.

Pairings for the national junior college hockey tornament to be held in Thief River Falls March 15 and 16 are nearly completed, with just one more play-off game scheduled to determine the final four team national field.

The first round national tournament pairings will find Minnesota champion Hibbing facing either Henry Ford community college of Dearborn, Michigan or Wilber Wright community college of Chicago, Illinois, while Minnesota runner-up and host Northland takes on defending national champion Canton technical college of Canton, New York.

Henry Ford and Wilber Wright will clash Friday for the final tournament spot.

Canton has already been tabbed as the pre-tournament favorite, with the New York school carrying a roster full of Candian imports.

Officials are hoping the NJCAA tournament will be a big success in Thief River Falls in hopes that Northland and Thief River Falls will be awarded the prestegious event on an annual basis. Future plans call for the tournament to be expanded into an eight team event.

"I still think we were the best team down there," reflected dejected Northland basketball coach Chet Engelman whose team lost a heartbreaking 83-79 semi-final round decision to eventual champion Normandale in the Minnesota junior college state basketball tournament during the weekend.

"It's really sad in a way that these kids couldn't have advanced further. Normandale's a good team, but I really think we could beat them six out of ten games. It (the semi-final loss) was just one of those things. We played well, but we just didn't win it.

Although Engelman didn't pin the loss on the officiating, highly questionable calls found Northland standout David Dickey fouling out of a game for the first time all year. Four of Dickey's fouls were offensive calls.

"We just didn't get any breaks," said Engelman. "Here we shoot only six free throws and they sit up at the free throw line all night. I can't think we were that much rougher than they were."

Two MCC Players All-Conference

Two Newfolden players seniors Gary Kujanson and Dave Strandquist were named to the 1973-74 North Border basketball all-conference team announced Saturday.

The 14 player honor squad was made up of two players from each of the seven team league members except for three players named from the conference champion Roseau team and just one selection from the last place Warroad squad.

Roseau players named to the all-conference group included Dave Singer, Steve Singer and Ross Thacker. The rest of the squad members included Ron Foss and Mike Froskaer, Badger; Mike Mitchell and Rick Palm, Baudette; Richard Solberg and Charles Thompson, Greenbush, Randy Anderson and Tom Hoff, Middle River; and Gerald Phillipe, Warroad.

Roseau won the 1973-74 conference title with a 9-2 record, followed by Newfolden 6-2, Greenbush 7-4, Baudette 5-6, Badger 4-6, Middle River 4-7 and Warroad 1-9.

Roseau's Steve Singer won the league's individual scoring title with a 16.8 average. Kujanson was second in the scoring parade with a 16.1 mark. Thompson was third at 14.5 and Strandquist was fourth at 13.2.

THIEF RIVER FALLS goalie Joel Folger stopped this breakaway scoring attempt by Bemidji's Brian Nelson in the second period of Wednesday's region eight championship game played in the sports arena. Bemidji won its third straight region title with a 2-0 triumph over the home standing Prowlers.

Hibbing Stops TRF 7-2 For Region 3

Thief River Falls, trying to gain a spot in this week's Minnesota state hockey tournament for the second time in four days, found region's three "back door" closed tight Saturday with defending state champion Hibbing locking up a 7-2 decision in the Detroit Lakes fieldhouse.

Hibbing and Thief River Falls, both beaten in their respective region seven and eight title games earlier in the week were presented with their second state tournament qualifying opportunity Saturday and the Bluejackets responded by erasing memories of a 6-1 region seven championship game loss to Grand Rapids. Thief River Falls bowed to Bemidji 2-0 in the region eight championship game.

Despite the final score the play was even nearly the entire game outside of a shakey Thief River Falls first period when the aggressive Bluejackets bolted to a 4-1 lead.

A second period goal by junior defenseman Jim Zoretic with only 2:17 remaining provided Hibbing with the impetus needed to gain a second straight state tournament berth. The goal seemed to deflate the emotion charged Prowlers who had carried most of the play in the middle stanza and had cut the lead to 4-2.

Hibbing added a pair of unanswered third period goals to wrap up the game's scoring.

"I thought we played pretty well overall," said Prowler coach Bill McGann. "The final score just doesn't show what kind of a game it really was. We skated with them and we hit with them, but we didn't score with them and that's what you have to do to win."

Hibbing opened the game's scoring with just 2:03 elapsed in the first period when a slow rolling slap shot from the blueline by Mike Pavich slipped under screened Prowler goalie Joel Folger.

Glenn Graber scored the second Hibbing goal six minutes into the game when he put the puck in the net from a scramble in front of Folger who made an initial save on the play, only to have Graber get just a piece of the puck and glance the rubber off a goal pipe and slowly into the net.

Thief River Falls sliced the difference to just 2-1 with 6:59 remaining when Jim Elleson's long slap shot from the point beat standout Hibbing goalie Marc Sterle on the stick side. Mike Noel picked up an assist on the play.

Hibbing's lead went back to 3-1 on another softer than usual shot that dirbbled through a maze of players in front of the Prowler net and eluded Folger with 4:08 left. Bill Kern was credited with the goal on an assist from Pavich.

Frank Techar made it 4-1 less than a minute later as he rifled a slow 20 foot slap shot under Folger.

A strong Thief River Falls second period performance gave the Prowlers new hope with the margin being shaved to only 4-2 when Hibbing defenseman Jim Deluca was guilty of a major blunder. Deluca shot the puck smack into the middle of his own net while trying to clear the disc from in front of Sterle who played an outstanding game in the Hibbing nets. Pete Hess was credited with the goal with 6:15 remaining.

The Prowlers continued to put the pressure on the Bluejackets, but Sterle's lightening-like glove hand caught everything the Prowlers tossed at the Hibbing net. "I thought their goalie (Sterle) played real well," noted McGann. "Against any other goalie we probably could have had four or five more goals."

Zoretic seemed to put the game on ice for the Bluejackets with his late second period goal as he pulled a rebound out of Folger's grasp and shoved the puck into the net from close range for a 5-2 game.

Pete Vucetich and Graber added third period goals for the final 7-2 margin.

"Our first period wasn't what you'd call real good—the tournament shakes or whatever," pointed out McGann. "But after that I thought we settled down and played well. Again, like in the Bemidji game, we had our chances, but they just wouldn't go in for us.

Borning Places 6th In State Swim Meet

Thief River Falls' Dave Borning, a junior at Lincon high school, placed an eye-catching sixth in the finals of the 50 yard freestyle race in the Minnesota state swimming meet held Friday and Saturday in the Cooke Hall pool on the University of Minnesota campus in Minneapolis.

Borning and teammate Doug Williams represented Thief River Falls for the first time ever in a state swimming meet after meeting qualifying times in the recent West Central regional meet.

Swimming in the Friday preliminary races, Borning was clocked in a speedy 22.891 in the 50 to qualify for Saturday's finals where he placed sixth with a 23.033 effort. Borning's preliminary race clocking set a new Lincoln school record and bettered his old mark of 23.6 by a wide margin considering the length of the sprint race.

"Dave's performance was just unbelievable," pointed out still-excited Prowler coach John Kopari. "It was really something when he swam that 22.891—the college coaches were attracted to him immediately until they found out he's only a junior."

Williams, the top Prowler sprint swimmer during the season, didn't fare as well, missing the 50 finals by just one place, although he still turned in his performance of the year with a 23.2 in the prelims for the 13th fastest time of the meet. Williams also competed in the 100 yard freestyle, but failed to make the finals.

Bruon Fraseer of St. Louis Park won the 50 yard freestyle race in 22.222, followed by Bob Greelis, Robinsdale, 22.330, Roger Berndt, Winona, 22.378, Paul Weicheselbaum, Rochester, 22.701, Jeff Juhot, Cooper, 22.959, and Borning.

Hopkins Eisenhower won the 1974 team swim title with 144 points, followed by Irondale 137, Jefferson 111, Mounds View 107, Golden Valley 89, Rochester Mayo 89, Cooper 82, Edina-West 56, Southwest 52, St Louis Park 47, Robbinsdale 42, St Antony 34, Austin 31, Northfield 30, Winona 20, Wayzata 16, Hibbing 12, Chisholm 11, Hutchinson 10, Virginia 10, Thief River Falls 9, Willmar 9, Burnsville 8, Lindbergh 7, Murray 7, Duluth East 2, Fergus Falls 2 and Edina-East 1.

Lindberg won the 155 pound title by beating Bob Bowman of Dodge Center 10-7 in Saturday afternoon's championship match.

Bemidji Spoils TRF Region 8 Title Bid

Bemidji won its third straight region eight high school hockey title Wednesday, crushing Thief River Falls' championship hopes with a defense dominated 2-0 decision in front of a jam packed Thief River Falls sports arena crowd.

A pair of similar long range second period Bemidji slap shots spaced just 2:45 apart eluded Thief River Falls goalie Joel Folger for the tight checking game's only scoring, silencing a large part of the nearly 4,000 spectators.

Bemidji's large following obviously didn't keep quite during their championship quest as the boisterous Lumberjack fans cheered the methodical working Bemidji sextet to another state tournament berth while the disappointed Prowlers failed in their try for the first Thief River Falls region eight title since 1960.

Thief River Falls stormed out of the locker room to dominate the game's fast paced first period, but despite their zealous play in the Bemidji end, the Prowlers couldn't dent standout Bemidji goalie Jeff Wizner.

"It was really frustrating," spoke Prowler coach Bill McGann. "We had some chances, especially early in the game, but we just couldn't get it in. It was just one of those games."

Bemidji snapped the scoreless battle at the start of the second period when Andy Kannenberg's long slap shot from just inside the blueline near the boards sailed past Folger and settled into the high left corner of the net. Bill Himmelright earned an assist on the play with 2:50 elapsed in the stanza.

Moments later Bemidji owned a 2-0 lead on another long sailing slap shot. This time Bill Israelson's slap shot from the right point found its way through a maze of players in front of the Prowler net and got by an apparently screened Folger with 5:25 gone. A pin-point pass by Ed Webb set up the second Bemidji goal—a power play marker.

The defensive minded Lumberjacks bottled up the potentially explosive Thief River Falls offense the rest of the way, preventing the Prowlers from getting untracked with the puck. Whenever Thief River Falls did find itself near the Bemidji goal with the puck, Wizner was there to make the save enroute to his 30 save shutout effort.

"Wizner was the difference," said McGann. "They (Bemidji) played a good defensive game, but Wizner presented us with the biggest problem."

Despite the disappointing loss McGann praised the play of his Prowlers who finally rid themselves of the "choke" title they were labeled with after dropping unexpected first round tournament losses the past two years.

"I thought the kids played very well," McGann stated. "I think that Bemidji's tournament experience was certainly an advantage. In a close game the teams that have been there, like Bemidji, get that smell of tournament fever. I'm sure once we break that barrier it'll be easier to make it again."

First Period

Scoring—none.

Penalties—TRF, Sorenson, illegal check, 3:46. Bemidji, Johnson, tripping, 7:11.

BEMIDJI CAPTAIN Dick Howe proudly displayed the region eight tournament trophy after his team blanked Thief River Falls 2-0 in the championship game of the 1974 classic Wednesday in the sports arena. Bemidji goalie Jeff Wizner, who shut out the Prowlers, is standing next to Howe.

Moorhead Beats TRF 72-65 In Regular Season Finale

Lincoln high school basketball team completed its 1973-74 regular season schedule on a disappointing note Saturday by losing to visiting Moorhead 72-65.

The loss sends coach Lee Swanson's Prowlers into this week's district 31 tournament with a 12-6 season record. Thief River Falls starts its post-season tournament play tomorrow (Tuesday) when the Prowlers play Oslo at 7 p.m. in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

A steady parade to the free throw line in the fourth quarter finally broke open a closely played game with the Spuds' final victory margin of seven being the largest point spread of the contest.

Moorhead posted an 18-16 lead at the end of the first quarter on a last second shot by Steve Atchinson. The two teams were separated by a single point at halftime as Moorhead clinged to a slim 32-31 edge at intermission. The visiting Spuds enjoyed a 51-48 lead after three quarters, but Thief River Falls remained within striking range the final eight minutes, trailing only 62-61 with three minutes remaining.

The fourth quarter was dominated by officials' whistles, however, with nearly half of the 38 final quarter points being scored at the free throw line. Thief River Falls connected on just two fourth quarter field goals to go along with 13 free throw points in the last eight minutes. Moorhead pumped in five fourth quarter field goals, but also added 11 free throws.

Bob Jacobson and Bob Wentzel each scored 18 points to pace the Moorhead offense while Bob Dale added 12 and Atchinson scored 10. Prowler forward Dallas Kemmer was the game's top scorer with 19 points, followed by Randy Dallmann with 18 and Wayne Peterson with 15 for the Prowlers.

"It was a tough ball game for us," noted Swanson who scheduled to game just prior to the district for a tough tournament tune-up. "We didn't have a real good shooting night and at the same time some of their kids—Jacobson and Atchinson for instance—were shooting real well."

Thief River Falls shot only 34 per cent for the game, connecting on 19 of 56 attempts. Moorhead shot 41 per cent on 28 of 60 tries. Thief River Falls sank 27 of 35 free throw attempts and Moorhead made 16 of 26 gift tosses. Thief River Falls won the rebounding statistics 35-32 with Dallmann pulling down 12 caroms.

MJCAA Hockey Title Won By Hibbing 6-2

Freshman center Dave Herbst collected a three goal hat trick Friday to lead Hibbing over Northland 6-2 in the championship game of the 1974 Minnesota junior college athletic association (MJCAA) state hockey tournament played in the Thief River Falls sports arena.

Hibbing and Northland will both advance to the upcoming national junior college hockey tournament, however, following first round wins over Itasca 8-5 and 8-2 respectively. The NJCAA event will be played in Thief River Falls March 15 and 16.

The starry Herbst, who helped Hibbing win the state high school hockey title a year ago, sparked the strong skating Cardinals during their second and third period domination after Hibbing managed only a 3-2 lead in an evenly played opening stanza. Herbst picked up nine points in his two state tournament games and in the process accumulated his 50th goal of the 22 game Hibbing season.

Hibbing opened the game's scoring with only 2:22 elapsed when Rex Lewis wacked in a close range rebound past Northland goalie Craig Carter. Hibbing's Jeff Biondi started the play with a breakaway that Carter kicked out, but Lewis was right there to smack the puck back into the net.

Northland tied the game 1-1 just 35 seconds later on a long 30 foot slap shot by Merlin Nelson. The Northmen buzzed around Hibbing goalie Jeff Baynes for several seconds before a long rebound ended up on Nelson's stick. The Northland sophomore skided a low wrist shot through a maze of players and under Baynes with assists going to Rory Anderson and Rick Vatnsdal.

The inspired Northmen, underdogs in both state tournament outings, played aggressively the rest of the fast moving first period and the hard work payed off as Vatnsdal deflected a long slap shot by Nelson into a wide open corner of the net with 11:42 remaining.

A Hibbing power play goal enabled the Cardinals to tie the game 2-2 when Lewis rifled a sailing slap shot from outside the blueline that eluded Carter's reach and just ducked under the cross bar with 3:26 to go.

Herbst provided Hibbing with a 3-2 edge at the end of the first period with a lucky shot from the corner that glanced off Carter and bounced into the net with only 1:49 left.

The Cardinals controlled the rest of the game's activity with goals by Herbst and Tim Baker giving Hibbing a 5-2 second period cushion. Herbst stickhandled his way through Northland's defense and fired a 15 foot backhand past new Northland goalie Gordin Landin 6:36 into the middle stanza while the Cardinals were skating a man short. Baker fought off a Northland check to score from close range with 8:42 remaining.

Herbst wrapped up the game's scoring in the final period when he swatted a 30 foot sailing slap shot by Landin while on the move with 9:06 left.

Hibbing players unleashed their pent-up emotions after the game as they hugged each other and carried coach Frank Catani off the ice as the Cardinals captured their first MJCAA state hockey crown.

Hibbing was the fourth different team to win the MJCAA state crown in the tournament's four year history. Rainy River won the first state title, followed by Itasca, Crookston and now Hibbing. Northland, Mesabi and Lakewood have yet to win the tournament title, although Northland owns a pair of second place finishes the past two years.

Baynes was called on to make 34 saves for the Cardinals with period totals of 11-8-15. Carter and Landin combined to kick out 24 shots with Carter stopping 10 first period drives and Landin blocking seven shots in each of the last two periods.

A total of 11 penalties were called in the game with Northland picking up six infractions.

Mesabi Wins JC 3rd Place Game Over Itasca 8-6

Mesabi defeated Itasca 8-6 Friday in the consolation game of the 1974 junior college state hockey tournament played in the Thief River Falls sports arena.

The Norsemen of Virginia led 4-2 at the end of the first period, maintained a 4-3 edge after two periods and outscored the Grand Rapids school 4-3 in the final stanza climaxed by a mock brawl that ended the game prematurely.

Two players from each team scored a pair of goals, including Tim Riordan and Jim Galonski of Mesabi along with Rick Christy and Tom Clusiau for Itasca.

Pre-tournament favorities, Mesabi and Itasca finished one-two in the final regular season conference standings before both suffered upset losses at the hands of Northland and Hibbing in the tournament's first round games Thursday.

Timber Wolves Bound For New Michigan Home

An attempt to live trap a family of five timber wolves in northern Minnesota for release in the Huron mountains of Michigan is now underway, according to the Minnesota department of natural resources.

Mike Casey, Minnesota game and fish director, said it is the first time an effort has been made anywhere in the world to transplant wild timber wolves. The project is under the direction of Dr. William L. Robinson, a professor of biology at Northern Michigan University.

Robinson has received financial support from the national audubon society, the Huron mountain wildlife foundation and the university.

Cooperating on the project are the U.S. bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife and the state departments of natural resources in Minnesota and Michigan.

Wolves once roamed Michigan's upper peninsula and the project is an attempt to see if they can be re-established. An uninhabited and rugged site on lands of the Huron mountain club located in northern Marquette county was chosen for the release area.

1974 District 31 Basketball Tournament Will Start Tonight

Thief River Falls, East Grand Forks and Crookston are expected to renew their annual three way district 31 basketball tournament struggle this week when the 1974 event is staged in the remodeled University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

First round tournament games will be played tonight (Monday) and Tuesday with the semi-finals set for Thursday and the consolation and championship games slated Friday.

Tonight's match-ups will find defending champion Crookston going against Alvarado at 7 p.m. with Goodridge taking on East Grand Forks at 8:45. Tuesday's first round games will send Oslo against Thief River Falls at 7 while Warren plays Fisher at 8:45.

Thursday's semi-finals will pit the Crookston-Alvarado winner against the East Grand Forks-Goodridge winner at 7 while the Thief River Falls-Oslo winner faces the Warren-Fisher winner at 8:45.

Thursday night's losers will meet in Friday's consolation game at 7 with the Thursday winners clashing in the district championship game at 8:45 for the right to advance into next week's region eight tournament.

A big question mark surrounding this year's district tournament is the availability of Crookston standout Pete Schnabel who has been hobbled by a foot injury during the regular season's final weeks. If Schnabel, an aggressive 6-3 senior forward, is healthy and playing at full strength the Pirates will be favored to win their third straight district basketball championship. However, if Schnabel's tournament performance does not match his outstanding regular season showing, top seeded Thief River Falls will be given the best shot at winning its first district cage crown since 1967.

"We're optimistic that we can win it all," said Prowler head coach Lee Swanson who hesitated about categorizing the Prowlers as pre-tournament favorites, but at the same time refused to label either Crookston or East Grand Forks as the team to beat either. "I'm not going to pick anybody as a favorite - East Grand Forks or Crookston. We'll go in there as an underdog, but we feel we can win it."

Thief River Falls' number one seed will present the Prowlers an excellent opportunity to advance into Friday night's championship game against the winner of the expected Crookston-East Grand Forks' Thursday night semi-final game. Fisher, Goodridge and Alvarado all boast strong sub district teams and stand in the way of the district's three large schools, but any sub district school win over the Thief River Falls-Crookston-East Grand Forks triumvirate would be a major upset.

"It's going to be nice sitting back with that number one seed and be out of the Crookston-East Grand Forks bracket," noted Swanson who has watched Thief River Falls teams bow out of district 31 play in the semi-finals the past four year. This is only Swanson's third year as Prowler head coach, however.

"If we can go into the tournament with the right attitude and play good consistent basketball together we've got as good a chance as anybody at winning it," explained Swanson.

Crookston will most likely still carry the favorite's role into the tournament with the Pirates coming off a successful 14-4 regular season. Junior Brent Reichert and Schnabel (if he's healthy) give coach Herb Hasz the district's most productive one-two scoring and rebounding punch.

East Grand Forks fashioned a 12-6 record together during the regular season. Coach Larry Selk's Green Wave is paced by a pair of 6-3 seniors in center Steve Wald and forward Dan Driscoll.

Thief River Falls also finished the regular season with a 12-6 record, although just one loss was suffered against a district opponent - an 81-51 shellacking at the hands of Crookston that was later avenged 51-49. Three Prowlers carry double figure scoring averages, including Wayne Peterson 14.8, Duane Dicken 12.0 and Dallas Kemmer 11.3.

Fisher defeated Goodridge 56-54 for the sub district 31 title, improving the Flyers' season record to 17-3. Steve Kummer, a 6-2 junior guard, is the Flyers' scoring ace with a 20.1 Polar Conference leading scoring figure.

Alvarado, upset by Goodridge 77-56 in the sub district semi-finals, carries a 18-3 record into the district event. Gary Boman, second in the Polar Conference scoring race to Fisher's Kummer with a 20.0 average, is the Indians' offensive mainstay.

A strong sub district performance has cast Goodridge as the role of district spoiler. The Huskies are 11-10 for the year.

Warren, 8-10 and Oslo 6-15 will be definite underdogs in the district's first round.

Northmen Finish Third In MJCAA State Basketball Tournament

Northland community college, making its first appearance ever in the state junior college basketball tournament, brough back the tournament's consolation trophy to Thief River Falls, but the third place award was little consolation to the disheartened Northmen who came within inches of gaining a spot in the tournament's championship game.

Coach Chet Engelman's Northmen ripped Vermilion 93-86 in their first round tournament game Thursday, but lost a tough 83-79 decision to defending champion Normandale in Friday's semi-finals. Northland stopped Mesabi 97-82 in Saturday's consolation game.

Normandale defeated Rochester 81-72 in Saturday's championship game to advance into the region XIII play-offs. Normandale dumped Bethany 93-86 in the tournament's first round before adding wins over Northland and Rochester.

Other first round tournament games found Rochester whipping Crookston 84-68 and Mesabi outlasting Inver Hills 95-87 in overtime. Rochester edged Mesabi 81-79 in Friday's other semi-final game.

Vermilion. 61

Freshmen Ralph Fitts and David Dickey combined to dazzle Vermilion 84-61 in Thursday's first round Northland win.

Fitts came off the bench to score 26 points and pull down a whopping 30 rebounds while Dickey's spectacular ball handling ability accounted for an amazing 18 assists.

After struggling to a 36-32 halftime lead, Northland completely dominated the game after intermission. Surprisingly, Northland's defense, not considered a Northman strong point this winter, was the game's telling factor as Northland held the slow moving Ironmen to just three field goals in the first 14 minutes of the second half.

Northland pulled out to a quick 10 point lead to start the second 20 minutes and maintained a semi-comfortable lead until a sensational scoring spurt by Fitts found the 6-2 freshman forward banging in seven buckets in eight attempts during a four minute span to push Northland in front by a lopsided 70-39 margin with 6:47 remaining.

Northland center Burnie Stephens and Dickey both joined Fitts in the double figure scoring column as Stephens poured in 22 points and Dickey found time between passes to score 12. Mike Kochevar was the only Vermilion offensive threat, scoring 28 points.

Northland shot 45 per cent from the field for the game, hitting 38 of 84 attempts. In sharp contrast, Vermilion made only 25 of 86 tries for a lowly 29 per cent. Northland made eight of 17 free throw attempts and Vermilion cashed in on 11 of 17 gift tosses. Northland held an unbelievable 72-47 edge in rebounding with Stephens and Dickey joining Fitts on the boards for 12 and 11 caroms respectively. Stephens also blocked three shots to cap a strong all-around game.

Northland 79

Tough luck befell Northland in Saturday's title deciding showdown with Normandale - won by the Lions 83-79.

Questionable referee calls found Dickey fouling out of the game with 3:40 remaining, with four of the five fouls being the offensive variety.

Northland led 74-71 when Dickey left, but Normandale quickly picked up the game's momentum after Dickey's absence. Northland was further weakened by the loss of starters Bill Gusa and Joe Brown. Gusa suffered a badly sprained ankle at the start of the second half and Brown was suffering the effects of a bout with the flu.

Normandale quickly tied the game 74-74 with 2:42 remaining and capitalized on a couple of Northland turnovers to maintain a slim lead the rest of the way.

Northland pulled within 81-79 on a two pointer by Stephens with nine seconds remaining and immediately clamped on a full court press defense. Normandale broke the press with a long pass, however, and scored a final basket at the buzzer for an 83-79 decision.

Northland had owned a 44-37 halftime lead and the Northmen enjoyed a 50-40 cushion near the start of the second half. Northland led 74-66 before hitting an offensive dry spell that enabled Normandale to pick up the winning momentum.

Four Northland players scored in double figures against Normandale with Stephens scoring 21, Dickey 20, Dave Kjos 16 and Fitts 10. Starry guard Tim Getten led the Lions with 21 points and center Tom Quamnen added 20.

Northland shot 48 per cent from the field for the game, making 38 of 79 attempts. Normandale made 36 of 72 tries for an even 50 per cent figure. Northland made three of only six free throw attempts while Normandale sank 11 of 13 gift shots. Northland held a 41-33 rebound edge with Stephens pulling down 16 caroms and Fitts adding 15.

Mesabi 82

Saturday's lackluster consolation game matched two championship caliber teams - Northland and Mesabi - in a meaningless third place game.

Mesabi, playing without standout center Dave Krebs, owned a 30-29 lead with 5:08 remaining in a slow first half before Northland posted a 45-38 halftime lead.

Although never building a large lead, Northland maintained a ten point margin the rest of the way in chalking up a 97-82 win.

Dickey poured in 27 points for the Northmen while Fitts added 18, Mike Peterson 14, Stephens 12, Tom Kays 12 and Kjos 10. Dan Summers led Mesabi's scoring with 16 points.

Northland made 41 of 85 field goal attempts in the game for a 48 per cent success ratio. Mesabi hit 39 of 92 tries for 42 per cent. Northland sank 15 of 21 free throw attempts while Mesabi made four of only five gift tosses. Northland held a 58-45 rebound edge with Stephens and Fitts both pulling down 18 caroms. Dickey picked up 10 assists in the game.

Dickey & Fitts Named to MJCAA All-Tourney Team

Northland received the distinctive honor of being the only team with more than one player named to the all-tournament team Saturday following the conclusion of the 1974 state junior college basketball tournament.

Freshmen David Dickey and Ralph Fitts received standing ovations from the crowd in the North Hennepin gymnasium when their names were announced as all-tournament picks for Northland.

Big Game Census In Area Shows Good Deer Herd

Annual big game census was flown February 26 covering Agassiz national wildlife refuge and Eckvoll and Elm Lake state wildlife managment areas. A total of 588 deer and 105 moose were observed, according to Thad Fuller of the Agassiz staff.

The census was designed to cover 50 per cent of the area. Total number of animals observed was expanded by two to obtain the approximate population of moose and deer.

The census has been conducted annually since 1947. The only exceptions occurred in those years when poor snow conditions prevailed. The results are used to determine approximate numbers of moose and deer present and their distribution pattern by habitat units.

Current estimated deer population on Agassiz is 676, Eckvoll wildlife managment area 90, and Elm Lake wildlife managment area 410. This is a total of 1,176 deer on both federal and state lands. The 10-year avegage if 845 deer, so this year is 39 per cent above average. During the fall of 1973 approximately 370 deer were harvested by deer hunters on Agassiz refuge.

At the time of the flight, habitat conditions appeared to be excellent. Deer were not yarded and no noticeable stress was observed due to snow conditions. Unless some drastic weather occurs before spring, the deer herd should come through the winter in fine shape, Fuller said.

Total moose population is estimated at 210, of which 142 were on Agassiz, 14 on Eckvoll wildlife managment area, and 54 on Elm Lake. This reflects a 17 per cent increase from the 10-year average. Last fall 35 moose were harvested from these areas.

Roy Jorgenson of Oklee O.E.O. appeared and discussed Manpower Revenue Sharing Programs for 1974. It appears that all programs will be available in one form or another this year and that an attempt to coordinate them into one overall plan should be attempted. The Counties of Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Polk, Red Lake, Roseau and Pennington will be meeting to discuss the matter on Feb. 22nd at Warren. Matter referred to a Committee to be made up of the County Auditor and Commissioner Olson.

Commissioner Tasa introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, the County Board of the County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, did by resolution duly passed and adopted on March 13, 1973, agree to permit the Minnesota Department of Aeronautics to relocate a portion of CSAH No. 17 in the southwest approach to the Thief River Falls Public Airport, provided that the relocation road would be constructed to a 9-ton standard at no cost to the County; and

WHEREAS, the County has now been advised that the Federal Aviation Administration cannot expend ADAP funds for the betterment of a roadway being relocated for airport purposes; and

WHEREAS, the firm of Stewart & Walker, Inc. has submitted, on behalf of the Minnesota Department of Aeronautics plans for the relocation of CSAH No. 17 from Station 152 plus 52 to Station 258 plus 11, and

WHEREAS, said plans provide for construction which is in accordance with the standards of the Minnesota Highway Department State Aid Division for a 9-ton roadway with the exception of a "2" bituminous wearing course-future" as indicated on the typical section of said roadway construction;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the County Board of Pennington County do hereby direct the County Engineer to affix his signature of approval and transmit said plans to the Minnesota Department of Highways State Aid Division for approval by the Department. The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Naplin and declared carried.

The Annual report of the County Livestock Inspector was received, reviewed and ordered filed.

Moved by Hanson seconded by Tasa that the Engineer and Auditor be authorized and instructed to advertise for bids for a Pickup Truck, a truck sander, a snowplow for a truck and a Tandem Truck with bids to be opened at 11:00 A.M., March 5, 1974. Motion carried.

Moved by Tasa seconded by Olson that Contract with Elgin J. Loeffler SP 57-622-03 for bituminous surfacing of CSAH 22 be accepted as complete in the total amount of $312,813.97. Motion carried.

Gene Bello and others of the Total Community Development Group appeared and discussed a Comprehensive County Plan as it should operate in Counties with the Plan. Request was made that the Pennington County Planning Advisory Commission be reactivated under the leadership of Terry Courneya and the County proceed with County Planning. The matter was taken under advisement.

Moved by Hanson seconded by Tasa that Contract for delivery of Caterpillar Motor Grader be accepted as complete in the total amount of $38,427, including a roll over cab option and final payment be authorized to be paid. Motion declared unanimously carried.

Moved by Naplin seconded by Olson that Contract for Building on the Viking Trail project be accepted pursuant to certification by project supervisor in the total amount of $2,527.80 with final payment of $1,200.12 to be paid to contractors Lubitz & Sletten. Motion unanimously carried.

The Counties of Marshall, Red Lake and Pennington have different rates for payment of mileage to their employees but the County Court Judge must be reimbursed for his expenses. Moved by Olson seconded by Tasa that the mileage allowance for Judge J.A. Harren be 15 cents a mile. Motion carried.

Commissioner Olson introduced the following resolution and moed its adoption:

WHEREAS, Minnesota Statutes require the County Board at its January meeting prior to the first date when applicants may file for County Office to set the minimum salaries to be paid in the term next following.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the minimum salary to be paid the County Auditor, Treasurer, Sheriff and Register of Deeds during the next term following shall be the sum of $8,300 per year and to the County Attorney the sum of $6,600. The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Naplin and declared unanimously carried.

The National Flood Insurance Program was discussed briefly and then tabled until next meeting.

Veterans Service Officer Lewis Hill was interviewed regarding activities in his office and the hours of service available to the Veteran. The Board took the matter under advisement.

Skarsten Takes Teacher Course

Chapter Seven

I should now state that, shortly after the opening of school that year, my parents moved to Fosston, some 50 miles away: a town on the Great Northern Railroad where they needed a section foreman—they wanted my father. But what about my dream of becoming a teacher? What about the good wages I could be earning the following year?

My parents could see the importance of getting me ready to earn these wages. Since there was no teacher training course in Fosston that any of us had heard of, they were willing to let me remain in Thief River Falls with my brother Alf, who already had a job that he liked; one with a future to it, besides.

Alf was then earning $3.50 per week. He agreed to pay me $3 per week for board and room, retaining the fifty cents for himself. From the $3 thus allotted me, I paid $1 per week for the room which we rented from a Mr. Remmen, the proprietor of a livery stable. That left $2 per week for groceries and for whatever school supplies I might need.

But on those two dollars per week for groceries at a cost of less than nine cents per meal, we made it and had money, besides, for one of those pies you could get in those days for 15 cents. A kind-hearted lady in town baked bread for us from the flour that I purchased.

Alf and I got along very well together. Alf was able to obtain boxing gloves, and we did some boxing of evenings in our room. We also did some wrestling. Occasionally, Alf would play pool down town, while I remained at home, studying.

No sooner had I changed my registration in school, that year, than I was transferred from the assembly room, where I had my desk, to a large classroom which housed those who were enrolled for teacher training—nearly all girls. In this room I learned about how to teach reading, writing, arithmetic and other subjects. I was given a thorough review of the contents of these subjects. I also learned something about pedagogy in general.

Early in October, Mr. Hay called me into his office again. Some big eighth grade boys, he said, had entered school late and were behind in their subjects. Would I care to go over to the Knox school across the river, and help them in arithmetic one hour per day until they had caught up?

This was a wonderful opportunity. I was eager to avail myself of it, although I had some qualms about my ability to teach "big boys."

I met some six or eight of these boys in the Knox building. They were almost the same age as I. They were the same size as I or larger. One of two of them had been my playmates on the vacant lot. Could I teach them? Would they behave themselves? Let me hasten to say that my experience with these half dozen or more boys was one of the most rewarding teaching experiences of my life.

The boys knew how to add, multiply, divide and subtract, though they were slow at it and not too accurate. But story problems had them stumped. I proceeded, therefore, to demonstrate to them on the blackboard the technique that had been so helpful to me, and then sent them to the blackboard to work the problems for themselves, while I went from one to the other to give whatever help might be needed. The whole procedure worked. In the space of four weeks those boys had progressed sufficiently to warrant their being returned to their homeroom teacher.

The monitor system of teaching reading had but recently been introduced into the Thief River Falls school system. All the pupils in any one grade—say, 40 pupils—would be divided into classes of—let us say—five pupils per class, each class in charge of a pupil who acted as monitor.

The monitor would listen to each pupil read out loud by turn, give whatever help might be needed (such as pronouncing a difficult word), and, in short, act as teacher. By this procedure several pupils might be given practice in oral reading for every one who was given such practice before the monitor system was introduced. Those of us who were preparing to become teachers were assigned to act as monitors. This was regarded as giving us some experience in actual teaching. It became part of my experience.

Job Placements By Employment Service Listed

Nonagricultural job placements in Minnesota in 1973 totaled 85,693, an increase of 14,941 (or 21.1 per cent) over the 1972 figure of 70,756, Minnesota department of employment services commissioner Emmet J. Cushing reported recently.

Commissioner Cushing released these and other figures recently in the annual "Summary of Local Office Activities" report.

The report says the growth in placements was evident in all districts and in all but three local offices.

Some of the growth in placements resulted from finding jobs for about 4,000 youth through the first State Summer Youth program. This program, enacted by the State Legislature in 1973, provides direct subsidies to municipal and county governmental employers as an inducement to hire youth aged 16 to 22 years during summer months. It will continue through the summer of 1974. An administrative ruling has established a policy requiring 50 per cent disadvantaged youth enrollment for the program.

In the program's first year, the average hours worked per youth was 170, out of a possible 300, and average total earnings was near $275. The low average of hours worked and wages paid resulted in large part because the program got a late start in many countier the report says.

Other facts and figures from the report are as follows:

Agricultural placements totaled 15,881 in 1973, or 1,076 more than the 14,815 figure for 1972.

In 1973 there were 182,388 initial unemployment insurance claims filed, or 14,682 (7.5 per cent) fewer than the 1972 total of 197,070.

However, the report points out that the 1973 decrease was not an accurate reflection of the difference in the State's economic health because of large-scale, labor-management disputes in June and July involving the construction and air transportation industries.

Continuing unemployment insurance claims at the end of 1973 totaled 847,357, or 113,561 fewer than the 960,918 figure at the end of 1972.

The report also shows that by October 1973, a predicted economic slowdown had set in, which the report says is expected to continue through 1974, abetted by the "energy crunch."

New appliatons by the disadvantaged and non-whites showed little change. For the disadvantaged, the 1973 total was 17,720, and the 1972 total was 17,659, a difference of 61. For non-whites the 1973 total was 10,116, or 123 more than the 1972 total of 9,993.

Veterans' new applications for employment services totaled 32,158 in 1973, a drop of 12,115 from the 1972 total of 44,273. This reduction was expected as the Vietnam troop withdrawals reached completion.

Program enrollment totals for 1973 were as follows:

Manpower Development Training Act, 2,252; National Youth Corps, 1,024; Job Corps, 142; Work Incentive (WIN) Program, 5,759; apprenticeships, 129; and others, 468.

The resurgence of the nonagricultural employer visits program which began in 1971, continued in 1973 with 33,756 visits, up 4,175 (14.1 per cent) over the 1972 total of 29,581. Telephone contacts of employers in 1973 totaled 23,622, a substantial 7,348 increase over the 1972 figure of 16,274.

FU Asks Farmer Approval For Office Mergers

Any proposed consolidation of farm agency field offices across county lines should be subject to a public hearing and to approval by farmers in a referendum vote.

This recommendation was made to Congressional leaders in a resolution adopted at a countywide meeting of officers and leaders of Farmers Union in Red Lake county.

The Farmers Union statement pertained to a U.S. department of agriculture (USDA) plan to consolidate field offices of the agricultural stabilization and conservation service (ASCS), farmers home administration (FHA), soil conservation service SCS) and Federal crop insurance corporation (FCIC) into so-called "One-Stop Agricultural service centers."

Centralizing the farm field offices under one roof in each county met with no direct objection, but if it is proposed to merge two or more counties into central offices, farmers should have a voice in the decision, Farmers Union maintained.

While USDA has not revealed full details of the consolidation plan, it has been indicted at about 8,000 of the 15,000 field offices nationally will be affected, and 800 locations will be terminated. Unconfirmed reports have noted that the number of agricultural service centers in Minnesota could be as few as 15 for the whole state. Currently, Minnesota has 85 ASCS county office, SCS has 89 locatons, FHA has 52, and FCIC has 56 offices.

"At a time when the American farmer is being asked to expand farm output to meet domestic needs and would demand, no steps should be taken which would impair or destroy services provided through the farm agency local offices," said the Farmers Union statement.

National DECA Week Observed For T.R. Falls

Jeff Fournier, a distributive education student at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute, has been named chairman of national DECA week in Thief River Falls, March 4-10.

National DECA week honors the distributive education clubs of America, the only national youth organization operating through public schools to attract young people to careers in marketing and distribution of goods and services.

Fournier said the purpose of the observance is to point out the many and varied careers available within the field of merchandise distribution.

The River Falls AVTI and Lincoln high chapters conduct a continuing program to develop leadership among distributive education students. Distributive education students study part time in school, and work part time in jobs which complement their academic training.

Nationally, there are 4,500 DECA chapters with more than 135,000 members. The national organization is supported by leading American business firms. It conducts a scholarship program, makes awards to outstanding members, and conducts national DECA conferences.

Humphrey Asks Fuel Increases For Fertilizers

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey recently urged the federal energy office to increase the allocation of natural gas and fuels for fertilizer production "by no less than 15 per cent, without delay."

Unless such action is taken, Humphrey said, "fertilizer supplies will not meet needs this year."

The Minnesota Senator's statements were made at a hearing on the fertilizer shortage by the subcommittee on agricultural credit and rural electrification of the senate committee on agriculture and forestry.

Humphrey observed that the shortage of nitrogen is expected to be most severe—from one to three million tons short—and that phosphate supplies are expected to be 700,000 tons less than the demand.

Further, he said, "we recently have learned that potash—which was expected to be readily available—may well be in short supply because of a box car shortage in Canada."

To help relieve the shortage, Humphrey also urged that:

—The department of commerce provide and make available on a periodic basis, reports on fertilizer supplies, prices and trends, including information on hoarding or withholding of supplies to force up prices; and —The justice department and general accounting office examine the reasons for the rash of recent sales of fertilizer subsidiaries by major companies;

"If the sales of the subsidiaries actually were paper transactions to break previously established contracts with prices below the current market," he said, "we may have a situation which requires legal action or new legislation."

In his state of Minnesota, Humphrey pointed out that farmers are experiencing "the tightest supply condition in many years." In some cases he said that prices for fertilizer are nearly double last year's level.

As a result, he pointed out that "long term fertilizer contracts (five years) have been offered, whereby the buyer commits himself to purchase for that period, with the price to be filled in by the supplier.

"Given current market conditions," he said, "suppliers are able to get away with this nonsense.

"There is little the farmer can do and nothing the consumer can do to protect himself from the higher prices that this unreasonable procedure inevitably will bring."

Heltzer Tells Plans To Help State Tourism

Economic development commissioner James R. Heltzer recently outlined a six-point program that has been inaugurated by his department to aid in reducing the pressure of the energy crisis on Minnesota tourism.

At a morning news conference in his office, Heltzer told news media representatives that the cornerstone of his effort was a plan requested by Gov. Wendell R. Anderson. This plan is designed to ease the burden of the federal government's voluntary ban on Sunday gas sales.

Heltzer explained the plan as one that would allow service stations in 36 Minnesota communities to remain open on a rotating basis on Sundays in order to serve tourism traffic. The 36 communities are strategically located at key points of entry into the state, on major tourist traffic routes and in high density tourism areas.

He also indicated five additional points:

(1) Promote the development of a cooperative transportation system by the state's major bus companies and AMTRAK to ensure adequate service to Minnesota's major resort communities.

(2) Proposed changes in AMTRAK's present Minnesota service adding a stop at Moorhead; a route change to include Brainerd; and a Twin Cities-Duluth route. Heltzer also proposed a shuttle bus service from AMTRAK stops to major resort area within those regions. He is to meet with top AMTRAK officials in Washington on Thursday to review his proposal.

(3) Development of a package tour program designed to attract out-of-state visitors for longer periods of time.

(4) Major modification of the department's tourism advertising and promotional program. The new approach would encourage Minnesotans to vacation in Minnesota this year. Residents could accomplish that by taking any of 11 two to three-day loop tours covering many of Minnesota's special points of interest.

(5) Establishment of stronger lines of communication with the tourism industry by sponsoring a two-day industrial development and tourism conference at the Leamington hotel in Minneapolis on Tuesday and Wednesday. And further, by inaugurating a tourism newsletter to maintain continuing communication with the industry.

Heltzer said that he felt the six-point plan served as a good beginning and hoped that the program could be greatly expanded to include other courses of action as needs arise.

Hospital Auxiliary Donates Equipment

Donation of $4,000 and pledge of an additional $4,500 from the Northwestern hospital auxiliary has permitted the purchase of stress testing equipment to be used in the hospital. Equipment was received recently and is now in use.

Included in the purchase is a treadmill which can be adjusted for speed and elevation and mobile heart monitoring equipment which can be used in other areas of the hospital when not employed in the stress testing procedure. The gift is one of the many services provided to the hospital by the auxiliary unit.

"We are happy to be able to provide this equipment which the hospital medical staff believes will be of great help in providing more comprehensive health care to the people of this area," said Mrs. Joe Forberg, president of the auxiliary. "Our purpose for being an organization is hospital service and we believe this donation to be a significant part of our service goal."

Stress testing is used to help physicians diagnose causes of chest pain and areas of heart disease, as well as to assess functional capacity of persons with heart disease. Equipment provided by the auxiliary allows the attending physician to increase the heart rate of a patient to a high level through increasing speed and incline of the treadmill on which the patient walks.

As the speed and incline of the treadmill is increased to increase physical exertion, the physician and attendants are able to constantly monitor electrical impulses of the patient's heart and note any abnormalities which may occur at any given point.

Correlation of positive stress test and impending heart disease has been proven in a number of research projects. Exercise testing of ambulatory cardiac patients, including those with coronary heart disease, is now an established addition to the routine clinical evaluation.

Testing equipment here is being used for both inpatient and outpatient services. Since the monitoring equipment is portable, it can be used in other areas of the hospital, including the emergency receiving area. And since the highest death rate from heart attack occurs during the first couple of hours following the attack, use of the monitoring equipment in the emergency area can assist in more rapid diagnosis and proper administration of treatment.

Research has also shown that persons who have recovered from heart attacks will benefit from exercise and performance of work up to certain stress levels. The new equipment will assist doctors in recommending the amount of activity which may be reasonably pursued by persons with heart disease.

Rose Reviews Energy Needs At C of C Banquet Tuesday

LEADERSHIP of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce symbolically changed hands on Tuesday evening at the annual banquet of the organization at the National Guard armory. Don Lindquist, left, president for 1974, presented an award plaque to Jon Larson, 1973 president, in recognition of his year of service to the organization.

Use of electricity generated by burning coal was projected as a partial solution to the so-called "energy crisis" by Frank Rose, power supply manager of Minnkota Power cooperative, at the annual banquet of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening at the National Guard armory.

"To Minnkota, electric power is the key to solving this oil and gasoline shortage; to others, electric power is part of the problem. Please note that I said oil and gasoline shortage, not energy shortage," Rose told the approximately 200 people in attendance at the meeting. "Electric power produced without vast resource of lignite, or made from nuclear plants, should be looked upon as the way out of this gasoline and oil shortage and not as one of the villains."

Also taking place at the banquet was a review of the past year by 1973 president Jon Larson and a preview of 1974 activities by president Don Lindquist. Invocation was given by Rev. James Bernauer of St. Bernard's Catholic church and Marvin Lundin served as master of ceremonies.

Honorary life membership was announced for George Mostue, former owner of Mostue's Floral (now the Blossom Shop), who was not in attendance at the annual banquet.

Larson also introduced Chamber of Commerce guests from Crookston, East Grand Forks and Grand Forks.

Among activities summarized by Larson in his review of Chamber of Commerce participation were acquiring of the new Chamber of Commerce office in the Soo Line depot, further work on highway by-pass and downtown development projects, retail trade committee promotions, Cat Country round-up, farmer-merchant mixer and grow your own garden projects, by-law changes for election procedures and addition of 20 new members to the organization's membership roll.

Oakland Park Residents To Host Dinners

A new program, of providing residents an opportunity of entertaining their friends and relatives, has been initiated at Oakland Park Nursing Home. In this program, residents at the home may invite two relatives or friends to be their guests at a Sunday dinner, served in a private dining room. Residents serving as hosts at these dinners are selected in alphabetical order.

The dinner-program began on Sunday, February 24 with Mrs. Albertina Anderson hosting the first dinner. Her guests were her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Mostue.

Alvin Bummerude was host at Sunday's dinner. His guests were his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Stolaas.

In addition to the prospecting of being hosts at a dinner, the residents at the home have been excited about a letter that Ed Erickson received from a former teacher, Selma Hoff Winter, who taught in the Black River community in 1910 or 1911. Mrs. Winter stated that she had seen Erickson's picture as "King of Hearts" of Oakland Park's Valentine party in the Times. She is residing at the Daystar Ministry center at 4500 Minnetonka boulevard in Minneapolis.

Other activities at Oakland Park included the monthly birthday party hosted February 19 by women of the Evangelical Free church with Mrs. Norris Trontvet in charge. Knutson-Konickson Vows Spoken At St. Bernard's Leona Knutson and John A. Konickson exchanged marriage vows recently at St. Bernard's Catholic church in this city. Rev. James Bernauer officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Steffie Kasprowicz of Stephen and the late Stefan Kasprowicz; and the groom is the son of Mrs. Olga Konickson of Plummer and the late Alvin Konickson.

Mrs. James Johnson presided at the organ. In addition to playing the traditional wedding marches, she sang, "Father Eternal, We Pray for Your Blessing." She also accompanied Greg Herling as he sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Follow Me," "Thanks Be To Thee," and "Everything Is Beautiful." Lector at the Nuptial Mass was Peter Sullivan.

For the ceremony, the chancel was graced with two potted poinsettias and two baskets of white baby mums and red carnations with evergreens and cedar.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother Frank Kasprowicz of Stephen. She was attired in an Alfred Angelo Victorian styled, floor-length gown of satapeau and delustered satin. Re-embroidered Alencon lace with touches of Venice lace trim enhanced the high neckline, the Victorian sleeves and formed a V-shape on the front bodice. Matching lace scrolls flowed down the skirt, outlined the delustered satin center panel and bordered the hemline and attached chapel-length train. Her lace-edged fingertip veil was held by a matching Juliet cap with seed pearl trim. She carried a cascade of red roses, variegated holly and flocked pine boughs.

The bride's personal attendants were Wyla Fjeld of Goodridge and Evelyn Nelson of Thief River Falls.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Laures Kleinwachter of Stephen, sister of the bride. Bridesmatrons were Mrs. Jerry Konickson of St. Hilaire and Mrs. Wayne Konickson of Plummer, cousins of the groom. They wore identical floor-length gowns of red velvet, styled like the bride's gown with Victorian sleeves and bodice trimmed in V-fashion. White beaded trim accented the high neckline and waistline. To complete their attire, they wore red velvet bows in their hair and carried colonial bouquets of red roses, variegated holly and white baby mums.

Best man was Jerry Konickson of St. Hilaire, a cousin of the groom. Groomsmen were Laures Kleinwachter of Stephen, brother-in-law of the bride, and Wayne Konickson of Plummer, cousin of the groom. The ushers were Frank Kasprowicz of Stephen, brother of the bride, and Herby Peterson of Thief River Falls, a friend of the couple. They, together with the groom, were attired in black tuxedos, white ruffled shirts, black bow ties and red rose boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride wore a blue long-sleeved double-knit dress accented with trim around the neckline. The groom's mother was attired in a purple double knit dress, also styled with long sleeves and trim at the neckline. Both wore identical corsages of sweetheart roses, white carnations and holly.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Serving as host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Bixby Knight of Grand Forks, N. D., friends of the couple. To correspond with the bride's chosen colors, red carnations and white baby mums graced the bridal table. Similar flowers centered a smaller table where Mrs. Bruce Erickson of Thief River Falls, a sister of the bride, presided at the guest book. Attending the punch bowl were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kasprowicz of Stephen, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Walter Bjerk of Frazee, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Jack Holthusen of Grygla, friend of the couple, cut and served the Queen of Hearts wedding cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Eugene Prestegaard of Thief River Falls. The cake, composed of six individual heart-shaped cakes supported by arched columns, was decorated with red roses, cupids and wedding bells. Topping the cake was a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Harry Adamski of Stephen, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Clarence Konickson of Plummer, aunt of the groom, poured.

Serving the groom's cake from white wicker baskets trimmed with red ribbon were LaNette Knutson, daughter of the bride, and Andrea and Lisa Ault of Thief River Falls, friends of the couple. Their gowns of red velvet were styled like those worn by the bride's attendants.

Presiding at the gift table were Mrs. Frank Kasprowicz of Stephen, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Wayne Thorson of Minneapolis, cousin of the groom. Waitresses were Kay Melvie, Cindy Frasher, Nancy Carpenter, Carol Klaven, Sharon Walton, Judy Reierson, and Marie and Shirley Stanina, friends of the bride and groom.

For her going away attire, the bride wore a blue double-knit floor-length gown complemented by a corsage of sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Minn. Farmers Enter '74 With High Inventory

Minnesota farmers entered 1974 with the most valuable and one of the largest inventories of livestock and poultry on record, according tothe state-federal crop and livestock reporting service of the Minnesota department of agriculture.

Farm value of Minnesota's beef, dairy, pork, lamb and poultry inventory is estimated at $1,743,000,000. That was 34 per cent higher than the prior record value of $1,290,000,000 on the January 1, 1973 livestock and poultry inventory.

Beef and dairy cattle represent the biggest portion of the inventory and the 4,240,000 animal total is the largest cattle inventory for Minnesota since 1966. The all time high count stands at 4,518,000, set in 1964 and duplicated in 1965.

That new total of cattle represents a 202,000 or 5 per cent increase over the estimate a year earlier. Minnesota's 1973 calf crop is estimted at 1,480,000, up 8,000 or one per cent over 1972, and represented 3 per cent of the national calf crop.

Minnesota's January 1, 1974, cattle inventory is estimated at a farm value of $1,462,800,000, an increase of more than $352-million over the value a year ago.

Biggest numerical increase in Minnesota's meat production is in pork. The December 1 estimate showed 3,976,000 hogs and pigs. That is an increase over lastyear of 426,000, and the largest total in over a decade. This year's inventory has an estimated value of $244,524,000, an increase of over $86-million compared to a year ago.

Minnesota's chicken population this January was 14,240,000, a half million more than a yar ago, and tha flock dominated by egg producers was valued at $22,784,000, up $6.3-million compared to the previous year.

Declines were recorded in the counts of sheep and lambs and turkeys, but the estimated values still topped a yar ago because of the most favorable prices that farmers have experienced in over 25 years.

Minnesota has 415,000 sheep and lambs, down 30,000 valued at $12,658,000, an increase of $1.7-million; and 520,000 turkey breeder hens, down 19,000 for the year, valued at $4,628,000, a gain for the year of over $1.5-million.

The 1973 lamb crop is estimated at 316,000, five per cent below 1972. Minnesota had the third highest lambing rate in the nation, tied with Kentucky behind only Virginia and Missouri.

Electric Use Cited

Using slides to illustrate his statistics and other information, Frank Rose emphasized the overuse of petroleum products and under-utilization of coal reserves and unclear power for electrical generation. The average American uses as much oil in seven days as most other people in the world use in an entire year, he said.

Energy used in the United States comes 76 per cent from oil and natural gas, 20 per cent from coal and four per cent from nuclear and water power. Nearly half of the oil and gas is used for heating homes, large buildings and factories with trains, trucks and buses taking 17 per cent and electrical generation using 11 per cent.

Rose said that 91 per cent of the total energy in the U.S. lies in its coal fields and only 6.1 per cent in oil and gas fields. "We are burning up our oil and gas as though we wanted to get rid of them and saving our coal as though it were scarce," he said. "This pattern just does not make sence."

Rose speculated that the present predicament was caused by gas price regulation, low cost foreign oil, environmental concerns and nuclear plant delays.

Alternative energy sources being considered were listed as sun power, hydro power, geothermal power, wind power, nuclear power and coal power. Only the last two were considered feasible at the present time.

The Minnkota power supply manager noted that Minnkota has plenty of electric power generating capacity to last until 1980. At the present time, 99 per cent of the energy comes from coal and hydro resources. Thief River Falls, he said, has an assured supply of hydro power until October of 1977. After that, there are other options open to the city, including a purchase agreement with Minnkota which presently transmits power to Thief River Falls from the U. S. bureau of reclamation.

Rose reviewed economic impact of power plants and coal mining and showed slides of work done by the company to reclaim spoil banks from strip mining in western North Dakota.

He said that the 15 billion tons of lignite considered economically mineable in North Dakota today would be equivalent in energy supply to 32 billion barrels of oil-or as much as the Alaska pipeline will put out in 45 years.

Minnkota has 1.2 billion tons of lignite coal under lease between Bismark and Dickinson and burns coal today at a rate of 1½ million tons a year. It would take the company 800 years to use up its reserve at the present rate.

Rose touched on his company's efforts to control emissions from coal-burning plants in accordance with federal guidelines.

"We do not have an energy crisis but we are getting to the bottom of the oil barrel," he concluded. "If we continue to use oil as though we want to get rid of it, we will do just that in about the year 2,000.

"We just can't keep using our precious oil and gas supplies for home and industrial heating. This should all be done by coal and nuclear power for the present and nuclear power for the long term. The Manitoba government has already passed a law stating that all buildings which receive government money must be heated electrically or the money will not be available. The U. S. government should do likewise.

"It also doesn't make sense to get into a 100 or 200 h. p. gas guzzler to go to church, grocery store, school or work. These short trips are made to order for electric cars. For too long manufacturers have thought in terms of 60mph for 200 miles when most of our driving is less than 10 miles," he said.

If the Shoe Fits..

When does a baby need hard sole shoes?

Most doctors recommend hard soles when the baby begins to pull himself up. There are good reasons for this.

The trouble is that too many mothers think of stiff soles when the doctor says hard soles. This writer has surveyed many doctors and found that they do not want stiff shoes on their baby's feet nor on themselves for that matter.

Hard sole shoes can and should be very flexible to allow normal foot functions. The baby needs a flexible sole in order to balance himself while learning to walk.

MIRACLE WATER

Steve Woolo

One of the mysteries of water is the "Dew Pond". Dew ponds never overflow, yet never go dry. There are no inlets or outlets to regulate water level. The dew ponds is made by digging a shallow bowl in the earth. The surface is covered with straw. Then a top layer of clay is added. Water is either carried or rained into the bowl. Some authorities feel that condensation caused by cooling at night keeps the water level, but as yet no plausible explanation can be given as to where the water comes from to refill and replenish the supply.

There is no mystery in securing fresh sparkling water for every need in your home. Waterfine Water Refiners are engineered and designed to take the drudgery from all cleaning jobs. A Waterfine Super Appliance, also has many convenience features you will enjoy such as the remote electro selector in fashion colors. Before you buy, try our refiners. Divorced Parents Asked To Check On Dependency

Internal revenue service advises divorced or separated parents to become acquainted with the dependency rules before they claim a child as a dependent on federal income tax returns.

R.C. Voskuil, district director of internal revenue for Minnesota, pointed out that misunderstanding of the dependency rules, particularly on the part of divorced or separated parents, is a recurring issue in IRS audits.

Generally, the parent with custody of the child for the greater part of the year is entitled to the dependency deducton. There may be exceptions to this rule, depending on the terms of the decree and the amount contributed to the child's support by the parent who does not have custody, Voskuil said.

However, a parent may not claim the exemption if someone else provides over half the child's support for the year, Voskuil said.

Minnesota taxpayers can stop in at an IRS office for advice on dependency exemptions or send a postcard to the IRS district office and ask for a free copy of IRS publication 501, "Your Exemptions and Exemptions for Dependents."

Toll-free telephone numbers are listed on page 2 of the instructions with the 1040 tax package and page 7 of the 1040A tax package. Local numbers are also listed in some instances.

"This service allows taxpayers anywhere in the state the opportunity of obtaining tax information without long distance charges," the director said.

Cancer Society Here Sponsors Poster Contest

Pennington county unit of the American Cancer society is cooperating with the Minnesota division in sponsoring the 1974 poster contest in local schools on the health hazards of smoking.

All schools in the county are being invited to participate in the contest as part of their education program, said Jerry L. Wedul, unit public education chairman.

The contest was launched by the society's Minnesota division seven years ago and now attracts nearly 5,000 entries annually.

It has the endorsement of the Minnesota association of secondary school principals, Wedul said.

Posters entered must be composed of an appropriate illustration together with a caption on the health hazards of smoking, placed on 8½ x 11-inch heavy paper or cardboard. The judges also will consider anti-cigarette slogans without illustrations. The student's name, age, grade and school should be written on the back of the poster.

Entries will be accepted from boys or girls who have not reached their 19th birthdays by May 1, 1974. The contest opened and deadline for submitting posters is April 1.

The American Conscience

by Dr. RUDY SKOGERBOE

"In Democracies the Welfare State is the beginning, and the Police State the end. The two merge sooner or later, in all experience, and for obvious reasons." This statement was made by Dr. Melchior Palyi, a noted educator and economist who served as advisor to the Reichsbank in Germany and later taught at the University of Chicago. He also said, "All modern dictators have at least one thing in common. They all believe in social security, especially in coercing people into governmentalized medicine."

1974 will very likely be the year that Congress will pass its new "sweeping" health plan. There are two main types of plans being proposed. One is the Kennedy plan which is so radical and so out of reach financially (Estimated cost of 80 billion per year) that even Kennedy supporters don't think it can be passed. I hope they are correct because this is socialized medicine. It is complete government medicine and it will eliminate the important freedoms in medicine which has made America a world leader in excellence, research and teaching. I will therefore reveiw the Nixon plan which is so called free enterprise plan because hopefully it is the only one which has a chance of being passed.

Basically the Nixon plan is known as the Comprehensive Health Insurance Plan (CHIP). It is a three-part program which would ensure that no individual or family would have to pay more than $1,500 on year in medical costs and would rely on private health insurers. The three parts consist of: (1) Employer Health Insurance, (2) Assisted Health Insurance and (3) an improved Medicare. The Employer Health Insurance Plan (EHUP) is financed by the employer paying 65 per cent during the first two years and 75 per cent after that. The Assisted Health Insurance Plan (AHIP) covers the low-income workers, the unemployed, and high risk patients and is paid through a government assured plan. The improved Medicare Plan would have a better coverage including prescription drugs, etc.

Payments are based to some extent on the ability to pay and would provide for catastrophic illness. There is a system of deductibles which is good and would tend to keep down medical costs.

There are a few bad features of the Nixon Plan which should be eliminated, although I realize this is a matter of opinion. One is the benefits of complete dental care up through age 13, the preventive medicine programs in hearing and eye defects which is well covered now by state and volunteer groups. This is an unnecessary expense which provides complete care regardless of ability to pay and which duplicates what we now have. Two other serious objections must be mentioned. First is the use of generic drugs which means a serious blow to research and development by private drug companies. The second is the use of PSRO or the Professional Standards Review Organization to police the cost and the practice of medicine.

In my opinion the Nixon Plan is the only one we should even consider and this should be scaled down to provide for only what is needed, not what someone thinks is wanted.

THE VOICE OF BUSINESS

by Arch N. Booth

Executive Vice President
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

It's sad but all too true that there are a lot of racketeers and fly-by-night con-men (con-persons?) ready to pose as legitimate business people to bilk the unwary of their hard-earned money. The most vicious of them—like the cancer quacks—prey upon those who are already in difficulty.

I am going to print some excerpts from a letter I received describing one such operation. The letter refers to a service which is provided by some legitimate, honest companies, and even by a few public agencies. Unfortunately, it is also a kind of service that can be used as a front for fraud, and consequently has been outlawed in some states.

I have deleted the name of the company involved in this case because I cannot verify the facts, although I suspect they are correct. The name matters little anyway—a racket can change its name whenever that seems advisable. It's the racket itself that must be exposed, so other consumers will be on guard against falling into the same trap.

Here's the story:

"Recently my wife and I became interested in an advertisement (offering help to people in debt). That was our first mistake. I had been unemployed for approximately six months in 1973, and we had fallen far behind in our monthly obligations.

"We inquired for informtion and were forwarded an application (by this company which) states that they wanted to help us get back on our feet, and that they would not notify any friends, employers or creditors relative to our credit rating. We very eagerly filled out the application, listing our wages and all debts in excess of $50, sent it in, and were notified within two weeks that it had been approved.

"We then called this company to arrange our payment schedule, etc. We were to send them $78 per week, from which they would distribute payments to the appropriate creditors as shown on the application. (The company) told us that they would inform all of our creditors listed on the application, instructing them that they would be handling our monthly payments from now on.

"It was not until we had sent in two payments, or $156, that we were informed by a certain knowledgeable person that this company was a complete fraud.

"Thanks to (the warning) my wife and I got out of this deal after making only two payments. There have been others who have lost several hundred dollars. Take several thousand innocent people and multiply that number by several hundred dollars and you have millions of dollars unjustly taken from honest and sincere people who are trying very hard to meet their obligations.

"This type of unscrupulous business is a serious threat which far too many people in this country are not aware of."

Amen.

Sometimes new laws are needed to deal with such fraud. More often, though, there are already laws enough on the books. The best defense against rackets and con-game is an informed, prudent consumer.

Don't turst your money to a business that is unknown to you until you have checked it out. Also, take a close look at names that seem familiar at first glance. Some shady operations have names that look very much like those of nationally known companies, but the spelling is slightly different.

You can ask the Better Business bureau, local or state consumer protection agencies, or your state attorney general. If you are especially suspicious, check in more than one place—sometimes it takes time for word of a new racket to get around. The local Chamber of Commerce may be of help, too.

Always be suspicious of anyone who offers something for nothing, or the chance to get rich for a small investment. Remember, "There ain't no such thing as a free lunch."

Suppose you own land in the country, near a major metropolitan area.

You bought this land with your savings, many years ago, as an investment...maybe to put the kids through college, when the time comes.

Over the years, you have watched the land rise in value as the suburbs of your city march closer. Of course, your tax bills on it have gone up, too, reflecting the increased worth.

In the normal train of events, you would eventually sell the land to a developer, who would build houses or apartments on it. Such development would be unlikely to improve the appearance of the tract—it's hard to improve upon Mother Nature for beauty. But it would provide houses for people who need them and can't afford the higher cost of land nearer the city.

Up to now, if the governement wanted this land of yours for public purposes—say, a highway interchange—it had to pay you a fair price for it. The Fifth Amendment to the Constitution says, "nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation."

But what constitutes "taking"? What if the government declares it in the public interest to "preserve open space" and says you may continue to own your land, but you may not build anything on it, nor may anyone you might sell it to?

Under these circumstances, the land may not have been "taken" from you, but its value certainly has. What the government would be saying, really, is "we want your land for a public park, but the public isn't going to pay for the park, you are." Worse still, you might have to continue paying taxes on the property at an assessed value based on the market value of developable land in the same area.

It that happened to you, would you feel you had been treated justly?

Believe it or not, there are "experts" in Washington advocating just such government policies. The initial legislation is before both house of Congress right now. It is innocent enough in itself, but it would establish precedents that could lead to exactly the situation I have described. And it is very likely to. That's what its sponsors have in mind.

These bills—H.R. 10294 in the House and S.268 in the Senate—offer federal money to "help" the states in land use planning.

There's nothing wrong with that. Intelligent land use planning is essential to providing housing, recreational areas and public services to a growing population, at an acceptable cost to the environment.

But these bills do not leave the land use decisions to the states and localities which are, after all, most directly affected by what happens to their own turf. No, the bills establish terms and specifications which must be met to "qualify" for the grant money. Further, attempts are being made to add a "penalty clause": States failing to conform to the federal dictates would lose not only grant money for land use planning, but also federal money for other, unrelated programs.

With a weapon like that, the federal government has all it needs to do the same thing for the allocation of land that is has done for the allocation of gasoline.

There are better alternatives; programs which do provide federal aid for land use planning, without trying to impose federal standards on local affairs. One such program is proposed in H.R.11325, introduced by Representative Sam Steiger (R-Ariz.). It deserves support.

The prospect of a landowner being caught in the kind of situation I described at the beginning of this column reminds me of a legend about the rulers of ancient India: They would sometimes express their displeasure to a subject who had fallen from favor by awarding the unlucky man a rare white elephant.

Since the white elephant was sacred, it could not be put to work or destroyed. Since it was a gift from the prince, it could not be sold or given away.

Elephants eat 500 pounds of hay a day and live about as long as a human being. Hence, it did not take many such "honors" to ruin the most prosperous of subjects.

But that couldn't happen here. This is a free country. Isn't it?

Safety Belt Law Said Vital To Front Seat Rider

"If the people of Minnesota are concerned about saving from 200 to 300 lives a year, it is vital that a mandatory seat belt use law be passed this year," said Minnesota department of public safety commissioner W. R. Hoaglund recently.

"Such a bill has been introduced in our state legislature and so far has been approved by an overwhelming majority vote of the senate transportation committee.

"This bill would require both occupants of the front seat to use lap belts in those vehicles in which they are installed. Though the bill puts no requirement on passengers in the back seat, we are confident that voluntary compliance will be greatly improved if those in the front are buckled up. Besides, of all occupants of vehicles who were killed or injured durng 1972, 92 per cent were in the front seat. This clearly indicates that the present bill will cover those most likely to be killed or injured.

"Opponents of a belt use law argue that reduced speeds will suffice, since speed is the major cause of highway deaths. This is true to a point, but statistics show that serious injuries and deaths do occur at lower speeds as well. According to data collected by the Australia college of surgeions, of 237 drivers involved in crashes with property damage of less than $200, 12.5 per cent of the belt wearers were injured compared with 24.8 per cent of those who were unbelted.

"Actually, there are no logical arguments against the use of seat belts. Of all the safety equipment presently installed in cars or programmed for the future, the seat belt still produces the greatest dividends for the least cost and effort."

Although championship honors are still a long ways off, Thief River Falls may never again be presented with a better opportunity to advance in post season high school basketball tournament play.

Monday's shocking first round district 31 basketball tournament results in which Alvarado stunned Crookston 55-49 and Goodridge surprised East Grand Forks 52-41 left the door wide open for coach Lee Swanson's Prowlers.

At the present time Thief River Falls is the only large school left in northwestern Minnesota's entire region eight. That in itself doesn't guarantee any Prowler titles, but it does cast Thief River Falls as an immediate favorite to capture both district 31 and region eight honors.

If the Prowlers play up to their full potential, Thief River Falls could very well find itself in the state tournament for the first time since 1960.

Three strong sub district 31 teams stand in the way of the first Prowler district crown since 1969. Goodridge, Alvarado and Fisher all eye the district title, but their chances of upsetting the favored Thief River Falls quint won't be as strong as they were in the first round since the Prowlers are now acutely aware of the upset possibilities.

Defending champion Mahnomen looms as distant region title threat providing the Indians get by a surprising Waubun squad in the district 30 championship game. Newfolden, Argyle, Kennedy and Karlstad are all battling for the district 32 championship. Either Little Fork-Big Falls or Walker will likely advance from the district 29 tournament.

Northland community college freshman forward Bill Gusa, injured in last week's Northland-Normandale semi-final game of the Minnesota junior college state basketball tournament, suffered a broken ankle, it was learned early this week when Gusa had the ankle x-rayed.

The injury happened early in the second half of Friday night's game when Gusa blocked a Normandale shot, but fell to the floor on the play. The former Middle River prep standout tried to play despite the injury, but was forced to the bench after a minute's time.

With Gusa sidelined, starry David Dickey out of the game because of fouls and Joe Brown slowed because of the flu, Normandale edged the Northmen 83-79 in the game's final minute.

Freshmen Cagers Finish Season

Lincoln high school freshman basketball team closed out its 1973-74 season Wednesday with a 52-51 win over Plummer.

Plummer led 17-13 at the first quarter stop and 28-25 at halftime before Thief River Falls moved in front 43-35 to start the fourth quarter.

Brian Peterson led the Thief River Falls quint in scoring with 18 points while David Poole added 13.

The win gave coach Tom O'Brien's freshmen a 10-5 season record for the year.

Prowlers Win First District Game 65-44

Thief River Falls built a one-sided 19-7 first quarter lead and then coasted to a 65-44 first round district 31 basketball tournament win over out manned Oslo Tuesday in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

The Prowler win moved coach Lee Swanson's Lincoln high school quint into tomorrow (Thursday) night's semi-finals against sub district champion Fisher, a 54-42 winner over Warren in Tuesday's final first round game.

Thief River Falls was the only district school to win in Monday and Tuesday's four first round games as upstart sub district teams plucked off the other three semi-final berths. Monday's startling opening round district tournament session found Alvarado surprising defending champion Crookston 55-49 and Goodridge upsetting East Grand Forks 52-41.

Tomorrow's semi-finals will find Alvarado playing Goodridge at 7 p.m. while Thief River Falls meets Fisher at 8:30. Thursday's losers will play in Friday's consolation game at 7 while Thursday's winners clash in Friday's district 31 championship game at 8:30. All district 31 games are being played in the spacious North Dakota fieldhouse.

Thief River Falls escaped the first round pitfalls that befell heavily favored Crookston and East Grand Forks a night earlier by racking up a comfortable 19-7 lead at the end of a well played Prowler first quarter.

Oslo's Billy Solem scored the game's first points on a short base line jumper 20 seconds into the first quarter, but Thief River Falls promptly rattled off nine straight points in a 2:40 span and the Prowlers were never seriously threatened. Hot shooting Prowler guards Duane Dicken and Jerry Sandahl each hit twice from medium range and Dallas Kemmer potted a single free throw in the Thief River Falls scoring spurt.

Tony Solem momentarily interrupted the Thief River Falls offense by banking in a short jump shot, only to have the Prowlers respond with three quick buckets - two close range shots by center Wayne Peterson and a 15 foot jumper by Dicken - to pull away 15-4 with 2:55 remaining.

Billy and Tony combined for three points for a 15-7 game before Sandahl and Dicken popped back to back short range shots to close the first quarter scoring.

The Prowler lead continued to grow in the second quarter, reaching a 22 point spread with 1:20 remaining when Kent Christensen sandwiched a pair of two pointers around a Kemmer jumper for a 37-15 difference.

Oslo scored the final six points of the first half to trim the halftime margin to a near respectable 37-21 count.

Thief River Falls enjoyed a pair of 20 point third quarter leads before the Prowlers settled for a 48-34 cushion at the final quarter break.

Prowler and Bobcat reserves played a major portion of the fourth quarter in which Thief River Falls scored the first 11 points to post the game's largest lead, 59-34, with 6:20 left. The Prowlers matched that 25 point spread on two other occasions before settling for a 65-44 verdict.

Peterson, whose 6-8 frame towered a full half foot over the tallest Oslo player, utilized his height advantage to score a game high 25 points. Dicken was the only other Prowler in double figures with 10. Rodney Teigen did most of the Bobcats' offensive work by pouring in 19 points.

Thief River Falls shot 40 per cent from the field for the game, making 27 of 68 attempts. Oslo shot only 28 per cent on 18 of 65 tries. Thief River Falls sank 11 of 17 free throw tries while Oslo connected on eight of 11 gift tosses. Thief River Falls held a whopping 45-28 rebound advantage. The turnover charts ended in a tie, 14 apiece.

Nordics Advance To District 32 Semi's With 72-54 Victory

Newfolden, Kennedy, Argyle and Karlstad all advanced into the semi-finals of the 1974 district 32 basketball tournament with first round wins Monday and Tuesday.

Monday's first round results found Kennedy hammering Greenbush 81-45 and Karlstad surprising Roseau 62-61 in a pair of games played at Newfolden. Tuesday's games at Kennedy found Newfolden ripping Stephen 72-54 while Argyle romped over Baudette 75-34.

Thursday's semi-finals will be played at Roseau with Kennedy facing Karlstad at 7 p.m. and Newfolden squaring off against Argyle at 8:30. The Thursday night winners will clash in the district 32 championship game Friday at 8:30, with the Thursday losers meeting in Friday's consolation game at 7.

Coach Ron Ueland's Newfolden quint jumped out to an 18-11 first quarter lead against Stephen and coasted to win number 17 against just five losses this winter. Newfolden led 38-24 at halftime and 55-43 after three quarters.

Dave Strandquist led the Nordics in scoring with 17 points despite missing a big portion of the second half because of foul trouble. Mike Fincher added 15 while Gary Kujanson and Steve Sparby each scored 14 for the balanced Newfolden attack. Bill Hvidsten led Stephen's offense with 21 points while Bruce Osowski added 12 and Scott Thibodo scored 11.

Newfolden shot an eye catching 52 per cent for the game, hitting 29 of 56 attempts. Stephen made 21 of 61 for 35 per cent. Newfolden sank 14 of 21 free throws while Stephen made just 12 of 20 gift tosses. Stephen held a narrow 25-24 rebound edge.

THIEF RIVER FALLS guard Duane Dicken was given plenty of room to shoot by Oslo's Jim Gowen on this play during Tuesday's district 31 basketball tournament game played in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks. Dicken scored 10 points against the Bobcats to help lead the Prowlers to a 65-44 win.

Alvarado Upsets Pirates 55-49 In District 31 Play

Alvarado opened the 1974 district 31 basketball tournament in dramatic fashion Monday by upsetting two-time defending champion Crookston 55-49 before a disbelieving University of North Dakota fieldhouse crowd.

The Indians, heavy underdogs entering the game despite an impressive 18-3 season record, fashioned together three short second half scoring spurts to break open an extremely tight ball game and gain a spot in Thursday night's first semi-final game at 7 p.m. against Goodridge, an improbably 52-41 upset winner over East Grand Forks in Monday's first round nightcap.

The surprisingly evenly matched Crookston and Alvarado quints battled through a dead even first half that ended in a 27-27 tie after Crookston had posted a slim 19-18 first quarter edge. The lead changed hands ten times and the game was tied on nine other occasions before intermission. A three point second quarter lead by Crookston was the first half's largest point spread.

The game remained unusually close through the first part of the third quarter until Alvarado's talented one-two combination of Gary Boman and Chuck Kollin matched each other for four straight driving lay-ups in a two minute span to erase a 35-33 Crookston lead and put the inspired Indians in front 41-35 with 2:30 remaining.

The second Alvarado scoring spurt began near the end of the third quarter when Boman sank a free throw with 15 seconds left to give the Indians a 46-41 advantage at the final quarter break.

Bruce Kollin added a single free throw and Boman banked in another driving lay-up to start the fourth quarter, pushing Alvarado's suddenly budding lead to 49-41.

Crookston guard Roger Johnson responded with a long range jumper to keep the Pirates within striking distance at 49-43 with 6:25 remaining, but Alvarado's third and final game winning scoring streak found the Indians rattling off six straight points to insure the Alvarado upset.

Ransel Anderson, Alvarado's portly senior forward, ignited the fourth quarter Indian uprising by sticking a rebound back in with 5:51 left. Four successive free throws by Chuck Kollin and Boman finished the scoring spurt with Alvarado sitting on a comfortable 12 point 55-43 cushion with only 1:25 left.

Reserve Greg Langehaug finally snapped a prolonged 5:10 Crookston scoreless span to start a last minute Pirate offensive show that accounted for the game's final six points to shave the final margin to 55-49.

Working continuously to get the ball inside to Boman who scored 26 points and to Chuck Kollin who added 12, the Indians shot a nifty 50 per cent from the field for the game, making 22 of 46 attempts. Meanwhile, content to fire away from outside an Alvarado zone, Crookston shot only 32 per cent on 21 of 60 tries. Neither team shot well from the free throw line as Alvarado made but 11 of 20 gift shots while Crookston sank just seven of 18 from the charity stripe. Alvarado held a surprising 34-28 edge in rebounds, but the Indians also led the turnover charts 16-9.

Goodridge Stuns EGF 52-41 In District 31 Tournament

Goodridge gained a spot in Thursday night's district 31 basketball tournament semi-finals with a stunning 52-41 first round upset win over East Grand Forks Monday in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

Continuing their strong post-season tournament performance which netted the Huskies a surprising second place finish in the recently completed sub district tournament, Goodridge followed a similar pattern used in Alvarado's equally surprising 55-49 first game win over Crookston to out-hustle the lagging Green Wave and give district basketball fans the most talked about pair of first round games in recent history.

Goodridge and Alvarado will square off in tomorrow's first semi-final game at 7 p.m. Alvarado claimed a pair of regular season wins over Goodridge 77-68 and 63-61, but the Huskies hammered the Indians 77-66 in the sub district semi-finals.

Coach Mike Borgman's Huskies, posting only a 9-9 regular season record, fell behind 10-4 in the first quarter when an East Grand Forks full court press forced a number of quick Goodridge turnovers.

Once the press was mastered, the sharp-shooting Huskies pumped in three quick baskets—two short jumpers by Paul Solberg and a long set shot by Tom Bendickson—to tie the game 10-10 with 2:20 remaining in the first quarter.

East Grand Forks managed to post a 14-12 lead at the first quarter break heading into a slow moving second period in which a total of only 14 points were scored—eight by Goodridge—for a 20-20 halftime stand-off.

Arden Hyland banged in a long jump shot in the first minute of the second half and the Huskies never trailed again. East Grand Forks did gain a pair of early third quarter ties, but Hyland and burly Goodridge center Don Grabowska hit back to back buckets for a 28-24 Goodridge lead with 3:20 remaining.

The frustrated Green Wave were never again able to wrestle the lead away from the aggressive Huskies who owned a 32-28 advantage after three quarters of play.

The inspired Huskies jumped in front 36-28 at the start of the fourth quarter behind a lay-up by Grabowska and a long range jumper by Howard Vigen to force a hasty Green Wave time out.

A pair of Kim Knoff free throws kept East Grand Forks within striking distance at 38-31 with 4:14 left, but Goodridge zoomed in front 44-31 in the next minute and one-half behind a pair of driving lay-ups by Hyland and Grabowska and a tip-in rebound by Grabowska who finished the game's high scorer with 18 points.

East Grand Forks wasn't able to seriously threaten the Goodridge lead in the roughly played game's final two minutes. A short scoring spurt by Steve Wald and Mike Jacobson trimmed the margin to 50-41, but with only 25 seconds remaining.

Bendickson, Hyland and Solberg all provided the Huskies with a balanced scoring attack by scoring 10 points apiece to go along with Grabowska's 18. Dan Driscoll and Mark Rousseau each scored 10 points to lead the lackluster East Grand Forks offense.

Goodridge shot 45 per cent from the field for the game as the Huskies made 25 of 55 attempts. East Grand Forks shot only 33 per cent on 17 of 52 tries. Goodridge made two of only three free throw attempts while East Grand Forks sank seven of 14 gift tosses. Goodridge held a slim 31-29 rebound edge, but the Huskies also led in the turnover department 15-12.

Fisher Outlasts Warren By 54-42

Sub district champion Fisher struggled past underdog Warren 54-42 Tuesday to complete the first round of the 1974 district 31 basketball tournament being played in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

The highly regarded Flyers needed a strong fourth quarter effort to wipe out a lackluster effort through three quarters and earn a spot in tomorrow (Thursday) night's district semi-finals against Thief River Falls.

Warren capitalized on numerous Fisher first quarter blunders to gain an 11-10 lead at the end of the slow moving opening stanza.

Warren enjoyed the first half's biggest lead at the outset of the second quarter when Daryl Evavold and Mark Pjencer sandwiched a pair of field goals around a single free throw by Fisher's John Riske for a 15-11 margin.

Fisher's talented Steve Kummer scored on an easy fast break lay-up to trim the difference to 15-13, but Warren's Bob Nelson, one of only three seniors on the Ponies' roster, popped a long jumper from deep in the corner to match Warren's previous four point lead at 17-13 with three minutes remaining.

Fisher scored the final six points of the ragged first half, however, as Mark Egeland and Mark Nisbet hit from the field and Kummer sank a pair of free throws to give the Flyers a shakey 19-17 halftime lead.

The game remained close at the start of the second half until Fisher's fast breaking offense finally jelled with Riske and Kummer combining for four straight baskets to push the Flyers in front 30-23 with two minutes left in the third quarter.

The two teams traded baskets the rest of the period to provide Fisher with a 34-28 edge heading into the final eight minutes.

Warren's Dave Gloude and Steve Goodwin banked in a pair of close range buckets in the first 30 seconds of the fourth quarter to suddenly pull the Ponies to within 34-32 as the lethargic game finally opened up.

A big three point play by Nisbet gave the Flyers a 39-34 lead with 6:48 remaining and Fisher maintained a tight grip on that point spread until the game's final two minutes when the Flyers scored four game ending baskets - three by Egeland - to build their largest point spread of the game at the final buzzer.

Egeland and Rod Beiswenger each scored 14 points and Kummer added 13 for the Flyers. Goodwin was the lone Pony in double figures with 13 points.

Fisher shot 39 per cent from the field for the game as the Flyers hit on 21 of 54 shots. Warren made 15 of 56 tries for only 27 per cent. Fisher sank 12 of 18 free throw attempts while Warren connected on 12 of 21 gift tosses. Warren held a 33-25 rebound edge, but the Ponies also led the turnover charts 16-14.

GOODRIDGE GUARD Howard Vigen squeezed past East Grand Forks defenders Dan Driscoll (partially hidden behind Vigen) and Brian Beier (51) on this lay-up attempt in Monday's first round district 31 basketball tournament game played in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks. The Huskies upset the heavily favored Green Wave 52-41 to move into Thursday's semi-final round against Alvarado, a surprise 55-49 winner over Crookston in Monday's other first round game.

UND Institute Favors Agassiz Wilderness Area

Institute for ecological studies at the University of North Dakota has given its support to a proposal by the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife to include a part of the Agassiz national wildlife refuge in Marshall county in a wilderness area.

In a two-page report by Dr. Paul B. Kannowski, institute director, and Dr. Lewis W. Oring, associate professor of biology and a member of the institute faculty, the institute called for the preservation of a 4,000-acre block of virgin and relic black spruce-tamarack forest in the center of the 61,487 acre refuge.

Calling the forest "biologically unique in that it represents the only sizeable remnant of the black spruce forests which once characterized the eastern edge of glacial Lake Agassiz," the report stresses that the designation is necessary to guarantee the forest's preservatin and prevent its utilization for waterfowl managment on the refuge.

The institute study further emphasized the educational and scientific values of the forest, citing its accessibility to colleges and universities in the Red River Valley of North Dakota and Minnesota. In addition, awareness of the wilderness area by scientists and educators elsewhere in the nation will encourage its use for research studies, thus having a positive social and economic impact on the surrounding area, the report said.

Copies of the report are available from the Institute at UND in Grand Forks.

BOTH DART 6 AND V8 BEAT NOVA 6 IN USAC MILEAGE TEST.
That's what happened in the "Miles-Per-Gallon Showdown" conducted and certified by the United States Auto Club in January, 1974.
A six-cylinder Dart Sport beat a six-cylinder Nova by 8.1 miles per gallon. Even a Dart Sport V8 got 2.9 more miles per gallon than the six-cylinder Nova. Now, that's economy!
Check it out at the Dodge Boys'. All three cars were 1974 models with manual transmissions. The Dart Sport Six also had the new standard 2.76 rear axle. The results were obtained by nonprofessional drivers in light city traffic conditions (a 108-mile distance averaging 25 mph).

It is so hard for us to except the fact that you are gone.

Skarsten Learns In Summer School

(Following is the eighth in a series of articles by M.O. Skarsten, early Thief River Falls resident and educator. The series will be concluded with the next article.)

Chapter Eight

One hurdle to be overcome before I could obtain a certificate to teach was that of passing the state board examinations. These examinations, in addition to covering the "common branch" of learning, included algebra, physics, agriculture and one or two additional subjects.

Algebra did not worry me, but agriculture and physics did; especially physics, which was a full-year course in high school, with lab and much else besides. I had not had even a smattering of this subject. In fact, I had scarcely even heard of such a subject.

But there was one solution—summer school; four weeks of it, in the high school. Physics was one of the subjects to be taught; agriculture, another

I took agriculture under Mr. Hay. He had occasion to send me to the blackboard, one day, in the presence of the class. He asked me to draw a line on the board, and to make this line one foot in length, without measuring. When I had done so, one of the girls in the class inquired skeptically, "How do you know that is a foot?"

"Eh?" said Mr. Hay. "I take it you mean a foot in length." He squinted at the line "A boy," he said, "generally knows how long a foot is." Bless him. It was from Mr. Hay I learned the saying, "God might have made a better berry than the strawberry. But he never did."

Physics, that summer, was taught by a Mr Cederstrom. The schedule called for 40 minutes per day, for four weeks, without lab.

As it happedned, Mr Cederstrom was also the conductor of the summer school. He was so busy conducting the summer school that he was absent from his class in physics half the time. We were left to ourselves. We did not even have to be in class. Nevertheless, I did such studying as I could. And now the technique I had used in algebra and in botany came to my aid. And did I ever need it? I needed at least some technique that would help me solve those astonishingly baffling problems in acceleration and falling bodies and heat and sound and electricity and much else.

The dates for the state board examinations came. I took every examination. Afterward, Mr. Hay said to me, "You passed all the tests."

"All? Agriculture? And physics?"

"All of them. You got a hundred in algebra. We couldn't find a single mistake."

"How about—physics?"

He gave me a percentage in the eighties. I have forgotten the figure. But is was well above passing.

So that hurdle had successfully been overcome. Soon, maybe in the matter of two or three weeks, I would have a certificate which would qualify me to go out to teach on a salary...

Mondale Seeks Aid For Clean Lakes In Minn.

Although the clean lakes act was signed into law in 1972, to date not a single lake in the United States has received assistance under this statute, states Sen. Walter Mondale.

In Minnesota alone, 121 lakes are in need of help—requiring an assessment of water quality, a description of the cause and nature of the problem, and recommendations for restorative action. Although the state of Minnesota submitted a list of these lakes to the environmental protection agency last year, so far no action has been taken.

The reason is that the opponents of this act would delay its enforcement by arguing that we need perfect knowledge of every lake and every technique for restoration before taking action.

"As a principal sponsor of the original clean lakes legislation, I was aware that it would be impossible to wait until every lake in the United States had undergone a detailed analysis before lifting a finger to help those known to be endangered," Sen. Mondale said.

The cost of continued inaction, measured in the loss of thousands of fresh water lakes across the nation, is enormous compared to the modest appropriation needed to safeguard these resources. At the same time, it is clear that more research needs to be done and that increased funding is needed for an effective lake pollution control and restoration program.

Fresh water community lakes are the most fragile part of our aquatic environment. Unlike rivers, they have only a limited capacity for self-cleansing. When subjected to contamination by pollutants, excessive sedimentation or accelerated eutrophication, lakes often cannot be saved without costly pollution control and restoration techniques.

"To get this effort underway immediately, I have asked the sub-committee on environmental pollution to support me in seeking an appropriation in the amount of $150 million. These funds would be used to eliminate the sources of lake pollution and to carry out restoration activities," the senator said.

"I have also introduced an amendment to the water pollution control act designed to expand research and development efforts. My amendment would authorize up to $60 million over the next four years, to look into better ways of protecting and restoring our lakes.

"No amount of money will enable us to reclaim lakes once they have been destroyed. That is why we must act to save them now—before it is too late."

APPRECIATION PLAQUES from the day-night unit at Northwestern hsopital services were presented by administrative assistant James Kremer (left) recently. Recipients were Sheriff Charles Richards of Pennington county; Mrs. Donald L. (Sylvia) Olson of KTRF and Marvin Lundin of the Times. The plaques were created in the occupational therapy department of the hospital and presented in appreciation of service given to the day-night unit.

Corporations To File Federal Tax By March 15

Many Minnesota corporations whose tax year ended December 31 are due to file a 1973 Federal income tax return by Friday, March 15. However, an automatic extension of time for filing may be obtained by submitting Form 7004.

"We should point out that either way, corporations must deposit in an approved commercial bank or a Federal Reserve Bank at least 50 per cent of the balance due when they file their return or application for extensions, R. C. Voskuil, IRS district director for Minnesota said. "Deposits should be made with Form 503, Federal Tax Deposit, Corporation Income Taxes."

IRS Publication 542, "Corporations and the Federal Income Tax," is available free from Minnesota IRS offices to provide more information.

Toll-free telephone numbers for Minnesota are listed on page 2 of the instructions with the 1040 tax package and page 7 of the 1040A tax package. Local numbers are also listed in some instances.

"This service allows taxpayers anywhere in the state the opportunity of obtaining tax information without long distance charges, Voskuil said.

SBA Loan Rep To Visit Bemidji On March 14th

Ron Golden, loan officer with the small business administration, will be in Bemidji on March 14 to talk to small businessmen about SBA loans.

An appointment to see him can be made by calling or writing to the Bemidji Chamber of Commerce, Bemidji Avenue and Third Street, telephone 751-3540. Jansen urged small businessmen to have the following information with them:

(1) Current financial statements consisting of a balance sheet and earnings (profit and loss) statement.

(2) A list of collateral to be offered as security for the loan with an estimate of present market value of each item.

(3) Amount of loan requested and for what purpose it will be used.

(4) Visit your banker first to see if he will make the loan, either directly or with SBA's participation.

Tax Information Offered To Area Senior Citizens

Last year over 100,000 elderly Minnesotans received payment from the state of Minnesota under the provisions of the senior citizens tax benefit law. However, a research survey indicates that nearly twice as many older people can share in these benefits.

Persons who are over 65, had a total income of less than $6,000 in 1973, and are residents of Minnesota, are probably eligible. Persons who are over 65, regardless of income, whose property taxes have increased this year, may seek help in claiming benefits under the senior citizen's "Tax Freeze" law.

For more information about these laws and for help in filing a claim call Mrs. Darrell Matthew, Middle River, (East Marshall County) 222-3302 or contact Northwest Community Action, Inc., Badger.

On March 3, 1911, the sum of $125,000 was authorized to fund Army Air operations for the 1912 fiscal year. It was the first such appropriation.

Prayer is a party line

Sunday I Corinthians 3:16-23
Monday Matthew 5:38-48
Tuesday Psalms 41:1-3
Wednesday I Samuel 26:2-23
Thursday Luke 6:27-38
Friday Genesis 3:1-7
Saturday Psalms 51:1-17

The man who prays can hear the prayers of others . . . especially when he prays for those human needs which are common to all men.

But even when he prays for needs that are solely his own, he knows that those who care for him are joining their prayers with his.

And God's answers come back along the party line.

You're never quite sure the message was meant for you. You are tempted sometimes to think it was intended for someone else . . . until you realize that this answer which God has inspired in your heart does fit your prayer.

There are times when it's good for everybody on the party line to pick up the phone at once . . . and speak what they all feel . . . and listen to what they all need to hear.

That happens regularly on Sunday morning.

Bergland Urges Taxpayers To Use $1.00 Check-off

U. S. Representative Bob Bergland this week urged all 7th district taxpayers "to help bring Presidential politics out of the hands of special interests and back under the control of the voters" by taking advantage of the special $1 checkoff privilege when filing their federal income tax returns.

Bergland emphasized that the checkoff—authorized by the Presidential election campaign fund act passed by Congress in 1971—does not increase taxes or reduce the amount of a refund. "It merely transfers $1 of your normal tax due to a special fund to be divided by the major Presidential candidates," he explained.

Bergland also noted that those who did not take advantage of the checkoff last year may do so on this year's return. Couples filing joint returns may double their checkoff.

Under the law, should enough taxpayers use the checkoff procedures to fully fund the next Presidential campaign, no private contributions could be solicited. If enough funds are not raised by this method, private campaign contributions can be accepted to complete the maximum campaign budget allowed by law.

In conclusion, Bergland also emphasized that the Republican and Democratic parties would share equally from the fund and that any other party receiving more that five per cent of the votes cast would be eligible for a fair share of the funds raised.

THINK BASKETBALL was the theme of this snow sculpture entered in the recent contest at Franklin middle school. This symbolic display was built by the seventh grade intramural basketball team.

Thought For The Day

As we await the approach of Spring, we are reminded once again that life is a changing, growing process. When we look at plants, animals and even ourselves, we see living things that change from day to day. When a supposedly lving thing is not changing and growing, it is dead.

Let's apply this thinking to the spiritual aspect of our lives. We who are members of the Body of Christ, we who are children of God are a part of a living relationship with our Creator. If this relationship is a loving one, it would seem that it is growing and changing—growing as we study the scriptures from day to day, ever learning; and changing as we continue to confront our Creator in ever new situations.

Are we growing in our reltionship with God, or is the relationship dead?

DECA Week

National DECA Week is being observed this week in more than 4,500 chapters where distributive education is taught in the public school system.

In our town, as elsewhere, the local chapters of the distributive education clubs of America, or DECA, is closely associated with the instructional program. This student-directed activity is an effective part of the learning and training process in developing future leaders for marketing and distribution.

Through research projects and recognition events, the activities of the local DECA Chapter bring into sharper forcus the various instructional parts of the DE program taught in our local high school and at the area vocational-technical institute.

Many of our business leaders are involed in the activities of DECA. First, as employer, these business firms provide a laboratory environment in which the student tests, observes, applies concepts and skills learned in DE class in school.

Second, through supervised training, the student gains experience in the occupation which frequently is the first step toward his career goal.

Third, DE students learn right from the start the basics of business in our free enterprise system. This in itself is highly commendable because nowhere in our educational system is free enterprise demonstrated so adequately as in the distributive education curriculum.

This approach to education not only develops competent personnel for merchandising, marketing, and management, but also prepares our youth for better citizenship. As the TV commercial says: "You get a good deal—and a good deal more!"

The Hospital

Faron Olson, a student at Lincoln high school and enrolled in the health occupations class at the Northwest Vocational center, wrote the following poem after having some experience with the local hospital:

The hospital with its quiet halls
And smell of cleanliness;
You'd think this place for the good of man
Our Lord would surely bless.

Yet there's so much sadness in
This grim and gruesome place;
Little kids who've lost their limbs,
And death which man can't face.

There are mothers having babies
In screaming agony;
If there is so much goodness here,
Where can that goodness be?

Then you see the happy boy,
Who now is really cured
And the tender, loving kindness of
The doctor with the beard.

The smiling face of a proud father
Whose wife just had a boy,
And the little girl who shed her cast
Is jumping up for joy.

The woman who's been here so long
Is finally getting out.
Yes, this is what the hospital
Is really all about.

Think about it if you like,
My mind is now at rest.
The hospital must be one place
The Lord has surely blest!

Trial Or Circus?

Following editorial is from the Morris Tribune:

There can be no doubt that American Indians have many legitimate grievances. And, though one may disagree with some of its methods, the American Indian Movement has succeeded in arousing public concern for the Indian cause.

However, it is unfortunate that the trial of Dennis Banks and Russell Means has become a vehicle for the expression of American Indian Movement sentiments. This is not the first time that William Kunstler has worked for the defense in an essentially political trial. It seems that Kunstler is convinced of the value of using the courtroom to gain publicity for those seeking social change.

Much of the defense's opening statement was irrelevant to the case itself. However, Kunstler is aware that the courtroom can make a good theatre, and he and his defendants are excellent actors.

Worse yet, the trail's absurdity is increased by the nature of the selected jurors. In an effort to avoid prejudice on the part of the jurors, individuals were chosen on the basis of ignorance. Four of the jurors said they "do not read newspapers and only occasionally watch television news." Only seven of the jurors had heard of Russell Means and Dennis Banks or the attorneys who are defending them, Mark Lane and the famous Mr. Kunstler included.

One wonders whether justice can be done in such an atmosphere.

Spin Off On O.S.H.A.

Following editorial is from the "Minnesota Eagle", official publication of the American Party in Minnesota:

When the OSHA acts, federal and state, were passed, some fears were expressed as to the effect of these laws on prices, principally in heavy industry and construction. In the interval between passage of the laws and the enforcement, fears died down, probably feeling that if it were not seen, it would go away.

It did no such thing.

The inspectors are now trained, are invading every type industry, and since they are inspectors, on probation, they must find a multitude of dangers to the worker. They do not investigate the danger 'to' his job.

That danger is today apparent. Worldwide industry knows no such restriction. And world-wide industry eyes the American market as its prime objective. While we have depreciated the value of our currencies, OSHA may restore the competitive position of European and Asiatic industry—the latter most likely, since our costs must rise.

How much will OSHA cost the American industry. Predictions vary, from three per cent to 18 per cent, the latter figure even higher for certain types of construction work. Considering Asiatic and South American wage scales, even the lower cost increase is an invitation to industrial imports.

This would mean a corresponding loss of American jobs.

Labor labored through the OSHA acts. It was sold on the best of arguments, safety of worker's life. No one can question that need.

The worker without a job, however, has no need of OSHA protection. He needs food, housing, services, all at governmental expense.

The industry destroyed by regulations or foreign imports, has no jobs to offer. If it is 'big' industry, it will hold the home market by manufacturing its products overseas, with cheap labor.

Don't forget: the American market buys on price—even the laboring man voted the Democrat free-trade ticket all his life.

It is claimed that the farmer is free of OSHA restrictions. Except, of course, where the agricultural production is tied into processing. And that's another story—a bad one.

What are the facts, the need.

No employer wants the traumatic experience of an injury or death on his floor. All workers have seen the reaction of the 'office' when an injury occurs. An injury does as much to interrupt producton as a sit-down. Men and the administration are invariably 'shook.'

The key factor in the new acts is the fact that the law removes all contributing negligence. It makes no exception between the worker's carelessness and contrived sabotage that results in injuries to an innocent worker. And these cases of sabotage do occur many times, men seeking to, as they say, 'get even' with the boss, the foreman, the company.

Labor, the unions, were responsible for this OSHA police force. It is now up to these same labor politicians to modify these laws in light of reason, protecting the employer, at least in part, from the deliberate negligence of the injured party. There is, in these injuries, many times a third party—one who created the condition that resulted in the accident. Every card carrying member of a union knows this is possible, and has happened all too often. The union itself should exercise discipline in such event. Due to our laws, the management of the 'boss' is almost helpless.

Before OSHA starts to take further toll, labor must exercise its power and knowledge to make the needed corrections. Time is running out. Industry, once overseas, is gone forever.

Oen was named chairman of the Thief River Falls post war planning board.—N. C. notes from the governor

It is the policy of this administration to keep tuition as low as possible at our public colleges and universities. Attendance at our vocational-technical schools is free for students under 21.

In the past few years we have established a contract system that provides direct aid to our private colleges. We have sharply increased funding for our state college scholarship and grant-in-aid programs.

Yet it is clear that today's young people are finding it more and more difficult to continue their education past high school. The cost of attending one of Minnesota's public colleges or the university may run more than $2,000 a year. A student attending one of our private colleges may be faced with expenses of more than $4,000 a year.

Many students, particularly those from middle-income families who do not qualify for most financial aid programs, must borrow money to further their education. And as interest rates have climbed and federal involvement in the college student aid area has diminished, these loans have become more and more difficult to obtain at a cost students can afford to pay.

It was for this reason last year that the Minnesota Legislature approved a state college student loan program, to be administered by our Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC) and financed by $30 million in revenue bonds.

These bonds were sold by HECC last week, and will provide loan funds for approximately 25,000 post-secondary students from Minnesota over the next two school years.

Interest on the loans is 7 per cent a year. Undergraduates may borrow up to $2,500 a year, while graduate students may borrow up to a total of $10,000, with no fixed annual maximum. The loans are to be repaid over a 10-year period following completion of the student's schooling, and can be obtained by any Minnesota resident who is registered or enrolled at an eligible institution in another state.

The legislature is to be commended for its foresight in approving this commendable program. When combined with our other state assistance programs, the new student loan program will make it possible for every Minnesota student to attend the school of his or her choice.

Legis Lative Letter

from ANDREW SKAAR
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

A bill is working its way through the legislative process which had been introduced eight years ago but due to past educational policy and philosophy was rejected. Since that time the environment around us has changed so dramatically that the bill passed out unanimously with no opposition.

The reasons for this complete turnabout cannot be clearly defined, but the mobility of families, suburban growth, movement out of the rural areas and our present shortage realization have had an influence.

The legislation I mentioned allows school districts to adopt a "Flexible School Year Program". This will only be enabling legislation with the final decision resting with the school district after adequate public informational meetings to the community.

The primary purpose is to allow school districts to evaluate, plans, four day week plans and any other plan if it meets requirements as defined by the state board.

A "Flexible School Year Program" can use the school buildings and facilities during the entire year or just provide forms of optional scheduling of pupils and personnel in our schools.

The question has long been, "Why are we stuck with such rigid schedule policy or why don't we use our facilities all year or most of the year?" This bill if passed will give the people engaged in the management of our schools the flexibility to answer these questions and develop new approaches in education.

The fuel crisis, overcrowding of school facilities and falling bond issues have plagued school management with unsolvable problems. This bill should not be used as a crutch to defeat a bonding proposal but only allow school management to perform their function when the people have responded negatively.

Senate Report

— by —

Senator Richard Fitzsimons
Minnesota District One

Most of the activity in the Senate this week has been in committee. Senate-House joint rules provided that a bill must be out of Committee of House of origin by March 2 to be acted on this session. This does not apply to finance and tax committees. More than 100 bills were moved out of committee in the Senate this week.

Visitors often ask me what are all the people doing around the Capitol and what bills are they testifying on? This week is a good example. A bill entitled the Milk Stabilization Act drew large delations of people this week. The Farm Bureau and the NFO opposed the bill, along with many consumer groups. The Farmer's Union, Minnesota commissioner of agriculture, Teamster's union, Land O' Lakes and most of the farm dairy cooperatives favored the bill. If the bill stays in its present form, I plan to support it.

On Thursday of last week, many people appeared in the Capitol supporting additional funding for day activity centers and state support for county health nursing services. I plan to vote for both of these measures as a member of the Senate finance committee.

Bills dealing with metropolitan problems always draw large crowds, particularly when there is a night meeting. One of the largest crowds of the week was in regard to a hearing on proposed changes in the rules and regulations regarding the drainage laws. I vigorously oppose many of these proposed rule changes as proposed by the department of natural resources.

Two of the major bills passed on the floor of the Senate dealt with eliminating state income taxes for low-income families and eliminating the 10 cents a pound tax on colored margarine. I supported both of these measures. In view of the fact there is a projected forty million dollar surplus in the estimated receipts at the end of the biennium, these measures seem well justified. The lowest income people in Minnesota will get a tax reduction and the only substantial tax on retail food will be removed. Indicatons are both bills face doubtful passage in the House.

On March 8, 1946, CAA granted the first commerical license for a helicopter; lincense NC-1H was issued for a Bell Model 47 two-place helicopter.

THE VOICE OF BUSINESS

by Arch N. Booth

Executive Vice President
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

WASHINGTON—The profits of the oil industry are going up, and a lot of people find it scandalous. The profits of the automobile industry are going down, but no one seems to care about that—except the laid-off workers and the stockholders of the automobile industry.

That's the way it always is with profits—they are going up for some businesses and down for others, all the time. The movement of profits in either direction performs a socially useful function, but it's obvious that very few people understand why.

The falling profits in the automobile industry are transmitting a message from the consumer to management: "Make fewer big cars and more small cars." Such a message will be far more effective than any government directive.

The rising profits in the automobile industry are transmitting a message from the consumer to management: "Make fewer big cars and more small cars." Such a message will be far more effective than any government directive.

The rising profits of oil industry are transmitting two messages: One to management, "Find more oil!" And one to potential investors, "Lend your money to people who are looking for oil; you may get a good return."

Left alone, the system will thus produce more oil, more small cars, and fewer big cars. The people who invest their money in providing what the consumer most wants and needs will get a reward—a high rate of return on their investment.

Two-Way Street

Notice that for the system to work, profit must be able to move—up and down. If rates of profit are limited by government to some arbitrary ceiling level, the balance-wheel mechanism of our economy will be either slowed or stopped completely, depending on the height of the ceiling. Why should anyone risk losing his savings on what might turn out to be a dry hole, if he can be assured of a similar rate of return in a guaranteed-safe bank account?

The sad fact is, we envy the man—or the company—that strikes it rich by furnishing what we want. And envy rapidly turns to resentment. We don't see the man or company that failed in the attempt—they fade away quickly.

What about the argument that "big companies" don't really risk anything? First, the Penn Central was a very big company.

Second, big companies are merely collections of thousands of individual stockholders. Some of the stockholders are wealthy and some are not. Some are institutions, like pension funds. The risk varies with the individual circumstances, but it is always present in some degree.

There is literally no way to define words like "fair," "reasonable," or "excessive" when applied to profits earned honestly in a competitive environment, even though businessmen themselves often misuse these terms.

If profits are high because demand is greater than supply, then sure as the sun rises, the high profits will bring forth either increased supplies or acceptable substitutes.

If supply is being restricted artificially—by a conspiracy to raise profits dishonestly—then the logical remedy is to break up the conspiracy and punish the conspirators. Trying to solve such a problem with a ceiling on profits is like trying to prevent speeders by lowering the speed limit.

The Veep Speaks

Vice President Ford recently discussed this subject with a Washington meeting of businessmen sponsored by the National Chamber and the National Association of Manufacturers.

He rapped our knuckles for failing to explain adequately the real functions of profit. We probably deserved it.

"Business must profit," he said, "because profit is required for research and development of new products; for exploration for new raw materials; for expansion of facilities that provide more jobs and lower prices through increased production; and as a reward to investors who have risked their savings in an enterprise.

"But the propaganda that's abroad in the land on the subject of profit doesn't mention these things.

"Instead, profit is pictured as a rip-off. It's denounced as exploitation. It's held up as something the bad guys steal from the good guys.

"In my view, the people who are hammering these notions into the national consciousness are playing a dangerous game."

TOP PRODUCTION by an individual cow earned a trophy from the Pennington DHIA for Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Swenson at the annual banquet Thursday evening in Thief River Falls. The Swenson's pace setting record for the 1,062 cows in the association was 786 pounds of butterfat. The Swenson herd also had a 767 pound producer which was fourth in the production parade.

TOP HERD AVERAGE trophy for the past year in the Pennington Dairy Herd Improvement association was awarded last week to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Nelson by Jerry Hamre, right, supervisor of the association. The Nelson herd averaged 633 pounds of butterfat per cow.

DHIA Awards Given At Annual Meeting

Awards for top producing herd, high individual cow and greatest increase in herd average were presented at the annual meeting of the Pennington county Dairy Herd Improvement association Thursday evening at the Anchor Inn in Thief River Falls. Jerry Hamre, supervisor, presented the awards.

Gene Nelson received the high herd average trophy for 633 pounds of butterfat while Clyde Swenson had the top producing cow with 786 pounds of butterfat in 305-day lactation. Merle Lundeen family herd won the trophy for greatest increase in herd average with growth of 77 pounds over a three-year period.

Annual report prepared by supervisor Jerry Hamre showed 30 cows on test during the year, including two dairymen who sold their cows at mid-year, and an additional dozen herds in the owner-sampler program. Eighty-two cows were on record with 600 pounds or more of butterfat produced in 305-day lactation completed during the year and an additional 76 produced from 560 to 599 pounds.

Gene Nelson's herd average of 633 pounds won the trophy since Clyde Swenson is reportedly selling his herd which topped the association with an average of 674 pounds. Following Nelson in the top 10 were Mylo Carlson, 599; Warren and Lowell Hamrick, 562; Donald Erickson, 558; Marlan Augustine, 541; Martin Hanson, 536; Knute Nesland, 533; Duane Krohn, 532; and James Muzzy, 518.

Other top producing cows behind Swenson's 786 pace setter were animals owned by Duane Vatsaas, 784 pounds of butterfat; Gene Nelson, 783; Swenson, 767; Mylo Carlson, 756; Warren and Lowell Hamrick, 751; Calvin Peterson, 739; Nelson, 729; Marlan Augustine, 723; and Clarence Swanson, 723.

Although the 26 official herds in the Pennington association averaged 485 pounds of butterfat per cow—slightly below the state DHIA average for 3,120 official herds of 491 pounds—income over feed cost of $585 was $20 over the state average of $565 per cow.

A year ago the state average was 485 pounds and the county average was only 459 pounds. State average of income over feed cost per cow was $478 and county income average was $494. In the county this year, value of product produced per cow among the top 10 dairymen ranged from $857 to $1,116 and income over feed cost varied from $624 to $857.

Financial statement of the association showed income during the year of $9,567 and expenses of $9,640. A beginning balance on hand of $1,389 and expenses to be paid of $289 left a cash balance at the end of the year of $1,028. Major expenses included supervisor's salary of $4,625, mileage of $1,800, agricultural extension service (computer time), $1,935, and taxes, $859.

Alphabetical list of members for the past year includes Marlan Augustine, Mylo Carlson, Orlando Chervestad and Son, Albert Chruscezch, Donald Erickson, Earl Erickson, Myron Erickson, Kermit Finstad,

Employ The Older Worker Week Set For March 10-16

March 10 through 16 has been designated as "Employ the Older Worker Week" in Minnesota, commissioner Emmet J. Cushing of the Minnesota Department of Employment Services announced recently.

Assistance is offered to older workers the year around, Cushing said, but during this special week, state employment service personnel will be making an exceptional effort to place these persons in suitable employment.

"The department's offices will intensify their efforts to acquaint older jobseekers with the special services available to them and to make employers aware of the advantages in hiring older workers who have developed skills and good work habits through years of experience on the job", Cushing said.

He noted each local office has at least one person who has received special training in dealing with the problems of middle-aged and older job-seekers. Many of these job seekers over 40 years of age are out of work because of automation, mergers, and cutbacks in employment.

"Many of them have been employed steadily for 20 years or more and have little idea how to make a systematic job search or how to sell themselves to an employer", Cushing said.

Some are retired individuals or housewives who have been forced to seek work because of the increased cost of living. Employers may find many of these people have skills which will make them useful as part-time help when seasonal or other factors cause temporary increases in work loads, Cushing said.

Employers with job openings and older workers seeking employment should contact the nearest state employment service office, Cushing said.

Office serving Thief River Falls area is located at 318 Knight avenue north in Thief River Falls.

MATERIALS NEEDED for installation of a goose nesting structure at Agassiz national wildlife refuge are transported to the site on a sled pulled behind a snowmobile. Thad Fuller, assistant manager at the refuge, prepares to unload the materials needed. Recently-adopted techniques make the task of placing nest sites easier, but it still requires a fair amount of physical labor.

Goose Nesting Structures Placed At Agassiz Refuge

Capt. Lloyd Rudd Will Supervise Patrol District

Thief River Falls' headquarters of the state highway patrol's northwestern district has a new supervisor, Captain Lloyd Rudd, a 22-year veteran of the department.

Rudd joined the patrol in 1952 and was assigned to the Fergus Falls area. He was promoted to sergeant in 1964 and assigned to the Mankato patrol district. In 1968 he made captain and moved to St. Paul where he was administrative services captain for three years in the central office.

For the past three years he has been in charge of the patrol's training section which handles in-service training for the department's 500 officers and recruit schools for new members.

A native of Laport, Rudd graduated from Laporte high school and attended Bemidji state college where he received a bachelor of science degree.

Captain Rudd and his wife Carol have two children, a son who will graduate from high school this June, and a 15-year old daughter. Rudd will come to Thief River Falls immediately to start in his new position and to find housing for his family.

Following spring graduation, the rest of his family will move to Thief River Falls where his daughter will attend high school and his son has applied to attend the area vocational-technical institute.

Schools Install Alarm System

Because of damage due to break-ins at local schools, the Thief River Falls schools have installed a building security alarm system, according to school officials.

Under the alarm system, an alarm is signalled in the police station whenever a forced entry is attempted in the buildings protected by the system.

Additions to a successful program of placing artificial goose nesting sites at Agassiz wildlife refuge pools have taken place this winter under the direction of Thad Fuller, assistant manager at the refuge. With the recent additions there are now 126 artificial structures located on the refuge.

Purpose of the artificial nest site provram is to increase the area goose flock. The man-made structures replace peat hummocks or muskrat houses as nest sites. Because of their location and design, they greatly reduce the probability of depredation from skunks, foxes and raccoons, thereby increasing the potential hatch.

From 1965 to 1971 statistics show that depredation on goose nests in natural locations averaged 10 per cent while losses on nests on the artificial structures was only four per cent. And acceptance of the artificial structures by the geese has also been increasing. Percentage of use from 1965 to 1971 averaged 33 per cent, but increased to 48 per cent in 1972 and 51 per cent in 1973. One goose—which wears a marking collar and is easily identified--has used the same nest structure for the past three years.

Fuller and Tom Atkins of the refuge staff have been conducting research in the artificial nesting program for the past several years and plan to publish their findings in the "Journal of Wildlife Management", a quarterly publication considered the standard among wildlife managment personnel.

Among their findings is that nesting material in the artificial structures has a defeinite bearing on hatching success. Flax straw was used to a larve degree at first and finds favor with geese. However, hatching success in the flax straw nests was low. Experimentation was then done with phragmites (cane) and cattail with the latter now being used almost exclusively.

With the coarser nest material used, geese pull more down for the nest bowl and eggs are better insulated during incubation. When the goose leaves the nest for short feeding periods the eggs are as likely to become chilled. Hatchability of eggs on the structures has since been increased.

In connection with the structure research, pre-hatch and post-hatch surveys are done each year by boat. About 60 to 70 structures are checked to determine percentage of use, Hatchability of eggs, number of sterile eggs and number of nests destroyed or deserted.

Innovation and change takes place in most fields, and the nesting structure program is no exception. First structures placed at Agassiz under the direction of manager Herb Dill in the early 1960's were heavy, four-legged, awkward structures that were difficult to install and often tipped when the ice went out in the spring. But they did show that artificial structures would be accepted and are credited with helping to increase the Agassiz refuge goose flock.

Present structures are more modern in appearance, easier to install and more functional in design. They consist of a fiberglas bowl (actually the rejected end of a manufactured fertilizer or herbicide tank) about 32 to 40 inches in diameter, a discarded disc from a farm implement, two sections of pipe and a few bolts.

The fiberglas bowl has holes drilled in the bottom to allow water to drain through and a cut-out in the side to serve as an "escape hatch" for the goslings. Goslings will leave the nest the same day if hatched in the morning or the next day if hatched late in the day. Since the goose pulls nest material to the center of the structure, goslings might not be able to escape over the edge of the bowl without the cut-out.

A pipe about two and one-half inches in diameter and eight to 10 feet in length is driven into the mud through a hole chopped in the ice in the winter. The second shorter length of pipe is welded to the implement disc on the convex

NESTING MATERIAL in the artificial goose nesting structures at Agassiz refuge is primarily cattail. Research by Thad Fuller (above) and Tom Atkins at the refuge has found that coarse nesting material causes the nesting goose to pull more down for the nest bowl, thereby better insulating the eggs and resulting in a better hatching percentage.

Marie Perreault Weds Stephen James Richard

Marriage vows were exchanged recently at the Assumption Catholic church in Richfield by Miss Marie Amanda Perreault of Minneapolis and Stephen James Richard of Bloomington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Perreault of Brooks. Parents of the groom are Mr and Mrs. Warren Richard of Bloomington.

Rev. Wayne Like and Dr Robert Dickson officiated at the double ring ceremony. Providing the nuptial music for the ceremony were friends of the couple: Miss Pat Lundeen, who served as organist, Steve Guthrie, the soloist, and Dan Solberg, the guitarist.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white organza featuring cotton lace trimming on the bodice and lantern sleeves. Wide matching laced edged her chapel-length mantilla. Complementing the high neckline was a cross pendant on a golden chain. She carried an arrangement of white carnations and yellow gladiolus florets.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Karen Otto. Bridesmaids were Kathy Richard, sister of the groom, and Cheryl Ethum, a friend. Their floor-length gowns were in beige and rust. Each carried a large yellow mum in a mist of babies' breath.

Serving the bride as her flower girl was her niece Sherri Perreault. The bride's personal attendant was Jean Richard, sister of the groom.

Dave Richard attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Dale Perreault, brother of the bride, and David Young, friend of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Perreault was attired in a royal blue floor-length gown complemented by a white mum corsage. A similar corsage was worn by the mother of the groom, who was attired in a turquoise floor-length gown.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the VFW club in Bloomington with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Perreault serving as host and hostess. Mrs. Debbie Perreault registered the guests. Punch was ladled by Carol Richard, sister of the groom, and DeEtte Walter, a friend of the bride.

Centering the reception table was a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow mums. The bride's sister, Mrs. Marilyn Marcotte, who baked and decorated the cake, cut and served it. Pouring were Lillian Perreault, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Veronica Boucher and Mrs. Muriel Davick, aunts of the couple. Attending the gift table was Mrs Debbie Richard, sister-in-law of the groom.

The newlyweds are now at home at 7700 Penn Avenue South, in Richfield. The bride is employed by the Prudential Insurance company and the groom is employed as a press operator by Control Data.

Local Residents Return From Caribbean Tour

Seven Thief River Falls residents returned home recently from a Caribbean cruise. They traveled with 125 members of the Sons of Norway and 100 non-members.

Taking the cruise were Mrs. Helen Bendickson, Mrs. Frank Heinze, Miss Olga Johnson, Mrs. Marie Kelly, Mrs. Lena Molstad, Mrs. Frances Oski and Miss Geneva Overum. The group traveled by bus to Minneapolis and from there flew to Caracao, a Dutch village. There they boarded the Greek ship, Regina Magna, owned by Onassis. The ship, once owned by France, was of special interest to Miss Johnson and Miss Overum as they had crossed the Atlantic on that boat in 1965, when they went to Bremenhaven, Germany.

Although they lived aboard ship while on the cruise, they visited many historical spots. Among them were Old San Juan, founded in 1521, Luquillo beach, the El Moro fortress built in 1539 with cannons still guarding the harbor, and the Guadeloupe, the French West Indies discovered by Columbus in 1493. At Basse Terre, they toured banana plantations and at Barbados, the sugar cane plantations, and they also saw St. Michael's cathedral where George Washington once worshipped.

Plans to visit Grenada with its spice plantations were cancelled due to national disturbance. However they visited Caracas, the capital of Venezuela, saw the Pantheon memorial for Venzuelan heros, the tomb of South American liberator Simon Bolivar, one of the first five-race tracks, a glass factory, and the Queen Emma bridge, the world's longest swinging pontoon bridge.

On the tour, they noted that gasoline was priced from 26 to 27 cents a gallon. Temperatures were 90 degrees in Caracas, Venezuela, 65 in Miami, Fla., 10 below in Minneapolis and 3 above in Thief River Falls. While in Caracas, there was a student demonstration with students pounding on the bus windows and shouting, "Go home Americans. Go home Yankees."

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

by Ellen M. Spray

Featuring recipes from the Kitchen of

Mrs. E. Omdahl
of Warren and Marathon, Fla.

The two men in the restaurant were discussing women in a very derogatory manner. They made no attempt to lower their voices even though there were women sitting at other tables and booths. Sitting at a table not too far from the men was a woman with curlers (or rollers) in her hair. She was the subject of conversation, together with "all women who are seen in public with thier hair in curlers". I looked at the men and decided that the one who was the most vehement should have been sitting at the same table as the woman. He hadn't shaved that day and his hair needed shampooing.

As the men continued their conversation, I recalled an event about five years ago. The evening was exceptionally warm, so typical of the type of weather we have in early June. But even so, the crowd was well dressed. Men and women alike had taken advantage of the special occasion by dressing in their finest spring fashions. The event was the graduation exercises at Lincoln high school, the highlight of the school year. As we sat there watching the arrival of friends and relatives and acknowledging the smiles of acquaintances, a woman entered. As the expression goes, "She stuck out like a sore thumb." Her hair was in curlers! If she had worn her hair perfectly straight or had her hair completely covered with a scarf, she wouldn't have been as conspicuous as she was with her head covered with curlers. I wondered what following event could have been of such great importance that she was getting ready for it by attending graduation exercises with curlers in her hair.

Hair is the crowning point of a person's appearance. In order to achieve a certain style, even in the casual-look, rollers are necessary. To wear them while sleeping is absolute torture, the degree of torture depending upon the type used. Some rollers have bristles and prick the head like needles, and others have plastic teeth that dig into the skull like a bed of nails. They come in various sizes and colors. To keep them in place, clips, picks and rubber bands are used. Some girls roll their hair on empty soup cans, tied in place with anklets. To avoid sleeping on the curlers, the women have begun to roll up their hair during the day. Women wear them to the grocery stores, on the streets, to the doctor's office, committee meetings, to church and to visit the sick at the hospital.

There are emergencies and circumstances that arise making it necessary for people to appear in public with their hair in rollers or without being shaved, but in most instances isn't it just a slovenly habit? Curlers do not add to anyone's appearance, nor does a day-old beard.

Today's recipe comes from Mrs. E. Omdahl of Warren, who is spending the winter months in Florida. She stated that she and her husband have been fishing almost every day and as a variety, she likes to make Deviled Fish cakes. Mrs. Omdahl is the former Stella Krankkala, who lived in this city until her marriage to Omdahl. Thanks Stella for sharing your recipe with the readers of Kitchen Karnival.

Deviled Fish Cakes

2 cups chopped fish fillets
1 large minced onion
1 tablespoon butter
one-third cup milk
½ cup cracker crumbs
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
one-eighth teaspoon pepper

Method: Boil chopped fillets for about five minutes. Cool. In a sauce pan saute onion in butter until transparent. Add milk, cracker crumbs, mustard, salt and pepper. When cool mix with cooled fish. Form into cakes and place in the refrigerator for an hour. This makes the cakes more firm and are easier to handle. Dip the cakes into beaten egg and roll in cracker crumbs. Store in refrigerator until ready to fry.

Mrs. Omdahl stated that these cakes can be made the day before they are to be used. She said that when she served the fish cakes, her menu usually consists of only toast and a salad.

The Omdahls live on a farm southeast of Warren. Although they have retired from farming and rented out the land, they enjoy living on the farm. Mrs. Omdahl enjoys gardening, raising flowers, knitting, fishing and gathering sea shells, for her various craft projects. Her three children attended school in Thief River Falls. Sam Krankkala is married and is employed by Magnetic Control company in Minneapolis; Susan and her husband Rodney Treague live in Manassas, Va., where she is a nurse in a hospital and her husband is employed by Continental Telephone company. They have three children. John Krankkala lives in Thief River Falls and is employed by Great Lakes Gas comtany.

Legion Auxiliary To Raise Funds To "Find" MIA's

Auxiliary members of the Thief River Falls American Legion post will be selling bracelets to raise funds to help return or account for the servicemen who are still missing in Vietnam. Bracelets will be on sale for $2.50 each tomorrow (Tuesday) through Thursday, from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., in the lobby of the municipal auditorium.

According to information supplied by Mrs. Ronald Chalmers, project chairman for the local auxiliary unit, nearly 1,300 men are still listed as missing in action in Vietnam. Pictures and official news releases provided by the North Vietnamese government positively identified a number of these men as prisoners shortly after they were captured. However, the Hanoi government presently refuses to disclose information concerning the fate of these men who have been captured but not released.

DECA Operates Free Child Care Center Thursday

Members of the Distributive Education clubs of America (DECA) chapters of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute (AVTI) and Lincoln high school operated a free child care center Thursday at the municipal auditorium. This service was provided to allow mothers to take advantage of the first day of Uff Da days sales promotion and to observe national DECA week.

Participation in DECA places students with local businessmen for on the job training. Therefore, operation of Thursday's child care center was also intended to thank local merchants for their cooperation with the DECA program.

The AVTI's student radio station, KAVS FM, produced live broadcasts from the auditorium Thursday, featuring music and interviews with the youngsters at the child care center. DECA members also entertained the children with toys and balloons.

American Host Program Needs Host Families

Thief River Falls area families are needed to entertain English-speaking European teachers as guests in their homes for a one or two week period this summer, it was announced today by the American Host program.

According to J. Stuart Perkins, board chairman of the program, Americn Host is one of the few nongovernmental programs designed to show the American way-of-life to foreign teachers by pairing them with American families.

Now in its twelfth year, American Host has opened doors to better understanding for more than 5,000 European teachers who have passed on their new understanding to their students, colleagues and friends.

Perkins said that being a "host family" is open to anyone who has the desire to increase understanding and friendship between Americans and Europeans. Hot families are required to provide a private room, meals for their guest, the opportunity to meet their friends, neighbors and perhaps fellow teachers and to see some of the points of interest in the area.

American Host arranges all transporation. Host families are asked to meet their guest upon arrival in their area. Teachers and host families have an opportunity to correspond for at least a month before meeting.

Arrangements for participating as a host family can be made by writing to: The American Host Program, Hotel Commodore, Suite 2100, New York, New York 10017, or calling (212) 683-6567 by March 20.

Cuppett Learns To Read Printed Material At BSC

Terry Cuppett of Thief River Falls is the first of four blind students at Bemidji state college to be trained in the use of a new optical reading system called an optacon. This device, which resembles a cassette tape recorder, actually enables a blind person to read books and other printed material used by persons with normal sight.

The device incorporates a very small camera to scan printed material, translating images through vibratory pins which the user touches to read. The optacon can operate on a battery as well as a standard outlet and is small enough to be carried on a shoulder strap. Its portability makes the optacon suitable for use anywhere including while "browsing" in a library.

Only about 400 optacons have been built and Bemidji state college owns two of them, making BSC one of only three schools in the United States providing training in the use of these devices. Funding for the optacon program is limited and not sufficient to allow expansion of the program.

Without enough money to purchase additional optacons it would be difficult to make this training available to more blind students. However, Miss Cuppett and the other three students using the optacon are apparently convinced of the instrument's value. According to a recent article in the Northern Student, BSC newspaper, these blind students would each like to be able to afford an optacon of their own.

Miss Cuppett might be expected to make full use of her optacon assisted reading skills. She is majoring in English and plans to become a teacher. In addition, as the first student to receive training on the optacon, she is assisting in the instruction of other blind students learning to use the device.

Federal Crop Insurance Given For Four Crops

Federal crop insurance program for Pennington county in 1974 will include barley, flax, oats and wheat, according to Amos D. Larson, F.C.I.C. agent for the county.

Drouth was the greatest cause for losses last year under the federal crop insurance program, in the Red River Valley area, according to Larson. Wheat was the hardest hit crop in the valley last year. Hail losses were also common.

Payments to Minnesota farmers last year are expected to go over $900,000, Larson said. A cool, wet spring resulting in late planting with excess moisture were responsible for the greatest losses.

Federal crop insurance covers all unavoidable causes of loss. These include drought, excess moisture, wind, hail, freeze, insects, disease (including blight) and other hazards.

New applications for protection under the federal crop insurance program in Pennington county can be made at the agent's office at PKM building in Warren.

Opening Wednesday, March 27, at Met center, Bloomington, for 18 performances through Sunday, April 7, the 38th annual edition of Ice Follies includes new faces and old favorites in "Salute to America."

Brightest new talent is Janet Lynn, considered one of the finest and most popular free skaters of all time, in her professional debut in the Upper Midwest. Other new comers for 1974 are Viennese ice mime Hans Leiter, Canadian artists Jay Humphry and Suzanne Russel and the ice adagio duo of Nancy and Leandre.

The "old favorite" category includes Mr. Frick, dean of skating comics, Richard Dwyer, Susan Berens, Karen Kresge, Atoy Wilson, the Ice Folliettes, and Snoopy.

Comedy is liberally represented by the Funsters, a trio of acrobatic wonders in a takeoff on TV's Munster kamily; the zany Scarecrows and their Keystone Kops antics; Hans Leiter as a mirth-provoking Captain Bligh; and Mr. Frick.

Tickets are priced at $4, $5 and $6, with $1 discount for students 16 and under. QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Q—I understand the Veterans Administration is paying a record dividend this year on "V"-prefixed National Service Life Insurance and "K"-prefixed U.S. Government Life Insurance policies. When may I expect the dividend on my NSLI policy?

A—Your dividend is payable on the anniversary date of your NSLI policy, and no application is necessary. If you have elected to buy paid-up insurance with your dividends, you will get a statement of your account rather than a check. Dividends amounting to $303.8 million are payable throughout 1974 on anniversary dates of policies carried by 3.9 million eligible veterans.

BSC Laboratory School To Close At End Of Year

Bemidji state college laboratory school will be closed at the end of this academic year as a result of recent Minnesota state college board (MSCB) action.

At one time an integral part of the BSC teacher education program, the "lab school" had more recently become a model school that provided educators with a controlled laboratory in which demonstrations and research on new concepts of education could be conducted.

Dr. Richard Beitzel, vice president of academic affairs and executive V.P. at BSC said of the closing, "There were several circumstances leading up to this MSCB decision, but the main reason for the closing is financial. Also, at one time our lab school was a model of individualized instruction for area educators, but now area school systems have adopted individual instruction and the lab school as a model is of less significance."

Beitzel and BSC president Dr. R. D. Decker had words of praise for the staff of the lab school, indicating that the school was an effective, efficiently operated experimental school.

"Dr. Gerald Nelson and his staff have done an excellent job in updating and carrying out goals," Dr. Decker stated. "The closing of the school is no reflection whatsoever on their effectiveness."

Bemidji public schools will absorb the elementary students who attended the lab school and the classrooms will be used for college classes.

The closing of the lab school will not affect the teacher education program at the college, nor will it affect those instructors who were not involved in the operation of the laboratory school.

IRS Collection Process Booklet Now Available

A new internal revenue service publication explaining the collection process for past due income taxes may now be obtained free of charge from its local offices, the IRS announced recently.

The publication, "The Collection Process (Income Tax Accounts)," also known as IRS publication 586, is specially designed to explain the rights and duties of taxpayers owing bills for taxes.

While the booklet explains how the IRS fulfills its obligation to collect overdue taxes, the publication is not intended to be a precise technical analysis of collection rules, the IRS said.

The 12-page publication covers: liability for unpaid taxes and notices to taxpayers, payment procedures, enforced collection policy, levies, seizures and sales, federal tax liens, claim procedures and taxpayers' rights. The booklet also contains a flow chart depicting the procedure for collecting delinquent taxes and a detailed index to the topics covered.

'U' Police Begin Training For Aid Of Rape Victims

University of Minnesota police department has put into motion a training program to help its officers understand the problems of victims of sexual assault.

According to police chief Eugene Wilson, the program will emphasize the victim rather than the crime and is already underway.

As part of each police officer's in-service training, relevant films will be shown and speakers experienced in rape counseling and the problems of the rape victim will be brought in.

Four newly appointed police officers, one male and three female, will spend several days at the rape counseling center in Minneapolis as part of their training. Another week will be spent working with the members of the Minneapolis police department's sex division, one of the best in the country, according to Wilson.

Wilson said the university's police department has also been invited to participate in Minneapolis police department training sessions by Minneapolis Police Chief Jack McCarthy.

Auto Buyers Or Sellers May Use Mileage Forms

Mileage disclosure statement forms are available from the Minnesota Department of Public Safety for use by persons selling or buying a motor vehicle in Minnesota.

By federal and state law, a vehicle's mileage must be disclosed in writing and signed by the seller at the time of transfer of a motor vehicle. The purpose of the statement is to certify to the buyer the true mileage of the vehicle. If the true mileage is not known, this must be indicated by the seller. The statement must be signed by the seller and include the make, model, body type, vehicle identification number and last registration plate of the vehicle.

To facilitate satisfaction of these requirements, a form is available which must be signed by both the buyer and the seller. It is available through all deputy registrars in Minnesota or by writing to the Minnesota Department of Public Safety, State Highway Building, St. Paul 55155.

If the odometer (mileage) disclosure statement form is used, the seller and buyer each retain a copy. It is not to be filed with the vehicle's title application.

Exempted from this requirement are vehicles rated at 16,000 pounds or more gross weight, vehicles 25 years or more old, and trailers.

Under the state disclosure statute, it is a gross misdemeanor to disconnect or alter an odometer to reflect a lower mileage, with intent to defraud.

Minn. Goods To Be Promoted In Canadian Areas

Canadian markets for Minnesota's manufactured goods will be promoted by a unique department of economic development (DED) microfilm project this June.

The department plans to exhibit Minnesota product literature for Canadian businessmen by means of a microfiche viewer placed in the U.S. consulates in Toronto, Ontario and Winnipeg, Manitoba. Full-size copies of the product information will be made available to Canadians by means of the viewer's internal copying system.

The promotion, presently scheduled for June 10-12 in Toronto and June 13-14 in Winnipeg, is available to Minnesota firms interested in locating Canadian distributors or sales representatives.

At no cost to the participating companies, DED will microfilm their product literature, catalog it and present it to potential Canadian representatives and distributors.

Preliminary DED analysis of current needs in the Canadian market indicates that, although virtually all Minnesota products can be merchandised there, Winnipeg buyers may be particularly intersted in agricultural and recreational products, with Tornoto buyers most interested in material handling equipment, instrumentaion and business equipment.

Minnesota companies interested in the project should contact the World Trade Desk, Department of Economic Development, 480 Cedar Street, St. Paul, Mn. 55101. Each firm will be requested to complete a form providing general company information and marketing needs and to supply six copies of its product literature. This material must be made available to DED no later than March 25, 1974, for inclusion in the June project.

Diabetics Given New Kidneys At U of M Hospital

Kidney transplantation, a last-ditch treatment for diabetic uremia, has proven successful for 75 per cent of those diabetics transplanted at University of Minnesota hospitals.

According to Dr. John Najarian, chairman of the surgery department, diabetics usually make poor transplant recipients because they don't tolerate anti-rejection drugs, they have a low resistance to infection, and their surgical wounds don't heal very rapidly.

About two-thirds of the diabetics who have received kidneys at the university have been totally rehabilitated, Najarian said. Deteriorating eyesight has stabilized and other complications have improved in the rest.

There are an estimated five million diabetics in the country and possibly another five million undiagnosed cases. About one-third of all insulin-dependent diabetics die of kidney failure between the ages of 20 and 40, according to Najarian.

When a series of experimental pancreas transplants for diabetics in renal failure at University hospitals raised the possibility that a simultaneous kidney transplant would also be helpful, 10 such double transplants were done.

These transplants proved medically feasible but too stressful for the patient to be done routinely, Najarian said.

University transplant surgeons then began a series of single kidney transplants on diabetic patients—the first and only such program in the country to accept these high-risk patients.

To date, 53 diabetics have received 59 transplanted kidneys and 38 still have functioning kidneys. Since renal failure, as a complication of diabetes, usually occurs about 20 years after the disease's first appearance, most of the recipients were in their 30s, Najairian said.

Kidneys from living related donors were twice as successful as kidneys from cadavers. Transplants in women recipeints were twice as successful as transplants in men, possibly because of more advanced hardening of the arteries in men, Najarian said.

Potential recipients have been turned down only because they were over 50 years of age or because they had a combination of complications from their diabetes. However, blindness or a previous heart attack alone are not enough for disqualification, he said.

The actual transplant procedure is the same as that used for non-diabetics. Najarian said the patients' surgical wounds heal more slowly and their blood sugar levels must be checked every six hours for four days after the operation.

The recipients' insulin requirements may double after getting a new kidney because of the return to normal kidney function and the steroid drugs taken to prevent rejection.

A four year follow-up of the diabetic transplants has shown that none of the recipients have recurrent infections, further vision deterioration, or continued severe hypertension and have shown considerable improvement with other complications such as an inability to walk.

"The ultimate therapeutic value of kidney transplantaton for the diabetic in renal failure remains to be determined," Najarian said, "but we do not feel they should be categorically excluded from kidney transplantation."

DRIVING A PIPE into the mud beneath the ice at Agassiz refuge may sound like a soft job, but after the first foot or so the going gets tough. The pipe is driven several feet into the ground and the nesting structure attached in a position well above the expected high water mark.

Goose Nesting Sites Placed At Agassiz Refuge

side and is of a size to slip over the pipe driven into the mud. The disc serves as a base for the fiberglas bowl which is fastened to the disc by six small bolts. Two bolts are also placed in the sleeve pipe to regulate the height of the nest if necessary.

Height of the nest above water line does not seem to be of any significance to the geese or goslings, although the goslings must drop to the water. There are records of geese at Jackson Hole, Wyo., nesting in an osprey nest in a Douglas fir tree 80 feet above the water. That makes a long first step for a downy gosling.

Placement of the structures is important if personnel are to expect them to be used. They must keep the preference f geese in mind in selecting a location. Geese establish a territory for nesting and do not accept crowding conditions. A loafing site for the gander within sight of the nest is also a necessity.

If geese do not use a nest site it does not always go to waste. Ducks will frequently take advantage of the housing project and set up eggkeeping in the structures.

"It would be easiest to put out the structures shortly after freeze-up before the ice gets too thick and the ground underneath is frozen," Fuller said. "But it seems like there are too many other things to do and it always gets left until February or March. With the new type of structures it is still a lot easier than it used to be."

Geese should be returning to the refuge soon on their spring migration. When they arrive they will find the housing situation improved and ready for their use. Several similar structures are also being placed this year at the state-owned Thief Lake wildlife management area.

Gas Prices Rise In Minnesota For Past Week

Average price of regular gasoline jumped more than two cents per gallon this past week, according to the Minnesota state automobile association and the Minneapolis and St. Paul auto clubs. But supplies of fuel around the state appear to be stable with nearly 80 per cent of the stations surveyed reporting adequate or improving supplies of gas.

In its newly expanded survey of 86 service stations throughout the state, the motoring organization found the average price for regular gasoline was 51.2 cents, up from 48.9 cents for the week before. The average price for premium gasoline was 55.2 cents, up from 52.6 cents the week before.

About 20 per cent of the stations reported their gasoline supply would become worse in the coming weeks due to cuts in allocations of up to 63 per cent over the same period last year. However, nearly an equal number of stations reported improvements in the supply outlook and increases in their monthly allocations.

The number of stations open on Sunday increased this past week to about 21 per cent, nearly double the number reported open shortly after the first of the year. About 15 per cent of the stations contiue to limit sales of gasoline, a figure which has remained fairly constant throughout the gas crunch in Minnesota. Most of the stations limiting sales are located in Minneapolis, the survey showed.

Hours of operation have stabilized with more than 60 per cent of the stations staying open past 7 p.m. on weekdays and Saturdays. None of the stations surveyed reported it was out of gasoline.

Litter Clean-Up Along Highways Costs $742,275

Removal of debris from Minnesota's trunk highways in 1973 cost road users a whopping $742,275, eclipsing the 1972 figure by nearly 28 per cent and marking a new high in delittering. The clean-up cost for 1972 was $580,563.

In describing the litter pick-up on state highway right of way, Edward J. Heinen, assistant state highway commissioner for operations, said that the trash removed last year would fill all the dumptrucks lined bumper to bumper on a roadway a length of 40 miles.

"That is a lot of litter thoughtlessly thrown on our roadsides which is unsightly and polluting in effect, costly in terms of removal and can be hazardous to the motorist."

Debris that clogs ditches and culverts can cause excess water to wash onto highway lanes in heavy rainfall, he explained. Other kinds of litter can be blown by strong winds in front of vehicles, obscuring the line of sight for the driver.

The clean up after litterbugs last year required 180,065 manhours of work and 49,649 "truck hours" in collecting and hauling of 11,632 loads, according to a summary of reports from the nine districts of the state highway department. The $742,275 cost figure does not include dump fees and administrative overhead.

Heinen commended the many youth groups, service clubs and community organizations whose clean-up projects were major contributions in removing debris from highway right of way, wayside parks and rest areas.

"By their efforts, these people are helping to keep our state attractive and are making the people of Minnesota aware of what litter does to the environment," Heinen asserted.

Minn. Plant Food Association To Hold Conference

A series of four area safety conferences on the proper storage and handling of a critically short and hazardous fertilizer, anhydrous ammonia, will be co-sponsored this month by the Minnesota plant food association and the Minnesota department of agriculture.

One of the conferences is scheduled for March 19 at the Upper Deck in Crookston.

Personnel of Minnesota's 500 licensed fertilizer dealers and farmers who self-apply anhydrous ammonia are invited to participate in the training sessions offered in compliance with the occupational safety and health act.

Presentations will focus both on prevention of accidents and conservation of short supplies of the essential nitrogen fertilizer used in food production.

Anhydrous ammonia is a noxious gas that can cause serious burn type injuries upon contact with humans or animals. Several personal injury accidents recorded each year have been attributed to improper handling procedures, according to Leo Lehn, state fertilizer industry supervisor who will be one of the conference speakers.

The conference will start at 12:30 p.m. and last approximately four hours. Registration fees of $4 for members and $6 for nonmembers will include all manuals and literature supplied for the training session and future reference.

There will also be numerous antique items, handicrafts, knitting, sewing, crocheting, children's art, original art including paintings in various mediums, ceramic works and senior citizens handicrafts.

Demonstrations will also be given again this year—since so many people have expressed interest in them.

IT'S ONLY A HOLE, perhaps three feet across and about eight or 10 inches deep, but it is becoming a source of irritation as well as a safety hazard for people who drive the airport road. The hole has remained unattended for well over a week and is located in the east traffic lane, directly west of the Land O'Lakes turkey processing plant. To avoid hitting the hole, drivers must swerve into the left traffic lane or attempt to straddle it with their vehicles. City street department officials state that airport road maintenance is a county responsibility.

IRS Says This Is Good Time To File Tax Return

Now is a good time for everyone throughout the state to get their tax returns filed.

Over 400,000 returns have already been filed and the Internal Revenue Service says that the first rush of returns is over. If you have questions, they can help you now better than when the next rush starts.

The earlier you prepare your return, and check it over, the less likely you are to make the little mistakes that cause delays.

Only 6.6 per cent of the returns filed so far this year have errors that delay processing, but that means 14,236 Minnesotans have made simple addition errors, more than 10,000 have entered figures on the wrong line, and 2,100 have made other errors such as filing status mistakes, etc.

So get the figuring done now, check it over, and if you have questions, call the IRS—in the Twin Cities area call 291-1422—outstate call 800-652-9062.

Thought For The Day

Today, as well as each day of the past, we are living a life of choices. Choosing is an important step in a person's life. If you want to be a winner in life, you must be a chooser. Vince Lombardi, a former Green Bay Packer coach, used to say: "Winning isn't everything; its the only thing."

Life is choosing everyday. Joshua said: "Choose you this day whom ye will serve." Each day of our life we are faced with minor choices and major choices. Are these major choices the most important issues in life? Perhaps it is the day by day choices that either build or destroy your life.

When people are faced with the question: "Where did I go wrong?", could it be that it was those everyday choices they made that destroyed them, rather than their major choices. For example, if a liar asked himself where he went wrong, the answer would have to be, "It was the first time I chose to tell a lie." The same answer would apply to a drug addict, an alcoholic or a thief.

Well, how can a person be certain of his choice? It is simple. Begin each day by turning to the Lord. This means we must choose each day to read His Word and talk to Him.

That City Election

As this is being written, final passage of special legislation in St. Paul to permit an election for Thief River Falls council vacancies has not yet been accomplished. But the approval is expected to take place soon and the governor's signature is virtually assured.

With those prerequisites out of the way, the city council can proceed with arrangements for a special election to fill the unexpired terms of the late Arthur Rambeck, alderman at large, and William Froiland, alderman from the fourth ward. There is reportedly interest in both positions by persons who would seek election.

We believe the council has made a wise choice in seeking special legislation to permit the election. With two four-year terms at stake, the electorate should be permitted to select its representatives through the ballot box. This is not to say the existing council would not make good appointments, because it likely would, but the average voter would feel left out of the decision and probably be overly critical of any selection made.

Yes, it will cost the city some money to hold a special election, but we believe the situation warrants the expense. With the enabling legislation almost a certainty to be granted, the council could well lay the groundwork right now and be ready to hold the election as soon as legally possible following adoption and acceptance of the bill.

Potential candidates can begin now to solidify their thinking and support with the knowledge that the election will come soon. They will then be ready to make their move when the time comes.

Percy For President?

Following editorial is from the Rochester Post-Bulletin:

Sen. Charles Percy has all but tossed his hat into the ring with his announcement that "I am seriously intersted in running for the presidency."

The Illinois Republican added that "whether or not I actually make the race remains to be decided but I am not going to deny my interest or conceal our preparation."

That's a more refreshing attitude than the traditional one being displayed by former Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who is running even harder than Percy but continuing to say he'll make no decision on whether to seek the Republican presidential nomination until the latter part of 1975.

Whether Percy's candor, or Rockefeller's lack of it, will cut much ice with the conservative wing of the Grand Old Party is doubtful. Of the two, the old liberal, Rocky, would probably be less distasteful to the conservatives than the youngish liberal, Percy.

Be that as it may, and it's a good ways off, Sen. Percy did have some words of wisdom for his party which hopefully won't be ignored. Speaking about the Watergate scandals, he predicted that if Republicans do nothing "but wring our hands over the burden of Watergate...we shall lose elections from Bangor to San Diego."

And then this: "In no way, shape or form is Watergate what the Republican party is all about, and we better make damn sure that the American people understand it or our party will be paying for that third-rate burglary for decades to come."

Not just the Republican interest, but indeed the public interest, will be served by articulate, energetic Republican spokesmen making those very points in the 1974 congressional elections and in the 1976 elections.

It's far to early to analyze Chuck Percy's potential for the GOP presidential nomination, but we think he's got the right attitude.

More On Letters

In the past several weeks we have once again received a few letters for our public opinion column which we have been unable to use for one reason or another. For the benefit of those who would like to express their opinions through our public opinion column—and we encourage such activity—we again call attention to our policy on letters to the editor:

STATEMENT OF POLICY

(1) All letters intended for publication in the Public Opinion or Letters to the Editor column must be signed and the identity of the writer known to the Times. Address and telephone number of the writer should be included with the signature to enable the Times to verify that the signature is actually that of the writer.

(2) The Times has a strong preference that signatures of letter writers appear with the letters when they are published. To encourage the timid, names will be withheld from publication upon request. However, names of letter writers will be made available upon request to persons who, in the opinion of the editor, have a legitimate interest in knowning the identity of the writer.

(3) Political opinion may be expressed in letters to the editor, but letters endorsing or promoting candidates for political office will not be accepted.

(4) Mimeographed or printed letters intended for publication in a number of papers will not be accepted.

(5) Letters should be in good taste and of moderate length. The editor reserves the right to condense lengthy letters and to make corrections in grammar and spelling when necessary.

(6) Attempt will be made to comply with requests for inclusion of letters to the editor in the issue specified by the writer, but no guarantee is given that such request can be honored.

We feel this policy to be fair to all concerned and not unduly restrictive. Since we are responsible for everything printed in our paper, we must assure proper safeguards. By the same token, we want to give our letter writers as much individual freedom as is consistent with responsible journalism.

Several weeks ago we received a letter brought to the office and left at the counter. It was signed with a first initial and last name but no address or telephone number. Our attempts to locate the writer by phone—which involved calling a number of people whose last names were the same as the signature—failed to find the writer. As a result, we chose not to use the letter which our readers could have mistakenly attributed to the wrong source.

Similar situations have occurred on a number of occasions and letters which could well have been used have had to be rejected.

So, keep those letters coming—but sign them and identify yourself with an address or telephone number where the signature can be verified.

Now, About Arithmetic

Following editorial is from the Grant County Review at Milbank, S.D.:

Modern math, we understand, is on its way out in the local elementary school. According to Junior High Principal A. B. Campbell, the school administration and faculty are now busily studying textbooks in math, preparatory to introducing standard arithmetic in Koch school next year.

The reason, according to Campbell, is that too many students are coming into Junior High without a competency in math. He blames the national anxiety over the Russian's launch of sputnik for the emphasis that was put on the modern math. It was part of an effort to create graduates who would be better trained in science and space age technology.

There are still those who will sing the praises of modern math. For some students, properly taught, it may have its advantages. However, some pretty authoritative tests—not made locally—have indicated that students who learned two plus two equaled four ended up with a better knowledge of math than those who studied the modern method.

No matter what the conclusions in this controversial subject are, we are happy to see that locally there will be a return to teaching arithmetic in a practical way which will help students to come up with the answers. More emphasis on spelling and reading would not be amiss, either.

Borrowed Nonsense

"This set of books can answer all of the questions your children ask," boasted the encyclopedia salesman. "Why not have one of the youngsters ask a question?"

"Look up in your book," one of the wide-eyed youngsters replied, "and see what make of car God drives."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

An Open Letter to the People of Thief River Falls.

I would like to use this means of communication to express my sincere appreciation to the people of Thief River Falls and the surrounding area for the support you have shown our basketball team during the past season.

When I was considering taking this position, I was informed that the people here thought basketball was played with a stick and a piece of rubber, and that we would never have community interest.

You have proved to me, this year, that you will support a team that will give you an exciting and entertaining game in exchange for the price of your admission ticket.

We hope to continue to supply an exciting brand of basketball at Northland Community college and we also hope to have your continued support in the future.

Once again "Thank you." Your support was appreciated.

Sincerely,
Chet Engelman
Head Basketball Coach

To the Editor:

I was a spectator at the regional swimming tournament held in Fergus Falls on February 22 and 23. I would like to compliment your school on your swimming team. Their performance was outstanding and they behaved very well.

However, they had no uniform swimming suits and they had the shabbiest warm-ups of the 18 teams there. Can't your school provide adequate warm-ups and swimming suits for your swimming team? Does your hockey team play in blue jeans?

Weekly ℞ HEALTH TIP

Persons on a low sodium diet should avoid drinking softened water. Most water softeners use sodium salts to remove the hard calcium salts — this increases the natural sodium content of the softened water. The answer to the problem is to connect the water softener into the pipe to the water heater only for laundry purposes, leaving the cold water hard and of natural sodium content for drinking, lawn watering, etc.

Although some schools, Crookston and East Grand Forks in particular, may not have likened the end results, last week's district 31 basketball tournament held in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks was perhaps the most entertaining district tournament in recent years.

Unlike predictable past years when the larger district schools ran roughsod over the small sub district teams, this year's remarkable results were refreshing as sub district schools Goodridge, Alvarado and Fisher all made strong accounts of themselves against the heavily favored large schools.

The tournament's startling first night reults in which Alvarado knocked off defending champion Crookston 55-49 and Goodridge beat East Grand Forks 52-41 set the stage for this year's unpredicatable tournament. Goodridge proved itself to be for real and not just a one game wonder by following its' win over East Grand Forks with a 64-59 victory over a strong Alvarado team in the semifinals and then pushing Thief River Falls in the championship game before falling 58-50. Fisher followed a 54-42 conquest of district school Warren in the first round with a strong semifinal effort against Thief River Falls before losing 53-51.

There were no one-sided games in the entire tournament outside of Thief River Falls' 65-44 first round win over Oslo. Although some of the other final point spreads weren't extremely close, the other seven games were all closely played contests that kept the crowds in place throughout the tournament.

Lincoln high school senior Tony Dorn received a pair of football-related honors last week.

Dorn, a 210 pound offensive and defensive tackle on last fall's Prowler football team, was named as an honorable mention pick to a high school All-American team announced by "Scholastic Coach," a national high school coaches' magazine. Bemidji end Stan Drew was also an honorable mention choice on the team. Ross Baglien, Minneapolis Washburn's outstanding runningback, was the only Minnesotan named to the "Scholastic Coach" All-American first team.

It was also announced that Dorn will appear in the 1973-74 "Prep All-America Football Yearbook," another national publication.

Also scheduled to appear in the "Prep All-America Football Yearbook," a Who's Who type of recognition, are Ward Arntson and Louis Martell of Plummer.

The area trio's selection to the prep honor roll, makes them eligible for the magazine's national awards—the prep 100 squad, the super eleven team and Cum Laude. The national finalists will be announced in the March issue of the "Coach and Athlete" magazine.

Lincoln high school and University of North Dakota graduate Sheldon Joppru of Thief River Falls signed a professional football contract with the Detroit Wheels of the newly crated World Football League which will begin its first season of operation this summer.

Joppru was an all-state selection in both football and basketball at Lincoln and was a first time all-conference pick in his senior year at North Dakota as a wide receiver. Last season Joppru played semi-pro football in Michigan.

Mahnomen Captures District 30 Crown

Mahnomen repeated as district 30 basketball titlist Friday with a 68-41 decision over Waubun in the Crookston Central gym.

The championship game win over the Bombers gave the Indians their second straight district 30 crown and advanced the defending region eight champions into this week's region tournament in Grand Forks.

Mahnomen jumped out to an 18-7 first quarter lead and was never headed by the over matched Waubun quint. Mahnomen led 30-21 at halftime and 47-37 heading into the fourth quarter.

Veteran Mahnomen guard Guy Strandemo took home game scoring honors with 25 points while teammates Frank Thompson and Ron Schafer added 15 and 12 points respectively. Pete Christofferson led Waubun in scoring with 20 points.

In its district championship quest Mahnomen defeated Fosston 67-54 in a first round encounter and added an 82-73 semifinal win over Halstad before beating Waubun.

Allowing Minnesotans aged 18 to 21 to consume alcoholic drinks legally has not increased the involvement of youthful drinking drivers in fatal traffic crashes. This is the conclusion indicated by a public safety department comparison of such crashes during the last six months of 1973, when it was legal.

With a substantially larger involvement of under-21 drivers in fatal crashes in 1973 than in 1972, there were fewer drinking drivers and about half as many intoxicated drivers during the period when under-21 drinking was legal.

Prowlers Win District 31 Title 58-50

Thief River Falls outlasted scrappy Goodridge 58-50 Friday in the championship game of the 1974 district 31 basketball tournament played in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks, giving the Prowlers their first district title since 1969.

The victory marked the first district crown claimed by Prowler head coach Lee Swanson who watched his teams return home with empty consolation honors in two previous district tournaments, and will send Thief River Falls into this weekend's region eight tournament scheduled to be held Friday and Saturay in the spacious UND fieldhouse.

The loss snapped a miracle Goodridge tournament showing that found the continual underdog Huskies rebound from an unimpressive 9-9 regular season with supreme tournament performances that netted coach Mike Borman's quint runner-up finishes in both the sub district and district tournaments.

Goodridge, making only its second district championship game appearance in history, started the contest in impressive fashion by out-hustling the slow starting Prowlers and building early first quarter leads of 4-0, 6-2 and 8-4.

After connecting on just two of eight attempts from the floor in the game's first six minutes, the Thief River Falls offense suddenly jelled for 10 straight points and the Prowlers were never again headed.

A long base line jump shot by Randy Dallmann ignited the Thief River Falls scoring streak. Dallas Kemmer followed Dallmann with a twisting diving lay-up, Wayne Peterson banked in a rebound shot, Kemmer potted a pair of free throws and Peterson scored from close range to complete the Prowler offensive display with Thief River Falls sitting on a 14-8 lead with 25 seconds remaining.

A driving lay-up by Goodridge forward Tom Bendickson crawled over the rim with 10 seconds left to cut the Prowler lead to 14-10 at the first quarter stop.

Howard Vigen drilled a short jump shot while on the run to open the second quarter scoring, slicing the Prowler margin to only 14-12, but Thief River Falls promptly fashioned together another scoring spurt to zoom in front 22-12 midway through the period.

Two Kemmer free throws began the second Prowler offensive thrust. Peterson followed by putting a rebound shot back in, Kemmer then hit from 15 feet and Duane Dicken scored on a driving lay-up to give the Prowlers a 10 point cushion.

The two teams traded baskets the rest of the quarter with a single Dicken free throw providing the Prowlers with their biggest lead of 29-18 with 16 seconds remaining, but Goodridge guard Arden Hyland connected from medium range with five seconds left to knock the difference back to 29-20 at halftime.

Vigen and Hyland both scored in the first 30 seconds of the second half to quickly shave the Thief River Falls lead to only 29-24, but the Prowler rebounding domination, which began to take its toll on the smaller Huskies in the second quarter and eventually led to a whopping 41-26 difference, carried through into the third period as the Prowlers rapped in four fast break buckets to jump into a 13 point 37-24 lead with 4:55 remaining.

Peterson used his 6-6 frame to score a pair of close-in two-pointers near the six minute mark of the third quarter to give the Prowlers their biggest lead of the ball game, 43-28, over the reeling Huskies.

The never-say-die Huskies battled back into contention by the third quarter break, however, as Bendickson, Vigen and Bendickson again pumped in three straight long range bombs and Don Grabowska connected from close range in just a one minute's time to slice the difference to just 43-37.

Kemmer gave the Prowlers breathing room at the start of the hectic fourth quarter by scoring twice from the field for a 47-36 edge with 6:48 remaining.

Grabowska and Sandahl matched each other's baskets for a 48-38 margin before Goodridge really excited the fieldhouse crowd by rattling off eight straight points against the Prowlers, who were trying to employ stall tactics, to pull within 49-46 with still 2:15 to play.

Fast break buckets by Vigen and Gary Satre started the Goodridge fourth quarter rally before Vigen tossed in a rebound shot and Bendickson canned a pair of free throws to force a Prowler time out.

Thief River Falls then iced the game by scoring the next five points from the free throw line. Dicken, Sandahl and Peterson all sank crucial gift shots to push the Prowlers in front 54-46 with only 56 seconds remaining.

The two Pennington county schools traded points the rest of the way for the 58-50 final.

A pair of technical fouls clamped on the Huskies by erratic officials Dorlan Lybeck and Jerry Harter in the game's final two minutes stymied the Goodridge comeback hopes. After ignoring seemingly obvious fouls by both teams, throughout the game, the referees called technicals on the Huskies for failing to raise an arm after a foul and for not reporting in at the scorer's table.

Although the Prowlers weren't able to connect on the technical free throws, the ensuing ball possession stole valuable time away from the Huskies who were forced into a must-foul situation and the Prowlers capitalized by scoring seven of their final nine points from the free throw line.

Shooting percentages were nearly identical for the game, 36 per cent for Thief River Falls and 35 per cent for Goodridge, as both teams made 23 field goals, but Thief River Falls attempted 23 free throws and made 12, compared to only six free throw attempts by the Huskies who made four of them.

Bemidji Places Second In State

Region eight champion Bemidji gained a prestigious second place finish in the 1974 Minnesota state hockey tournament conducted in the Met Sports Center in Bloomington last week.

Bemidji, a 2-0 winner over Thief River Falls in the region eight championship game, beat Kellogg 3-2 in a first round game Thursday and surprised region seven titlist Grand Rapids 4-2 in a semifinal game Friday before bowing to heavily favored Edina East 6-0 in Saturday's championship game.

In other Thursday first round games Sibley stopped Hibbing, a 7-2 winner over Thief River Falls in the region three title game, 4-1, Edina blitzed St. Paul Harding 9-0 and Grand Rapids got by Minneapolis Roosevelt 3-2.

Edina, which fashioned together a perfect 26-0 season record, defeated Sibley 5-3 in Friday's other semifinal game.

Saturday's activity also included Hibbing's 5-4 consolation final win over Kellogg and Grand Rapids' 5-3 third place game win over Sibley.

Goodridge Beats Alvarado 64-59 In District Semi's

Goodridge continued its strong post season tournament play Thursday by beating Alvarado 64-59 in the semi-final round of the 1974 district 31 basketball tournament to give the Huskies a berth in the district championship game for only the second time in the school's history.

Coach Mike Borgman's Goodridge quint amassed a 16 point third quarter bulge, but had to stave off a fourth quarter Alvarado rally before the surprising Huskies advanced yet another notch in their steady tournament climb. Alvarado owned a pair of regular season wins over Goodridge, but the Huskies defeated the favored Indians in the semi-finals of both the sub district and district 31 tournaments.

Alvarado, a 55-49 upset winner over defending champion Crookston in the tournament's first game, eked out a slim 8-6 lead five minutes into a closely played first quarter before Goodridge, a surprising 52-41 first round winner over East Grand Forks, suddenly rattled off six straight quarter ending points to provide the Huskies with a lead they never relinquished.

Two free throws by Don Grabowska began the first quarter Goodridge scoring spurt with 2:20 remaining. Tom Bendickson knocked away an Alvarado pass and raced the length of the court for a fast break lay-up moments after Grabowska's free throws. Grabowska then banged in a rebound shot and Paul Solberg canned a short range jumper to provide the surging Huskies with a 14-8 edge at the first quarter break.

Baskets by Alvarado's Ransel Anderson and Bruce Kollin in the first minute of the second quarter quickly shaved the difference to just 14-12, but an eye-catching shooting display by Goodridge forward Tom Bendickson pushed the Huskies in front 24-14 by the six minute mark. Bendickson connected on a variety of four medium range jump shots and Grabowska added a pair of free throws as Goodridge out-scored Alvarado 10-2 in a four minute span.

Three successive short jump shots by Arden Hyland, Grabowska and Paul Solberg closed the first half scoring for the Huskies who enjoyed a 30-16 halftime cusion.

Goodridge owned its biggest lead of the ball game at 36-20 early in the third quarter before the Indians finally snapped a lethargic performance to trim the margin to 47-38 at the end of the fast paced third period.

Despite the improved Alvarado showing, Goodridge maintained a relatively comfortable point spread until the Indians scored eight quick points in a one minute span to creep within 54-50 halfway through the fourth quarter. Anderson started the Indian uprising with a pair of free throws, Gary Boman followed with a three point play, Kollin scored on a driving lay-up and Boman added another free throw to excite the large University of North Dakota fieldhouse crowd.

Goodridge responded to the Alvarado threat, however, as Bendickson dropped in a pair of free throws, Grabowska connected on a short jump shot and Steve Paulson made one free throw to push the Huskies in front 59-50 with only 2:07 remaining.

Back to back driving lay-ups by John Bergman and Kollin brought Alvarado to within four points again at 63-59 with 50 seconds left. A Goodridge turnover with 45 seconds remaining presented Alvarado with a chance to slice the difference to only two points, but the Indians, hurrying, downcourt, promptly returned the ball to the Huskies with only 30 seconds left.

Hyland accounted for the final 64-59 score with a single free throw with just three seconds remaining.

Bendickson and Grabowska combined for form an unstoppable one-two Goodridge-scoring punch, combining for 38 points as Bendickson poured in 20 and Grabowska added 18. Kollin led all game scorers for Alvarado with 26 points and Anderson added 10.

The game's statistics ended in a near draw in every department. Goodridge shot 38 per cent from the floor, making 24 of 63 attempts. Alvarado shot 36 per cent on 21 of 59 tries. Goodridge sank 16 of 25 free throws and Alvarado made 17 of 24 gift shots. Goodridge led 37-36 in the rebound department and the Huskies also topped the turnover charts 17-15.

TRF Outlasts Fisher 53-51 In Semifinals

Thief River Falls avoided a fifth straight district 31 basketball tournament consolation game appearance by outlasting Fisher 53-51 in the tournament's semi-final round Thursday, earning the Prowlers a spot in the district championship game for the first time since 1969.

Despite a strong performance at times, costly turnovers nearly forced the Prowlers to the sidelines along with already ousted favorites Crookston and East Grand Forks as the aggressive Flyers sliced a 10 point Thief River Falls fourth quarter lead to the final two point margin.

Clutch Thief River Falls free throw shooting proved to be lifesaving for the Prowlers who held a seemingly safe 46-36 lead with only 3:53 remaining in the game.

Fisher standout Steve Kummer suddenly banged in two back to back long jump shots to slice the difference to only 46-40 with 2:45 left.

Dallas Kemmer, whose hot shooting hand had provided Thief River Falls with a 24-17 halftime lead, notched a pair of key free throws to put the Prowlers in front 48-40 with 2:18 to go, but two free throws by Mark Nisbet and a rebound shot by Jon Beiswenger cut the Prowler lead in half with 1:33 remaining.

Prowler guard Duane Dicken sandwiched three free throws around a driving lay-up by Fisher's Rod Beiswenger for a 51-46 game with 50 seconds left and Kemmer darted out of the background to pick off a Flyer inbounds pass for a crucial uncontested lay-up with 30 seconds remaining, putting Thief River Falls in front 53-46.

The die-hard Flyers, who beat Warren 54-42 in a first round game, continued to attack the still reeling Prowlers as Rod Beiswenger tossed in a pair of free throws with 22 seconds left and Kummer banked in a driving lay-up with six seconds to go for a 53-50 ball game.

An offensive foul call against Prowler guard Jerry Sandahl put Rod Beiswenger at the free throw line as the game ended. Fisher tried to convince referees Jerry Harter and Dorland Lybeck to replace one second on the scoreboard clock in hopes of gaining a game ending three point tying play on the bonus foul situation. Officials ruled that time had expired, however, and Beiswenger's first shot fell through the hoop as the Prowlers congratulated each other on the win.

Fisher had dominated the game's early activity as the Flyers raced to a 9-2 lead five minutes into the first quarter. The slow starting Prowlers still trailed 13-8 at the first quarter stop, but Kemmer and Wayne Peterson combined to score the first eight points of the second quarter to give Thief River Falls a 16-13 edge.

A jump shot from deep in the corner by Kummer and a fast break lay-up by John Riske put Fisher back in front 17-16 with 4:57 remaining. Thief River Falls then matched its quarter opening effort by scoring the final eight points of the stanza to lead 24-17 at halftime. Kemmer sparked the strong second quarter Thief River Falls effort by scoring on four field goal attempts.

The Thief River Falls lead climbed to 14 points, 35-21, with 4:33 remaining in the third quarter, but Kummer and Jon Beiswenger combined to score seven straight points to slice the difference to only 37-31 with 1:20 left. A pair of free throws by Peterson with 10 seconds remaining provided the Prowlers with a 39-31 lead entering the final hectic eight minutes.

Kemmer paced three Prowlers in double figures with 18 points while Peterson and Dicken each scored 13. Kummer scored 19 to lead the Flyers.

Thief River Falls, a first round 65-44 winner over Oslo, shot 38 per cent from the field for the game, making 18 of 48 attempts. Fisher connected on 18 of 59 tries for 31 per cent. Thief River Falls sank 17 of 25 free throws while Fisher made 15 of 21 gift tosses. Thief River Falls held a hefty 40-27 rebound edge in the extremely physically demanding game with Harter and Lybeck choosing to ignore the heavy body contact underneath the boards. Thief River Falls also led the turnover charts, though, 21-11.

Karlstad held a 12-8 first quarter lead, but Argyle jumped in front 26-21 by halftime. Argyle led 40-31 after three quarters.

Four Eagles reached double figures in the scoring charts with Glenn Stoltman scoring 16, Gayle Stoltman 14, Ken Safranski 12 and Ron Magnusson 10. Dave Vik was high point man for Karlstad with 16 points.

Newfolden Loses Two District 32 Cage Decisions

Newfolden ended its 1973-74 basketball season on a disappointing note last week as the Nordics dropped a pair of district 32 tournament decisions.

Coach Ron Ueland's Marshall County Central quint, after drubbing Stephen 72-54 in a first round district tournament game, was beaten 63-44 by eventual champion Argyle in Thursday's semifinal play. Kennedy stopped the Nordics 50-43 in Friday's consolation game to end the Newfolden season with a 17-7 record.

Greg Bogestad scored 20 points for the Rockets while Chris Swenson added 12. Gary Kujanson led Newfolden's offensive efforts with 19 and Dave Strandquist added 15.

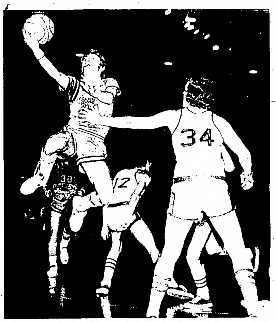
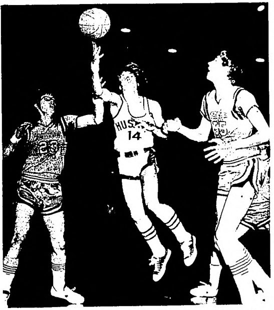
FOUR GOODRIDGE defenders couldn't stop Thief River Falls guard Jerry Sandahl on this driving lay-up during Friday's district 31 championship game in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks. Huskies trying to block Sandahl on the play included Paul Solberg (52), Howard Vigen (hidden behind Solberg), Arden Hyland (second from right) and Don Grabowska (34). Thief River Falls won the 1974 district title by beating the Huskies 58-50.



PROWLER GUARD Jerry Sandahl sailed past Goodridge center Don Grabowska on this driving lay-up attempt during Friday's district 31 championship game played in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks. Thief River Falls won its first district title since 1969 with a 58-50 decision over the Huskies.



GOODRIDGE GUARD Howard Vigen squeezed between Thief River Falls defenders Dunne Dicken (23) and Wayne Peterson (55) on this driving lay-up attempt during Friday night's district 31 championship game played in the UND fieldhouse in Grand Forks. Thief River Falls outlasted the scrappy Huskies 58-50 to advance into this weekend's region eight tournament at UND.

Blackduck Wins 1st District 29 Crown

Blackduck outlasted defending champion Littlefork-Big Falls 40-39 in two overtimes Friday to give the Drakes their first ever district 29 basketball championship.

The two teams played to a 10-10 first quarter tie in the Bemidji state college gymnasium before Littlefork-Big Falls, winner of the last three district 29 titles, posted a narrow 22-19 halftime lead. The Vikings led 32-31 after three quarters, but Blackduck tied the game 37-37 at the end of regulation time. After a scoreless first overtime session the Drakes outscored the Vikings 3-2 in the second extra period. Blackduck's Tom Gilstad scored all three Warrior game winning points as he made the first shot of a bonus foul situation, missed the second try, but put in his own rebound for the title.

Gilstad led all game scorers with 18 points while Ron Barg hit 14 for Littlefork-Big Falls.

Blackduck moved into the championship game after beating Akeley 64-36 in a first round district game and then adding a 50-39 semifinal win over Northome.

In Memory

In loving memory of our sister, Helen Dahl, who passed away March 15, 1972. Two years have passed since you were here, oh how we have missed you, Helen dear. She had a smile for every one. A heart as pure as gold. We often think of days gone by, when we were all together, but death has left a loneliness that the world can never fill.

So sadly missed by the sisters and brothers of the Charles Langer family. 1t20c

In Memory

In loving memory of our sister, Helen Dahl, who passed away March 15, 1972. Two years have passed since you were here, oh how we have missed you, Helen dear. She had a smile for every one. A heart as pure as gold. We often think of days gone by, when we were all together, but death has left a loneliness that the world can never fill.

So sadly missed by the sisters and brothers of the Charles Langer family. 1t20c

Skarsten Earns Suit Of Clothes

(This is the last in a series of articles by M. O. Skarsten, early Thief River Falls resident and educator. The Times expresses its thanks to the author for sharing his early experiences with us and our readers.)

Conclusion

But I needed a suit of clothes. I had not had a new suit of clothes in years. I simply had to have a decent-looking one in which to go out to teach. But how to get it?

I thought of Mr. John Eastman, the publisher of the "Thief River Falls News." Maybe Mr. Eastman would give me a job for five weeks. If he paid me three dollars per week, at the end of five weeks I would have enough money to buy a suit.

Mr. Eastman did give me a job for five weeks. I was confident, though, that he did not need any extra help. He had Alf. He had a deaf-mute who could set type with his eyes closed. Why hire a novice like me, who knew nothing about type-setting in the first place? Why pay this novice as much, lacking 50 cents—as he paid Alf?

But Mr. Eastman gave me the job. And at the end of five weeks, for 14 of the 15 dollars he paid me, I bought a good quality suit at the clothing store of a Jew whose son I had learned to know in high school.

Alf, meanwhile, continued to pay me three dollars per week. We continued to treat ourselves to pie on weekends. And that summer, in addition to getting that suit, I learned to swim! And I learned this skill, not in the ditches along the railroad tracks, where Alf and the other boys had learned their swimming, but in Red Lake river.

Red Lake river was at that time a good-sized stream. I had seen steamboats on this river, loaded with cattle, pigs, horses and farm machinery. Logs were floated down this river, too, on one side of the river. The other side was open for boats.

I had given some little thought as to how to manage the swimming. There was to be no dog paddling for me. I intended to use the breaststroke.

After supper, one night, Alf and I went down to the river, in the upper part of town, across from Squaw Point. I got into the water; got the feel of it, tried out the breaststroke, without getting away from the river bank, even allowed myself to become completely submerged.

The second night, without announcing my intentions to anyone, I swam out to the log boom in the middle of the river! To get onto the log boom was easy enough. But to get down into the water—that was something else again. No matter how I tried to lower myself into the water, my feet would persist in going under the boom. To be sucked under the boom could be pretty frightening. And to drop myself into the water where the river was so deep I could not touch bottom, and near onto a hundred feet from shore—that seemed a bit frightening, too.

Finally, I did let myself into the water, as slowly and as cautiously as possible and swam all the way to shore, using the breaststroke. For my foolhardy effort in swimming out to the log boom in the first place, though, I should, perhaps, have been reprimanded. Yet I believe now that I felt as confident then, about my ability to swim out to that log boom, as Charles Lindbergh was later to feel about his ability to fly the Atlantic.

That fall I began teaching my first term of school, a six month's term in a one-room rural school just east of Fosston. The next two years I taught rural schools just out of Thief River Falls, as already noted in these columns.

Myron Erickson Has Top Dairy Herd For January

Jerry Hamre, supervisor of the Pennington county Dairy Herd Improvement association, places the following herds as top in the association for the month of January with average pounds of milk and butterfat listed respectively.

Myron Erickson, 48.5 and 1.8; Orlan Stolaas, 45.5 and 1.7; Darrow Lundeen, 44.7 and 1.6; Knute Nesland, 43.5 and 1.6; Gene Nelson, 43.4 and 1.8; Martin Hanson, 41.0 and 1.6; Marlan Augustine, 40.4 and 1.4; Albert Chruszch, 39.9 and 1.4; Mylo Carlson, 37.7 and 1.7, and Chester Gast, 37.4 and 1.3.

Herd averages are affected by the number od dry cows in the herd since amount of milk or butterfat produced is averaged out over all the cows. This gives the farmer a record of the earning power of the herd for the month.

If too many dry cows are included in the herd, average for the month may be low although the cows which are milking are high producers.

There were 38 herds with 1,485 cows on test in January in the Pennington association.

Ten cows finished with over 600 pounds of butterfat during the testing year in a 305-day or less lactation. They were from the following herds:

Duane Vatsaas, 600; Gene Nelson, 736; Duane Krohn, 657; Marlan Augustine, 672; Donald Erickson, 616; Swanson Bros., 652; Warren and Lowell Hamrick, 658; Hamrick Bros., 680, 678 and 682.

RRV Historical Society Holds Founder's Dinner

At the recent dinner held to officially initiate the 1974-75-76 Red River Valley international centennial and the multi-million dollar heritage interpretive cents of Red River country, Dr. E. C. Shaw, Winnipeg physician, president of the Manitoba historical socity and the Red River Valley historical society vice president, vigorously advocated a new era of Canadian-American and inter-state cooperation in the Red River Region.

In the main address delivered at this first annual RRVHS founder's day dinner, also marking the 10th anniversary of the founding of the society, and held at the University of Minnesota, Crookston, Dr. Shaw stated:

"There are a multitude of stories that could be told about others who aimed high and achieved well but those ideals, in our time, must be recognized as being inherent in the goals of a group of men and women to came together in Crookston, Minnesota, ten years ago. They came together to form the Red River valley historical society. They came from both ends of the valley. The international border was put aside and the Red River valley was reunited in that small beginning. Echoes of the Selkirk Grant have been stirred in the halls of time by the establishment of that society.

"In ten short years, the Red River Valley historical society has evolved to the point where it contemplates a heritage program which will affect the entire valley. The heritage interpretive center program will demonstrate to strangers, as well as to the people of the valley, the richness of the area's history. The pride engendered in the scheme will have a good effect. It will raise the population's view to nobler things.

"God knows we all need to be uplifted in these times when crises seem to follow crises. Let the two nations look to this peaceful cause. Let the three states and the province lend a hand in this constructive effort. Let the populace emphasize what is unique and what is common in the past and the present of this Red River valley of the north," Dr. Shaw said.

First founder's day Red River cart awards of merit, presented for uniquely distinguished contributions to the growth and development of the RRVHS, were given to North Dakota state university and Dr. Archer Jones, dean, college of arts and humanities; to Dr. Martin Lutter, second president of the society and professor and chairman of history, Concordia college, Moorhead; and to Rev. Gerald Foley, third president, RRVHS, and director, Catholic social services, Diocese of Crookston, Red Lake Falls.

Also honored as the founder of the RRVHS was Don Myrold, assistant professor of economics, NDSU.

Greetings were brought to those from Manitoba, Minnesota, North and South Dakota attending by Lt. Gov. Wayne Sanstead of North Dakota; E. Neil Mattson, president, Minnesota historical society, Warren; Ben Swanberg, Sisseton, South Dakota, state historical society; J.H. McFadden, Fessenden, North Dakota historical society, Inc.; Dr. Stanley Sahlstrom, provost, University of Minnesota, Crookston; Harold Thomforde, mayor, city of Crookston; and Bruce Beresford, Polk county historical society.

C-400 Club At Concordia To Restore Building

Concordia college's C-400 club has announced that restoration of Old Main will be its next project. The $750,000 project will include $500,000 for remodeling of Old Main and $250,000 for debt retirement on existing buildings and student financial aid.

The club recently completed its $750,000 project to aid in meeting construction costs on Concordia's student life facilities project. Construction of an addition to the commons to be known as the Joseph L. Knutson student life center and work on a swimming pool to be attached to the fieldhouse will begin in the spring.

Dr. Donald Bentley of Hawley will serve as national chairman for this new C-400 project. He said this project was selected to avoid increased institutional indebtedness for new construction at this time. The present condition of Old Main and the projected use of the structure require remodeling. This project was recommended by the college's long range planning group and approved by the president's council, the executive committee of the Board of Regents, and the C-400 club steering committee.

Renovation will include new windows to help conserve heat, addition of an adequate ventilation system, replacement of electrical wiring, shifting of several faculty offices, and general remodeling and repair of classrooms. Old Main was constructed in 1906 and no major work has been done on the building since that time.

C-400 members pledge to contribute $1,000 or more to Concordia over a four-year period. Present membership in the club, begun in 1955, now totals 3,406.

Over 100 Species On Endangered Listing

Today in the United States there are over 100 animals that are officially considered threatened with extinction. These animals appear on the official list of endangered native fish and wildlife maintained by the department of the interior.

Most people have heard the phrase "endangered species," but the exact meaning is not always clear. An endangered species is simply one whose existence is threatened. Its chances of survival and reproduction are in immediate peril. This crisis situation can come from loss of living space, change in habitat, overexploitation, disease, pollution and predation. If an endangered species does not get help, it will probably disappear forever.

From March 17 through 23, 1974, the National Wildlife federation is sponsoring its 37th annual national wildlife week. This year's wildlife week poster is a photograph of a timber wolf with the theme, "We Care About Endangered Wildlife."

Thomas L. Kimball, executive vice president of the National Wildlife federation, points out that this year's wildlife week program aims to increase public awareness of problems facing endangered animals.

"Much of our wildlife is in good shape," Kimball said, "thanks to good conservation practices. But too many are in real danger. An endangered species does not have to become an extinct one. Most endangered wildlife can be saved, but it will take a big commitment from us to do the job."

Since the world's beginnings, there have been animals (like the great dinosaurs) that had their time on earth and then disappeared. Far back in time, extinction was a slow process, taking place over thousands and millions of years.

But now changes come much more rapidly. Estimates are that in North America alone, almost 40 different types of mammals and birds have vanished in the past 150 years. Man, with his capacity to speed up environmental change, has speeded up the rate at which some wildlife has been lost.

Today endangered species can be found in over 40 states. As of June 1, 1973, when eight animals were added to the list, the total stood at 109. Among them are the whooping crane, the tallest bird on this continent; the California condor, the largest land soaring bird in North America; and the American peregrine falcon, what many consider the fastest bird on the continent, at 180 plus miles per hour in a dive.

Wolves, the special endangered subject of this year's wildlife week poster, once had the greatest geographical distribution of any land mammals on this continent. In North America, there are 24 recognized subspecies of the timber wolf. Two of these subspecies, the eastern timber wolf and the northern Rocky Mountain wolf, are on the endangered list. The red wolf, considered a separate species, is also endangered. All three are nearly gone from the continental United States.

Commenting on 1974's wildlife week, Kimball said, "We chose the timber wolf as a poster symbol for all our endangered wildlife. The kinds of pressure they have been subjected to are similar to those facing other endangered species. Largely because of the inroads of civilization, wolves have been driven from most of their former range in America."

There are some sizeable populations of various species of wolves in Canada, including some of those on the United States endangered list. Estimates vary for Alaska which may have up to 5,000 wolves, although none of the subspecies on the endangered list is found there.

But in the United States, outside of Alaska, there are probably only 1,200 wolves left and this is an optimistic estimate. Wolves now occupy less than one per cent of their original range in the lower 48 states.

When settlrs came to America, they brought with them some truly wild ideas about wolves. Over the centuries, wolves came to be known as "big, bad" vicious killers.

Wolves do kill. They must kill to eat. They feed primarily on large animals including moose, deer, elk, bison and caribou, and mainly on the young, the old and the infirm, because they are the easiest to catch. In this way, the wolf helps to keep populations of the large mammals at a stable level.

Habitat destruction and environmental degradation continue to threaten our endangered wildlife. The southern bald eagle became endangered partly because of the loss of nesting sites and decline in reproduction probably caused by pesticides. The American peregrine falcon population has suffered because of pesticides. The black-footed ferret's main food source is prairie dogs and as prairie dog towns were cleared out to make room for grazing livestock, the ferret has been pushed closer to extinction.

The ivory-billed woodpecker, listed as endangered but possibly already extinct, declined primarily because of the disappearance of overmature forests. These forests harbored the wood boring beetle larva that is the woodpecker's food source.

In 1966, Congress passed the endangered species preservation act, officially recognizing a national responsibility to protect threatened wildlife. It directed the secretary of the interior to publish a list of animals threatened with extinction. The first list, issued in 1967, named 78 animals compared to the current 109.

The 1966 act also authorized funds for research to preserve endangered wildlife and acquire new habitat areas for them. Research is being conducted at the interior department's Patuxent wildlife research center in Laurel, Md. Here ways are being found to propagate certain species in captivity for later return to the wild.

People ask what they can do to help endangered wildlife. This is a hard question to answer. An individual's personal concern, however, can be of tremendous value. A major aim of this year's national wildlife week observance is to draw attention to our threatened animals and help people realize they can be saved if a big enough public commitment is made.

"If all of us care enough," Kimball noted, "and are willing to support public efforts to help endangered species, we believe these efforts will succeed."

Compliance Good With Speed Law, Check Reveals

Compliance by Minnesota drivers with the new 55 mph speed limit is extremely good, a spot check of state patrol districts has revealed.

All district captains stated that traffic was fairly heavy over the balmy weekend last week but very few drivers exceeded the 55 mph limit.

Asked about voluntary compliance prior to 12:01 Sunday morning, the day the new limit went into effect, one captain said that during December and January most motorists kept their speeds down. It was just during the past two weeks that they started to edge up again. "I suppose it was a combination of nice weather and dry roads," he said.

All districts also reported that the new signs are going up fast. Highway sign crews were out early Monday morning, and by 11 a.m. all of state highway 10 in the Detroit Lakes area was completed. The exception was the Duluth area, where highway men were to busy plowing snow to put up the new signs.

Enforcement, except in cases of excessive speeds, will consist mainly of warnings until all of the signs are up, and the public is well aware of the new limits.

"It is possible," department of public safety commissioner W.R. Hoaglund said, "that voluntary speed reduction has already shown an effect in fewer fatalities. Totals for the first two months of the year are at least 40 under January and February a year ago."

Mary Eisbrener Named To Board In St. Paul Area

Mary Eisbrerner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Eisbrener who are former Thief River Falls residents, has become the youngest person elected to the board of directors of the Human Resources Planning council in the St. Paul area.

Mary, 18, was elected to a term ending in 1975. She is a senior at Simley high school and active in several organizations. HRPC is the primary voluntary human resources planning organization of the St. Paul area. It includes individuals, organizations and government and nonprofit agencies who are concerned with health, welfare, education and recreation services in that community.

John Eisbrener was principal of Washington elementary school in Thief River Falls and is a past president of the local Jaycees chapter.

Former TRF Man Is Promoted In Highway Patrol

Officer Owen W. Borchert of the Minnesota Highway Patrol, a native of Thief River Falls, was recently promoted to captain and will assume duties in the administrative services section in the department's central office in St. Paul. Borchert's first assignment was in Ortonville 16 years ago. In 1966 he was promoted to sergeant and transferred to Duluth where he presently resides with his wife and three children.

GOODRIDGE COWBOY Andrew Bouck takes advantage of a sunny afternoon to get in a little practice at twirling his 40-foot lariat. He starts with a small loop and continues to increase its size until he is twirling the full 40 feet in a ring around his body. Bouck took to rope twirling in his early 20's while a cowboy in Oregon and has performed in a tent show and at a number of celebrations, including the winter shows at Valley City, N.D. His only audience when the above photo was taken was the Times photographer, part of his herd of beef heifers and his friendly pup. Andrew, now 63 years old, will perform some of his rope spinning at the annual meeting of the Goodridge Cooperative Creamery association on Saturday in the Goodridge school gymnasium.

Goodridge Cowboy To Spin Ropes At Creamery Meet

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

When patrons of the Farmers Cooperative Creamery association of Goodridge attend the annual meeting of the cooperative on Saturday, they will be entertained by a 63-year-old rope twirler who calls himself the "Goodridge Cowboy".

Andrew Bouck, who has lived in the Goodridge community since last June, keeps practicing his rope twirling hobby to "stay in trim and duck being old". His tricks on Saturday will include the rope spin, butterfly, fast hands and skipping, as well as twirling a 40-foot lariat into a full loop.

Annual meeting of the creamery will begin at 1:30 p.m. in the Goodridge school gymnasium. Election of two directors to fill the terms of Carl Lindblom and Earl Marquis will be held, annual statement reviewed and lunch served.

Bouck admits he may have slowed down a little bit in the last couple of years but his enthusiasm has dimmed little since he first took to the cowboy trail as a hand for the Four Leaf Clover ranch at Klamath Falls, Ore., 43 years ago. It was as a cowboy out west that he first started roping and it has been natural for him to have a rope in his hand ever since.

Presently Bouck is cowboy for 40 head of beef heifers on his son John's 320-acre farm located about two and one-half miles north and a mile east of Goodridge. The heifers have just begun to deliver the spring calf crop.

"Being a cowboy never was all riding and roping," he said. "Ranches looked for a man who had good cattle sense, and it seemed like there was no better way to get it than by experience. A cowboy who handled cattle like they do on television wouldn't last 10 minutes on any ranch I worked on."

A native of the Valley City, N.D., territory, Andrew came back to North Dakota from Oregon and took to cattle raising on his own. He did work for a number of ranches and broke horses for riding and driving. His varied experiences also included taking on tent show fighters in both boxing and wrestling, appearing as a rope twirler with the West Brothers tent show and doing a little extra duty as the show's strong man. One of his specialties was bending a 60-penny (quarter inch) spike into a staple using only his hands.

Bouck recalls a couple of experiences at horseback riding. At Klamath Falls he broke a spotted pinto that his foreman claimed couldn't be ridden. Then his boss gave him another horse to ride and sent him on an errand to have some horseshoes forged to fit the horse he was to ride.

"I thought it was a regular saddle horse," he said. "I didn't know it hadn't been broke. I climbed on with four horseshoes

"A REAL COWBOY has to understand cattle," states Andrew Bouck who is caring for his son's herd of beef heifers on a farm two and one-half miles north and a mile east of Goodridge. "A cowboy's life isn't all riding and roping." This little calf was born the same morning the photo was taken. "A live small calf is better than a dead big one," Bouck observes in typical rangeland logic.

Swingin' Squares Have Graduation At Goodridge HS

Graduation dance for the Swingin' Squares square dance club of Goodridge was held Saturday in the Goodridge school gymnasium with Jim Kooyer of Detroit Lakes, instructor for the class, as caller for the evening. DFL Convention For Pennington Set This Sunday

DFL officers for Pennington county have announced plans for the party's 1974 county convention. According to Al Sollom, county chairman, the meeting will convene at 2 p.m. this Sunday at the Thief River Falls city auditorium.

Included on the agenda for consideration by the expected nearly 100 delegates are: Resolutions developed in precinct caucuses which range all the way from abortion to the impeachment of President Nixon; election of five delegates to the 7th district and state conventions; and election of county officers to hold party office for the next two years.

Mrs. Francis Stromberg, county co-chairperson, states that arrangements have been made for 7th district chairpersons Henry Tweten and Ann Richter to attend and speak to the delegates. Mrs. Stromberg also said that although additional resolutions will be considered when offered from the floor, it would be helpful if those delegates considering introducing resolutions would send copies of them to the county officers prior to this Friday.

Both county officers invited the public to attend as observers.

Schools Dismiss Early Friday; Close On Mon.

Thief River Falls public schools will be dismissed one hour early on Friday, according to Supt. William Corliss. Early closing is necessary to permit buses to complete their routes before transporting students to the UND fieldhouse in Grand Forks for the first round of the Region 8 basketball tournament.

Lincoln high school pep band and Prowlins dance team will perform at the fieldhouse that evening. The District 31 champion Lincoln high school Prowlers will meet Mahnomen in the first game of the tournament with Argyle and Blackduck clashing in the second game.

There will be no school in the district on Monday which is an in-service day for the faculty.

County Farmers Called Upon To Produce, Protect

"Produce more and protect more" are the challenges to the American farmer for 1974. This year, more than ever before, farmers will work their land with one eye on the nation's economy and the other on its ecology, according to Steve Wilson of the Pennington soil and water conservation district.

They are asked to produce more wheat and other agricultural products needed by the American people, and protect more of the American land to keep it green and fertile for the next year and the next generation.

Demand for food means that millions of acres of land formerly in grass or set aside programs, will go into crops this year. In Pennington county, 11,000 acrss of new land will be brought into production. At the same time, present cropland will be used more intensively.

The farmer, the number one guardian of the nation's natural resources, has a responsibility to use the soil wisely, and he knows it, Wilson said. Armed with improvments in seed, agricultural equipment, tillage methods and conservation techniques, he can confidently expect to meet the greater demand for food without damaging the land.

To help him, the soil conservation service offers these recommendations: (1) Farm all land under a conservation plan; (2) plant the right crop in the right soil; and (3) use effective soil and water conservation techniques. Soil conservation service, with assistance from the Pennington soil and water conservation district, have helped farmers in constructing ditches, erosion control structures, pits and planting of trees.

"If a farmer needs help in protecting his land from erosion, we hope he will stop in and see us," Wilson said.

Mayor Bob Carlson accepted the gift on behalf of the city, thanked the VFW post and auxiliary for their outstanding work in Americanism and noted that the council also plans to acquire a state flag for display in the council chambers.

Anita Kay Anderson Weds Clark Hendrickson In TRF

Miss Anita Kay Anderson and Clark Lawrence Hendrickson, both of this city, exchanged marriage vows on Saturday, February 16, at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Anderson of Stephen. Parent of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Hendrickson of Audubon.

Rev. James Bernauer officiated at the double ring ceremony. Readings were by Andy Lia. At the organ was Cindy Bedard, who accompanied Greg Herling as he sang, "The Wedding Song," after the exchanging of the vows, and "Walk Hand In Hand," at the close of the ceremony. For the organ prelude, Miss Bedard played, "Why Me" and "Theme from Love Story." The processional was Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus," and the recessional was J. S. Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Forming the altar setting were large white mums and ferns on pedestal stands. Large white satin ribbons marked the pews.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father and mother. She was attired in an empire silhouette gown fashioned of white peau de soie with Venice lace trim on the high collar, bodice and long sleeves. Matching laced edged her champel-length veil of bridal illusion. She carried a Windsor cascade of white carnations with red sweetheart roses and white satin loops. For sentiment, she wore an opal necklace, given to her by her parents.

Linda Anderson of Duluth was the bride's personal attendant.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Renae Anderson. Other attendants were Mariette and Cynthia Anderson, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Jennifer Anderson sister-in-law of the bride. Their identical gowns were of royal blue double-knit fashioned with long, full sleeves. Silver and royal blue trim accented the empire waistlines, high necklines and was repeated on the matching headpieces of royal blue tulle. Each attendant carried a Lafayette nosegay of white feathered carnations and red sweetheart roses with royal blue velvet ribbon loops and streamers.

Paul Hendrickson of Moorhead attended his brother, as best man. Groomsmen were Dean Hendrickson, another brother of the groom, Arlan Anderson, brother of the bride, and Andy Lia, friend of the groom. The men of the wedding party wore gray Windsor tuxedos with gray striped trousers, white shirts, striped ascots, and white satin rosebud boutonnieres.

Serving as ushers were Lee Nelson of East Grand Forks, cousin of the bride, and Ritch Smith of Newburgh, N. Y., friend of the groom. Altar boys were Greg Anderson, brother of the bride, and Keith Nelson of East Grand Forks, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Anderson selected a floor-length gown of a patterned double knit in powder blue and silver, complemented by silver braid at the neckline. Her accessories were in silver as were those worn by Mrs. Hendrickson, who was attired in an aqua blue double knit, floor-length gown. Both wore identical corsages of red satin sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride hosted a reception in the church parlors. Serving as host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington of Thief River Falls.

Centering the serving table was a white, four-tiered wedding cake decorated with royal blue roses, green leaves and lilies of the valley. A miniature bride and groom topped the cake which was cut and served by Mrs. Raymond Nelson of Thief River Falls, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Margaret Hein of Audubon, aunt of the groom. Pouring were Mrs. Paul Halfmann of Stephen, and Mrs. Earl Kuhlemyer of Vergas, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively.

Mrs. Ritch Smith of Newburgh, N. Y., a friend of the couple, registered the guests as Mrs. Mary McEnelly, friend of the bride, presided at the punch bowl.

Daniel and Deron Harrington, friends of the couple, distributed the wedding scrolls and candy kiss favors. At the gift table were Mrs. Emma Olson of Goodridge and Mrs. Rosie Hruby of Thief River Falls, friends of the bride. Waitresses were Deborah Nelson, Veronica Nelson and Lyneete Knutson, cousins of the bride.

Following a brief wedding trip to southern Minnesota, the newlyweds are at home in this city at 1209 North Arnold avenue. The bride is employed as a registered nurse at Northwestern hospital and the groom is employed by KTRF Radio as an announcer and sportscaster. Photo, Chuck Agnew Photography, Mahnomen

If the Shoe Fits..

Why is it that many babies learn to walk in a new pair of shoes?

The most probable reason is that the old shoes were too small. If you will notice, babies use their little toes for balance. When they walk in their bare feet or in socks, the little toe of the right foot points to two o'clock while the others point to twelve. After the babies learn balance, the little toes become less and less important and close in with the other toes, so they can wear shoes in adult life that do not look like fins.

There must be room enough in baby's shoes for the toes to fan out for proper balance, which alone will give baby the courage to try to walk.

Goodridge Rope Spinner To Show Skill Saturday

in one hand. There was quite a bit of snow on the ground. You know, it took me quite a while to find those four horseshoes. But I told that horse I'd ride him without shoes and I did, too."

In another case he had swung half-way into the saddle when the horse decided he didn't want Andrew for company. "I don't know how long I stayed on without ever getting my leg over the top of the saddle," he said, "but I was doing all right until the bridle came loose and the bit slid up under the horse's chin. Then I said, 'Boy, I gotta go. I hate to, but...'."

The cowboy's vernacular still stays in Bouck's conversation, although probably sweetened by his "getting converted" some time ago. He describes a 28-year-old Taxas saddle mare which he is keeping for a neighbor as "singing on the last verse". He said fences on the farm were "high enough for camels" before he lowered them and that a barn he elected to tear down last summer had been "standing at half-past eight".

Holder of a certificate of ordination from the First Covenant church in Dallas, Tex., in 1957, Bouck said he did missionary work among the Sioux Indians at Hot Springs, Ark. He is now interested in evangelism and has used his rope twirling abilities in some of his effort to "spread the Word".

One of the ropes Bouck will use at the creamery meeting Saturday is a special twirler's rope which he purchased in Dickinson, N. D. It doesn't have the twist of a regular rope and doesn't present the problem of kinking which a standard rope would do. The 40-foot lariat, however, is an ordinary cowboy's half-inch rope. A good deal of physical effort is necessary to spin it out to its full length.

After a demonstration of his twirling—which may not be fully professional but is none-the-less impressive—he put down his rope and picked up a newborn calf in the barn....climbing a five-foot wooden fence with it cradled in his arms.

"Ain't that a nice little heifer?" he asked. "A small live calf is sure better than a big dead one."

service to the school district's special education children. She has been on leave of absence without pay for some time. Resignation of Lorraine Sannes as secretary was also accepted.

Richard Sauer, principal at Knox and Mark Twain schools, was appointed administrator to Title III funds for the school district. The administration was authorized to notify Tom Barker of non-approval of his request for Sabbatical leave.

By resolution the board voted to accept the low bids selected on the basis of low price or quality item and authorized purchase of supplies for the 1974-75 school year from these quotations. List of items, vendors and prices are on file in the purchasing agent's office at the school district service center.

Supt. Corliss mentioned that school will be dismissed one hour early on Friday to permit buses to complete their routes before transporting students to Grand Forks for the first round of the Region 8 basketball tournament. The pep band and Prowlins will perform at the University of North Dakota fieldhouse that evening.

Curriculum reports were presented on elementary art, secondary social studies, elementary physical education, special education and horses and horsemanship in the agriculture program. These will be summarized in a booklet to be submitted to the board with other curriculum reports for later action.

Humphrey Says Nixon Actions Are Not Enough

"The Nixon administration's response to increasing unemployment resulting from the energy crisis has been woefully inadequate. A more comprehensive approach is needed than simply increasing unemployment compensation after July 1," states Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

"While this will help workers make ends meet, if their areas of the country qualify under the administration's unemployment criteria, it will not provide a single new job. Nor will it help workers whose unemployment benefits run out before July 1.

"And it surely does not respond to the unique characteristics of the energy crisis," the senator added.

"To relieve this situation I introduced on Tuesday legislation, not only providing economic relief for the energy related unemployed, but to help stimulte jobs in private and public sectors and establish an energy emergency employment board to supervise and coordinate the program.

"My bill establishes a program of financial assistance to public service employers to provide jobs to the unemployed, with special consideration to those uenmployed as a result of the energy crisis," Sen. Humphrey said.

"My bill provides that 80 per cent of the funds appropirated for the program would be available to the state strictly on the basis of its share of total unemployment in the United States. The remaining 20 per cent would go to areas suffereng from substantial unemployment as a result of the energy crisis.

"There is also a special program of incentives to private employers to hire energy-related unemployed," he said.

"For workers losing jobs because of the energy crisis there would be a readjustment allowance, training and counseling help, a relocation allowance and health insurance benefits.

"The revised unemployment forecasts, taking the Arab oil embargo into account, generally predict a 1974 unemployment rate of between 5.8 per cent and 6.5 per cent, a tremendous increase over the 4.5 per cent October 1973 level.

"In Minnesota, the energy crisis is taking a particularly heavy toll of jobs in the plastics industry, where petrochemical feed stocks are becoming hard to get, and in the airline and tourist industry," Sen. Humphrey noted.

"During the second week in January, the number of Minnesotans with active 'claims' for jobless benefits soard by 2,722 persons to 61,183 persons, the highest level in more than a decade.

"Without action along the lines I am suggesting, these workers will be forced to bear a heavy and inequitable share of the burden imposed on our nation by the energy crisis."

Junior and cadette troops sang Christmas carols for shoppers in the downtown area and in January the senior troop planned a Brownie bounce which was attended by approximately 115 Brownies. Franklin cadette troop was in charge of a fun day in February when about 50 cadette and junior scouts spent a Saturday afternoon playing games. Thinking day ceremony was also held, in which scouts were to think about their sisters in other lands and hope for international peace and understanding.

Council Expects To Call Election

Legislation enabling Thief River Falls to fill council and mayor vacancies by special election has passed both houses of the state legislature, according to a report received last night (Tuesday) by the city council. However, the city can not begin the eight-week election process until the bill is signed by the governor. Governor Anderson is expected to sign the bill by Friday.

The council authorized formation of a committee to plan an American Revolution bi-centennial celebration and apply for designation as a bi-centennial city. With this designation it would be possible that Thief River Falls could receive some funds to help with the expenses involved. Rick Contos, representing the local American Legion post, brought the matter before the council and will coordinate formation of the committee. He stated that local organizations will be contacted and invited to participate in this project.

Mark Shug spoke to the council regarding establishment of a community and youth center. The council authorized Shug and the committee which he represents to nominate people to serve on a "community and youth" council which would be instrumental in development of a center. Shug was also assured that the council is considering the feasibility of developing a center of this type. The city auditorium was suggested as a possible site as an alternative to the former Len's tire service building recently donated to the city by L. B. Hartz.

The council considered several bids which were opened earlier in the day. Bids to provide group life and group health insurance were referred to a committee for additional study. Manufacturer's Life, represented by Darrel Bakke, was the apparent low bidder for the life insurance. Blue Cross and Blue Shield submitted the apparent low bid on the health insurance.

A bid of $3,509 was accepted from Northern Motors for a ¾ ton truck. Tunberg's submitted the closest bid of $3,635. Falls Diesel also submitted a bid.

Tunberg's submitted the successful bid to provide a one-ton truck with hoist. The company's low entry was for $4,885. The closest bid was $4,919 submitted by Northern Motors. Falls Diesel submitted the only other bid.

Bids for two-way radio equipment were rejected as a result of a dispute about the bid specifications. A bid submitted for Motorola equipment was apparently the only entry conforming to all of the bid specifications. However, it was significantly higher in cost than the only other bid entered which was for General Electric equipment. The council will readvertise for bids on this equipment after the matter has had additional study.

A request from the Pennington county safety council was approved to install stop signs on First street on the east and west approaches to Barzen avenue. To make Barzen avenue a through street, a stop sign will also be installed on Second street where it enters Barzen.

Minn. Accorded Export Program Sales Expansion

Minnesota has been accorded a signal hour in a new cooperative state-federal program for further expansion of U.S. agricultural export sales vital to the nation's economy, commissioner Jon Wefald reported recently.

LeRoy Thoreson, Minnesota department of agriculture export marketing specialist, has been selected to represent the 50 state agriculture departments on the first in a series of trade research missions to nations of untapped export sales potential.

Thoreson and experts from the U.S. department of agriculture will spend one month in Brazil this spring, researching market and specific product potential, and negotiating agreements on all import-export regulations, duties, tarrifs and procedures.

"What the team will be doing in essence is compiling an export handbook that will minimize the red tape and misunderstandings that have extremely limited the opportunity of many individual American producer associations and food companies for making more sales abroad.

"This project should significantly increase the export sales opportunities for the smaller farm commodity and food processer companies that do not have the volume, experience and capital to establish foreign marketing offices as most of our big companies have," explained M.C. Combs, director of the Minnesota Department of Agriculture marketing services division.

Commissioner Wefald and Director Combs said the selection of Thoreson for the pilot mission to Brazil is a significant recognition both for Thoreson and for Minnesota's leadership role and experience in developing export sales.

Combs said that Thoreson is recognized as one of the nation's most aggressive and successful state government agricultural export marketing experts. Since Thoreson joined the Minnesota Department of Agriculture marketing team four years ago the state's agricultural export sales have more than tripled, hitting nearly $600-million in fiscal 1973.

In addition to the Brazil mission in May and June, state-federal product identification teams are planned for the Carribbean nations and France later this year.

Man's Home Is His Castle, Even In Malagasy Village

by Roger Ose
Madagascar Missionary

"A man's home is his castle." So goes the American expression. And in the accompanying picture you see a village of Malagasy "castles."

The picture is taken on a hill just above the village of Ambanihazo. You can see the roofs of more than 20 homes. There are probably 40 homes in this village.

Nearly every home in the village has the same floor plan, the same type of walls and roof, and the same number of doors. These homes are built with at least two considerations in mind: First, the materials should all be available in the local forests; second, every home must be built according to the strict rules laid down by the ancestors. Any deviation from the "rules" or customs of the village in home building is rare.

The family home in the second picture is built almost entirely from the leaves, branches and trunk of the beautiful Maglagasy travellers palm. The frame is built of hardwood, and is held together by the old and slow method of tongue and groove. This method is effective, however, as nails would rust out in time because of the salty ocean air.

A palm leaf roof is fastened to the rafters with long strips of wet bark. It's good because it's waterproof, thick, and lasts up to 10 years. The salty ocean air does not damage it like it does galvanized steel roofing. On very hot days, a home built of travellers palm walls and roof is much cooler than homes with steel roofs and no roof insulation. The palm leaves are excellent insulation. This home is owned by a farmer with probably 14 children. It's one of the biggest and nicest homes in town.

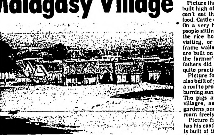
Picture three. The rice house is built high off the ground so rats can't eat the precious stores of food. Cattle can't get to it, either. On a very hot day you will see people sitting under the shade of the rice house and sewing, or visiting, or eating dinner. The frame walls and palm leaf roof are built on the same pattern as the farmer's house. The grandfathers did it this way, and it's quite practical.

Picture four. The pig house is also built of palm leaves. It's only a roof to protect the pigs from the burning sun or from heavy rains. The pigs are confined in most villages, as they would eat up gardens and crops if allowed to roam freely.

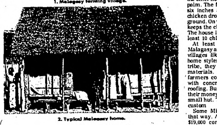
Picture five. Even the rooster has his castle. The chicken house is built of the same materials as the other houses—local travellers palm. The floor of wood poles is six inches above ground so the chicken droppings can fall to the ground. On very wet nights it also keeps the chickens high and dry. The house in the picture is for at least 10 chickens.

At least 90 per cent of the Malagasy are farmers and live in villages like this one. Although home styles differ from tribe to tribe, they all try to use local materials. Some wealthy cattle farmers could afford big homes with concrete walls and steel roofing. But they prefer to invest their money in cattle and live in a small hut. That's good Malagasy custom.

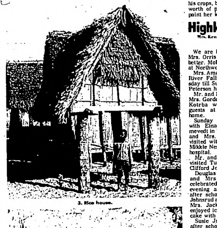
Some Minnesota farmers are that way. A farmer can afford a $19,000 combine for harvesting his crops, but he can't afford $10 worth of paint so his wife can paint her kitchen.



1. Malagasy farming village.



2. Typical Malagasy home.



3. Rice house.

4. Pig house.

5. Chicken house.

MIRACLE WATER

Marvin Carlson

The "lead" in lead pencils is not lead, but graphite mixed with clay to make it soft and smooth enough to rub off when it is moved across paper. Hard lead has more clay mixed with the graphite than a soft lead. To make "lead", clay, powdered graphite and water are mixed into a kind of dough. Put through a machine, a tiny rope of dough emerges, which is straightened out and cut into pieces. The pieces are then baked for several hours in a big oven to drive out the moisture. When removed from the oven, they are hard slender sticks. To complete the pencil, these sticks of lead are encased in wood and usually topped with an eraser. Only certain woods are suitable for lead pencils. The best is red cedar. A pencil made of red cedar is easy to sharpen.

Legis Lative Letter

from ANDREW SKAAR
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

This week the Minnesota House of Representatives took a significant step towards employee ownership in Minnesota's businesses and industry. With the passage of S.F. 1269, Minnesota can assume a leadership role in creating for labor a significant ownership of America's productive assets through their ownership of common stock.

The Senate sponsor is Senator George Pillsbury and in the House Representative Salisbury Adams is the principal author and I am one of the co-authors. Basically, the bill does four things. It:

1. Establishes as a public policy the encouragement of employee stock ownership trust, to provide income for workers and capital for corporations.
2. Provides that the benefits of such trusts be open to all employees of a firm who have two or more years of service.
3. Allows gifts to such trusts to be deducted from the taxable income of corporations and taxable value of estates.
4. Raises from 15 per cent of payroll to 30 per cent of payroll the amount that corporations may put into deferred compensation plans, such as pensions and life insurance.

The overall purpose of this legislation is to start switching the ownership of American industry away from the 5 per cent who currently own American industry to the 95 per cent who work for American industry. At the present time the large corporations discriminate in favor of top executives in the distribution of stock. This legislation would put an end to those practices.

A bill was approved by the House that is aimed at welfare chiselers. This bill would permit the Department of Revenue to give information on income and number of dependents to the Welfare Department.

This bill was requested by the Welfare Department. Over the past two and one-half years the Welfare Department has discovered that approximately 46 per cent of cases investigated involving families where one or both parents of children were on AFDC had misrepresented their income. This amount of fraud in these cases amounted to $660,851. This bill poses no threat to anyone who has made accurate reports of income and expenses.

One very appropriate comment by a legislator was, "no one seems upset when someone is called in for an income tax audit by the State or Federal government. This is where government funds originate. It is hard to understand why there should be any opposition to an audit of those receiving AFDC money. This is where much of our money is spent. The income of welfare recipients should not be any more protected or withheld from official scrutiny than a taxpayers records."

DRIVER OF THE YEAR award by North Star Transport, Inc., Thief River Falls, was presented recently to Durwood Erickson, 33, an independent driver for lease operator Marvin Ode. The annual award is made to the one driver who completes the full calendar year without any accidents or freight claims and is further judged on attitude, appearance, paperwork, mileage and general overall performance. Erickson (left) has been driving a truck since he was 16 years old. He is originally from Clearbrook and now lives with his wife, son and daughter in St. Hilaire. Plaque and traveling trophy are being presented by Don Jorstad, safety director for the company.

When a particularly time-consuming or difficult task comes up, the tendency of far too many of us is to say, "Let George do it."

The too-frequent consequence of this attitude, we all know, is that the job at hand is never tackled at all. Or, if the job is left to "George"—the other fellow—it is done poorly.

This maxim applies in life, and it applies to the American political process.

I have often observed that our national institutions, almost without exception, are under severe challenge today. Our people seem to have lost faith that these institutions—whether they be our system of education, the church, or the free enterprise system—are adequate to cope with the pressures and complexities of modern-day society. Perhaps no institution is under stronger attack, or suffers from so great a loss of public confidence, as our two-party political system.

Is our two-party system a failure? Are the major parties too boss-ridden, too inbred, too archaic, too lacking in vision and commitment? Can they be seriously relied upon to produce the kind of high-caliber, responsible candidates for public office that are needed if our government is to truly meet the needs of the people.

I believe the answer to the latter question is yes—but not if we "Let George do it."

Our state election laws provide all of us with a smiple, effective way to influence the political process, to help determine the choices we have when we enter the voting booth in November.

The mechanism is the precinct caucus. It is a grass-roots institution, one that dates back to colonial days. And if we will only use it and participate, it's an institution that can greatly enhance the vitality and purpose of our political parties.

Next Tuesday night, at 8 p.m., the precinct caucuses of the two major political parties will be held in more than 3,800 precincts throughout the state. The locations will include schools, church basements and community centers. Participants will select delegates to subsequent county, district and state conventions. Through this process, candidates for hundreds of local, state and national offices will be endorsed and ultimately placed on the November ballot.

Many thousands of Minnesotans who are concerned over the health and vitality of our democratic process will be making their voices heard at these caucuses. I urge you to join them.

University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service

How will farmers respond to the energy "crisis?"

Some may plant short-season corn hybrids in an attempt to reduce the amount of LP gas needed to dry the crop, but it is not recommended as an energy conservation measure, Dale R. Hicks, University of Minnesota extension agronomist, says.

Energy consumption for the entire production operation of short-season hybrids is likely to be about equal to that for full-season hybrids. Planting short-season hybrids helps spread risks and stagger harvesting operations. It is a practice that probably will continue.

Dryer efficiency might be improved by earlier harvest because air and grain temperature will generally be higher and less fuel will be required to dry the corn to a storable moisture level. Short-season hybrids will mature earlier in the fall and could be harvested when minimum losses occur. Then they could be artificially dried. As a result, drying efficiency could be improved and fuel could be saved. Also, fuel usage could be spread over a greater time span, which would help eliminate peak demand periods for fuel.

Planting short season hybrids and leaving the corn in the field to dry are not the answer. Stalk and ear rots tend to increase when corn is left in the field after maturity. Field losses are greater due to dropped ears, downed stalks and increased harvesting difficulty. Machine harvesting losses are minimized if corn is harvested when the kernel moisture content is 26 to 28 per cent. Leaving corn in the field to partially air dry below 26 per cent will result in greater machine losses, Hicks adds.

A factor that will affect the length of maturity of corn farmers plant in 1974 is the availability of seeds. Seed producers decisions on acreage of "early hybrids" to produce the 1974 seed was made in early winter of 1973 before the energy crisis was generally apparent. So there is little flexibility in drastically changing the maturity of seed that growers will plant in 1974.

High grain yields generally are obtained by planting corn hybrids that use the entire growing season. Full-season hybrids recommended for Minnesota's various zones are given in Agronomy Fact Sheet 27, "Minnesota Relative Maturity Rating of Corn Hybrids," available from local county extension offices or the Bulletin Room, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 55101.

Senate Report

— by —

Senator Richard Fitzsimons
Minnesota District One

With only two weeks remaining until the suggested cutoff date for the 1974 Minnesota Legislative session, there is still a lot of unfisnished business.

The Minnesota Senate spent considerable time during the past week working through a myriad of bills dealing mostly with local issues.

It is apparent that the extra session time has given the Minnesota Legislature much more time to consider many more bills than formerly were heard. It is not hard to get two different opinions on this. One of the basic premises for the Legislature is open and free discussion. The 1973 and 1974 Legislature has had an abundance of both. In defense of this, I believe people have no reason for complaint when this happens. It does take a lot of time, but it is part of the true democratic process.

With the session nearly over, several major bills still must be resolved. No-fault insurance is still in conference committee; the major campaign disclosure and ethics bill s going to conference; emergency changes in the school aid financing are in conference and numerous other bills must have the differences between them resolved.

Among the major bills debated on the Senate floor this week was a bill dealing with the stabilizing of retail milk prices. The bill was defeated by a wide margin after long debate. Senate Majority Leader, Nick Coleman, attempted to amend a bill on the Senate floor that would provide the opportunity for a restaurant of a certain size with a beer license to sell wine by the glass with a meal. This bill would be a real asset to the summer resort business. His attempts failed by a few votes. The bill is still before the Senate though.

A motion failed on the Senate floor that would have brought a bill calling for rotation of the names on the state election ballot to the floor of the Senate for debate. This bill failed on a straight party line vote with Republicans favoring and DFL members opposed. In the event the Legislature does not provide this change, the issue will be heard in Federal Court after the session adjourns.

IRS Traces Route Of Federal Tax Return

What happens to a federal income tax return after it is mailed to the Ogden service center?

To start with, the 1040 return is one of more than eight million that will be received this filing season at the Ogden service center. It will arrive as one of several thousand similar returns that day. First step then is sorting the envelopes by the district office for the state in which the taxpayer reside and by the particular type of tax return being filed.

After the return has been removed from the envelope it is given a special 13 digit number that identifies the return by date received, the state in which the taxpayer resides, type of return and a special serial number. Each return will have its own special serial number and it enables the internal revenue service to locate it quickly if needed later.

Even though taxpayers do their best to fill out their returns properly they sometimes make mistakes. Some of these, such as errors in addition or subtraction, will be corrected when the return is processed by the center's computer system. But if a taxpayer should leave out necessary information, like attaching a W-2 form, or should fail to sign the return, it is necessary for IRS to contact him or her. This slows down processing of your return and delays your refund.

With the millions of returns received each filing period by service centers perhaps the biggest problem is in correctly identifying taxpayers. And if they have a name like Jones, Smith or Brown, the problem can be even greater. For this reason IRS asks all taxpayers to please use the peel-off address label which they receive with the tax package. This label contains all of the identifying information needed to process the return.

If every taxpayer used the peel-off label the number of errors made in processing returns, which are due to either incorrect information on the return or difficult-to-read information, could be cut considerably.

The IRS also asks taxpayers to please put their social security numbers on checks, letters, or any correspondence sent to IRS. This alone will help considerably.

After each return is checked for information it is ready to go into the IRS computer system. This is done by entering information and numbers from the return into a TV-like machine which has a keyboard attached. The operator "types" the information into the machine which is then displayed on the "TV" screen. The operator then checks to make certain she didn't make any mistakes and releases it into the computer.

The computer checks the return for mathematical and other errors and if it is correct, puts the tax information on a magnetic tape along with that from many other taxpayers.

Each day the completed tapes are shipped to the national computer center in Martinsburg, West Virginia. There, some additional computations are made and if the taxpayer has a refund coming, a special tape is prepared and mailed to the nearest federal disbursing center where a refund check is printed and mailed.

The sooner a return, is mailed the earlier a taxpayer will receive his refund check. Many taxpayers wait until April 15 to file their returns, so March is a month when fewer returns are received in the service center and faster service can be expected.

Toll-free telephone numbers are listed on page 2 of the instructions with the 1040 tax package and page 7 of the 1040A tax package. Local numbers are also listed in some instances.

This service allows taxpayers anywhere in the state the opportunity of obtaining tax information without long distance charges.

Burt Lancaster is involved in a conspiracy to assassinate John F. Kennedy in the controversial drama, "Executive Action," opening Thurs., Mar. 14 at the Falls theatre. Minnesota Ranks Fourth In State Milk Production

Milk production declined in Minnesota during 1973 for the ninth straight year but the state retained its ranking as fourth biggest producer among all states and the unofficial estimated farm value of milk output set a new high.

According to the state-federal crop and livestock reporting service of the Minnesota department of agriculture, the 1973 annual summary estimated the state's milk production at 9,369,000,000 pounds. That was down 211-million pounds or two per cent below 1972 output.

Commissioner Jon Wefald said that the preliminary farm value of 1973 milk output, unofficially calculated by using monthly production estimates and mid-month price averages, is $586.2-million, or nearly a $91-million increase over the prior high set in 1972.

"Long needed price adjustments came too late in 1973 for too many dairy farmers caught for several years between skyrocketing production costs and an almost static selling prices," commissioner Wefald said, reporting that Minnesota lost 3,000 dairy farms last year, dropping to an all-time low of about 38,000 dairy farms.

He said that 1973 mid-month price averages showed the state's farmers gained only 18 cents or three per cent gross return per 100 pounds of milk sold during the first seven months, then increased by $2.13 per 100 pounds or 37 per cent during the last five months of the year.

"Had price adjustments taken place gradually when really needed, we wouldn't have lost so many dairy farmers and the consumer wouldn't have been hit as hard and fast in the budget for dairy products," commissioner Wefald pointed out.

Only Wisconsin, California and New York rank ahead of Minnesota in 1973 milk production. Minnesota's output represented over 8 per cent of the U. S. total. Minnesota still has the nation's biggest inventory of milk cows, behind Wisconsin.

January production figures from the state-federal crop and livestock reporting service show the decline in dairy operations is continuing. Minnesota's milk cow count was 898,000, another all-time low and 27,000 below a year ago. Milk production totaled 822-million pounds, nearly nine per cent of the U. S. total, and was only a fraction of one per cent below January 1972. Minnesota cows set a new January per capita production record, averaging 915 pounds of milk per cow, 25 more than a year earlier.

Livestock Farmer Loses In Today's Market Prices

"Livestock farmers are losing their shirts in today's market situation," Agriculture commissioner Jon Wefald said recently.

"The reasons for the currently bad economic situation of the livestock industry are many—the energy crisis, unprecedented world competition for feed grains, the hangover from the meat consumer boycott here at home, and the federal price control foulup.

"But the main reason for the problems of the livestock industry is skyrocketing roduction costs.

"Cattle farmers are losing $100 to $200 and even more right here in Minnesota on every beef steer they sell, because current producton costs are 10 to 20 cents a pound over and above the price they are getting," commissioner Wefald stated.

He suggested that consumers take immediate advantage of now declining retail meat prices to renew acquaintance with the nutritional enjoyment of a fine steak, roast or chop.

"Lower meat prices are not back to where they used to be, and they probably never will be. Nor are retail price cuts equal to the disastrous slash the farmer is forced to absorb. There are many workers involved in processing a farm animal into meat, and their costs are up, too.

"But consumers have to look into the future, and consider what producton decisions they would be forced to makeif they were in the livestock farmers' boots. "Is there any consumer willing to trade places with, for example, the young Farmington area beef farmer who has already lost $40,000 in just seven months on 160 steers, has a wife and five children to feed, $150,000 mortgage on his farm and a $14,000 interest payment due?" commissioner Wefald challenged.

He said that the example is not, unfortunately, an isolated one, but applies to virtually every cattle feeder who bought steers for fattening since last spring.

Producton costs for livestock farmers nearly doubled in the past year, while livestock prices on current markets are only about nine per cent above last year. Minnesota livestock feeding costs in mid-Februry compared to a year earlier were nearly 117 per cent higher on corn, 118 per cent higher on barley, 92 per cent higher on oats, 53 per cent higher on hay and for the rare farmer still feeding wheat, up 170 per cent.

It's unfortunate that a pair of classic athletic events will clash head-on for the Thief River Falls sports fans' attention this weekend when the Minnesota state high school league region eight basketball tournament and the national junior college hockey tournament will both be held Friday and Saturday.

The region eight basketball tournament will be staged in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks with two games scheduled each night at 7 and 8:45 p.m.

The national junior college hockey tournament will be hosted by Northland community college and Thief River Falls in the Thief River Falls sports arena with games scheduled at 6:30 and 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Coach Lee Swanson's Lincoln high school basketball team will be making its first appearance in the region eight tournament since 1969 as the Prowlers seek their first state tournament berth since 1960.

The Northland hockey team, coached by Swede Lund, will be playing in the national tournament for the first time in the three year history of the event.

Both teams, Lincoln and Northland, find themselves in a similar situation in their tournament draws. The Prowlers and Northmen both face defending champions in their first round games—champions that rank as slight favorites to repeat their 1973 performances. The Prowlers will face Mahnomen at 7 Friday while the Northmen tackle Canton of New York at 8:45 the same night.

A first round win on the part of the Prowlers and Northmen would present both teams with an excellent title opportunity. A Prowler first round win would match Thief River Falls against the winner of the Blackduck-Argyle game for region eight championship honors Saturday at 8:45. A Northman first round win would shove Northland into Saturday's championship game at 9 against the Hibbing-Henry Ford of Dearborn, Michigan first round winner.

Although a first round win would put the Prowlers into a favorite's role in the championship game, a first round Northland win would still make the Northmen underdogs in a title contest.

"You wouldn't call us a favorite, but I think we're capable of winning it," said Swanson. "I think it's up for grabs, and if we maintain our tournament attitude and play as a team like we have all year I feel that we can win it. It'll take a lot of hard work, though. We'll have to cut down on our turnovers and we'll have to become a more disciplined team near the end of the game if we have a lead."

Lund echoed thoughts similar to his pre-state tournament feelings when he said, "If we can skate and play a good sound game we've got as good a chance as anybody at winning the thing. It all depends on who wants it the most."

Predictions? How about, Thief River Falls 57, Mahnomen 56; Blackduck 49, Argyle 45; and Thief River Falls 67, Blackduck 53. On the hockey side, Northland 5, Canton 4; Hibbing 9, Henry Ford 6; and Northland 7, Hibbing 6 in overtime. We could be called biased, though.

Darrel Stromlund, a Greenbush graduate who played at Northland last year, is listed as a prime prospect to nail down an infield position on the Moorhead state college baseball team this spring.

The eventual region eight winner will meet the region one champion in the first game of the state class A tournament Thurs., March 21, at 1:05 p.m. in the St. Paul Civic Center.

Waseca and Preston will play in the region one championship game this week with Waseca a heavy favorite to advance into the state tournament.

Prowlers Face Wide Open Region 8 Field

Four extremely evenly matched teams will combine to form what is expected to be a wide open region eight basketball tournament field this weekend when the 1974 classic is held Friday and Saturday in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

Thief River Falls, Blackduck, Mahnomen and Argyle are all cautiously optimistic entering the 44th annual tournament, with the four respective head coaches all harboring firm championship hopes for their teams.

Friday night's toss-up first round pairings will match Thief River Falls against Mahnomen at 7 p.m. with Argyle taking on Blackduck at 8:45. The two Friday night losers will meet in Saturday's consolation game at 7 while the Friday winners clash in Saturday's championship game at 8:45. The region eight champion will advance into next week's state class A tournament in St. Paul.

Defending champion Mahnomen head coach Ray Stinar echoed all four coaches' feelings about the upcoming tournament by saying, "I think it's wide open with no clear-cut favorite. It's not like last year when Crookston was suppose to be a shoo-in. Any team that puts two good games together can win it."

Friday night's first round games should prove to be a spectator's delight, matching slight pre-tournament co-favorites Thief River Falls and Mahnomen in the first game and then staging a classic confrontation of clashing styles in the Argyle-Blackduck nightcap.

Thief River Falls edged Mahnomen 66-61 in overtime in the 1973-74 season opener for both teams. Both teams have enjoyed successful seasons since that inaugural with the district 31 champion Prowlers posting a 15-6 record while the district 30 champion Indians fashioned a 17-5 mark.

Friday's second game will send the small, but quick district 32 champion Argyle quint against the bigger, but slower district 29 champion Blackduck squad. Argyle carries a 17-4 season record while Blackduck boasts the tournament's most impressive record, 20-2.

A capsule look at all four region eight entries is as follows:

Region 8 Pairings
Friday's First Round
7:00 p.m.—TRF (15-6) vs. Mahnomen (17-5)
8:45 p.m.—Argyle (17-4) vs. Blackduck (20-2)

Blackduck

The least unknown team to area basketball fans, the Drakes outlasted recent perennial power Littlefork-Big Falls 40-39 in double overtime last week for Blackduck's first district 29 title and first ever region eight appearance.

Coach Jim Ross' Drakes lost only to Littlefork-Big Falls and Mahnomen early this season. Blackduck bounced back to beat the Vikings three straight times and then dumped Walker twice—a team that handed Mahnomen one of its five losses this season.

Blackduck's impressive starting line-up boasts size with 6-6 senior Lee Cluff at center, 6-2 junior Bob Cluff and 6-0 senior Bob Baltes at forwards and 6-3 senior Tom Gilstad and 5-9 junior Doug Lemon at guards.

Lee Cluff averaged 22 points per game to lead the Drakes' scoring this season, with Gilstad checking in with a 14 point average and Lemon 11.

"We're pretty physical," pointed out Ross. "We're not very quick, but we're big and we rebound quite well. I don't think we'll be outclassed by anyone. We'll play with the best of them."

An expected full court Argyle press doesn't worry Ross. "Teams have pressed up before, but Lee and Gilstad handle it quite well. Gilstad's 6-3, 205 pounds and he really moves," noted Ross.

Argyle

Without a starter standing above 6-0, the Eagles relied on exceptional quickness and accurate shooting to carry them through a strong season. The Argyle defeats included a season opening loss to Newfolden that was later avenged in the district 32 semifinals, a slim 62-61 decision to Thief River Falls, a 78-73 loss to Alvarado and a 57-51 setback at the hands of Kennedy.

Argyle starters include 5-8 junior Ken Safranski and 5-9 junior Ron Magnusson at guards, 5-9 junior Gayle Stoltman and 6-0 senior Rick Sletten at forwards and 5-10 senior Glenn Stoltman at center. Merle Adolophson, a 5-11 senior, and Jerry Ness, a 5-8 junior, also see extended playing time for the Eagles.

Balanced scoring found all five Argyle starters averaging in the low double figures for the season.

"Our balanced scoring and good shooting ability carried us through the year," said Eagle head coach Warren Keller. "Our quickness is another strong point that we have to use being that were so small. We pride ourselves on our defense. You can't get very far without a consistantly strong defense.

"To be honest, Thief River Falls would probably have to be rated a slight favorite, but that might be nullified by Mahnomen's tournament experience. But actually, any one of the four teams could win it. If we can put two good games and four good quarters together we have as good a shot at it as anyone else.

Thief River Falls

A strong defense and close-knit team work gave Thief River Falls its' first district 31 title since 1969.

"We're basically a defensive minded ball club," pointed out head coach Lee Swanson whose starting line-up includes 5-11 senior Duane Dicken and 5-7 junior Jerry Sandahl at guards, 5-11 senior Randy Dallmann and 5-9 junior Dallas Kemmer at forwards and 6-8 junior Wayne Peterson at center. Kent Christensen, a 6-1 senior forward, also sees plently of floor time for the Prowlers.

Thief River Falls posted regular season wins over region entries Mahnomen and Argyle. Among the losses were two decisions to class AA power Bemidji, along with defeats to Crookston, Moorhead, Breckenridge and Fergus Falls.

Mahnomen

Mahnomen returns to defend its' first ever region eight title won last year at the expense of Littlefork-Big Falls 64-61.

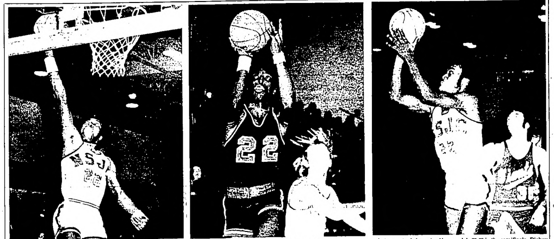
A 17-5 record included two overtime losses while the largest Indian defeat was a seven point deficit.

Mahnomen's well balanced starting line-up includes 5-10 senior Roger Larson and 5-9 junior Guy Strandemo at guards, 6-2 junior Ron Schafer and 6-1 junior Frank Thompson at forwards and 6-3 junior Dave Mittet at center. Paul Muckenhirn, a 6-2 sophomore, is the top Mahnomen reserve.

Thompson led the Indians in scoring during the season with a 15 point average, followed closely by Strandemo 13, Larson 12 and Schafer 11.

"We shoot pretty well and have good balance," pointed out Stinar. "We have six kids capable of scoring 20 points in any one ball game.

"I hope our tournament experience from last year will be helpful this time around, but you never know."



DAVID DICKEY, Northland community college freshman basketball sensation, was honored this week by being named to a pair of post season junior college all-star teams. Dickey was named as a first team Minnesota junior college athletic association (MJCAA) all-state pick and as a national junior college athletic association (NJCAA) all-region selection for the five state region 13 area. Dickey, shown in the photos during various times in the 1973-74 season, led Northland in its finest basketball season in history. The Northmen compiled an enviable 20-5 season record, winning the MJCAA Northwest Division pennant and finishing third in the MJCAA state tournament, bowing only to eventual champion Normandale 73-69 in the semifinals. Dickey handed out an unbelievable 319 assists and made 132 loose ball recoveries while scoring 18.5 points per game this winter. Dickey is a native of Canton, Ohio, but did not play high school basketball. He played for the Grand Forks Air Base team last year.

Dickey Named To All-State, All-Region JC Cage Teams

Northland community college freshmen David Dickey was awarded a pair of post season basketball honors this week when he was named as a first team selection to both the Minnesota MJCAA all-state and NJCAA region 13 all-region teams.

The regional honor marked the first time a Northland player has been tabbed as a first team all-region selection. The state award is only the second time a Northland player has been named first team all-state.

Tony Burke was the first Northman all-stater in 1972 when the 6-6 center received second team all-region recognition.

Dickey, a 6-0 ball handling wizard from Canton, Ohio, finished a spectacular 1973-74 season with an 18.5 points per game average and with an even more impressive 319 assists in 25 games for a 12.8 average. Dickey shattered the old Northland individual single season assist record of 70 and even surpassed the old Northland single season team assist mark of 318. Dickey also set a new individual school record with 132 losse ball recoveries while pulling down 221 rebounds and blocking 23 shots from his guard position.

Dickey was the second highest vote getter in the five state region 13 all-region balloting. Only Austin's outstanding 6-4 sophomore forward Jim Riles received more region votes than Dickey. Two other first team all-region choices were from Minnesota, including Dave Krebs of Mesabi and Tim Getten of Normandale. Ken Gomillia of the University of Wisconsin-Richland Center rounded out the all-region first team.

Other area Minnesota players receiving all-region recognition included Andrew Kelson of Crookston on the second team and Pete Kruize of Fergus Falls on the third team.

The complete 1974 MJCAA all-state team is as follows:

Jim Riles, 6-5 sophomore forward, Austin; John Hollmann, 6-5 sophomore center, Bethany; Andrew Kelson, 6-5 freshman forward, Crookston; Pete Kruize, 6-4 sophomore forward, Fergus Falls; Jeff Musgjerd, 6-3 sophomore guard, Golden Valley; Scott Rynerson, 6-4 sophomore forward, Inver Hills; Luther Harris, 6-0 sophomore guard, Lakewood; Dave Krebs, 6-6 freshman center, Mesabi; Tim Getten, 5-11 sophomore guard, Normandale; David Dickey, 6-0 freshman guard, Northland; Mike Baudoin, 6-0 sophomore guard Rochester; Kiel Anderson, 6-6 freshman forward, Rochester; Mike Kochevar, 6-3 freshman forward, Vermilion; Pete Loven, 6-5 sophomore forward, Willmar; and Bard Morehouse, 6-1 freshman guard, Worthington.

Burnie Stephens, Northland's 6-5 freshman center, received MJCAA all-state honorable mention recognition.

Other northern Minnesota players receiving honorlable mention honors were Gerry Hoelscher and Joe Neznik, Brainerd; Paul Wenino, Fergus Falls; Dale Heffron and Mark Hennesey, Itasca; Steve Potter, Vermilion; Dan Summer, Mesabi; and Tom Morris and Casey Foster, Rainy River.

TRF Will Host Weekend's NJCAA Hockey Tourney

Thief River Falls and Northland community college will combine to host the 1974 national junior college (NJCAA) hockey tournament Friday and Saturday in the Thief River Falls sports arena.

The nation's top four junior college hockey teams will compete in the prestigious two day event, including Hibbing and Northland community colleges of Minnesota; Henry Ford community college of Dearborn, Michigan; and the Canton state agricultural and technical college of New York.

Friday's opening round tournament pairings will find Hibbing facing Henry Ford at 6:30 p.m., with host Northland entertaining Canton at 9. The two Friday night losers will meet in Saturday's consolation game at 6:30 while the Friday winners clash in Saturday's national championship game at 9.

Tournament tickets will be available at the arena door for both Friday and Saturday sessons.

Canton is the defending national champion and the Northmen will carry the favorites' role into the 1974 event. The New York state champions pieced together a 15-9 season record in winning their second straight Finger Lakes Collegiate Hockey League championship.

Coached by Ron O'Brien, Canton's 20 man traveling roster boasts six talented Canadien skaters from Ontario to form a solid nuclues around the 14 remaining players who all hail from New York state.

Henry Ford, the Michigan-Illinois-Missouri play-off champion, is 16-13-1 for the season, but the Hawks' rugged season schedule included two games each against junior varsity teams from national hockey powers Notre Dame, Michigan State, Ohio University and Bowling Green.

NJCAA Hockey Pairings
Friday's First Round
6:30 p.m.—Hibbing (10-12) vs. Henry Ford (16-13-1)
9:00 p.m.—Northland (12-12) vs. Canton ATC (15-9)

The Michigan school, boasting an enrollment of 12,000 students, was crowned both division and league champion during the regular season. Henry Ford added post-season honors by winning the Midwest Collegiate Hockey Association play-offs with an 8-7 overtime championship game win over Oberlin after beating Toledo 19-2 in a first round game. Henry Ford defeated DuPage college of Glen Ellyn, Illinois in an NJCAA qualifying regional championship game.

Coach Dave Rosteck's Hawks are led by Tim Caldaron, a high scoring center who was named MVP in the MCHA play-offs. Caldaron scored 31 goals and added 27 assists during the season for 58 points. He scored 10 goals and added five assists in two MCHA tournament games, including a seven goal outburst against Toledo and the winning goal in overtime against Oberlin. Goalie Bob Locher and defenseman Gary Price were also all-tournament selections while Caldaron and Locher earned all-league honors during the regular season.

All 19 Henry Ford players are Michigan products with a remarkable 15 of 19 varsity members hailing right from Dearborn.

Hibbing enters the tournament as the Minnesota state champion, carrying a 10-12 season record. The Cardinals gained play-off tournament momentum after a regular season third place MJCAA hockey conference finish by beating Itasca 8-6 and Northland 6-2 in the Minnesota state tournament held in Thief River Falls two weeks ago.

Starry Dave Herbst, probably one of the finest junior college players in the nation, leads the Cardinals. Herbst won the regular season MJCAA scoring title with 44 goals and 29 assists for 73 points in 21 games. He turned in an outstanding tournament showing by scoring six goals and picking up four assists in the two Hibbing victories.

Dave Miaker is another top-notch Hibbing skater, ranking among the state's leading scorers with 16 goals and 25 assists for 41 points in 21 games. Bob Myers was voted as Hibbing's most improved player this winter.

The Cardinals, coached by Frank Catani, will be making their first national tournament appearance.

Host Northland enters the tournament as an underdog, but coach Swede Lund's Northmen may be boosted by the home ice advantage and home crowd support in their first NJCAA outing.

Northland finished the regular season in fourth place in the MJCAA standings, but stunned first place Mesabi 8-2 in a first round state tournament game before falling to Hibbing in the championship game.

Carrying a 12-12 record, Northland relies on team balance and steady line changes for its success.

Sophomore Randy Schmitz leads the evenly balanced Northland scoring charts with five goals and 20 assists for 25 points. Sophomore Al Eisenzimmer is close behind with 12 goals and 12 assists for 24 points. Jon Jensen and Tony Demarais are tied for third in the scoring totals with 23 points each and Rob Eisenzimmer has 20 points.

'74 Marks Third Hockey Tourney In NJCAA History

This week's 1974 national junior college hockey tournament scheduled to be held Friday and Saturday in the Thief River Falls sports arena will be the third post season hockey championship play-offs in NJCAA history.

Rainy River of International Falls hosted the first NJCAA tournament in 1972 with Itasca of Grand Rapids beating host Rainy River 8-1 in the inaugural championship game. Canton of New York clobbered DuPage college of Glen Ellyn, Illinois 14-3 for third place in the 1972 tournament.

Canton won last year's tournament held at the Olympic arena in Lake Placid, New York. Canton bested DuPage 14-1 in a first round game and then overpowered Minnesota champion Crookston Tech 11-3 in the championship game. Crookston beat Cape Cod community college of West Barnstable, Massachusetts 9-4 in a first round ame. Cape Cod defeated DuPage 5-3 in last year's consolation game.

Controversial Legislation

Representative Glen Sherwood of Pine River has introduced two bills in the state legislature which have caused many debates around the state.

"Two of my bills have caused no small stir across the state, said Sherwood.

"The bill causing the most anguish and gnashing of teeth deals with depth sounders or locators for fishing. My bill, if passed, would eventually make their use illegal for fishing. The reaction to the bill has truly been something to behold. I believe I would have received less attention if I had blown up the capitol.

"Sound rationale backs the intent of the bill but it will be of little avail if judged on the basis of the angry letters and phone calls I have received.

"Since the beginning, man has continuously strived to develop more effective and sophisticated equipment to take game and fish. During the 20th century, man's success in this effort has often resulted in greatly reduced populations of game and fish. Much of the equipment was so powerful or so effective that game and fish populations were overwhelmed. It was no contest.

"Legislative response to such unbridled assaults on game and fish has been to restrict or outlaw certain equipment and activities. Unfortunately, restrictive action has sometimes been too little and too late. You can make your own list of restrictions that have been imposed over the years to conserve game and fish. They include reductions in limits; closed seasons; restrictions on gun size; number of shells; number of lines and hook; outlawing the use of live decoy bait to attract ducks; set lines for fishing; etc. In some states outboard motors are not allowed for trawling nor live bait for fishing.

"It is this kind of conservation intent that is in back of my bill recent research by the department of natural resources shows that fishermen who use depth locators catch significantly more fish than those who don't use them. Furthermore, the study demonstrates that more fishermen are using the locators each year. As this trend continues we are faced with two choices—a further reduction in the limits for walleye and northerns or elimination of the use of locators. I would be interested in which choice you would make.

"Those of you who are opposed to this piece of legislation can rest easy. It will not even come up for a hearing this year. It will not become law.

"I also introduced legislation that would prevent guides from fishing while actively engaged in guiding clients. This was in response to the numerous complaints I have received about guides fishing for their clients and taking multiple limits. These activities are illegal and I felt compelled to take some legislative action to correct the problem.

"Because of a a vast backlog of other bills, the guide bill will not come up for a hearing either this year. Out of this effort, however, I am hopeful that we can develop a guide licensing system that will protect legitimate guides as well as the customer and the fisheries resource."

State representative Glen Sherwood of Pine River has introduced two bills in the state legislature—one would ban the use of electronic devices in finding fish and the other would ban fishing guides from fishing while guiding.

The guide bill reads as follows: "No person engaged or employed in the business or occupation of guiding or conducting others in the taking or attempting to take fish for a fee of other compensation shall personally take or attempt to take any fish during any time he is actually so engaged or employed."

The fish locator bill reads as follows: "It shall be unlawful to take or attempt to take fish by utilizing any type of electronic device designed or intended to detect the presence of fish or the depth of water."

Gordon Holland, public relations manager of Lowerance Electronics of Tulsa, Oklahoma correctly, points out that the electronic bill would have a grave impace on fishermen, tourists and sporting goods proprietors all over the state. He states that the economic impact alone calls for a negative vote.

Athletic Report To Be Presented On April 22nd

Report session on the school district's role in community athletics will be held for the board of education and interested public on April 22, according to Supt. William Corliss.

Dr. Corliss said that material is being prepared by the athletic department under the direction of Russ Smith, athletic director. Athletic programs for school age children will be covered in the report.

Smoking Reduces Life Expectancy

The greatest effect smoking has on aging is that it prevents it.

Smokers tend to die in the middle years at rates almost twice that of nonsmokers. The mortality ratio among men who smoke is highest in the 45 to 54 age group and diminishes with each subsequent decade.

A 12-year study of smokers and nonsmokers in England showed that the difference in mortality among people in all age groups increased consistently with age except for the oldest female age group (over 65) in whom no appreciable difference was seen.

People who smoke seem to have death rates comparable to nonsmokers 5 to 10 years older than themselves, reports the U.S. Public Health Service.

Few Region Titles Have Been Won By This Year's Teams

Thief River Falls, Argyle, Blackduck and Mahnomen will all be seeking the 1974 region eight basketball crown this week when the 44th annual classic opens in the spacious University of North Dakota fieldhouse in Grand Forks.

Regardless of who wins this year's coveted region eight crown, a relatively new champion will represent northwestern Minnesota in next week's state class A tournament in St. Paul.

Thief River Falls has made the most state tournament appearances of the four region title seekers with the Prowlers playing in five state meets. Thief River Fals hasn't won a region crown since 1960, though. Other Prowler region winning years were collected during the 1930's with Thief River Falls reigning supreme in 1932, 1937, 1938, and 1039. The 1932 and 1938 Thief River Falls teams were also state tournament winners.

Mahnomen won its first and only region eight championship last year, beating then-defending champion Littlefork-Big Falls 64-61 in the title game.

Argyle will be making just its second appearance in the region eight tournament. The Eagles played in the 1960 event, but were ousted in a first round game.

This will mark Blackduck's first ever region eight tournament appearance. The Drakes won thier first district 29 title last week by beating Littlefork-Big Falls 40-39 in overtime.

The five Thief River Falls region eight titles rank second only to Bemidji, now a member of the class AA region 8. The Lumberjacks accumulated 25 region eight titles during their 41 years of region eight play.

A complete list of past region eight champions is as follows:

Wildlife Week To Be Observed March 17 to 23

Across the country, thousands of state and local groups are preparing to celebrate the 37th annual observance of national wildlife week. Wildlife week is sponsored each year by the National Wildlife federation and its state affiliates.

Theme for wildlife week 1974—March 17-23—is "We Care About Endangered Wildlife." There are over 100 animals on the department of interior's official list of endangered species. Among these are the southern bald eagle, the American peregrine falcon, the whooping crane, the Devil's Heol pupfish and the eastern timber wolf.

Thomas L. Kimball, executive vice president of the National Wildlife federation said this year wildlife week is a time for everyone to recognize the problems facing endangered wildlife. "Much of our wildlife is in good shape," Kimball said, "thanks to good conservation practices. But too many are in real danger. An endangered species does not have to become an extinct one. Most endangered wildlife can be saved but it will take a big commitment from us to do the job.

"We chose the timber wolf as a poster symbol for all our endangered wildlife," Kimball said. "The kinds of pressure wolves have been subjected to are similar to those facing other endangered species. Largely because of the inroads of civilization, wolves have been driven from most of their former range in America.

"Wolves are keenly intelligent animals with a highly developed social order," he pointed out. "They fill a vital role in the workings of nature. We cannot afford to lose our wolves—we cannot afford to lose any endangered species. All of them are irreplaceable."

Many people want to know what they can do to help endangered wildlife. An individual's personal concern can be of tremendous value. "If all of us care enough and are willing to support public efforts to help endangered species," Kimball emphasized "we believe these efforts will succeed."

TRF Women Curl In Gopher State Curling Bonspiel

Two Thief River Falls rinks participated in the gopher state women's curling association bonspiel hosted by Bemidji Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Thief River Falls participating rinks included the Rosie Worner rink made up of Connie Omdahl, Mary Ekren, Rosie Worner and Lois Simmons and the May Jahr rink made up of Gladys Liden, Julie Mattson, May Jahr and Fern Liden.

The May Jahr rink bested International Falls in a first round game before losing to a Mankato rink that eventually went on to claim the state championship. The May Jahr rink beat Buhl in a third game, but lost to another International Falls rink in a fourth outing.

The Rosie Worner rink lost its first game to a Buhl team, but bounced back to beat Mapleton, only to lose to Chisholm in a third match.

Ag Employment At Highest Level In Five Years

Farm employment in Minnesota is continuing at the highest levels in at least five years, lending stability to the rural economy, reports agriculture commissioner Jon Wefald.

Latest figures compiled by the state-federal crop and livestock reporting service, show that Minnesota had an estimated 144,000 persons employed in farming operations during the fourth week of January, 11,000 more than for the same period last year.

Commissioner Wefald said the total, and the 135,000 family farm workers were Minnesota's highest late January figures since 1969, and the 9,000 hired farm workers tied 1968 for the highest total in that category for January since 1965.

"These figures indicate the scope of Minnesota's important red meat, dairy and poultry products production, providing jobs and rural income the year around while at the same time providing a significant portion of the nation's consumer food requirements.

"Substantial gains over our labor force last year are particularly meaningful when one considers the fact that the month of January historically is Minnesota's second lowest farm employment month of the year," commissioner Wefald commented.

Minnesota's January farm work force was the sixth largest among all states, exceeded only by California, Texas, Wisconsin, Iowa and Missouri, respectively. Minnesota's family worker total was third highest, behind only Texas and Wisconsin.

During the January survey period Minnesota farm operators concerned principally with livestock and poultry chores, worked an average of 43.1 hours and other members of their families added another 29.2 hours. Hired farm workers averaged 28.4 hours during the survey week.

Co. 4H Carnival Will Be Held Saturday Night

Fourteen 4-H clubs in Pennington county are now busy preparing for a "carnival fun night" Saturday in the city auditorium starting at 7:30 p.m.

Numerous activities will be conducted by the clubs. These activities include bean bag toss, darts, dip the duck, fish ponds, flip the cat and other games and contests.

Each club is sponsoring a king and queen candidate. Each penny a club collects counts as one vote for its candidates.

Carnival profit will be used by the leader's council for upcoming 4-H activities and a portion of the profit will be donated to the Fergus Falls state hospital youth service corps. The service corps works with mentally retarded and physically disabled youth.

Everyone is invited to the carnival, according to Wayne Odegaard, associate extention agent.

Some Parents Know More About Drugs

"Somehow a myth started that modern young people know more about drugs than their parents," says Vic Pawlak, head of the Do It Now Foundation, "but, the average pill-popping teenager may often have less idea of what he's putting in his mouth than the average pill-popping adult."

"Mom may not know her sleeping pills, one of the same drugs sold as 'downes' on the street, surpasses even heroin in number of addicts, or that she is as strung out as the most devoted 'red freak', but she can at least trust the licensed pharmaceutical companies to put the correct label on her potions."

Pawlak claims that pills sold on the street are misrepresented from 60 to 75 per cent of the time.

Do It Now Foundation is a nationwide nonprofit, publicly supported charity headquartered in Phoenix, Ariz., that has been involved in drug education, crisis treatment and addict rehabilitation for the past six years. Working in conjunction with the University of Southern California medical center department of pathology in Los Angeles, Do It Now first initiated an analysis program through its office in that city in April of 1971.

For the year 1972, for example, out of 870 samples of illicit drugs brought into the USC lab, 67 per cent were something other than they were claimed to be by the dealer. This past summer of '73 saw an unusually high honesty rate of 49 per cent, the remainder being outright misrepresented drugs, or "rip-offs" as they are known in street jargon.

The reason, says Pawlak, for the extremely poor showing on the part of the dealers of illicit drugs is the great demand among young people for drugs such as mescaline, psilocybin and THC. "These drugs are thought exotic because of their rarity due to the expense and-or difficulty in producing them. Consequently, many unscrupulous street drug marketers meet the demand for these drugs by substituting more easily obtainable chemicals for the real thing."

If the consumer is lucky his purchase may turn out to be nothing more than mild LSD or an inactive chemical. Less fortunate individuals may find a higher dosage of LSD masquerading as the comparatively mild hallucinogens, mescaline and psilocybin, and 'find themselves riding a tidal wave when they had been prepared to only paddle around in the wading pool."

More often, lab results indicate samples of these three will turn out to be PCP (often in combination with LSD), an animal tranquilizer of uncertain safety even for animals. For "THC" by itself, virtually every sample tested turns out to be straight PCP.

Dr. George Lundberg, of the department of pathology at USC medical center, and director of the analysis program, states that "of all the specimens submitted for analysis in the first two years of the program....chemical examination showed that, except for several mescaline samples, none of the vast majority of the drugs claimed to be mescaline, psilocybin or THC turned out to be so." During 1973, all known analysis programs in Los Angeles and the rest of the nation seemed to concur with this finding through their own local results.

Lundberg also points out that, "although, next to alcohol and tobacco, the amphetamines, barbiturates and narcotics are the most commonly abused drugs," these constitute only a small percentage of the drugs submitted for analysis.

"It should not be inferred from this, however, that the abuse of these drugs is decreasing" he said. "These users may not be as concerned about the quality of these drugs, and hence may not submit as many of them for chemical examination as some others."

Ninety per cent of the specimens submitted to publicly accessible drug-identification laboratories across the country are the non-addictive hallucinogens.

"Curiosity or caution are less incentive for the users of addictive drugs to submit specimens for analysis," says Pawlak. "This is especially so for the heroin user, whose drug of preference is not only highly addictive but very expensive. Also, amphetamine and barbiturate addiction is most common among the middle aged and middle class, who obtain their drugs through a legal medical source, while submitters to the drug identification labs are mostly young, and obtain their drugs through illicit sources."

A community-based analysis program, despite the statistically low percentage of "hard" drugs submitted, often has its greatest effectiveness in this area, says Pawlak. "A number of times we've been able to save lives in Los Angeles, Phoenix and Chicago by putting out emergency warnings about poisoned or super-strong heroin that just hit town, and was able to be analyzed before too many people were affected."

Since Do It Now, through USC, first helped pioneer in the area of drug analysis in early 1971, the number of such programs has gradually increased throughout the United States. Today, the foundation's job in this area has broadened to keeping track of some 50-plus analysis programs in the U.S., Canada and Europe, collecting the data, and using it towards publishing up-to-date literature in the field of drug education.

For a sample packet of literature on street drugs, readers can write to the Do It Now Foundation, National Media Center, P.O. Box 5115, Phoenix, Arizona 85010. The Foundation urges readers to send $1 if they can afford it to help defray costs of printing and postage. Do It Now is currently regarded as the largest and most active non-government supported drug education group in the U.S., and depends entirely on such contributions for its support.

Search On For Country Music Talent In Area

Search for talent is on in northwestern Minnesota for musicians to compete in the Vikingland region country music contest at Moorhead, March 25.

The contest will be held in the Union Ballroom, Moorhead state college, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Vikingland contest is one of seven regionals with winners of each qualifying for the Minnesota state championship country music festival to be held in the spring.

The contest will match amateurs with the professionals, said Archie Hill, state contest director.

Musicians may enter in one of six categories, over all-act, male vocalist, female vocalist and instrumentalist. Champions will be named in each. Other winners will be picked in an award of merit category, signifying excellence in musicianship not covered by an existing award, and the director's award of commendation, presented to the act or individual showing most potential.

At stake in the state contest are cash awards, state titles and "Mesabis"—the symbol of excellence in Minnesota country music. The state championship is in its third year.

Musicians wishing to enter the contest may write to Minnesota State Championship Country Music Festival, Box 280, Virginia, Minn., 55792, for more information and entry blanks. Deadline for entering is March 21.

Proposed Price Raises Reduced By $53 Million

R. C. Voskuil, district director of internal revenue service for Minnesota, said recently that the economic stabilization program has been responsible for reducing proposed price increases of more than $53 million in Minnesota and North and South Dakota since Phase IV began last August.

Several large area corporations who had prenotified intentions to increase prices were required by the internal revenue service and by the cost of living council to reduce their proposals by the $53 million amount.

Voskuil said the stabilization division of internal revenue in St. Paul which serves the three-state area has received more than 160 price increase prenotifications since the beginning of Phase IV. Four of these were denied in full and 22 were denied in part, resulting in the $53 million of price reductions.

Cost of Living Council regulations require firms whose annual sales are over $100 million to notify the Internal Revenue Service 30 days before effecting price increases. The Internal Revenue Service then has 30 days to determine whether or not the price increases are justified by increased costs.

Yawning May Not Be A Sign Of Boredom

Next time you feel the urge to yawn, don't stifle yourself.

Yawning has been traditionally regarded as an insignificant, useless function of the human body—one of those unnecessary and, at times, embarrasing physiological quirks people have.

But new research shows that yawning is good for you, according to the family economics bureau of a major life insurance company.

Physiologists know what a yawn is—an involuntary opening of the mouth and inhalation of breath, often associated with stretching—but they've never quite got around to finding out why people yawn.

Everyone thinks it's because you're bored, sleepy or hungry—right?

You may be yawning even as you read this, but—if you've ever yawned at exactly the wrong moment—you should be aware that a yawn is not necessarily a sign of boredom. In fact, yawning is often a reation of your body to anxiety—just the opposite of boredom.

Think of the poker player across the table who, feigning boredom, casually yawns as he looks over the cards you've just dealt. He goes on to win the hand with four-of-a-kind. Or, think of the amateur musician and public speaker, who just before confronting their audiences, let go with a series of muffled jawbreakers.

Yawning is a form of nonverbal communication that few people understand. These people are probably not bored—they're tense, and yawning lets them release pent-up nervous energy. Behavioral scientists term this kind of yawning a "displacement" activity.

Most yawning, however, is a result of your body trying to regulate itself—a "maintenance" activity.

An unstifled yawn pumps a sizable amount of oxygen into the lungs, then into the blood stream and to the brain. In addition, the stretching which often accompanies a yawn primes the muscle fibers for action.

In other words, a yawn is invigorating and stimulating—a natural activator that puts you on alert. This explains why most people use up their day's ration of yawns to clear up that morning lightheadedness and get into gear for the activities ahead.

Be warned, however, that any nimbleness of mind you might gain from an all-out gape would hardly be beneficial if performed in your boss' office; nor would it be appreciated during an intimate candlelight dinner.

If you yawn before retiring in the evening, it's because of fatigue, or poor circulation from sitting too long in a stuffy room—not merely because you're sleepy. Of course, the deep-breathing motions of a yawn can be relaxing late at night, when everyone else is too lethargic to care if you yawn anyway.

Yawning has been recognized but studiously ignored by medical researchers ever since 500 B.C. when Hippocrates noted in a treatise on diseases that yawning precedes fevers. He thought because of a fever "considerable amounts of air mass together in the body" which has to escape through the mouth in a yawn, just as "steam rises from a pot of boiling water."

His reasoning was off the mark, but Hippocrates' observation was right. Yawning often precedes the fit in some intermittent fevers, emotional disturbances and spasmodic asthma, and yawning may be a real disease for some whose yawns become frequent and compulsive. Persons suffering from heart disease may be liable to yawning fits due to poor circulation.

Physiology texts gloss over yawning—together with hiccuping, sighing, snoring, crying and coughing—under such subheadings as "nonrespiratory functions of the breathing movements" and "nonchemical influences on respiration." Considered unworthy of serious study, yawning has been labeled a sign of sleepiness or boredom.

But intensive studies of animal behavior by scientists in Italy, Germany, France and South Africa suggest that yawning is an ancient, in-grained behavior pattern common to most, if not all back-boned animals.

Yawning has now been identified in numerous species of apes, lizards, birds, dogs, cats, fish, turtles and a host of other animals besides man.

For example, two University of Florida zoologists who spent three years in South Africa studying the habits of the native ostrich observed that the primary purpose of yawning is to synchronize the life cycle the birds share with one another.

Yawning assures excited ostriches that there is no danger present and it relaxes tension among them. At the end of rest, yawning stirs up the ostriches. Until their research was announced, the scientific community had accepted as dogma that birds do not yawn at all.

A German biologist concluded that yawning does not trigger sleepiness, as is commonly thought, but has just the opposite, arousing effect.

A team of pharmacologists at the University of Cagliari in Italy have found they can induce yawning in animals with injections of a "stress" hormone—similar to yawning due to anxiety in people.

One aspect of a yawn that still baffles researchers is its infectious nature. The mere sight of another person yawning gives you a barely controllable, compulsive urge to yawn yourself.

Army Offers New Stripes For Skills Program

Under a new enlistment program called "stripes for skills", U.S. army applicants with at least two years of civilian training and experience in one of the program's 165 specified jobs categories can enlist at an advanced rank and pay grade and will be considered for possible promotion after only eight weeks on the job.

Men and women who qualify can enter the army at pay grade E-3, Private First Class, at a starting salary of $377.70 a month, less deductions. Meals, housing, medical care, a month's paid vacation and other army benefits are also provided.

Upon successful completion of the eight-week basic training course, an applicant in this program is assigned to the selected job category.

Eight weeks after work assignment, an individual's demonstrated skills and job performance are evaluated and he or she can at that time be promoted up to an E-5, Specialist, at $408.30 a month.

X-ray technician, surveyor, dental assistant, teletypewriter equipment repairman and occupational therapist are only a few of the job categories included in the "stripes for skills" program. A complete listing of all the job and additional information about the program are available from Sergeant John F. Smith by calling him at 681-1161 or by visiting him at 209 E. 3rd St. T.R.F.

Thursday, March 7, the Senior Citizens again met at the center. We were just a small bunch there this day, but it was a nice day and we enjoyed getting out. Nothing new was started. We worked on the same projects, should now have enough material squares to make a couple of quilts.

Some of the ladies made more bunny ornaments and also St. Patrick's hats. It's always easy to find new things to decorate the refrigerators.

The visitors were Jeanette Onger, Mrs. Donald Lefrooth, Greg and Melanie and also Mrs. Janice Nelson and her two children of Warren.

Bertha Holmstrom brought to the center a doll to show us. It was just beautiful, she had made it herself and without any pattern either. She is sure a whiz at doing things.

Mabel won the door prize donated by Polly. Polly Stallock was the hostess.

"Retirement Age"
I have returned now, and it's hard to believe,
I don't have to do every task, at highspeed.
But many years I had to "hit that old ball",
Now I can just slow down, or not "strike" at all.
Some folks advised me, I'd be bored if I quit,
But plenty of times I'm perfectly happy to sit.
The time is here now, that I don't have to watch,
The slow moving hands of the work-urging clock.
So don't be afraid, when you reach that grand age,
Your day of retirement-all still draw a wage!
When I see all the folks driving by to their jobs,
And for many long years I was one of the mob,
It's such a comfort, for it's now quite the rage,
To do as you please at retirement age.

Wendy is the outdoor type . . . doesn't mind the wind in her face . . . hair blowing in the breeze . . . loves to ski and go mountain climbing. She's the picture of slightly-disheveled beauty. But bring her indoors—the first thing Wendy reaches for is a comb.

Disorder cannot mar beauty when there is a natural or reasonable cause. But the disorder that comes from irresponsibility or violence casts its ugliness over everything it touches.

Doesn't this mean a growing appreciation of the Church's vital role in our society? The dishevelment we see on the face of the times didn't happen with a passing gust of wind. We need—our world needs—the religious foundation on which a stable society must stand.
